LEGAL

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX
EUNICE A. McDOWELL, Plaintiff,
vs.
JAMES J. McDOWELL,
Defendant.

ORDER FOR SERVICE OF PUBLICATION

At a session of said Court, held in the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, in said County, Michigan, on the 21 day of March, 1973.

PRESENT: THE HONORABLE EDWARD H. FENLON CIRCUIT JUDGE.

On the 14th day of March, 1972, an action having been filed by Plaintiff, EUNICE A. McDOWELL, in this Court for dissolution of the marriage between Plaintiff and Defendant, and a divorce from the bonds of matrimony existing between the Plaintiff and Defendant, NOW, THEREFORE,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Defendant, James J. McDOWELL, whose present whereabouts and address are unknown, shall answer and take other action as may be permitted by law on or before the 18th day of May, 1973.

Failure to comply with this order will result in immediate judgment by default against such Defendant and for relief demanded in the complaint filed in this cause.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that service upon the Defendant be made by publishing a copy of this order in a newspaper, once every week, for four (4) consecutive weeks.

s/ Edward H. Fenlon

Northland Barracks (World War I) has postponed a meeting of veterans and auxiliary members from April 23 to April 30. A potluck luncheon will be held at noon at the First State Bank.

Nice Work?

Well...sometimes he and she feel left out in the cold. And they don't always have enough room to work in, or just the right materials to do the best job.

It's a great profession!

Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison have returned home after spending the past three months in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nachtzel and family of Dewitt were guests Saturday at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Knudson and Mrs. Jessie Knudson of Charlevoix were guests Sunday at the home of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson in Burgess.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kroll and three children are spending ten days with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Kroll in Texas.

Mrs. Effie Arthur returned home Saturday after spending the winter with relatives in Detroit and visiting friends in California.

Mrs. Rose Gilbert has returned to her local home from spending the winter with her children in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Sonny) Williams and family are vacationing this Easter school recess in Punta Gorda, Fla.

Don't forget the Benefit Dance that will be held in the American Legion Hall in Charlevoix Friday evening April 27th for the Ironton [illegible] School. There will be a band, lunch and door prizes.

March went out like a lion two weeks late much to the surprise of everyone. We had a good eight inches of snow in two days and a cold blustery northeast wind that brought out the snowplows and winter boots once more. Even the birds were worried as they looked for cover and food. But last Friday morning it looked like spring again. The snow is about gone and we hope the last for this season.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held before the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix on Monday, April 23, 1973 at 8:00 p.m. in the Council Chamber in the City Hall in said City to consider certain proposed amendments to Ordinance Number 203, being the zoning ordinance of the City of Charlevoix, such proposed amendment being to re-zone and re-classify from Residential I to Commercial I zoning the following described property, owned by Mildred G. Campbell on Pine River Lane:

"In the City of Charlevoix, County of Charlevoix and State of Michigan, commencing 337 feet West of the Southwest corner of Michigan Avenue, and Pine River Lane (formerly River Street): thence West 160 ft.; thence South to the shore of Pine River; thence Easterly along the shore of Pine River 160 feet more or less to a point South of the place of beginning; thence North to the place of beginning; being a part of Government Lot Three (3), Section 27, and of Government Lot Two (2), Section 26, all in Town 34 North, Range 8 West.."

COMMON COUNCIL

APRIL 9, 1973
COUNCIL MINUTES 8:00 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Wallace, Fochtman and Plumm. Absent: None.

The minutes of the March 26, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

After considerable discussion regarding the legality of the permit issued to Ronald Steffes to construct a 32 unit multiple dwelling at 303-305 Michigan Avenue, City Attorney Hoffman advised Council they could ratify and confirm the action taken by the Council at the July 31, 1972 meeting pertaining to the issuance and approval of building permit No. 127 (revised) which had been issued to Ronald Steffes on that date and thereafter determined by the Charlevoix County Circuit Court to have been illegally issued. It further being the opinion of Attorney Hoffman that if the action was confirmed and ratified the permit could be again issued in accordance with the conditions as originally issued.

A motion was offered by Alderman Timms and supported by Alderman Fochtman to reconsider the question and action taken July 31, 1972 by Council in issuance of the building permit to Ronald Steffes for a 32 unit multiple dwelling at 303-305 Michigan Avenue. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Wallace, Fochtman and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

A motion was offered by Alderman Timms and supported by Alderman Selph that the action taken on July 31, 1972 by the Common Council for the City of Charlevoix wherein a building permit, being permit No. 127 (revised) was issued to Ronald Steffes be ratified and confirmed. That the said permit No. 127 (revised) be issued as of this time to Ronald Steffes, under the then existing building ordinance, in conformance with the action taken July 31, 1972, and under the same conditions, to erect a 32 unit multiple dwelling at 303-305 Michigan Avenue. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Timms, Wallace, Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: Alderman Supernaw. Absent: None.

Bids for oil and gasoline were opened and tabulated as follows:

Bidder, East Jordan Co-op, Prem. Gas per Gal. .24 + tax; Reg. Gas per Gal. .21 + tax; No. 1 fuel oil per Gal. .203 + tax; No. 2 fuel oil per Gal. .193 + tax.
This bid by East Jordan Co-op was a verbal bid.

Correspondence was read from Total Leonard, Inc., East Jordan Co-operative, and Standard Oil stating their regret in being unable to bid at this time due to the anticipated product availability being such that there is a serious question of their ability to meet requirements during the proposed contract period.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Selph authorizing the City Administrator to re-advertise for taking of bids for the furnishing of gasoline and fuel oil to the City. Bids to be received by the City Clerk until 8:00 p.m. on April 23, 1973. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Wallace, Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Bids for lease of docks were opened and tabulated as follows, for period June 1, 1973 to June 1, 1974:

When advised that a formal Resolution must be presented, Alderman Fochtman withdrew his motion - so that the Resolution can be presented at the next Council meeting [illegible].

The request of Theodore Sundquist to rezone property at [illegible] Michigan Avenue from Residential I to Commercial [illegible] reviewed. Council deferred action [illegible] City Administrator to inform Mr. Sundquist of the Planning Commissions' recommendation for denial due to inadequate parking and spot zoning.

Attorney Hoffman reported to Council that he is working on the Trespass Ordinance and will have his recommendation ready by the next Council meeting. He also indicated he had reviewed the correspondence from Arthur Reibel of the February 26, 1973 meeting and suggested that he, the Docks and Harbors Committee, the Beaver Island Boat Company and the Charlevoix Marina Transit Company meet to discuss the matter. A Committee meeting is to be scheduled.

The following Resolution was offered by Alderman Fochtman and he moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the City of Charlevoix has constructed a 12 inch water main along the south side of the Industrial Park property and,

WHEREAS said main is located so that the properties in Charlevoix Township along the south boundary line of the Industrial Park can be served by City water.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that a charge of $3.78 per front foot be assessed to each township property owner, requesting water service. Said charge has been computed on the basis of a 6" water main, which is the minimum size allowable. Said charge is in addition to tap and privilege fees and is to be paid in one lump sum at the time service is

Phil Christ Cops 2nd In Freestyle Tournament

Christ never lost a match, winning 8-1 over Lester Light of Alpena, 7-1 over Brandy Schriot of Bay City Handy tying champion Rick Lawrence of Bay City John Glen 1-1 and pinning Craig Powell of Grand Blanc in a record-setting :20 seconds.

Dan Mort who accompanied Christ to Alpena lost 8-1 to Bill Daeschlew of Bay City John Glenn and to the national champ 165-pounder Dean Stratton of Bay City Handy.

Probert said the tournament was the first time either Christ or Mort tried freestyle wrestling.

Although Christ never lost a match, his opponent had fewer "bad points" than the Charlevoix wrestler and pinned one more opponent, entitling him to first place honors.

Probert likened Christ's match with Lawrence to a "David and Goliath" battle. Christ was outweighed 295 to 212. Lawrence also stands six-feet-four, compared to Christ's five-feet-eight.

Funeral for Mrs. Koo (Margaret) Klooster, 83, of Ellsworth was held at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church April 13, the Rev. Marvin Vander Vliet officiating. Burial was in Ellsworth Cemetery.

Mrs. Klooster died April 11 at Meadow Brook Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for 12 years.

The former Margaret "Maggie" VanderArk was born at New Era Nov. 11, 1889, and came to Antrim County as a child. For many years, she and her brother, August, operated a general store in the logging community of Essex, west of Ellsworth.

She was married March 28, 1928, to Mr. Klooster who died in 1948. She was a member of the Ellsworth Reformed Church.

Surviving are two stepdaughters, Mrs. Peter (Thelma) DeJong of Dutton and Mrs. Clifford (Geneva) VanderArk of Sioux Center, Iowa; and daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Klooster of East Jordan; 15 grandchildren; 25 great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Winnie Hoffman of Grand Rapids.

MISS LYNN Retherford became the bride of Walter Manning Bleakney in ceremonies April 6 at the Valley Presbyterian Church at Scottsdale, Ariz. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Retherford of Scottsdale and Charlevoix. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bleakney of Mesa, Ariz. The new Mrs. Bleakney is a stewardess with Hughes Air West. Mr. Bleakney is with Valley National Bank.

Scheid Realty Joins Business Brokers

Scheid Northern Realty Inc. has become a member of World Wide Business Brokers Association.

World Wide Business Brokers Association is a coalition of Business Brokers designed to be instrumental in giving prestige representation, maximum coverage and proper exposure in the selling of businesses and land.

They are consultants to many of the top 500 Corporations in securing acquisitions, mergers, diversification, new technologies and franchises. Their Multiple Business Listing Service acts as the channel through which business brokers can join established businesses or individual and group investors and vendors from the area, thereby gaining much greater exposure than an individual or local broker.

Members of World Wide Business Brokers Association have experience in acquisitions, investments, land development, mergers, specialty markets and finance and consist of predominant commercial brokers.

Scheid has offices in Charlevoix, Petoskey and Bellaire.

March Complaints Kept Sheriff Busy

The Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department handled 360 complaints in March, according to Sheriff Philo Sumner.

In addition, 1,201 telephone calls were received, and one person was transferred to a state institution.

Deputies made 24 liquor inspections and served 80 civil papers, for a total of 2,440½ man hours.

Seventeen property damage accidents, one personal injury accident and one fatal accident were policed.

In addition, 18 motorists were assisted, 17 traffic arrests were made and 22 others were given warnings.

In the crime department, two felony arrests were made and 21 others were arrested on misdemeanor charges. Twenty-five prisoners were served a total of 257 meals.

The dog warden logged 185 complaints, issued 21 warnings and issued 12 summonses. Twenty-eight dogs were disposed of, many by finding them new homes.

REX HODGE (left) took second place in the wrought metal division for this wastebasket he made in the Charlevoix High School shop. Gene Drost took a second for this self-contained fountain made of wrought metal.

Industrial Arts, Drawing Students Click at Fair

Charlevoix High School Industrial Arts students copped 52 awards and Junior High students nine awards in the Regional Industrial Arts Fair at Alpena High School Saturday, April 6.

The annual fair is sponsored by the Top O' Michigan Industrial Education Association, the Michigan Industrial Education Society and the Detroit News.

Schools taking part included Alcona, Alpena, Bellaire, Besser, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, East Jordan, Glen Lake, Grayling, Mancelona, Manton, Petoskey, Posen, Rogers City, Traverse City and Thunder Bay.

Thirty-six businessmen and college people judges some 1,058 exhibits.

According to Robert Cook, Industrial Arts director at Charlevoix, Alpena students shone in machine shop exhibits, Bellaire in cabinet work, Cheboygan in plastics, Charlevoix and Mancelona in wrought metal and Charlevoix and Alcona in drafting.

The 61 awards won by Charlevoix High students included 10 firsts, 13 seconds, 17 thirds, and 21 honorable mentions. Twenty-three of the projects (first and second place winners) will be entered in the state fair at Grand Rapids April 26, 27 and 28 at the Civic Center.

Following are the Charlevoix High School winners:

MD4-C: Ted Schantz, 2nd.

Wrought Metal: John Sneathen, 2nd.

JEFF RESCH took a first at the Alpena fair for this wrought metal fountain. He also took a second for the miniature pump he built to operate the fountain.

Ferris Names 7 Honorees From County

Seven students from Charlevoix County made the academic honors list at Ferris State College during the winter quarter, according to Dr. James V. Farrell, vice president for academic affairs.

On the list from Charlevoix are David L. Dominic, David E. Engstrom, Ned H. Henley, Virginia G. Ochs and Donald L. Ward.

To be named to the list a student must earn at least a B-plus average and carry a full academic load.

Take Part in Language Fete

The festival, sponsored by the university's Department of Foreign Languages, included competitions, class visitations, campus tours and film presentations.

More than 2,300 Michigan high school students participated.

Channel Zone Change Question of Esthetics

A public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, April 23, on a request by realtor Jim Corbin to change the zoning on approximately 150-feet of Pine River Channel frontage from residential to commercial.

The frontage lies on the steep channel bank, directly across Pine River Lane from the home of Mrs. Mildred Campbell. Corbin told the council last month that he put a $500 non-refundable deposit on the property, without realizing it was zoned residential.

Corbin intends to contruct an office building on the site, which he is buying from Mrs. Campbell.

Needless to say, Mr. Corbin's request has generated more interest than the run-of-the-mill zoning change.

Many residents feel that the channel is Charlevoix's "front door" for our nautical visitors and must remain as free of commercial development as possible.

Others feel that the channel frontage is prime business and commercial property and should be exploited to the fullest.

Back in January, Mrs. Campbell told the council that she had a buyer for the property but would rather sell it to the city as a scenic reserve. Her price was $11,600.

The council felt it couldn't spend so much money for mere "scenery" and attempted to negotiate a better price for the city.

Unfortunately, the city's best offer was only $3,000, which Mrs. Campbell considered too low for a hunk of land that carries an assessment of $5,600.

Because the land was zoned residential and because of the steep configuration of the channel bank, no one in city government was too concerned that any structure would ever be constructed on the site.

But all that has changed.

We can sympathize with Mr. Corbin in seeking an attractive location for his proposed office building. But we cringe at the thought of any more commercial development along the channel banks.

At any cost, we believe the City must protect the beauty of Pine River Channel. Few port cities can boast such an attractive entry for boaters, but it could be ruined overnight.

You will be welcome to air your views on the situation at the zoning hearing Monday night at the City Hall.

Wants Lottery $ Earmarked For Spec. Ed.

To the Editor

Special education is not going to be funded this year at the rate expected and there is doubt about any funding next year, even with the proposed new state mandatory special education bill.

The federal government has cut off 17 million dollars for special education programs this year and was 4 million short in the first place. This leaves special education (our Charlevoix-Emmet County Intermediate School District-programs and staff) with a 21 million dollar deficit. The governor has proposed giving special education 10 million but has neglected to mention that it also gave special education 12 million dollars worth of new programs in learning disabilities and education for pregnant teen-age girls leaving a 2 million dollar deficit, instead of any relief.

The state could bail out special education with a supplemental appropriation of 21 million of the 136 million dollar surplus the lottery has brought Michigan without adding any additional taxes. The lottery has done so well this year they expect an even bigger surplus next year. If the federal government does come through with any of their commitment, the state government could be paid back.

Mandatory special education proposes that school districts are responsible for all childrens' learning including emotionally, physically, mentally handicapped children and the learning disabled. It also suggests that children should be placed in the regular classroom whenever possible (except in severe cases). The child spends part of his day in the learning center working on his special needs and part of the day in the regular classroom with his age mates. Most research has shown that children in segregated classrooms do not make much progress. Charlevoix has had a learning center at all levels this last year and many teachers and parents have noticed gains in childrens' attitudes and learning. However, the state has not commited itself to help fund this program next year.

Judging on past performance, it would help if we could get a commitment from our legislature on funding at 75 percent of full formula for special education according to the State Aid for Education Bill Public Act 258 of 1972. Why can't some of the lottery money be ear-marked for education? As of now the only commitment for the money is to highways-at a time when education everywhere in Michigan is in dire straits for money. School districts have never been in such a quandary as to what to budget for the new school year or where to find sources of revenue.

If parents as tax payers could write in to their governor, Senator Davis, and Representative Ostling urging use of lottery money for special education, they might listen. We don't have much time as a funding bill is coming up for vote in the House in May. If we don't do something about education, no one else will.

Prescott Valley

By BILL CLICK

Judy and I made a fast trip to Arizona and back last Wednesday night. And we never left home.

We were among a half dozen or more couples who accepted an invitation from the developers of Prescott Valley in Arizona to have dinner as their guests at the Weathervane Inn and hear a presentation on Prescott Valley, about 90 miles north of Phoenix, which has been platted into more than 10,000 homesites.

Actually, we didn't intend to accept the invitation. We're still in love with Charlevoix after eight years and already have our "vacation" property bought and paid for over on Georgian Bay in Canada.

But Sunday night we received a long-distance telephone call from Arizona asking if we please wouldn't come to the dinner. Well, sir, when someone calls you from Arizona and invites you to dinner, it's pretty hard to say no, long distance telephone rates being what they are. So I said we'd be at the Weathervane Wednesday evening.

Then Monday night we received a second long distance telephone call from Arizona. Judy answered the call and assured our new-found friends in the west that we had the date circled on our calendar.

Tuesday night, we received a third call. This one was from a Ken Swisher who said he was Prescott Valley's representative in Michigan. He was in Charlevoix at the time and just wanted to make sure that we hadn't forgotten our appointment the following evening. We hadn't, although we had to squeeze our visit with the Prescott Valley people in between the Elementary School Art Show and the Monopoly Tournament, which was being held at the Weathervane at the same time.

Promptly at 7 p.m., we descended the winding staircase into the basement dining room and were welcomed by Mr. Swisher himself, an affable young fellow whose business is selling sunshine and cactus to shivering Michiganders.

To our surprise, a number of Charlevoix people already have purchased property in Prescott Valley and have gone west to examine their stakes. Among them are Aaron and Lulu Brock who are the proud owners of two lots in Prescott Valley. The Brocks were our companions at the dinner table.

The prime rib, of course, was delicious (Have you ever had prime rib that wasn't?) and when the meal ended the sales pitch began.

I really didn't know what to expect after rubbing shoulders with the American Central land development people a few years back, but Mr. Swisher's presentation probably could be classified as "soft sell." He first explained that Prescott Valley is located about a mile high in north central Arizona, so that it doesn't experience the torrid dessert temperatures of the more populous areas to the south. However, the sun shines 300 days a year and what rainy weather they have is hardly enough to wet your whistle. An ideal climate for the victims of sinus trouble and arthritis, Mr. Swisher said. Humidity is practically nil and despite the sunshine, the temperature rarely climbs out of the 80's. And the nights are cool.

The valley is only about 100 miles from chilly Flagstaff where there is sufficient snow for skiing and snowmobiling.

Furthermore, it is only a day's drive from Los Angeles, in case any of the residents feel compelled to visit that seething cauldron of humanity. And it is only a couple of hours from the fabled wonders of the Grand Canyon.

Well, sir, I can see why folks might be attracted to such a spot. Must man really spend his days battling snow drifts and sub-zero temperotures in a land where the sun sometimes doesn't shine for weeks on end?

If Mr. Swisher ended his presentation without showing any pictures, I might have been convinced. But when the slide show started, I was horrified to see a landscape utterly bereft of trees. Can you imagine Charlevoix without its stately maples, birches and evergreens?

Then there was the sun-baked Prescott Valley Golf Course. Only the watered greens were green. The fairways were dun colored.

And the lakes! They're all man-made and sort of a milky color, in contrast to the royal blue of Lake Michigan on a summer day.

If I had a few more years behind me, and my joints were getting stiff and I had a creaky back from shoveling snow, I might be willing to forfeit our lush north woods for a place in the sun.

But until that day comes, I am going to revel in rotten weather, high fuel bills, storm windows, snow tires and Mackinac jackets.

What's more, I couldn't move to Arizona unless the Coast Guard would let me take the fog horn with me. How would I go to sleep at night without it?

Storefront Reporters

By JIM FITZGERALD

And then I wrote......

TV is full of shows about lawyers who work for free and doctors who make house calls to neighboring countries on Hondas after midnight. But whatever happened to the brash reporter with the flask of gold who used to save the world while wearing a hat with the brim turned up?

The newspaper profession is obviously being ignored by TV producers. Something should be done about it and I am just the clown to do it.

My show will be called "The Young Storefront Reporters." My three reporters are a Negro woman, a male Indian teenager, and another young man whose nationality cannot be immediately determined because of all the hair hanging in his face. He is my wild-card character. At any time during the series he can get a haircut and reveal himself to be a Jew or an Arab or a Viet Cong or even a conservative Republican, whatever seems politically expedient at the time.

These three reporters work for a wise, kindly, older (but still sexy!) editor who has ink in his veins. This was discovered during World War II and he was thrown out of a Red Cross blood bank on his ear.

This wise editor knows everything but he does not force his will upon young Indian, Negro and Wild Card. He lets them make their own decisions and go their own way, as long as they report back to him one minute before each commercial.

"It's the only way," the wise editor explains. "These youngsters must have their freedom to do their thing. And besides, this way they do all the work."

A typical plot might concern this young girl who comes into the newspaper office to buy a year's subscription. But it costs $5 and she has only $3.

Besides being $2 short, the subscriptionless girl also has some minor problems. She's pregnant and unwed. She's on heroin and has VD. She ran away from home four years ago and her millionaire parents have not yet noticed she is gone. They have been too busy selling Establishment taffy at the PTA Fair.

It would spoil things if I told you how Indian and Negro and Wild Card solve this girl's problems. But you can be sure they get the job done before the wise old editor is back on his ink-stained feet. For details, watch your TV listings.

However, to keep you eager, I will let you in on the ending. Most of the doctor-lawyer shows end with the heroes running down a street. But no one ever knows why they are running. On my show, you'll know.

Indian and Negro and Wild Card are running after a Red Cross bloodmobile which, by mistake, has accepted some of the editor's blood.

Asks Board to Defend Itself Against Waldner

April 9, 1973
Mr. Ira Davis, Chairman,
County Board of Commissioners,
County Building,
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Dear Mr. Davis:

The writer is a landowner and taxpayer in Bay Township, Charlevoix County, and a registered voter having become a permanent resident in June, 1972.

Have read and heard, with some discomfort, the repeated attacks in the local newspapers, and, the slanderous attacks via a local radio station, concerning the integrity and trustworthyness of the County Board of Commissioners; perpetrator being one, Karl Waldner and his CIS group.

Your attitude and that of the other commissioners I talked with about these attacks reflected the attitude of the man who had a cold, decided to do nothing about it, hoping that by ignoring it, it would go away.

This satisfied me and reaffirmed my faith in the Board for a time. In the April 5 edition of the Northland Press a letter enthusiastically supporting Karl Waldner was printed, signed by one Marty Paul. Investigation regarding Marty Paul reveals he is a president of a local labor union and chairman of the county Democratic party. Both positions demand a man of integrity and unquestionable character. I reason that if a man who should possess these qualifications would write a letter in defense of Karl Waldner and would publicly acknowledge a positive admiration for him, there might be some truth in the repetitious charges made against the Board of Commissioners.

Further, in the same edition, a letter written by Karl Waldner was printed, wherein he proclaims, and we quote, "Many of these local haughty officials, thus threatened with more exposure of their schemes, hopefully fight back. CIS knows well their tactics; delay, lies and the pressures of political, social and economic intimidation."

Is this truly a correct description of the Board?

The Commission is now engaged in deliberations of the county budget. Part of the monies you will dispose of are my tax dollars. In view of the foregoing. I request in the name of clean and open government, that you instruct the county attorney to immediately begin the necessary legal steps to give Karl Waldner his day in Court. He deserves this chance, and, has worked hard and long for it.

Let him publicly present the evidence to support the numerous and continuous charges he has made.

Let us search out the TRUTH.

If he can support the charges, the Commissioners involved should resign for the good of the County.

If he fails to prove his charges, he should suffer the penalty prescribed for malicious libel. A workman is entitled to a just wage.

Failure on your part to activate this publicized request could give credence to his reptitious accusations.

Respectfully,

H.G. Harris,
Horton Bay

Says U.S. Subsidizes Big Rock Insurance

April 8, 1973

Dear Bob,

The men representing Big Rock said that Consumers carries insurance to cover accidents not covered by our own policies. What they didn't say was that the government gives them this coverage at a reduced rate because private carriers will not insure them for full liability and that the government's and Consumer's liability only goes to $560 million. Brookhaven National Laboratories estimated that an accident in a plant about the size of Big Rock and in a similar area of population would cause the deaths of 3,000 people and property damage up to $7 billion. Is this adequate insurance?

The government has invested 50 times as much money in nuclear energy as it has in less dangerous types such as solar energy. Probably the reason has been that the by products of fission of uranium is plutonium, the stuff atomic bombs are made of. A recent article in "The Environment" magazine says that the directions for making a bomb once you have the plutonium are available in World Book. Do we want this material readily available to unstable people? If this plant uses it what is to keep it out of use in many countries and with the problems of shipping it, etc., what unreliable people will obtain it?

The Big Rock people claim that only the small water life show increases in radioactivity. Isn't it just a matter of time before the big fish that feed on this life will show an increase? Have our big fish been tested? Dr. David Inglis, who has relatives in this area, and who was a senior physicist for 20 years at the Argonne Laboratories which are associated with the Atomic Energy Commission, reports that in other areas fish have 20,000 times as much strontium-90 in their bones as in the water they ore swimming in.

We second your suggestion, Bob, that an outside expert give us an opinion on what may be happening to our area. According to Louis Roddes, President of Consolidated Edison (Nov. 1972) the 'glorious promises' of nuclear energy have brought only modest results. Utilities that have gone into nuclear fuel expecting better performance are getting worse performance and repairs cost huge amounts of time and money. Is the experimentation with nuclear energy raising our electric bills as well as polluting our area?

Thank you.

Jelly Sale Sweetens Life For Retarded

To the Editor:

The Charlevoix Jaycees wish to thank all those who purchased jelly during Jelly Week. The Jaycees sold every jar before the week was finished and took on an added commitment in assisting the Petoskey Jaycees in their jelly sale.

Jaycee Jelly Week is a national project with the sole purpose of assisting in community projects. The proceeds of the Charlevoix jelly sale went to the Charlevoix Association for Retarded Children and to the Special Olympics to be held in Petoskey this spring.

The combination of Jaycees, students and the general public made this a very successful drive for the retarded children of Charlevoix.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Early American dryers came in two models. The one hundred foot cotton type had a life span of five years and cost sixty cents, while the wire model cost a dollar and a quarter but had a lifetime warranty. Both had one common drawback; the supporting cedar posts might require replacements after 40 years.

The location was determined by the sun cycle and the prevailing wind. Installation and hookup required only a shovel, a strong back, a hammer, and a few spikes for the cross arms. Sapling props were necessary with the economy model and these were free for the cutting along any roadside. Split sections of poplar branches, bound with wire, pinned up muslin diapers, Pillsbury dish towels, and red flannels dancing a graceful ballet in the spring breeze.

Progress has outlawed them both, especially in suburbia, in favor of revolving incinerators which singe the tumbling contents to the color and texture of birchbark, thus limiting the useful life of wearing apparel to match the fleeting popularity of everchanging fads.

The primitive dryer rates a few interesting observations. Armfuls of oxygen saturated wash being carried, had a healthful effect on the sinuses. This benefit is unknown to todays average homemaker who, with a can of Cling Free in one hand and a bomb of nasal spray in the other, lives in her world of wasted kilowatts.

It also served as a cost free home humidifier. The wash, taken in at the proper dampness for the waiting flatirons, imparted far more vapor than the futile spurt of steam of its modern chromium protege which is fast becoming obsolete in our drip dry society. In fact the humidity was so uniform that in 30 years, Uncle Charlie coughed but once and this was due to something lodged briefly in his windpipe.

The sleeve board was a vital accessory in that day when the white shirt was as much a status symbol as the shoe scraper on the bank porch. collars and cuffs were dipped in an exactly proportioned starch solution made from the lumps of Argo in a blue box which costs ten cents.

Colored and striped perma-press shirts are appropriate to our hectic pace, but nevertheless there are a certain solid dignity about those crisp white shirts, with wilt proof colors and cuffs, worn by saloon keepers and circuit judges alike, citizens whose public posture demanded this additional ten cent daily extravagence.

The washwoman I knew averaged eight white shirts with each two bushels of family laundry which she washed and ironed for $1.25. Eighty cents additional for the shirts netted her $2.05, which she rounded out to two bucks, for a 14-hour day which began and ended by lamplight.

Fortunately, the housewife today can shop between loads at the laundromat. Although I appreciate elimination of drudgery I do miss the 'good old days'.

"In heavens name, why?"

Why? Simply because the laundress I knew was my mother.

Review Board Acts on Signs, Lot Waivers

The following actions were taken by the Board of Appeals at the City Council meeting last week.

—Pursel Garage was given permission to erect a 30-square-foot free-standing sign at 1405 S. Bridge-st. A city ordinance limits the size of such signs to 36-square-feet.

—Stevens Oil Co. (Texaco) was denied permission to erect a sign in excess of 50-square-feet on grounds that the sign is too large.

—Waived 21 feet of a 25-foot rear yard requirement so that Carlos Almonrode can construct a coin-operated laundromat adjacent to his present building at the corner of Petoskey-st. and Prospect-st.

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Court Judge Arthur Reibel:

Raymond R. Bush, 51, East Jordan, was assessed $15 for fishing without a license. He was cited by the Department of Natural Resources.

Kenneth W. McPherson, 31, East Jordan, was assessed $10 for failure to stop at the scene of a property damage accident.

Angeline Sineway, East Jordan, stood mute at her arraignment on a charge of assault and battery and a plea of innocent was entered for her. She was released on personal recognizance. Trial will be held later.

James Chanda, 25, East Jordan, was given time to consult an attorney on charges of (1) operating a motor vehicle on a suspended license; (2) careless operation of motor vehicle; and (3) eluding police officers. Case will be continued April 26.

Albert S. Derry, 58, Harbor Springs, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was released on $125 bond. Trial will be held later.

Francis S. Lyons, 22, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was assessed $125 and his license was suspended for 90 days.

A charge that Robert H. Peck, 42, Walloon Lake, burned flammable material without a permit to burn was dismissed at the request of the Department of Natural Resources.

Joseph Murdick, 17, Charlevoix, plead guilty to entering a cabin without permission. He will be sentenced later.

John Martin, 24, Boyne City, requested the services of a court-appointed attorney on a charge of larceny from a building. Arraignment will be held later. Bond of $2,500 was not furnished.

Floyd W. Fritz, 29, Saginaw, requested the services of a court-appointed attorney on a charge of breaking and entering. Bond of $2,500 was not furnished.

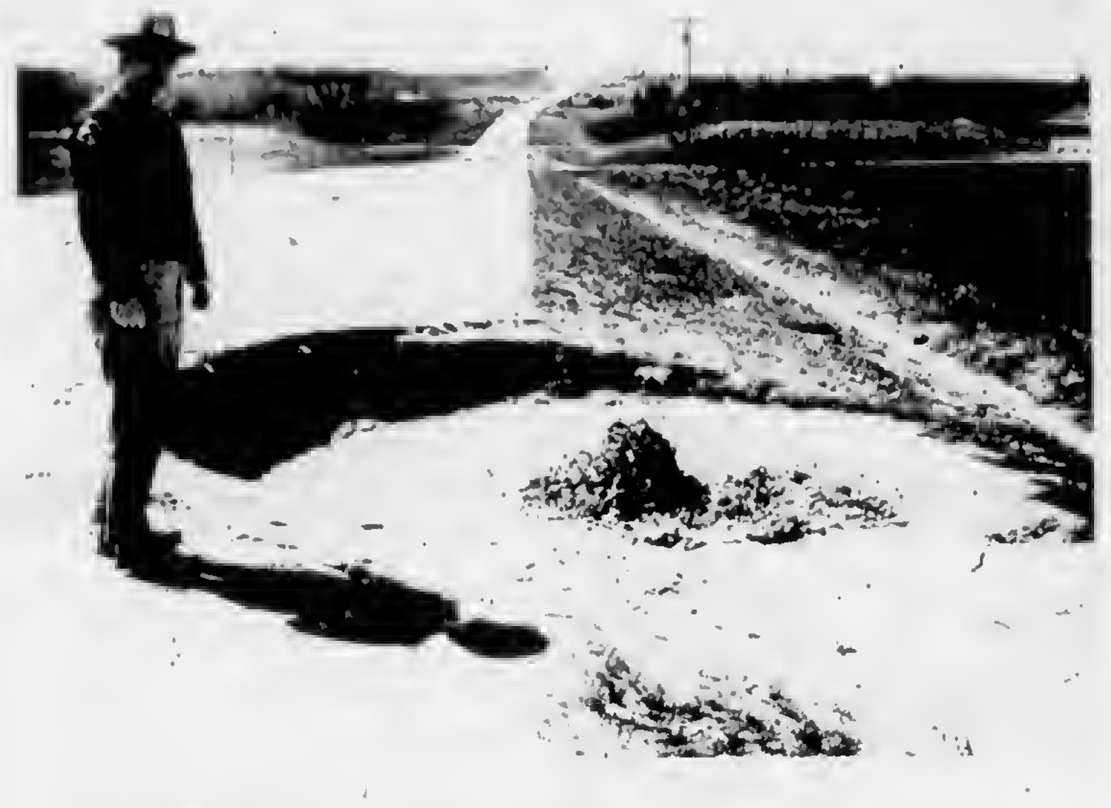
Geysers Turn Village to Ghost Town



DEPUTY Stuart Soule of the Grand Traverse County Sheriff's Department examines one of the main gas and water geysers which have sprung up in the past 10 days in the vicinity of Williamsburg south of Elk Lake. This one has destroyed a huge section of M-72 last week and continues to spew muddy water into a drainage ditch. The highway is closed to traffic.

STATE POLICE have set up an emergency mobile Command Post just north of the village of Williamsburg on the Williamsburg-Elk Rapids-rd. State police, conservation officers, representatives of the Michigan Public Service Commission and local law enforcement officers unprecedented gas venting will subside without further damage to property.

Air of Mystery Hangs Over Tiny Williamsburg

By BOB CLOCK

Even in broad daylight, an air of mystery hangs over the tiny vest-pocket community of Williamsburg, snuggled in the gently rolling hills of northern Grand Traverse County, a scant 40 miles south of Charlevoix.

Daffodils are blooming in the front yards and the long, newly green tendrils of willows sway in the warm spring breeze along the pleasant winding roadways leading to the village from all directions.

Although the past week has been ideal for yard work, garden plots in Williamsburg have not been turned and window screens remain cached away in basements and outbuildings.

On Sunday, April 15, townspeople became alarmed when the first of a 'never-ending series of geysers developed in the downtown section of the village south of M-72. They sprang up in backyards, front yards, along highways and adjacent to the foundations of the village's venerable frame town hall.

Earth that had remained stable and sound, presumably since the glaciers left, suddenly started erupting into angry boils that sent geysers of muddy water leaping several feet into the air. The continuing eruptions have created lakes and ponds in low-lying areas and have turned crystaline streams feeding nearby Elk Lake into chalk-colored raceways.

Most of the geysers are also spewing forth a smelly sulphur gas, which has raised fears that the whole town may burst into flames if so much as a cigarette is lighted under proper atmospheric and wind conditions.

The problem reportedly is worse inside homes near the geysers where gas is trapped.

By late last week, the problem became so severe that the entire southeastern section of town – about 50 families – was evacuated on orders of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

All power has been shut off and even telephone lines have been disconnected to eliminate the possibility that an errant spark might touch off a halocaust.

Just north of Williamsburg is the yard of a building that appears to be abandoned schoolhouse, Michigan State Police have set up an emergency Command Post.

The driveways and adjoining fields have become a parking lot for law officers, conservation officers, public utilities people, fire personnel, newsmen and others concerned with the fate of Williamsburg.

The atmosphere at the command post for the most part is one of unhurried efficiency. Unlike a fire or flood, the emergency at Williamsburg is of unknown proportions. No one in authority knows precisely where the muddy water and gas are coming from. They don't know how to stop the present geysers and they don't know how to prevent others from erupting.

Geologists have descended upon the area from across the state, but there seems to be little agreement as to the source of the trouble.

Some experts believe that a new oil well being sunk by Amoco Production Co. four miles south of Williamsburg is to blame. They believe gas released by the well is traveling laterally through porous rock 1,600 feet underground. The strata is called the Traverse Formation.

Amoco doesn't believe it is responsible, but in an effort to relieve gas pressure, if any, it has agreed to open three new sets of well holes around the town. Two were started Saturday night and the third was to be started early this week.

Amoco experienced trouble with the initial well a week ago Sunday when drillers forced mud down inside the 6,000-foot drill pipe to keep any natural gas at the bottom of the shaft from escaping around the pipe. During that operation, mud returning to the surface broke out of the well shaft into the Traverse Formation at a depth of 1,600 feet and also exploded up through the pipe to the surface. The well itself was capped, but some geologists believe that tremendous gas pressure released by the well is still forcing gas into the Traverse Formation.

ANTRIM COMMISSION UP IN ARMS

Hike Dam Level, City Urged

A group of irate Antrim County commissioners attended the Council meeting Monday night to demand that the city "do something" – and soon – to raise the level of Intermediate Lake above the Bellaire power dam, which is owned by the city of Charlevoix.

Because of the poor condition of the dam, the city has lowered the water level in the pond by several feet, leaving property owners on Intermediate Lake with several yards of mud where they used to have water.

Some docks are on dry land. Boat owners claim they will be unable to launch their watercraft unless the lake level is raised.

Hans DeYoung, chairman of the Antrim County Board of Commissioners, said: "Summer is upon us, and we (the commissioners) are going to have to leave Antrim County because we'll have half the people on our necks. And Memorial Day is only a month away."

Antrim Prosecutor Robert J. Stephan told the council it is time to move off dead center, "before we have a lynching party. And the Antrim County Board of Commissioners will be the victims."

Last November, Charlevoix voters agreed to sell the dam and power plant after a Scott engineering Co. report indicated that repairs to the dam and two other overflow structures could cost as much as $90,000.

In December, the worst of the two overflow structures was repaired at a cost of about $6,000 by William Porter of East Jordan, but the Department of Natural Resources still doesn't feel the dam is in shape to carry a full head of water.

"The DNR told us to fix it or eliminate it," Mayor Edward P. Hansen told the Antrim commissioners.

DeYoung told the council that Antrim County is not necessarily anxious to acquire the dam, "but we do have an obligation to see that something is done."

A representative of Scott Engineering of Alpena reiterated information in the firm's report of January, 1972, to the effect that cracks and spalling show all the signs of structural failure.

After DeYoung, Stephan and commissioners Versal Shooks, Ward Babcock and Everett Ash left the meeting, the council agreed to advertise the dam and power plant for sale, exclusive of hardware.

In other business, the council:

—Accepted an offer by John Haggard to rent Berth 3 at the city dock for $150 – plus repairs.

—Accepted a bid of $2,800 by McRae Construction Co. for enlarging the Chamber of Commerce office in the harbormaster's building. Other bidders were Joel W. Arvilla ($2,823) and John B. Pearl ($3,200).

—Recommended issuance of a state liquor license to Leutheuser's Restaurant.

—Agreed to hold a hearing June 4 on the closing of an alley between W. Upright and W. Lincoln-sts. east of Sherman on the request of Ken Whitley and William Brady.

—Rented Berth A to Charlevoix Marina Transit for $482 (with permission to erect a 10-square-foot sign); Berth 6 to Louis Brooks for $350; and Berths 4 and 5 to G.W. Peterson for $360.

No action was taken on a recommendation by Mayor Hansen that Greg Shadke be hired as consulting engineer for the May-st. sewer project for a fee of five percent of the cost. He also wanted to put Shadko on a retainer for other city projects.

The council also agreed to transfer $42,000 from the electric fund to the public improvement fund to pay bills in connection with the waste water treatment plant.

The council will meet as committee next Monday night to discuss the budget.

3-2 Vote Saves Channel From Commercial Use

The City Council voted three to two Monday night not to change the zoning on 160-feet of Pine River Channel frontage to permit construction of an office building.

The change was requested by realtor James Corbin who said he put a $500 non-refundable deposit on the property thinking it was zoned commercial. He later found out it was zoned residential.

Voting to retain the R-1 zoning were Aldermen Jeannine Wallace, Robert Timms and Richard Fochtman. Voting in favor of the change were Aldermen Gerald Selph and George Plumm.

Mayor Edward P. Hansen also was in favor of the change but didn't have a vote. Alderman Sam Supernaw was absent from Monday's meeting.

The property is owned by Mrs. Mildred Campbell who offered to sell the steep channel tract to the city last winter for $11,600 – based on a city assessment of $5,800. However the best offer the council could come up with was $3,000.

Mayor Hansen noted for the record that the request by Corbin was turned down because of "overwhelming" sentiment against the change. Several letters were received favoring continued R-1 zoning, including one from the 55-member Lions Club and a recommendation by the Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission.

The council assurred Mrs. Campbell that the city is still interested in buying the property as a scenic reserve. One suggestion brought up for discussion would have the city pay what it feels it can afford for the land, with the balance made up from public subscriptions.

"A lot of people share my feelings that the channel should be kept as it is now," he said.

Using the resort cities of Europe as an example, Aerne said: "Sometimes it is necessary for resort communities to spent a little money in order to remain resort communities."

Council OK's Rock Concert

The City Council Monday night gave its blessing to a rock concert at the Ferry Avenue Beach park on Sunday, April 29, from 2 until 6 p.m.

The request was made by Randy Winchester who said all donations will go the the Charlevoix-Emmet Association for Retarded Children.

Taking part from Charlevoix will be Stonehenge, made up of Dave Graham and Mike Works, guitar; Steve Bloom, saxophone and flute; Marty Anders, drums; and Randy Winchester, bass.

Scheduled to appear from Petoskey are the rock group Bagarth and the jazz group Rasputin.

Folk singer Nina Lundteigen also has been invited to take part.

VanHaver Wins $30,000 in Suit

District Judge Arthur R. Reibel and his wife, Erwina, have been ordered by Circuit Judge James M. Fitzpatrick to pay John VanHaver approximately $30,000 in connection with the sale of Castle VanHaver on M-66 in the fall of 1969.

However after giving his decision, Judge Fitzpatrick ruled that no judgment be prepared until he rules on a motion made by VanHaver's attorney, John Michael, toward the end of the long trial.

Last March 5, Michael moved that VanHaver's complaint be amended to allege fraud by Reibel in rerecording the original warranty deed to the property. The revised deed includes a metes and bounds description of a 100-foot right-of-way to Lake Charlevoix which was never owned by VanHaver and which was not included in the description of the property accompanying the original deed.

The court neglected to act on the motion during the trial but has now asks attorneys for each side to file amendments before the court reaches a decision.

The 100-foot right-of-way actually is the crux of the lawsuit itself, since Reibel insisted it was included in his original agreement with VanHaver. When he discovered the right-of-way wasn't included, he stopped paying for the property.

Judge Fitzpatrick's decision holds that Reibel still owes VanHaver $17,124.60 for the property, plus interest since the suit was filed Nov. 25, 1970, plus 50 percent of VanHaver's outstanding accounts, which comes to $9,583.18, plus $1,000 in attorney's fees.

Reibel, on the other hand, was granted $1,000 in legal fees for work performed for VanHaver, beyond routine

3 More Buses Will Join Fleet

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at a special meeting Monday evening, accepted bids for bodies and chassis for three school buses, accepted a bid on the Building Trades house in Hampton Village now nearing completion, adopted policies relating to physical examinations for all non-certified personnel other than bus drivers and tabled a resignation until the May 14 meeting.

Charlevoix Oil Co.'s bid of $6,364, being the lowest of three bids received, was approved for three bus chassis. Other bids were submitted by Bryce Barns in the amount of $6,533.25 and Fletch's GMC of Petoskey in the amount of $6,520.

At the same time the board accepted the bid of the Great Lakes Co. for two Bluebird bodies and the bid of Hoekstra for one Superior body. The Great Lakes bid was $4,917 and the Hoekstra Co. bid $5,065. Other bids were in the amount of $5,182 bid by the McFadden Co., which makes Wayne bodies, and $4,995 by Ward Body of Michigan.

The board asked for delivery by September, 1973, but the manufacturers made no firm promise.

The board accepted an offer of $32,500 by Dr. and Mrs. David Norton for the Building Trades house in Hampton Village.

A policy relating to physical examinations for all non-certified personnel other than bus drivers was approved. Under the policy, all non-certified personnel other than bus drivers are required to have physical examinations by one of four doctors listed by the board with the board bearing the expense of the basic physical examination including a skin test. According to the policy, the employe must have his physical examination prior to reporting for work and have the results of the examination for the board or its representative prior to the date of employment. The employe must also have enough physical strength to handle the duties of the job, be free of any communicable disease and free from certain other illnesses that might interfere with the job.

Numbers on policies relating to bus drivers also were changed.

After a lengthy discussion, the board voted to table the resignation of Robert Cook until the May 14 meeting.

The Miller scholarship fund will be designated as the Earl W. Miller Opportunity Scholarship and the monies invested for maximum return.

Supt. Robert L. Miller advised the board of the administration's philosophy relating to the Junior high basketball program. He said that the exploratory concept of participate and develop be used over the "win at all costs" approach with emphasis on intra-mural ball in this age group.

Miller and Robert Bogart, business manager, reported on various conferences they had attended. Miller advised that the board study the year-around school program known as the 45-15 program whereby students attend school for nine weeks and have three weeks off. He said sooner or later, the board will be expected to

Book Pinpoints Hazards Of Radiation Pollution

If you haven't been touched at least slightly (unlikely) by the slow poison of radiation, the story of neglect and unprincipled government self-interest told in H. Peter Metzger's "The Atomic Establishment" should cause you concern.

This book carries an irrestible message: If power corrupts, then atomic power seems to corrupt in a frightening, new way.

There is an accumulation of evidence, butressed by 563 footnotes, which indicates that the American public is unprotected from the excesses of a clique of atomic promoters who have, time and again, shown they are willing to overlook obvious threats to health and safety; to ignore all but the scientific opinion that supports their policies; to spend years standing in the way of remedies to errors they themselves made counter to public health and welfare; to manipulate the law to avoid being left with public responsibilities they choose not to face; to operate on the theory that they, alone, understand the exotic business of nuclear energy.

Far too often they have been wrong.

When the Colorado Department of Public Health found high levels of radiation inside several thousand homes built on radioactive fill from uranium mining, the AEC argued that the houses were only reflecting radiation from natural sources not from mishandled mill waste. The commission actively tried to block investigation of the problem which has since stirred a nine-state search for such homes. The indoor radiation issue provides more specific examples:

In 1966, when public health officials asked the Grand Junction, Colo., school superintendent for permission to test radiation levels in a school build on radioactive fill, the superintendent said he would have to first check with his "scientific advisor", a school board member and assistant manager of the AEC's operations office in Grand Junction. The health officials were refused admission to the school.

When the Colorado Health Department asked the U. S. Public Health Service for money to finance a study of [illegible] of the indoor radiation problem the AEC advised the health service that the radiation was from natural sources and a further sampling program was not warranted. The state Health Department, on the AEC's advice, was refused the money.

With the appointment of James F. Schlesinger as AEC chairman in 1970, Metzger sensed the arrival of a different, more responsible man at the top. But after reporting Schlesinger's arrival, Metzger's book inexplicable stops being a detailed history and leaves the reader not knowing whether the AEC is still abusing its privileges. (Schlesinger has since left the AEC to head the Central Intelligence Agency and has been replaced by Dr. Dixie Lee Ray).

The book leaves the reader with the impression that there needs to be a less biased, less promotional, more responsible watchdog body in the place of the AEC, which is both regulating and promoting atomic energy.

The National Environmental Policy Act and the Environmental Protection Agency might wind up filling some of the previous regulatory void.

Metzger is a graduate of Brandeis University and received his Ph.D. in biochemistry from Columbia University. As president of the Colorado Committee for Environmental Information, he became highly regarded as a responsible critic of the AEC. He has written articles for the New York Times magazine on radiation pollution and, by invitation of the AEC, has presented critical lectures at AEC audiences at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory and the AEC's Nevada Operations Office.

Mr. and Mrs. David L. Coen

Coen Claims Bride

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Fahrner of Joliet and the late Dr. Richard Fahrner. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coen of Charlevoix.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard J. Fahrner, the bride wore a traditional floor-length wedding gown of ivory satin with horizontal pleats separating the skirt panels and with ruffles at the collarline and hem. She carried a Flemish bouquet of ivory and gold roses, Scotch heather and baby's breath.

Her attendants were maid of honor Mrs. Phillip Parks, a sister, and bridesmaids Miss Mary Kay Archambeault and Mrs. Karen Connery. They wore Irish linen gowns of emerald green with matching shawls.

Best man was Lawrence Kadaraback and Jeffrey Coen and Phillip Parks served as groomsmen. Tim Coen and Jeffery Coen were ushers.

Organist was William Todorovich and soloist was Mrs. Rosemary Martis.

After a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the new Mr. and Mrs. Coen will live at 821 State-st., Charlevoix, where Coen is employed by Medusa Portland Cement Co.

Movie on Taxes Slated May 2 at Elem. School

All residents of Charlevoix County are invited to a showing Wednesday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Charlevoix Elementary School on Division-st of a new film on taxes, according to Ed Rebman, county extension director.

"Everyone is talking about taxes these days," Rebman says, but not too many of us understand the entire taxation procedure.

"The Power to Tax" is a 26 minute, 16 mm, sound film in color. Its message is specifically for Michigan taxpayers, present and future. In a broader sense, however, it is for all the citizens of Michigan because taxes affect everyone of us. Although taxation is discussed a great deal in the film, the basic topic concerns the number of methods by which local governments can raise revenues to pay for the services citizens request.

The film is certain to give the average viewer a much more comprehensive understanding of how local governments obtain revenue, how they can obtain more, and who has the power to make the decisions involved, or who has "The Power to Tax."

Robert M. [illegible], a bond attorney of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone of Lansing, will give the presentation and lead the discussion covering the subjects related to the film. Jean Blanchard, director of the County Equalization Department and other county officers also will be present.

DNR Cracks Down On Trout Poachers

Steelhead poachers are paying heavy penalties for their illegal fishing activities this spring.

Conservation officers in the nine-county Cadillac district have made nearly 100 arrests in the last three weeks for fishing law violations, according to Willis Copeland, District Law Supervisor for the Department of Natural Resources.

And the courts have meted out stiff fines in several recent cases.

For instance, in one case six men paid $275 each in fines, costs and liquidated damages for possessing 100 pounds of rainbow trout (steelheads) taken from the closed waters of the Little Manistee River. In addition, one of them was ordered to serve 30 days in jail. Their 1973 four-wheel drive vehicle was impounded pending the arrest of a seventh person, for whom a warrant has been issued.

Ironton

Mr. and Mrs. William Peck have returned home after spending the winter in their condominium home in Stuart, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. N.C. Christensen and the former's sister, Mrs. Marie Blissett of Charlevoix, arrived home this Thursday after spending the past three months in Florida.

Mrs. Minnie Meyers has been transferred from the Charlevoix Hospital to the Grandvue Hospital in East Jordan for a few weeks convalescense after surgery. She will appreciate hearing from her friends and local neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham are visiting friends and relatives in and near Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodberry have arrived from their home in Swartz Creek to spend the summer in their local home, formerly the home of J.W. Mosher, on Washington-st.

Trudy Goldstick Repeats Vows In Grand Rapids

The chapel of Fountain Street Church in Grand Rapids was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Trudi Anne Goldstick and Paul Mistalski.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goldstick of Charlevoix and Mrs. Marie Mistalski and Edward Mistalski of Philadelphia.

The Rev. Verdi Reusser officiated at the double ring service in the presence of their immediate families and close friends. Arrangements of white mums and red carnations graced the altar for the ceremony.

The bride chose a gown of sheer white crepe fashioned with a round neckline, fitted bodice with long sleeves and a floor-length skirt bordered with a wide ruffle. Narrow bands of lavender embroidery accented the front of the gown and the ruffles at the sleeves and hemline. Her colonial bouquet was of white daisies, lavender statice and baby's breath. Her only jewelry was a star necklace which had been worn by her mother and grandmother.

Marcia Brown of Charlevoix, as maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of cream polished cotton trimmed with inserts of light green floral print. Her corsage was of pale green carnations. Mrs. Jeff Bartlett, as matron of honor, wore a plum velvet suit and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Bartlett assisted the bridegroom as best man. C. P. Weher of Detroit was groomsman.

Mrs. Goldstick selected a gown of pink crepe with white trim and black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The couple will live in Colorado where they are employed.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and attended Grand Valley State College. The bridegroom graduated from Frankford high school in Philadelphia and is a U. S. Army veteran having served in Vietnam.

What Can School Do With Non-Reader, 17?

The Petoskey-Charlevoix Chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet at the new Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District Building on Mercer blvd. in Charlevoix, on Thursday, April 26th at 7:30 p.m.

The program will be a film, "If a Boy, Can't Learn....the way we teach, we'd better teach the way he can learn."

The film was rented for a three-day period and will be shared with area schools.

It is the story of a 17-year-old high school senior who can't read and can't do math. He is a behavior problem as well as a teaching challenge.

Parents, teachers and interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

John VanHaver Awarded $30,000 in Suit Over Castle

legal business in connection with the transaction.

However even after paying off VanHaver, Reibel still won't be home free because there are still several Administration (SBA mortgages on the property which totaled $147,114.19 at the time of the transaction. The mortgages are held by the Charlevoix County Sstate Bank.

VanHaver, a former Muskegon foundry executive, purchased the property — once the famed Loeb Farm — in the mid-1960's with the intention of converting the crumbling ruins of the fieldstone out-buildings into a foundry specializing in the aluminum castings of art objects.

VanHaver also intended to invite artisans of all kinds to set up shop on the premises and sell their wares to the public.

The complex was to be called "Castle VanHaver" in keeping with the midieval architecture of the turreted cows barns other stone structures.

VanHaver secured the SBA loans to finance the project.

After more than a year of back-breaking labor by VanHaver and his employes—including removal of the massive roofs which had caved in and the clearing of literally acres of overgrown barnyard and lawn — Castle VanHaver opened to the public, with a flurry of television and press coverage.

The foundry was in operation and visitors were charged admission to walk through the premises and view symbols of heraldry and other art objects cast in aluminum.

But business wasn't what VanHaver had hoped it would be and the art colony he had envisioned never materialized. Some days the parking lot was practically empty, even at the height of the tourist season.

VanHaver's opportunity to get out from under its white elephant came in October of 1969 when Andrew Essenberg introduced him to a prospective buyer, a new attorney in town by the name of Arthur Reibel. Essenberg collected $5,000 from Reibel and VanHaver as a "Finders Fee."

Reibel agreed to pay VanHaver $172,114.19 for the castle property--or $25,000 over and above the amount of the then unpaid balance on the outstanding mortgages.

On Nov. 8, 1969, Reibel made an offer to purchase a second piece of property owned by VanHaver nearby. This property was the site of one of the former Loeb cottages called "Brook House." VanHaver was buying Brook House and adjoining property from the Loeb heirs on a land contract. The unpaid balance on the contract was $14,567.19.

Reibel offered $19,567.19 for Brook House, or $5,000 more than the amount owed.

Reibel also agreed to assume one half of VanHaver's outstanding debts, which then totaled $19,100.[illegible], and to buy [illegible] that property from VanHaver valued at $13,124.60.

On Dec. 6, 1969, a warranty deed was executed and on Jan. 20, 1970, the deed was recorded with the Charlevoix County Register of Deeds.

The property was described in metes and bounds in a rider attached to the deed — four parcels of real estate, three of which were the premises owned by fee by VanHaver and the fourth the parcel on which Brook House is located.

Payment on the major portion of the land was to have been made within 75 days of the agreement and on the Brook House property within 60 days after the documents had been executed.

When VanHaver filed suit one year later, only $25,000 had been paid, leaving a balance of $27,707.78.

Furthermore, VanHaver charged that Reibel failed to pay his share of the outstanding debts and that he had been "dunned, harassed and threatened with suit by creditors; that he had been embarrassed and humiliated by the acts of the defendants in operating the buildings on the real estate under the name of Castle VanHaver without knowledge or consent of the plaintiff, resulting in impairment of the plaintiff's reputation, credit rating and name as to the public in general throughout the State of Michigan."

For these indignities, VanHaver asked an additional $75,000 in damages.

Reibel, however, insisted that VanHaver had indicated that a 100-foot right-of-way to Lake Charlevoix went with the property and that the right-of-way was to be available to all Castle VanHaver real estate.

The right-of-way in question, which extends from Evergreen Lane to Lake Charlevoix, belongs to the Loeb heirs and has never been a part of Castle VanHaver.

For the alleged misrepresentation concerning the right-of-way, Reibel, in counter claim, asked $50,000 plus costs and attorney fees from VanHaver.

Reibel further claimed that VanHaver had hired him as attorney to handle the transaction and that VanHaver owed him $7,500 for his services.

He also asked for an ad-

In Encore For Cantata

If you missed the Easter cantata "No Greater Love" at the Community Reformed Church Sunday night, you will have an opportunity to hear it this coming Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Trinity Missionary Church in East Jordan.

The cantata is performed by the Community Choir of Charlevoix, composed of choir members from various Charlevoix churches. It was written by John W. Peterson.

Engaged

MR. AND MRS. William Hilbrecht of East Tawas announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Sue, to James B. LaBlance of Goulais River, Ont. The wedding will be June 23. The bridegroom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerald LaBlance, former residents of Charlevoix now living in Goulais River.

CHS TRACKMAN Terry Left easily cleared the bar at 5 ft., 7½ inches in workouts last week at Kipke Field. Charlevoix thinclads will be coached again this year by Gary Stutzman.

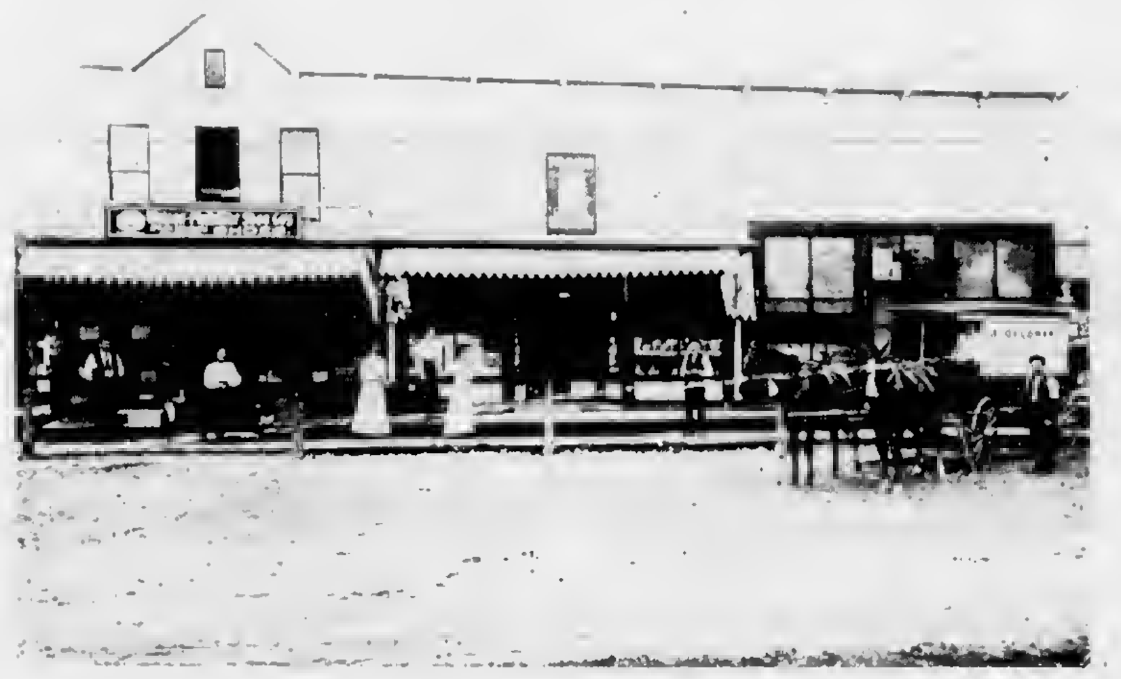
WORK IS progressing rapidly on rebuilding of the Fochtman Motor Co. building at the corner of Bridge and Upright sts. which burned April 5. All debris has been removed and a new roof was put in place last week. Below is a picture of the building which used to stand on the site, a grocery, feed and general store owned by S. Orlowski, grandfather of Mrs. Mary Margaret Geiken. The section at the left is believed to be the present home of Mr. and Mrs. Getchell Campfield, 808 Bridge st.



Library notes

By Eleanor Ratigan

It was a red-letter day when the recently ordered set of books titled "This Fabulous Century" arrived this week. This seven-volume set, beginning with the 1870-1900 period, was edited by Time-Life Books. The volumes are large and made up almost entirely of both black and white and color photographs. The small amount of text is extremely well written, sometimes humorous, sometimes serious. It would be hard to imagine anyone who would not enjoy every page of this magnificent set. Our young people will find the volume covering the 1960-70 decade absorbing, because it contains a very large section dealing with the hippies, flower children, youth trips and psychedelia, draft dodgers, athletes and America's moon walkers.

Young people will find the volume dealing with the 1930-1940 decade terribly amusing, but this is one of the most interesting in the entire set for those who lived through the era. Turning the pages, we relive the days of the Depression, gangsters, Shirley Temple paper dolls, right up to the tune of swing and double-dip ice cream cones.

Perhaps the most pleasing is the first volume with its wonderful photographs of elm-lined streets in small towns, Victorian homes, the old-fashioned soda fountain, ornate Christmas cards and menus (offering broiled lake trout for 30 cents), Valentines, stage coach robberies and goodness knows what all.

The books are bound in flower-patterned linen—each with a different, charming pattern. But what makes this set so unusual and outstanding is that the photographs all seem to be original—not pictures published before. It must have been a monumental task to assemble this set, and it is bound to be of historic importance for years to come.

Also new and noteworthy is "Hour of Gold, Hour of Lead," which contains the diaries and letters of Anne Morrow Lindberg from 1929 to 1932.

This is the second volume which covers the years of her early married life when this shy, sheltered girl is thrown into the world by action of her famous husband. She learns to live in a constant glare of publicity, tracked down by journalists, photographers and a gaping public. With terrifying swiftness, the hour of gold turned to lead with the tragic kidnapping of her baby. It is a measure of their strength of characters and their marriage that Anne and Charles Lindbergh were able to sustain each other sufficiently to overcome bitterness and despair and build a new life. The book is a rich experience for everyone.

Will Speak On Liberty Amendment

Dr. Manuel Kaner, co-chairman of the Michigan Liberty Amendment Committee, has been invited by the Charlevoix County American Independent Party to speak at the next regular monthly meeting, Tuesday, May 1, at the Charlevoix County Building.

The Liberty Amendment has been designed to repeal the 16th Amendment (income tax) and to get the government out of the more than 700 businesses in which it is engaged in direct competition with private enterprise.

Anyone interested in hearing Dr. Kaner's exciting and provocative presentation, is invited to attend. The meeting will begin at 7:30 sharp.

Edward Hansen, Mayor
City of Charlevoix
Michigan 49720

Dear Sir:

We Want to take this opportunity to tell you how pleased we are in the initiative shown by the city council and board of education in hiring a full time director of recreation.

As members of Beta Sigma Phi as well as parents of children who will be involved in recreational programs we appreciate your interest and concern in the children and youth of our community.

It is good to know that we have such progressive and concerned members on both our city council and school board.

Sincerely,
Carol Stephan
Corresponding Secretary
Kappa Sigma Chapter of

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES

Mr. Robert Tillen submitted the Annual Financial Report of the Department of Social Services to the Board. Moved by Commissioner Richardson supported by Commissioner Kotowich that the report be accepted and placed on file.

RESOLUTION - PROBATE COURT

Moved by Commissioner Tompkins supported by Commissioner Carson that the following resolution be adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED, by this Board that the salary of $3,100.00 per year for Deputy Register of the Probate Court be added to the salary schedule for 1973. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Tompkins, Moerland and Milstein. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - SALARY FOR 1973

Moved by Commissioner Tompkins supported by Commissioner Milstein that the following resolution be adopted.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the salary schedule for 1973 be amended to delete the words (inexperienced starting salary $4,650.00).

ALSO BE IT RESOLVED, that the words (the heads of the different departments of Charlevoix County are hereby authorized to set the starting salary, salaries of the inexperienced clerks and help that they hire according to ability) not to exceed $4,650.00 per year be added thereto. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Tompkins, Moerland and Milstein. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION FLOOD INSURANCE

Moved by Commissioner Smith supported by Commissioner Kujawski that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, there are many areas in Charlevoix County that are subject to flooding at various times; such as the flood plains along the rivers and streams and the lakefront areas; and,

WHEREAS, there is available to individuals and businesses in participating local units a flood insurance program under the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Public Law 90 448 as amended; and,

WHEREAS, many local communities within Charlevoix County have made application to the Federal government to qualify for said insurance; and,

WHEREAS, there is an amendment to this Act currently in the Office of Management and Budget in Washington, D.C. which would greatly increase the benefits of this program if it were passed by Congress,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Commissioners of Charlevoix County, Michigan endorse the introduction and passage of an amendment which would increase the coverage available under the Federal Flood Insurance Act of 1968 and also increase the incentives to adopt adequate land use planning and building requirements in floor prone areas; and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Board of Commissioners endorse the addition of "erosion damage" to the list of covered damages under said Act. Since much of the storm damage here in Charlevoix County as in other areas along the Great Lakes and both coasts is due to erosion, this addition would be especially valuable; and,

RESOLVED FURTHER, that copies of this resolution be sent to Congressman Philip Ruppe and Senators Phillip Hart and Robert Griffin, urging their support for these changes; and,

RESOLVED FURTHER, that copies of this resolution also be sent to the other County Board of Commissioners bordering on Lake Michigan urging them to adopt similar resolutions and informing their legislators of their support of these changes. Respectfully submitted Commissioners Smith and Kujawski. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - MICHIGAN TAX COMMISSION REGION 2

Moved by Commissioner Smith supported by Commissioner Kujawski that the following resolution be adopted.

WHEREAS, the following resolution was adopted by Region 2 of the Michigan Association of Counties on March 16, 1973:

"WHEREAS, the Michigan State Tax Commission, an appointed body, has arbitrarily and capriciously continued to act as judge and jury, and

"WHEREAS, it is the belief of Region 2 of the Michigan Association of Counties that this Commission was established to provide equal treatment for all taxpayers, and

"WHEREAS, the Commission has, in reality, failed to provide the necessary compassion and fairness that is needed for the taxpayers of Michigan.

"THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Region 2 of the Michigan Association of Counties support legislation that would provide for the separation of powers by creating a separate tax tribunal."

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners approve this action of the Region 2 Michigan Association of Counties and lend its support toward achieving legislation that will provide for the creation of a separate tax tribunal.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be sent to the Governor of the State of Michigan, Senator Robert Davis, Representative Ralph Ostling, Mark Thompson and Col. Jo Parisi of the Michigan Association of Townships, the Boards of Commissioners of the 83 counties of this state and the township supervisors of Charlevoix County. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Smith and Kujawski. Motion Carried.

AFTERNOON SESSION

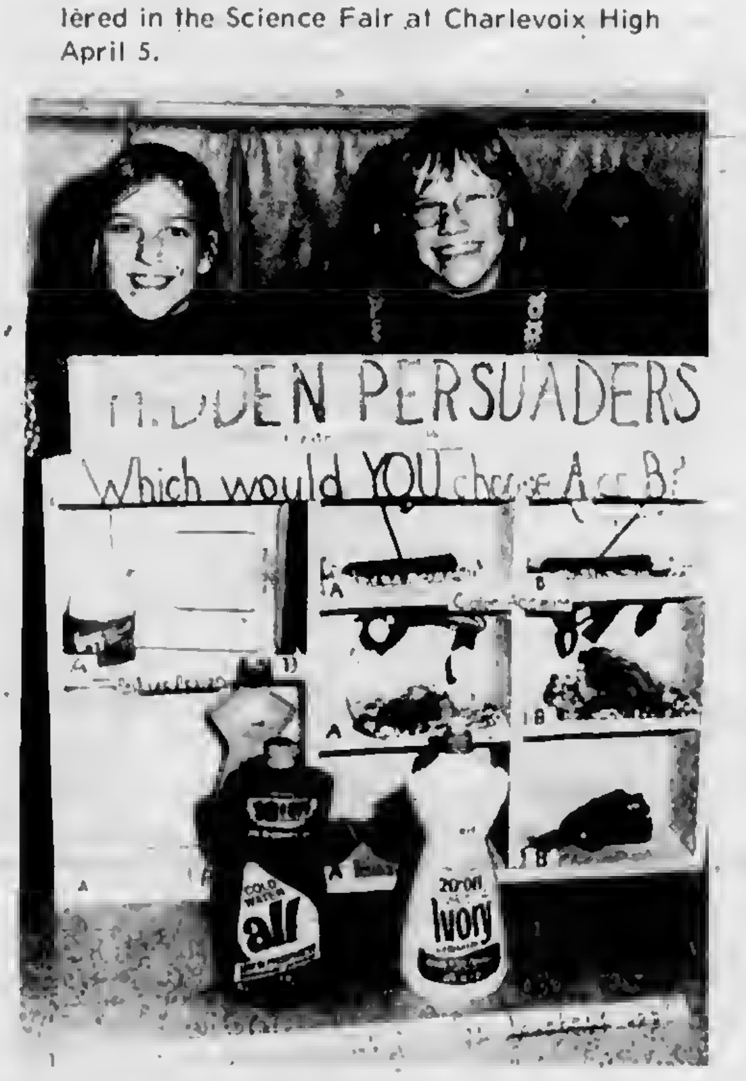
PAT KLOOSTER came to the conclusion that gerbils are smarter than mice after his experiments with a maze. His exhibit was entered in the Science Fair at Charlevoix High April 5.



HIDDEN PERSUADERS was the title of this exhibit by Kathy Cook and Lynne DeMoor. The girls showed how red lights improve the appearance of meats in a showcase and that green vegetables are more taste tempting under a green light. Carrots also sell better if they are packaged in orange-tinted bags

WHEREAS, the encroachment of extra local authority has made it increasingly difficult for local authority to administer in its several areas of responsibility, and

WHEREAS, local authorities are best able to administer local situations and evaluate local problems and concerns, and

WHEREAS, provisions set forth in House Bill 4156, Section 13, would further diminish local responsibility in the process of hiring a qualified Director of the County Department of Social Services, decreasing further the level of local authority and control now vested in the Social Services Boards of the several counties,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners communicate its strongest opposition to Section 13 of House Bill 4156 which would clearly remove authority now vested in the Social Services Boards, to the detriment of the people who are served by said Boards,

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be directed to Representatives Ralph Ostling, Representative Mark Thompson, Senator Robert Davis and members of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Kotowich, Kujawski and Staley. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - PLANNING DEPARTMENT

Moved by Commissioner Kullik supported by Commissioner Richardson that the following resolution be adopted:

RE: "Hayes Township, SW ¼ of SW ¼, Section 2, T34N, R7W, lying south of Old US Highway 31, Except: W ½ of ½ of SW ¼ of SW ¼ of said section lying south on said highway. Also except E ½ of E ½ of SW ¼ of SW ¼ of said section lying south on said highway. Proposed Special Use Permit allowing a home section occupation (sewing center)"

WHEREAS, the Charlevoix County Planning Commission has received a request for a special use permit on the above captioned property, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission has held a Public Hearing and has received comments from the Township Board, and

WHEREAS, The Planning Commission has presented its recommendation for approval of this special use permit request.

THEREFORE LET IT BE RESOLVED that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners approve the request for a special use permit on the above captioned property. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Kullik, Kotowich, and Richardson. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - HAYES TWP. REZONING

Moved by Commissioner Kullik supported by Commissioner Richardson that the following resolution be adopted:

RE: "Hayes Township, Par of Government Lot 1, Section 20 T 34 N, Range 7 West."

WHEREAS, the Charlevoix County Planning Commission has received a request for rezoning the above captioned property, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission has held a Public Hearing and has received comments from the Township Board, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission has presented its recommendation for approval of this amendment request.

THEREFORE, LET IT BE RESOLVED, that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners approve the request for rezoning the above captioned property from Agricultural to R-1 Residential. Respectfully submitted, Commissioners Kotowich, Kullik and Richardson. Motion Carried.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Jenny, Uncle Charlie's mule, was a spinster by circumstance and a teetotaler by conversion. Charlie, who indulged in occasional libation to ward off frostbite or sunstroke according to the season, overlooked Jenny's one indiscretion as due more to outside influence than any waywardness on her part.

It so happened that late one afternoon Jenny noted some questionable activity at the Southeast corner of the front forty and ambled over to investigate. As she stealthily parted some tagalders for a better view, a battered pick up truck vanished in a cloud of dust down the dirst road.

There, strewn on private property, were several steaming burlap sacks which unparted an unfamiliar though not unpleasant aroma to her delicate nostrils. One bag had burst, displaying its yellowish glistening contents. Although she had sampled everything from Aunt Esther's comforter to the seat cushion on the Model-T she approached the mysterious offering with great caution to determine, with a tentative nibble, its nutritional quality.

Finding the flavor to her liking, she began to dine in earnest on the exotic leftovers commonly referred to as "mash" in those polite circles partial to corn likker. As the meal progressed she became aware of blurring vision and a certain lack of coordination, particularly with her feet. Two, and at times all four, tried to step in the same track at the same time. Thoroughly alarmed, she called for assistance in notes so shrill they shattered the double strength window glass on Charlie's back porch.

Charlie, sprinting the quarter mile in record time, envisoned a broken leg in a woodchuck hole and was hardly prepared to find his ward leaning disjointedly against a stunted cedar. Understandingly, he confirmed his amusement to a hidden chuckle since a situation such as this called for compassion rather than ridicule.

Charlie left after a few comforting words, to return with a prodigious forkful of hay over his shoulder. While preparing Jenny's bed he was careful to remain upwind since the ailment could easily be contagious at close range. At dusk, he brought a blanket to cover her against the evening chill, a gesture of which she was completely unaware as she snored peacefully under her illegal sedative.

While contemplating this case of lost equilibrium he thought of the many times he had nursed his partner through wintertime colds resulting from wet feet in the line of duty. As he puffed on his blackened corncob the words of his granddad came to mind.

"Wet the feet too much and the throat goes on the blink. Wet the throat too much and the feet go on the blink."

Yes, indeed!

Reibels Lose In Suit Over Castle VanHaver

ditional $10,000 plus costs, interest and attorney fee's because "clouds and liens" on the Castle VanHaver properties "caused by negligence and misrepresentation of the plaintiff" has cost him an additional $3,000 in legal expenses.

And if that wasn't enough, Reibel asked for $4,550 in rent money for VanHaver's personal property stored in a building on the premises, at the rate of $350 a month.

And he asked an additional $2,500 in damage because VanHaver allegedly failed to deliver all of the assets described in the purchase agreement.

To frost the cake, Reibel asked $100,000 in damage for alleged "libelous statements reflecting on the character of the defendants, alleged in plaintiff's complaint as well as in telephone conversations with the defendants wherein plaintiff is alleged to have threatened personal bodily damage, harm and injury to the defendants and their children."

The nub of Reibel's defense rested in wording in the Nov. 8, 1969, offer-to-purchase which read: "It is mutually agreed between Seller and the Purchaser that in addition to the property described in the Rider attached hereto, the Purchaser shall receive assignment of a 100-foot right-of-way from Evergreen Lane to Lake Charlevoix.

Judge Fitzpatrick pointed out:

"While both parties knew and distinctly understood that VanHaver was not entitled to receive the benefits of the easement, VanHaver told Reibel that he enjoyed good relations with the Loeb family and felt that possibly he might be able to induce them to grant him the easement, and if so he would in turn convey the same to Reibel if he were successful in his efforts. While he thereafter did attempt through contact with one or more of the Loeb heirs to have the right-of-way included in any conveyance pursuant to the land contract, he was unsuccessful in such efforts and there was no understanding or guarantee as part of his dealing with Reibel that such a right-of-way would or could be obtained by VanHaver and conveyed to Reibel."

The judge further said that Reibel, as an attorney, is knowledgeable in the use of wording to be inserted in such documents, and that such wording in this instrument does not undertake to guarantee conveyance of right-of-way, nor is there any legal description thereof."

"The Court .... concludes that there was no legally binding obligation on the part of VanHaver to obtain the easement or right-of-way and-or to convey the same to the defendants as part of his transaction with them; That his agreement to attempt to obtain such easement was voluntary and gratuitous and was not intended to either of the parties to form part of the consideration for his agreement to sell the land contract premises to the defendants, beyond the premises actually described therein."

Among the witnesses heard by Judge Fitzpatrick was Alva Noirot of Charlevoix, who testified that he heard Reibel offer to let VanHaver keep certain items of machinery in the ice house free of charge.

Another witness was Miss Susan Ashcroft, who worked for VanHaver from February, 1967, until November, 1969. She said she heard Reibel tell VanHaver that he "would be glad to have the items stored in the ice house." She said there was no mention of rent. She also testified that Reibel indicated that the legal work he was doing for VanHaver was to be gratis and that he knew VanHaver could "not afford moving and storage of the equipment."

Judge Fitzpatrick ruled that Reibel was not entitled to rent, but did grant him $1,000 for his services in connection with federal tax liens and federal income matters.

On the stand, Reibel admitted that the alleged libelous statements were not made by VanHaver, but by attorney Michael, and the libel counter-claim was dropped.

Judge Fitzpatrick also struck from the original complaint all reference to alleged fraud by Reibel and quoted Reibel as indicating he "had talked with Mr. VanHaver who advised him that he had no intention to charge Reibel with fraud or misrepresentation."

The court also disallowed VanHaver's claim for $75,000 for harassment.

The only hitch remaining in the case is Michael's motion that VanHaver's complaint be amended to allege fraud in the re-recording of the property descriptions.

On May 15, 1969, Reibel sent to VanHaver a warranty deed "for conveyance of a right-of-way to Lake Charlevoix, which is part of the total sales consideration. It is requested that you execute such deed, have it returned by two persons and notarized. Timely execution and return of said deed will greatly assist me in protecting the subject right-away."

"It will be noted that this instrument contained much more than a description of the two right-of-ways," Judge Fitzpatrick pointed out, adding, "The plaintiff did not execute this deed or return it to Reibel."

On Sept. 3, 1970, Reibel allegedly had a revised deed to the property re-recorded, containing not only the original descriptions of the property but also "A description of a perpetual easement and right-of-way for highway, and beach purposes described by metes and bounds, as well as a like perpetual easement of right-of-way for highway purposes...."

Judge Fitzpatrick noted that "the typed sheets of land descriptions now affixed to the printed first sheet of the original warranty deed number four, compared with two typed sheets of descriptions on the deed as originally recorded."

"The revised deed...was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds on September 3, 1970, in Liber 217 on pages 742 to 746 inclusive, and bears the word "Re-recorded" above the Register's wording "Liber 217, page 742." In the body of the printed sheet is typed the wording, 'this deed is being recorded to correct the rider attachment which was erroneously recorded on January 29, 1970.' This is in different type than originally used and was undoubtedly added subsequent to the original recording." Judge Fitzpatrick noted in his decision.

"Where and how the detailed metes and bounds descriptions of the 100-foot easement and of the 66-foot easement were obtained was not made clear at the trial, although it is abundantly clear that John VanHaver executed only one warrenty deed form," the judge wrote, adding: "it is clear, however, that the attempt to include the easements into the chain of title is the result of Reibel's activities."

At the trial, Reibel testified that he amended the descriptions after VanHaver allegedly told him to do anything necessary to protect his interest in the right-of-way

Ride Right On Bikes

Question: It's rough enough to get my kids to ride their bikes safely, but they seem equally confused about which side of the road they're to ride on. What's right? J.M., Livonia

ANSWER: That's right. Right is right. Bicycles operated on roadways must be ridden as near to the right side of the road as practicable, exercising due care when passing a standing vehicle or one proceeding in the same direction.

Wherever usable path for bicycles has been provided adjacent to a roadway, bicycle riders shall use such path and shall not use the roadway.

QUESTION: I've seen several cars running around town without a front license plate. Some of them are low slung jobs with no plate brackets and others have substituted a plate that says "USA-1" Can they do this? O.W., Stephenson.

ANSWER: Not legally. Registration (license) plates that have been issued for an automobile shall be attached "thereto, one in the front and the other in the rear." Fastening and placing restrictions are also clearly identified.

And while we're on the subject, remember "it shall be unlawful to attach to any motor vehicle plate any name plate, insignia or advertising device."

ANSWER: Not in Michigan, but many veteran cyclists do this anyway. It's all a matter of being seen better.

Campsite Reservations Effective Next Jan. 1

By Sen. Robert Davis

Q. What is being done to alleviate the long waiting lines at Michigan's state campgrounds? M.E., Petoskey.

A. Last year almost a quarter of a million campers were turned away from Michigan's 71 State campgrounds because of lack of facilities.

Next year, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources hopes to correct that situation instituting a campsite reservation system designed to insure campers a spot before they leave home.

Last week, the State Senate adopted a resolution authorizing the Department to institute such a campsite reservation system. The resolution is not expected to encounter any difficulty in the House of Representatives and the new plan is scheduled to go into effect next Jan. 1.

Michigan's State camping facilities are extremely popular as evidenced by the fact that more than 6¼ million people used them last year. With that much pressure on the campsites, it is little wonder that more than 238,000 campers were disappointed at the gates to facilities they had hoped to use.

The use of the camper reservation system was proposed only after careful study of what other states have been doing in the line, notably Florida and California.

Many Michigan camping families who have experienced difficulty in getting places to camp in State areas in the past have requested such a system.

While details of the reservation plan have not been completed, it is planned to have campers make reservations (for a minimum of four days and a maximum of 15 days) directly with the park of their choice rather than at a central office for all parks.

Only half of the campsites in any state area will be in the reservation system, with the remainder being open to other campers on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Confirmation of a reservation means that one campsite will be reserved at the park but campers will not be permitted to reserve a specific site nor make more than one reservation on one application.

Upon receipt of confirmation of a reservation, campers will have approximately 10 days to return it with their checks for $3 a day for the length of their stay plus an undetermined "service fee."

Tentative plans call for holding the campsite about 24 hours if campers encounter problems enroute and notify the park of late arrival. It is tentatively planned to refund fees to "no-shows" after 24 hours but the "service fee" will be retained.

Park officials hope to have brochures on hand at parks this year to explain how the reservation system is designed to work when put into effect in 1974.

It is not expected that the full 50 percent of campsites will have to be reserved at the outset of the new system in all parks although park officials expect this will be necessary at the most popular parks at Holland, Grand Haven and Higgins Lake.

Your questions and comments are always welcome and may be addressed to: State Sen. Robert W. Davis, State Capitol, Lansing, Mich. 48902.

Questions & Answers On Zoning

Q. I understand that the State has passed a Building Code Act, and that we will all come under this act in 1974. Will this supersede County and Township Zoning? S.T.

A. No. Zoning Ordinances and Building Codes are two different regulatory measures. You are correct in that the State has passed a Building Code Act and a building code will be enacted sometime early in 1974. This will not supersede Township or County Zoning Ordinances.

As this department understands the Act, there will be four options open for the administrations of this act.

1) The State will administer the State Building Code.

2) The county will administer the State Building Code.

3) A Township or City can adopt and administer the State Building Code.

4) A Township or City can adopt its own Building Code and administer it.

Throughout the coming months, representatives from the State Building Code Office will be in the area giving more detailed information regarding this Act.

Q. Is the County Zoning Ordinance as it was adopted going to remain as is or can it be changed? B.M.

A. No. The County Zoning Ordinance is a flexible tool which can be changed by amendment. These amendments are not made indiscriminately, but rather are made following a Public Hearing. These Public Hearings are advertised in local newspapers and give the citizens of the County an opportunity to comment on the proposed change.

Cycles, ATV's Raising Hob at Mt. McSauba

Mt. McSauba, the North Point sand dune that so many people have worked so hard over the years to turn into a ski hill, is being ruined by cars and motorcycles, according to Charles Meier, manager.

Meier says the vehicles are tearing up the sod and digging deep ruts into the slopes that have been carefully groomed and contoured for skiers.

Unlike ski areas which have their own snow-making equipment, Mt. McSauha must rely on a relatively smooth earthen hase in order to provide acceptable skiing. The deep ruts heing dug by the motorized vehicles could result in serious accidents next winter.

Meier says that the city spent thousands of dollars six years ago to spread topsoil on the hill and to re-seed hare slopes in order to stop erosion and make a smooth surface for skiing.

"With only natural snow to make a hase, a smooth surface is necessary," he says.

This spring, however, all-terrain vehicles and motorcycles are ripping up the sod and ruining the surface of the hill for next winter's skiers.

He says signs will be posted making the hill off limits to motorized vehicles. He asks the cooperation of all Charlevoix residents in keeping their vehicles off the ski runs.

Bicyclists Must Obey Same Rules as Drivers

There's no douht about it: Charlevoix is well on its way toward becoming the biking capital of Northern Michigan.

But along with a resurgence of bicycling as both a sport and a means of transportation, comes a warning from a worried citizen that many cyclists are risking injury to life and limh hy not obeying the traffic laws.

Our informant says he came dangerously close to colliding head-on recently with a young mother who was peddling into oncoming traffie with a youngster on her bicycle.

He says the incident occurred on South Bridge-st. about 6 p.m., an hour when light conditions are not the best this time of year. Fortunately, he was able to swerve into the center lane in time to avoid hitting the cyclist.

Cyclists are reminded that when riding on the streets they must travel in the right hand lane, with traffic, and obey all traffic rules, just as the drivers of motorized vehicles.

If riding at night, hicyclists should make sure their bikes are equipped with front and rear lighting. It's also a good ideas to wear light colored clothing that will be readily picked up hy auto headlights.

When crossing busy thoroughfares, it's also a good idea, particularly for youngsters, to dismount and "walk" their bikes across.

Drivers of motorzied vehicles also are urged to drive with extra caution during the hicycling season. Because of its size, a bicycle isn't as easy to see as an automobile, particularly through a rear-view mirror.

Drivers hacking from their driveways should double eheck to make sure the coast is clear hefore roaring into the street.

Bicycling is a clean, healthful and invigorating sport and a sensihle means of fair-weather transportation. We are confident that the hicycle and the automobile can co-exist on the same streets if everyone oheys the traffic rules and keeps an eye out for the other fellow.

Says Ostling Is Repaying MEA Debt

Malcolm W. Dale
P.O. Box 66
Eastport, Michigan 49627
April 11, 1973

The Editor
The Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

Mr. Ralph Ostling has repaid the first installment of his debt to the power hungry Michigan Education Association and with interest. You will recall it was an open secret that the M.E.A. and our "republican" governor, William Milliken, engineered and financed the defeat of incumbent republican Richard Friske in his bid for re-election to the State House of Representatives last year. It was conservatively estimated that the M.E.A. spent over $60,000 for the Friske defeat and for proposition "C". This without regard to the position of its teacher members on these issues.

Ostling began repaying this debt by co-sponsoring the tyrannical House Bill No. 4243 which passed the House on March 15, 1973. When passed by the Senate, this bill will give the M.E.A. total power over all teachers whether they belong to that organization or not. How do they get that power? Simple! If a man or woman wants to continue as a teacher, he must pay an amount equal to the required "Bargaining Unit" M.E.A.) dues or he can no longer teach. These dues vary from $175.00 to $225.00 per year.

Of course, this is unconstitutional and a constitutionalist such as Richard Friske would have opposed such a Fascist proposal vehemently. But Ralph Ostling, as suspected by many, is not for constitutional principles and the freedoms thus guaranteed. He bought a job with M.E.A. money and he can be expected to keep paying payments on his debt to his boss, the M.E.A. as long as he is in office.

Sincerely,
M.W. Dale

Clockwise

Pushing Nine

By Bob Clock

I have always thought anyone who uses baby talk in conversing with children has a screw loose. And I still do.

But Katie, who is pushing nine, has introduced some expressions into the Clock household that I am having the devil's own time getting rid of, particularly in public. When I use them at home, everyone understands.

Unfortunately, the English language didn't come easy to poor Katie. Being our first, we anticipated her every desire and she didn't see the need to talk at all until she was almost three.

Then she started with a vengeance and hasn't stopped to take a decent breath ever since. But her pronunciation has never been first rate.

When she was a toddler, she loved to ride to Petoskey — which somehow came out "Socki." Later she modified it to "Pen-toski", which it remains to this day among the Clocks when no one else is listening.

One of her favorite meals has always been spaghetti. But she called it "bensketti" – which sounds more Oriental than Italian – but it all tastes the same.

Macaroni also acquired a "B" and a few other letters, emerging as "brackamoni," which we still call it among ourselves.

But something happened Saturday that has convinced me I have to be more careful.

We suddenly discovered that ones year-old Danny didn't have an Easter basket to fill with goodies on Easter morning. Dad was elected to run downtown and buy one.

The clerk at the first place I stopped looked at me sort of fishy-eyed when I asked her if she had any "Easter basticks" left. That's another Katieism I haven't been able to shake, until now.

But I suppose I shouldn't feel too bad. I once knew a grown man who told me not once but many times how much he enjoyed a "midnight smack" from the refrigerator. He lived 40 years without realizing "snack" is spelled with an "n" not an "m".

Another woman in the same town (Cass City) ran a little restaurant which she called "Kafe." This bothered me no end until I noticed the sign on her front window. It read' Cass City Cafe. How in the world was she to know in Cass City that "Cafe" is French?

I also knew another man, an employee of Ford Motor Co., who was elected mayor of a suburban Detroit community.

"Drop in and see me anything," he said. "My office is in the 'muninicipal' building."

"The which building?" I asked.

There was no doubt about it. His office was in the "muninicipal" building and he was mayor so he ought to know.

Then there was the woman who introduced me to her daughter's "finanće" — pronounced just the way it's written. I wondered ever after if the girl married the guy for his money.

And, of course, we shouldn't forget all those stalwart government leaders — we have a few in Charlevoix — who talk about the "physical" year ending June 30, "physical" budgets and "physical" responsibility. But it's not really their fault. No language should have two words so similar to the ear as "physical" and "fiscal."

Come to think of it, Katie isn't doing so badly in the language department. After all, she's only pushing nine.

Yankee Goes Home

By Jim Fitzgerald

It was splendid nostalgia but, to tell the truth, I felt a little sad.

There I was after driving over 1,000 miles, standing behind a crummy building in Ft. Polk, kicking the ground with the toe of my shoe and saying such inane things as:

"Boy. It's been 28 years since I kicked this ground. We used to play ball here. It was red dirt then. Now it is blacktop. Boy."

"Yes," my wife said. "You are ruining your shoes."

"General MacArthur also ruined his shoes when he returned," I said. "And his socks squished for days."

Fort Polk was Camp Polk when I was first there, for 10 months in 1945 and '46. It was there that I closed my three-year career as one of the most counter-productive soldiers in the history of the U.S. Army. It was there, in fact, that I typed out my own discharge. That piece of paper is still readable today, a lasting monument to the value of my contribution toward keeping this country free to bomb Cambodia. I misspelled my own name.

Now I had returned. I had lured my wife along with promises of a grand vacation in New Orleans. Little did she know that Ft. Polk was also in Louisiana. She did wonder why I turned west instead of north as we left New Orleans after four days of marvelous jazz and juleps in the French Quarter.

But there was no one at Ft. Polk to forgive me my past sins against the military.

There was no one to assure me there was no longer any hard feelings because, as a chaplain's assistant, I had hung the 14 stations of the cross in reverse order in three chapels.

There was no one at the motor pool who could remember whether anyone ever put winter tires on my Jeep. The camp commander ordered all vehicles to switch in the winter of '45 but I never found the time. Whenever an officer questioned my tires, I told him I had a special dispensation from the chaplain because the blessed rubber hadn't arrived from Rome yet.

And perhaps that explains why the nostalgia was tinged with sadness. The big reason I was there 28 years ago was so my son wouldn't be there today.

We didn't make it. Sometimes I don't think we ever will.

Still others see a link between the geysers and the fabled "underground rivers" that are supposed to connect Torch Lake, lying just to the north, the Grand Traverse Bay

Newsmen are permitted to visit the outskirts of the village with a special pass issued by Michigan State Police at the Command Post, providing they are accompanied by law officers.

The Courier editor secured a pass Sunday afternoon and was driven to the village limits in an Antrim County patrol car manned by two deputies of the Grand Traverse County Sheriff's Department, Stuart Soule and Harry Heller.

Traveling east on old M-72, we passed a home where an old artesian well has bubbled for years in the side yard. The water used to be drinkable, but since the eruptions the flow has turned a milky white.

All other artesian wells in the area have been similarly affected.

Traffic in the area was fairly heavy, and wherever caravans of sight-seers had stopped to rubber-neck, Soule gently urged them to move along via the bull-horn on the patrol car.

A few hundred yards east of the artesian well, we turned south to new M-72 which has been closed to traffic. Near the intersection, a muddy geyser has erupted next to the highway, a boiling, mouse-gray caldron that spewed muddy water into a drainage ditch.

Several hundred yards to the west we encountered a barricade. Ahead and to the left were the areas of the village that have been sealed off. In the distance we could see a dark blob in the middle of the road, the geyser that necessitated the closing of M-72 last week.

To the south was the trim yellow house where the first geyser sprang up. Some distance east of the back yard was a bubbling pond that wasn't there a week before.

Beyond the yellow house, was the white frame town hall, which has been badly undermined by geysers and is in danger of collapsing. Occasionally, spray from an artesian well nearby drifted across the road on the back of a west wind.

The worst part of the Williamsburg eruptions is that no one knows how long they will last. Such an occurrence has never happened before, according to the officers.

"You can just say that it will last for the duration," Deputy Heller said.

In the meantime, new geysers are erupting every day throughout the area. One was discovered in a woods near Acme Saturday morning. That one splattered mud to the tops of 60-foot tall trees with its initial thrust.

"There is absolutely no way of knowing where the next geyser will appear. Some are on hilltops. Others on hillsides. Still others crop up on level land or in low-lying areas.

Gov. William Milliken toured the area Friday, but he said he thought federal disaster assistance would be unnecessary. He left county officials in charge and appointed Regional Department of Natural Resources Manager Troy Yoder to coordinate state agencies assisting Grand Traverse Sheriff Richard Weiler.

Donald Bateman, a gas safety engineer for the Michigan Public Service Commission, is not optimistic that life will return to normal in Williamsburg in the near future.

"Even if the source were cut off this instant, these (geysers) could percolate for several weeks," he said.

Harold Kohn Is Improving

Dr. Harold Kohn is reported out of intensive after extensive brain surgery at University Hospital in Ann Arbor last Tuesday.

Dr. Kohn's secretary, Mrs. Richard Kayner, reported Friday that he was no longer being fed intravenously and was able to sit up.

Teresa Ann Phelps will serve as valedictorian and Wilson Ray Boss as salutatorian of the 1973 Charlevoix High School graduating class, Principal Vane Smith announced Monday.

Miss Phelps achieved a grade point average of 3.865 during her high school career and Boss an average of 3.846.

Other members of the "Top Ten" scholastically are Catherine Ann Begrow, Michael L. Works, William Louis Wilson, David Carl Graham, Laura Sue Staublin, Janet Lee Dinwiddie, Dennis Jay Crain and Steven Roger Key.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson M. Phelps of 110 Park-ave., Miss Phelps plans to attend the University of Michigan in the field of either psychiatric social work or education. At Charlevoix High she was president of the Pep Club in her junior year and belonged to the Spanish Club, the yearbook staff, the Flash staff, the Concert and Symphony Bands and the Marching Band.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Boss of R-1, Charlevoix, Boss plans to study civil engineering at North Central Michigan College. During high school he played basketball and belonged to Campus Life. He was president of the Youth Group at the Community Reformed Church and a member of the American and Michigan Milking Shorthorn Society. He is interested in snowmobiling, softball, farming and basketball.

Miss Begrow, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Begrow, 502 Michigan-ave., plans to attend Grand Valley State College, with a possible major in art. She has been a member of the Symphony and Marching Bands, was a Student Council representative, served as class secretary in her sophomore year, belonged to the Pep Club in her junior and senior years and participated in the Waterfront Art Fair last year.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Works, 418 Meech-st., Works plans to study literature, science and the arts at the University of Michigan as a pre-law student. During high school he has belonged to the Ski Club, the National Honor Society and the Student Council. He also attended Boys State.

Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Wilson, R-2, Charlevoix. He plans to study medicine at the University of Michigan. At Charlevoix High he has served as president and historian of the Latin Club and achieved NEDT and PSAT honors as well as the chemistry award and a

Judge Reibel Cites Michael For Contempt

Charlevoix Attorney John Michael was released on personal recognizance bond Friday morning when he appeared before District Judge Arthur Reibel on a charge of contempt of court.

Michael was cited after he failed to appear in court Thursday afternoon in a civil suit in which he represented one of the parties.

Michael said he was in Bellaire at the time attending to another pressing legal matter and notified attorney Thomas Pointner, representing the other litigents, and Judge Reibel that he would be unable to return to Charlevoix in time to represent his client.

Michael said Judge Reibel told him that if he were not in the courtroom at 2 p.m. he would send law officers after him.

Michael was arrested Friday morning at the Charlevoix County Courthouse by Deputy James McCallum and was escorted across the parking lot to the District Court chambers in the old county jail where Judge Reibel was hearing small claims cases.

At the arraignment, Michael was admitted to trial and released immediately on personal recognizance.

Judge Reibel said the case would be heard before a visiting judge at a time and date to be set.

Sorry, Folks, No Court News

District Judge Arthur Reibel has declared a moratorium on the dissemination of District and Magistrate's Court news to the Charlevoix Courier.

Reibel said he has imposed the moratorium because of "irresponsible reporting" and "matters now before the courts."

A similar embargo on court news is in effect for the Petoskey News-Review.

Judge Reibel said the ban may be lifted in the future. In the meantime, attorneys for the two newspapers are attempting to see what can be done to end the moratorium. Unless suppressed, court proceedings are a matter of public record.

Solons Ask Sun Oil Co. To Reconsider Shut-Off

Sen. Robert W. Davis and three state representatives from northern Michigan have lodged a vigorous protest with H. Robert Sharbough, president of the Sun Oil Co., over the company's decision to phase out its oil distributorships in the area with the end of the present heating season.

Joining Davis in the protest were Pres. Ralph Ostling, Mark Thompson, and George Prescott.

Davis said the company's decision "is the cause of great concern to thousands of homeowners, businessmen and industry."

"I recognize that somewhat of an energy crisis does exist in this nation," Davis wrote, "but the discontinuance of fuel oil service, especially in the northern portion of the state, is going to work an extreme hardship on many of Michigan's citizens."

He pointed out that Sun Oil has served northern Michigan for some time and that the decision to cut off supplies of fuel oil "contradicts the image of responsibility your company has built over the past years.

"It would seem more fair to distribute proportionately less fuel to the whole state, than to excide your northern Michigan customers completely," Davis suggested.

"The people in the northern rural areas of our state are quite disturbed with this decision," he continued. "Many have expressed their consternation at what they feel is a grave, irresponsible decision on the part of Sun Oil."

"On behalf of the people of northern Michigan, I ask that you consider extending your service for a period of one more year to this area," the senator wrote. "This would at least give the distributors involved a chance to secure other means of supply."

The letter closed with a suggestion that the Michigan lawmakers meet with Sharbough either at his office in St. Davids, Pa., or in Michigan.

Proposed City Budget Shows 20 Pct. Increase

Council To Hold Hearing

City Council members were briefed Monday night by City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna, on a proposed 1973-74 budget totaling $444,100 – a 20 percent increase over this year's budget of $368,966.24.

Hanna said he expected the council to set a hearing on the budget at the May 7 meeting. The hearing probably will be May 22, the Tuesday following Mayor's Exchange Day.

Hanna said the increases would result from pay hikes written into the contract with the Communications Workers of America, salary increases and other expenditures he feels necessary elsewhere in the budget.

These include: Publications, $2,500; airport engineering, $7,000; airport grant match, $4,000; larger harbormaster's building, $3,000; harbor study update, $2,500; full-time recreation director, $8,000; platting and appraisal of industrial park, $2,500; home alert system for firemen, $3,800; fire department equipment, $1,200; and full-time assessor, $9,400.

In addition, there are increases in the street construction fund, the electric fund, the water fund, the sewage fund and other funds serving other units of city government.

Mass, Dinner Will Honor Father Denay

The Rev. E. Francis Denay, pastor of Charlevoix's St. Mary's Church for the past 20 years, will be honored at a Concelebrated Mass and parish dinner on the occasion of his 40 years in the priesthood on Sunday, May 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Doan are general chairman of the observance. Arthur Heilig will serve as master of cermonies; Mrs. C.D. Geiken will assist as hostess and Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Yates will be in charge of the dinner.

Other chairman will be named as the plans proceed, Doan said in announcing the event, to which the entire parish is invited.

SIDEWALK superintendent had a field day Monday when the former Dyksterhouse residence was moved from W. Dixon-ave. to a new location on Carson-ave., by way of Petoskey-rd., Burns-st. and Division-st. The house has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stokes. Here the house passes the corner of Nettleton and Petoskey-rd.

Mrs. Fettig Is Placed On 5 Years' Probation

Lillie Lou Fettig, 25, of Walloon Lake, has been placed on five years' probation Friday by Circuit Court Judge Edward H. Fenlon for not reporting the murder of her husband to authorities.

Mrs. Fettig, whose husband, Donald, 29, was killed last Nov. 19 in Evangeline Township by Larry Fitzpatrick of Boyne City, also was given a six months' suspended sentence.

The judge ordered Mrs. Fettig to care for her three children and to seek phychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Fettig originally had been charged with conspiring with Fitzpatrick to kill her husband, but the charge was reduced to concealing knowledge of a crime punishable by prison.

Fitzpatrick was convicted of second degree murder in Fettig's death and has been sentenced to from 13 to 23 years in Southern Michigan Prison.

Fitzpatrick told the court that he shot Fettig while on a hunting expedition.

Schedule Sign-Up Of Kindergarteners

Charlevoix Elementary School will hold its annual kindergarten round-up Thursday and Friday, May 3 and 4, according to Glenn B. Snider, principal.

Parents of new kindergarteners whose last names begin with any letter of the alphabet from A to K should register their youngster from 1 until 3:30 p.m. May 3. The L to Z group will be registered May 4 from 9 until 11 a.m.

To enter kindergarten in September, a child should be five years old by Dec. 1, 1973.

Parents are asked to bring only the child to be enrolled to the registration.

Mrs. Dean Davenport, school nurse, will be on hand to explain health requirements and forms that must be completed.

No kindergarten classes will be held the afternoon of May 3 or the morning of May 4.

CHARLEVOIX Fifth Graders took their annual trip to Greenfield Village last Thursday and Friday. The youngsters traveled by school bus and stayed at Dearborn Inn. A stop at the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak also was on the agenda.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

TO: ALFRED J. HASS and JOANNA HASS,
of P.O. Box 71, Walloon Lake, Michigan, and all persons claiming under and
through them:

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain real estate Mortgage made by Alfred J. Hass and Joanna Hass, his wife, of P.O. Box 71, Walloon Lake, Charlevoix County, Michigan, as Mortgagors, to The First National Bank of Petoskey, now by reason of change of name First National Bank and Trust Company, a national banking association of Howard and Mitchell Streets, Petoskey, Michigan, as Mortgagee, which Mortgage was dated June 10, 1968 and recorded June 11, 1968 in Liber 124, Pages 647-648, Charlevoix County Records, and the entire balance secured by said Mortgage having become due and payable by reason of the continuance of said default for a period exceeding five (5) days, according to the terms and conditions of said Mortgage, and upon which Mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal the sum of SIXTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED EIGHTY-SIX DOLLARS and EIGHTEEN CENTS ($16,486.18) and for accrued interest the sum of ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED EIGHTY-SIX DOLLARS and SIXTY-FIVE CENTS ($1,986.65), for a total of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED SEVENTY-TWO DOLLARS and EIGHTY-THREE CENTS ($18,472.83), and no suit or proceeding in law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof;

Now, Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Friday, the 8th day of June, 1973, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the main entrance to the Charlevoix Courthouse, City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan, that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held, of the premises described in said Mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amounts due, as aforesaid, on said Mortgage with interest thereon at seven percent (7 percent) per annum, together with all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sums which may subsequent to the date of this notice be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. The premises to be foreclosed, described in said Mortgage, is as follows:

Beginning at an iron stake which is North 13 degrees 10 minutes East 581.8 feet of the point of intersection of the East edge of the right-of-way of Highway M-75 and the South line of Section 9, Township 33 North, Range 5 West; thence South 76 degrees 50 minutes East 165 feet to an iron stake; thence North 4 degrees 34 minutes West 131.25 feet to an iron stake; thence North 76 degrees 50 minutes West 125 feet to an iron stake; thence South 13 degrees 10 minutes West 125 feet to the point of beginning; being a part of Government Lot 1, Section 9, Township 33 North, Range 5 West, Village of Walloon Lake, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

The redemptive period afforded Mortgagors by Statute is six (6) months from date of foreclosure sale.

NOTICE

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, a petition has been filed with the City Clerk, signed by the owners of all the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by W. Upright, Sherman, W. Lincoln, and Grant Streets, more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot 154 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the City of Charlevoix, as per the recorded plat thereof in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan; thence continuing South along the East boundary of Lots 154, 155, 178 and 179 to the South boundary of Lot 179, thence East 16.5 feet to the Southwest corner of Lot 180; thence North along the West boundary of Lots 180 and 153 to the Northwest corner of Lot 153; thence West 16.5 feet to the point of beginning."

AND WHEREAS, said alley is not open, has not been used or improved and is of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and should be vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alley, provided that the City retains the right to maintain, operate, repair and replace, by itself or by any licensee or a holder of a franchise from the City, any poles, wires, pipes, conduits, sewer mains, water mains, or any other facility or equipment for the maintenance or operation of any utility now located in the alley or portion thereof vacated by this Resolution, and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, June 4, 1973, at 8:00 p.m. (Daylight Savings Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing of said alley and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courier commencing with the issue of May 2, 1973.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote:

YEAS: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman.
NAYS: None.
ABSENT: Alderman Supernaw.

Record Beaver Kill Reported in Area

Aided by an exceptionally early spring breakup and a high beaver population, trappers took 8,657 beaver--more than double the previous top harvest of 4,063 in the 33 northernmost counties of the Lower Peninsula. The previous mark was set in 1966.

Expectations of high prices for pelts also encouraged many to purchase trapping licenses. The high prices, however, did not materialize.

Department of Natural Resources biologists were not alarmed at the heavy harvest. They pointed out that beaver were generally underharvested last year and than oversupply of beaver can bring problems.

One of these problems could be the spread of tularemia, a disease that has cropped up among beaver in Michigan in the past when these animals were too numerous.

Another problem is the nuisance caused by beaver. In one district last year, the DNR received nearly three times as many complaints over beaver damage as were filled the previous year.

This year's otter take in the northern Lower Peninsula was pegged at 331, the highest total since 263 were trapped in 1970.

Dwarfism Victim Needs Mom, Dad

She is waiting to be adopted by loving parents.

She is alert and observing. Her foster mother says she is very affectionate and responsive.

Michigan Children's Aid and Family Services feels she will need understanding parents.

It is anticipated that she will be less than five feet in height at maturity and her arms and legs will be short in proportion to her average size body and head. At five months she is chubby, weighing 14 pounds 8 ounces, she is 22 inches tall and developing normally.

The pediatrician reports that she has good general health and satisfactory mental development for her age. She has the potential to live a normal social, mental and emotional life.

If you think you may be interested in Laura and believe you may help her to achieve a happy and satisfying life, call 946-8975 and ask for William Smith, Casework Supervisor at Michigan Children's Aid and Family Services, 210 Beaumont Place, Traverse City, Michigan.

CONVENTION MAY 16

Mrs. Custer to Preside At Diocesan Luncheon

The Ladies of St. Mary's Cathedral and representatives of the Central Region will hostess the First Annual Convention of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, to be held on Wednesday, May 16, at the K. of C. Hall, two and one-half miles east of Gaylord on M-32.

Theme for the Convention will be: "To Live in Faith."

Every parish in the Gaylord Diocese has been invited to send representatives and guests. Luncheon tickets have been sent to all parishes; if more are needed, write Mrs. Leonard Wojtkowiak, R. 2, Box 21, AK, Gaylord, Mich. 49735 before May 10.

Registration and coffee hour will begin at 9 a.m., followed by a business meeting with Mrs. Edward Bailey presiding. Mrs. Nic C. Enders, the convention chairman will give the welcoming address, the response by Mrs. Richard Gielczyk, president of S.W. Region.

Panel discussions will follow under the guidance of Rev. Ronald Gronowski, spiritual advisor, on "Adult Education" by William J. Jacobs, diocesan assistant superintendent of Christian education and on "Family and Child Care Services" by Richard Beachnau, doicesan coordinator. A concelebrated mass will be offered up and the principal celebrant will be The Most Rev. Bishop Edmund C. Szoka.

At the noon luncheon with Mrs. Harry Custer, Convention program chairman presiding, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis Kaminski, Host Pastor and Vicar General will give the Invocation and Welcome. The Most Rev. Edmund C. Szoka will deliver a message.

Greetings will be extended from the National Council of Catholic Women by Mrs. William J. Guinn, Provincial Director of Michigan. The general session will resume and Rev. James Gardiner will address the assembly. The convention committees will report and the closing remarks will be by Rev. Ronald Gronowski.

Korean Government Seeks Vets' Names

The Korean government is seeking the name of American military veterans who have served in Korea since 1945.

A personalized letter of thanks from the Republic of Korea will be sent to the veterans as part of commemorative activities marking the twentieth anniversary of the armistiee between South Korea and Communist North Korea.

Korean veterans are asked to send their name and current address, dates of Korean service, military unit and rank to Korean Light, Inc., Post Office Box 36, Santa Barbara, Calif.

Ex-Trombonist Accepts Call to Church of God

The Rev. William P. Seibert of Chesterfield, Ind., has answered a call to the Community Church of God in Charlevoix and will preach his first sermon May 20.

Rev. Seibert has been pastor of the Linden Lane Church of God in Chesterfield for the past seven and one-half years.

During his pastorate, more than a dozen young married couples made decisions to leave their chosen vocations to enter full-time Christian service. They are now serving throughout the United States and Canada and overseas.

Rev. Seibert has been active in evangelistic work and as a convention speaker for the Church of God. He also has served in the area of Christian Education, working with the editorial committee of Warner Press, Inc., of Anderson, Ind., in the preparation and writing of the church school curriculum.

He also has authored several adult quarterlies and served as contributing editor to "Vital Christianity" and other publications, with many of his articles reprinted in foreign religious journals.

Rev. Seibert's wife, the former Virgene Shake of Clayton, Ill., has served as secretary at the School of Theology at Anderson College and more recently as secretary to the director of admissions.

The Seiberts have two married children.

Rev. William P. Selbert

Billy and his wife, Brenda, work for the state of Florida at Panama City, working in the area of rehabilitating young people committed to the Juvenile Detention Center.

Their daughter is Mrs. James (Cheryl Ann) Kipren Brown of Anderson, Ind. The Browns have two children.

Rev. Seibert originally planned a career in music, studying in New York and at the Hartford Conservatory of Music. During this time he played trombone with the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra in Reading, Pa., and traveled extensively with popular dance bands.

It was on a tour that he accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior and entered Milliken University of which he is an alumnus. The university is associated with the Presbyterian denomination.

He was granted a scholarship by Charles Shultz, creator of the "Peanuts-- comic strip to pursue special studies at Anderson College. He also has studied at the School of Theology Center for Pastoral Studies in Anderson.

Rev. and Mrs. Seibert will arrive in Charlevoix the week of May 1-.

Philly Idea

Philadelphia gave Paris its system of assigning houses odd numbers on one side of the street and even on the other. A visiting Frenchman took the idea home with him.

PHIL CHRIST of Charlevoix placed 7th in AAU Olympic wrestling tourneys at Fremont Saturday. Here he meets Sid Parr of Westland. Christ wrestles in the heavyweight class.

DAN MORT of Charlevoix was pinned by Joe Vos of Greenville in the AAU tourneys at Fremont Saturday. The clock stopped at 3:06. Mort wrestles in the 165-pound class.

Phil Christ Places 7th In AAU Olympic Tourney

Heavyweight wrestler Phil Christ of Charlevoix placed seventh (tie) in AAU Olympic wresling tourneys Saturday at Femont High School.

The only other Charlevoix entrant, Dan Mort, did not place, according to Coach Norm Probert who accompanied the boys to Fremont.

Probert said some 333 boys from across the state took part in the tourneys, which started at 10:30 a.m. and were still under way at 10:30 p.m. Matches were in progress on six mats throughout the day.

Christ lost his first match to Jim Jackson of Grand Rapids, 1-0. Jackson went on to win the heavyweight crown.

Christ pinned Sid Parr of Westland in 2:30 in the second match, but was pinned by Scott Bacon of Plymouth in the third match in 2:25. Bacon took second place in he heavyweight class.

In the 165-pound class, Morst lost 2-5 to David Venturato of Marme and was pinned by Joe Vos of Greenville in 3:06.

Probert said Christ and Mort were the only wrestlers entered in the tourney from the northern lower peninsula.

CG Seeking Men For 'Michigan Co.'

Join with a friend and be part of "Michigan Company" in the United States Coast Guard.

That's right, the Coast Guard is recruiting young men in the state of Michigan under a delayed enlistment program. This program will allow seniors in high school or any young men 17-years or older to join the Coast Guard now and not start work until August 4th.

Aug. 4 is traditionally recognized as the Coast Guard Birthday's, having been founded on that date in 1790.

Each year the city of Grand Haven, Mich., located on the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, honors the Coast Guard with a week-long festival. This year's activities will include enlistment ceremonies for those young men who join the Coast Guard as a member of "Michigan Company."

4 File for Vacancies On Intermediate Board

Staff reports were provided by three school social workers and the consultant for the deaf and hard-of-hearing at the April 23 meeting of the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate Board of Education.

The programs benefit approximately 200 students in the two and one-half county area.

It was announced that petitions have been received for Judith Juilleret, William C. Germond and Richard Duhin for the two-six year term Intermediate Board vacancies. One person, Mrs. Mildred Lutz, filed for the single two-year Board vacancy. Elections for the Intermediate Board members will be held at regular school elections in June.

Discussion was held concerning use of the Educational Service Center for meetings of school and community groups. The Board suggested that the facilities be available for use by non-profit organizations.

Board President Clayton Healey reported on the Northwest Michigan Regional Education Materials Center Board meeting held recently at Traverse City. The role of the REMC Board is to provide the facility for cooperating in the purchase of educational materials to be used by schools in the Northwest Michigan area.

The May Intermediate School District Board meeting was rescheduled from May 28 to May 21 to eliminate the need for meeting on a legal holiday.

It was reported by Superintendent Jim Shepard that the Intermediate School District is seeking funds from State and Federal sources to provide in-service training for local district teachers for the coming year.

The Board accepted with regret the resignation of Gail Durrenberger, County Trainable teacher at the Ironton School and Helga Conrad, teacher of the multiply handicapped at Pellston. Both resignations are effective at the end of the school year.

Bands Do Well

Sixty-eight Charlevoix Middle School instrumental music students were in Cheboygan recently for the Junior High Solo and Ensemble festival.

After participating in 37 events, they returned with 14 firsts, 18 second and five third division ratings.

'We Made the Mistake Of Putting Selves First'

To All Charlevoix Young People

I'm writing this letter because I would like to try to save one or two of you the hurt, pain, and anguish that my husband and I put ourselves, our parents, and relatives through. I would like to stress the importance of Jesus Christ, our Savior, in the relationship of boyfriends to girlfriends. It may seem unimportant to you now, but in later years, you too, will see the importance.

Wayne and I made the mistake of putting each other first and pushing Christ into the background. In a sense, we had each other set upon a pedestal as a god. We realized too late and now I pray that you may learn from our mistake.

We allowed too much time alone together. We were completely alone. ALWAYS, at all times, have Christ with you. You can have a great time when He's there, yet He'll guide you away from wrong and Satan will not have his way. Kids, don't be afraid to pray together. Wayne and I didn't do it soon enough. We discovered what a wonderful experience it is.

Wayne and I thought we were close and that we loved each other. Well, after we hurt our parents by having to tell them I was going to have a baby and after we were married, we discovered what a really great thing prayer is. Believe me, prayer will unite you and make you love and understand each other SO much more than you could ever imagine.

As a result of a German Measles inoculation right before I conceived, my pregnancy had to be aborted. Wayne and I could have said that we were off the hook and not have ever told anyone; but after we became one with Christ, we realized that this could be a testimony for Him. We have proof of what can happen without Christ and then how life is with Him. We aren't proud of what we did but by the same token, we feel no guilt at all. Isn't it wonderful that God, perfect in everyway, can lower himself to forgive a couple that rejected Him on purpose? A couple that pushed Him out of their lives and yet the second that couple called on Him for forgiveness and help, He was right there to depend on. No human man or woman could possibly have helped us so very much.

Another thing I would like to stress is to be completely honest with your parents. They are the only people on this earth that can give you the help, love, and understanding that you need. It may seem so hard at times for you, but you know, it's not always parents. Try to take a good look at yourselves and meet your parents more than halfway. I know I use to think I had such mean parents and yet now, when I look back, my parents must have thought they had a pretty mean daughter.

Wayne and I made the mistake of not being honest with our parents. When we realized that we were losing control of our physical bodies, we should have gone to our parents and Christ. They would have helped us through prayer and advice and we definitely could have avoided the mistake we made. Parents are really the most wonderful people and don't ever reject their help. Don't try to be completely independant. They have your best interest at heart and nine times out of ten they do know what's best. Pray with them also. Christ will help you understand each other and understanding is a problem with a lot of teens and parents. I don't believe in the so-called "Generation Gap." I feel all that is, is parent and child being too bullheaded to give in a little. Christ can and will help you with parents if you ask Him and then LET Him.

Wayne and I are very happy now. Let me tell you why–we have a union of three-Wayne, myself, and Christ. We have decided to keep Christ first always. When we have a problem, we take it to our Savior and he helps us solve it together, with each other, not against each other.

I pray that through this letter you young people will learn the importance of your personal relationship with Christ. Then when the time comes to combine that relationship with the one Christ has chosen for you, your relationship will grow stronger every day.

Pray daily and read your Bible and you will grow in Christ and happiness.

Love in Christ

15,000 Atlantic Salmon To Be Planted in Boyne

Department of Natural Resources officials were jubilant last week with the arrival by commercial jetliner of 10,000 extremely rare Atlantic salmon eggs, which had been rushed from their native waters in Sweden's Gullspang River.

The Swedish imports are especially desirable in terms of hardiness and growth potential. They come from a pure strain of land-locked Atlantic salmon that has been self-sustained by natural reproduction for over 4,000 years, with individual fish reaching weights of up to 60 pounds.

Especially happy about the arrival of the salmon eggs is Fisheries Chief Wayne H. Tody, who for several years has been actively promoting importation to Michigan of Salmon from the Gullspang run, and whose trip to Sweden last year helped finalize plans for the transcontinental "transplant." If properly developed, the Gullspang import may prove Michigan's "most interesting" game fish, Tody declares.

Noting that the red tape inherent in such an operation was notably diminished in this one, Tody commended U.S. Customs officials, those of the U.S. Bureau of Sport, Fisheries and Wildlife, and officials of Scandinavian Airlines, for the "excellent cooperation given the DNR." Tody also praised 9th District U.S. Representative Guy Vander Jagt for his efforts in expediting egg delivery.

Although the eggs were certified disease-free by Swedish public health officials prior to shipment, they will remain quarantined at the DNR's Biological Service Center at Grayling for several months. Subsequently, the resulting fish will be the first step toward a Gullspand brood stock in Michigan, with the time of their ultimate planting to be determined by the DNR in the future.

In related news, Tody announced that the DNR will kick off the second year of its Atlantic salmon planting program early in May, when 15,000 young salmon will be planted in the Boyne River below the Boyne Falls dam.

On May 3, Today explained, a special tank truck bearing the payload of fish will begin the nonstop, 1,300-mile haul from the Domtar Fish Hatchery in Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula. A May 5 release of the 2-year-old fish (smolts) will mark the second year of the DNR's planting program, which began last spring when some 20,000 smolts were imported from Quebec with about half that number planted in the Boyne River and half in the Au Sable.

DNR officials decided to plant this year's Atlantic salmon smolts exclusively in the Boyne River because that river's nature is very compatible with a primary objective of the planting program; that of providing an in-state egg source.

"We're expecting the first official report of a Michigan fisherman catching an Atlantic salmon from one of last year's plantings to come in any day," says Jack Hammond of the DNR Fisheries Division,

Cynthia Richardson, Roger Putman Wed

Cynthia J. Richardson of Petoskey became the bride of Roger B. Putman of Charlevoix in ceremonies April 21 at the Church of the Straits, Mackinaw City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson of 616 Elizabeth-st., Petoskey. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rolland R. Putman, R-2, Charlevoix.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin A-line gown with a lace panel down the front, an A-line collar and a Juliet veil. The bride made her own wedding gown. She carried a bouquet of roses, white carnations and violets.

Miss Noreen Richardson of Petoskey was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Putman of Charlevoix and Mrs. James Krussell of Petoskey. They wore Empire-styled gowns of blue dotted Swiss with contrasting purple boleros and bows with streamers. The bride also the gowns of her attendants. They carried bouquets of white carnations and violets.

Richard Putman of Charlevoix, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Eric Drost of Charlevoix and Ivan Carroll of Petoskey were groomsmen.

The bridegroom is an electronics technician for Control Engineering at Pellston. The bride is employed as a secretary in Penn-Dixie's sales department.

Concert Membership Drive Starts

The Northern Michigan Community Concert Association will open its 1973-1974 Campaign Week on Monday, May 7, with a kick-off dinner at the Perry-Davis Hotel at 6:30 p.m.

This dinner is attended by all workers, board members and chairmen of the outlying communities.

This is the twenty-seventh season for this unique area-wide association, which draws members and workers from close to 20 communities.

The concerts are all held in Petoskey's Middle School Auditorium (formerly the Junior High School). It is a rare thing to have a year when the auditorium is not fully sold-out.

Ross W. Stoakes is president of the association; Mrs. Allan McCune is first vice-president, and Clarence Odmark of Charlevoix is second vice-president. Mrs. McCune, Mrs. Jack Postle, and Mrs. William Todd are membership chairmen. Headquarters secretaries are Mrs. Postle, Mrs. Edmund Dean, and Mrs. Franklin Whitman. Treasurer is Mrs. Dean and Jack Perry is secretary.

The Campaign will last from May 7 through Saturday, May 12. If, during that week no worker gets in touch with you, and you wish to purchase Memberships, kindly call the Headquarters, 347-6381, located in the Noggin Room in the basement of the Perry-Davis Hotel. Mrs. Burns Nugent, the Community Concert representative out of New York, will be with the Campaign during the entire week. This is her second campaign in Petoskey.

Concerts lined up for next season are the "English Sinfonia," directed by Neville Dilkes, of Nottingham, England; "The Romeros," guitarists; "Longstreth and Escosa," a duo-harp team; and soprano Lucy Peacock.

Boyne Mushroom Hunt Among May Events

The days of May in Michigan are scented with blossoms, alive with activity, costumed and costumed by our ethnic heritage, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

The month begins with Blossomtime, through May 5, at Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. More than half a century old, the festival celebrates the beginning of Michigan's growing season and is one of the largest events of its kind in the nation. A variety of events are designed for family enjoyment climaxing with the Grand Floral Parade. Many of the blossom-decked floats in the two and one-half hour extravaganza are believed by many to rival the beauty of those in the famous Rose Parade.

May 17, seven 20th century voyageurs will embark from St. Ignace to retrace the canoe journey of Louis Jolliet and Father Jacques Marquette 300 years ago.

Perhaps one of the most rewarding highlights of spring in Michigan is the seeking, and finding, of the elusive Morel mushrooms. That's what the National Mushroom Festival, May 12-13, at Boyne City is all about. Hunters with the sharpest eyes not only reap a harvest of delicious morels, but also cash prizes.

Tulip Time in Holland, Mich., could well be described as a national tradition. Since 1929, the festival has attracted visitors from all parts of the country. The "Klompen" (wooden shoe) dancers are one of the main, and most popular attractions. Other unique attractions include the wooden shoe factories, Dutch Village, the Netherlands Museum, Baker Furniture Museum, the authentic Dutch windmill "DeZwaan" and acres and acres and acres of tulips in brilliant bloom. Tulip Time '73 is May 16-19 and if you plan to attend it's wise to make overnight reservations well in advance.

Guaranteed to be a treat for the whole family is the County Fair of yesteryear, May 17-19 at Greenfield Village, Dearborn. The fair is a re-creation of rural fairs of a century and more ago, complete with marching bands, farm animals, a children's midway with games and prizes and a gala "Cavalcade of Transportation" parade each day. Visitors will see early crafts such as cider pressing, sheep shearing, butter churning and others demonstrated by Village craftsmen. In short, it's a delightful visit to yesterday.

Michigan Week is a statewide celebration, May 19-26 this year, with various and sundry activities and events scheduled in almost every city and community. The week's "kick-off" city is Sturgis.

Detroit's Ethnic Festival program opens May 25-28 with the Greek Festival at the Civic Center Riverfront. Greek art, music, dances and food will be among the highlights. The program will feature a different Ethnic Festival every weekend through September 23.

Being "One of a kind" carries a certain degree of distinction and that's what sets the Annual Off-Road Rally apart. It's the only event of its kind in the Midwest for dune buggies and four-wheel drive vehicles. The Rally will be held May 25-28 at Rose City and will include hill climb and obstacle races, a 100-mile cross country endurance and poker run with trophies for the winners. A guided safari "over the hills and through the woods" is planned for the drivers and their families. The Rally is open to the public and sanctioned by the Michigan Sport Buggy Association.

The excitement, enthusiasm and Scottish pageantry of the Highland Festival and Games at Alma have made it one of the most popular events in North America. Tartaned lads and lassies, kilted pipers and spectators of Scottish and non-Scottish descent will gather for this year's festivities, May 26-27. The program includes piping and drumming competition, pipe band and highland dancing competition and athletic contests in tossing the caber, putting the stone, throwing the hammer and numerous other track and field events. And, thrilling sights and sounds and happy smiles will be enjoyed by all.

The Fort Michilimackinac Pageant, another favorite annual Michigan event, will be held May 26-28 at Mackinaw City. Highlight of the affair is the re-enactment of the famous attack on Fort Michilimackinac by Chief Pontiac that drove the British from the northern Great Lakes for more than a year in the 1700's.

Some of the other events scheduled for the fifth month of '73 include a Black Artists Exhibit at the Community Art Gallery in Lansing, May 1-27; Mushroom Days, May 12-13 at Lake City; Greenwich Village Days Sidewalk Art Show, May 18-19, in East Lansing; the Bear River Canoe Race, from Walloon Lake to Petoskey, May 19-20; the Eastern U.P. Canoe Races at McMillan, May 27-28 and numerous other events to suit almost every interest.

For a complete listing of events for May and the summer months in Michigan, write for a free copy of the Calendar of Travel Events to the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48928.

DNR Monitors Geysers In Williamsburg Area

The Department of Natural Resources this week was continuing to monitor a team effort to safeguard life and property in Grand Traverse County in the wake of a series of natural gas eruptions.

Emergency operations began last April 20, two days after the first of numerous craters and geysers developed on M-72 near this village. The craters and geysers were caused by methane gas which is flammable and when confined, highly explosive.

Gov. William Milliken designated the DNR to coordinate the work of all state agencies on the scene. C. Troy Yoder of Roscommon, DNR regional manager, is heading the operation at the site.

While the gas outbreaks continued to spread, approximately 60 families were evacuated from the Williamsburg townsite and from an area 3½ miles west near Acme, a village of the east arm of Grand Traverse Bay. It may be several weeks before the evacuees will be able to return to their homes.

Heavy police patrols were maintained in the two areas to keep out trespassers and prevent looting. Gas sniffers monitored the area continuously.

The geysers carried heavy clay siltation into Williamsburg and Acme creeks, which flow into Elk Lake and Grand Traverse Bay, respectively.

DNR biologists checked both creeks closely but found no loss of fish life, although the streams were badly discolored. Both waters are good trout streams.

In addition to eruptions at the Williamsburg and Acme sites, a lone crater 6 ft. deep and 4 ft. wide was created by a blast near the north edge of the Fife Lake State Forest.

Amoco Production Corporation, driller of a productive gas well 3½ miles south of Williamsburg, undertook operations to relieve pressure from the hole, the suspected source of the migrating gas. The company also drilled several shallow relief holes near Williamsburg in hopes of intercepting gas and passing it to the surface to relieve pressure.

Yoder said the DNR will conduct an extensive survey to evaluate the ecological impact of the gas eruptions and siltation after the emergency subsides.

Arthur G. Slaughter, state supervisor of wells and chief of the DNR's Geological Survey Division, issued an emergency order requiring insertion of intermediate casing on all deep wells. The order was made effective for 21 days (until the Oil Advisory Board holds its next meeting, after which the order could be made permanent).

State agencies involved with the DNR in emergency operations at the site of the gas outbreaks are the Michigan State Police, Public Service Commission, State Highway Department, and State Health Department. Other governmental agencies assisting are the Grand Traverse County sheriffs' and health departments. Helicopters operated by the U.S. Coast Guard and the DNR were used in surveillance flights.

Crews from the Consumers Power Company and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company operated equipment to monitor gas levels and the American Red Cross set up temporary headquarters in the area.

THE HOUSE at the right is where the first geyser appeared in the village of Williamsburg, April 15. Just south of the house and across the road is the townhall which is expected to collapse momentarily since geysers have erupted around the foundation. Sixty families have been evacuated from the area and the village proper is off-limits to visitors.

The Governor Pats A Yapping Dog

The governor admitted to newsmen that he has made errors in administration of the executive office and promised to do a better job.

The governor was referring to the continued employment of Glenda McGuire as a member of his executive staff and the hiring of his long-time political friend, Donald Gordon, even though Gordon was on the payroll of public utilities at the same time.

The Detroit Free Press disclosed recently that Miss McGuire, a friend of Detroit Recorders Court Judge James Del Rio, was being paid a salary of $18,000 a year for doing virtually nothing. The Free Press alleged that she was hired to pay off a political obligation Milliken owed to Del Rio.

Although Milliken said he saw no conflict of interest in Gordon's two jobs, since Gordon never attempted to advise him on state policy toward utility companies, he admitted that Gordon's dual role could have the appearance of conflict of interest.

As a result of the disclosures, Miss McGuire has been fired and Gordon has resigned.

At the governor's refreshingly candid press conference last week, Milliken even leaned over to pat the feisty dog that has been snapping at his heels for the past two weeks.

"I feel more strongly than ever that the press is the watchdog," he said. "A free press to remind me when you think I'm doing something wrong is the best guarantee I know...

"Frankly, you've caused me to take a good look at some of the internal functions, some of the things we were doing," the governor added.

He expressed concern that the revelations of the past two weeks may have undermined the public confidence he had been attempting to build in his administration.

As a result he had named two members of his staff, John Dempsey and William Hettiger, to conduct a thorough review of the executive office to determine if there are any other skeletons in the closet that could cause embarrassment.

"In light of the Glenda McGuire situation and others, I owe that to the people of Michigan and I owe it to myself," he said.

It is rare for a politician to admit errors. It is even more unusual for a politician to praise the people who brought his errors to the public's attention.

MEA Corrects Record On Aid to Rep. Ostling

April 25, 1973

The Editor
The Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Dear Mr. Clock:

I am writing this in response to the letter written by Mr. M. W. Dale as printed in the Charlevoix Courier, April 25, 1973. It is my feeling (and that of the Charlevoix Education Association) that the charges he made regarding Representative Ralph Ostling and the MEA deserve to be answered in that they constitute a collection of misconceptions, half-truths, and falsehoods.

To begin with, it is no secret that the MEA, Governor Milliken, and numerous other organizations endorsed and helped finance Rep. Ostling's campaign in last August's primary election. It is also no secret that the MEA and Governor Milliken engineered and financed the attempt to pass proposition "C" last November. Neither of these positions were taken "without regard to the positions of its teacher members." The decision to endorse Mr. Ostling was made at a meeting in Cadillac to which teachers from every school district in the 103rd Legislative District were invited. Proposition "C" was supported by the MEA after its Representative Assembly endorsed the proposition. The Representative Assembly is composed of about 450 elected representatives from teacher groups throughout the state.

As far as Mr. Dale's "conservative" estimate of $60,000 is concerned, again he is way off base. In the Ostling campaign, less than 10 percent of that figure was contributed by MEA members, and it is a well-known fact that Proposition "C" was funded by Michigan teachers and other groups to the amount of almost $400,000. ALL of the funds contributed by the MEA were received through voluntary contributions made by individual teachers.

Regarding Mr. Dale's comments concerning House Bill No. 4243 and Mr. Ostling's part in sponsoring the bill, he is again grossly inaccurate. H.B. 4243 was sponsored by Rep. Jim Bradley (D-Det.), chairman of the House Labor Committee, together with 73 other members of the House, including Rep. Ostling. In March, the House voted 85-19 for passage of the bill and over 2/3 of the representatives voted to give it immediate effect.

Mr. Dale indicated that agency shop classes have been found to be unconstitutional but that is not the case. In November, the Michigan Supreme Court rules that an agency shop clause which requires non-union members to pay a representation fee was prohibited because the Public Employment Relationas Act fails to include provision allowing such clauses.

However, the P.E.R.A. does require a local bargaining agent to provide all services to members and non-members alike. H.B. 4243 simply reinstates in Public Labor Laws what the Supreme Court ruled was needed for agency shop authorization. The bill does not grant any new rights to public employees and further provides that agency clauses shall be optional at the local level. It does not require agency shop clauses. Incidentally, combined dues are not as high as Mr. Dale stated ($175-$225) in his letter. The actual dues to the combined organizations are as follows: NEA, $25.00; MEA, $91,00; local dues vary (Charlevoix Education Association, $19.00) or a total (in Charlevoix) of $135.00.

This legislation is hardly "tyrannical" as Mr. Dale suggests. Rather, it confirms that employees in the public sector have rights similar to those in the private sector, and re-affirms a basic concept of the free enterprise system—that no person or organization should be required to provide services to an individual unless the individual pays for those services. Will this give the MEA "total power" over all the teachers of this state? I think not. Especially since the MEA only represents approximately 80 percent of Michigan's teachers. The MEA is not the only organization lobbying in favor of H.B. 4243. They have been joined by a coalition of public employees groups including the Michigan Federation of Teachers (MFT), the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), and others.

I hope that this letter will help to clarify some of the discussions which have taken place on your editorial page over the last 10 months.

Sincerely yours,

William G. Murray, President
Charlevoix Education Association

He Doubts Solar Heat Practicality

April 17, 1973

Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

Dear Sir:

Martha Drake's letter in your issue of April 11 points up one of the frustrating aspects of the energy problem. Attractive and easy solutions, such as utilizing free solar power, are neither easy nor practical.

I did not see the TODAY program to which the letter refers. But if the statement was made that solar energy will be generally practical in five years, and that it will cost nothing to power and heat our homes except the installation charges of some $2,000 when the house is built....someone is mightily misinformed.

The Wall Street Journal, in its issue of April 16, reports that solar power is indeed being used by a homeowner in Washington. The catch, as the Journal points out, is that the homeowner has to have 25 tons of rock and 1,500 gallons of water in the basement, and 900 square feet of glass panels on the roof. This elaborate arrangement allows him to heat his house during 75 percent of the winter. The other 25 percent of the time, of course, he requires standby service from his electric light and power company, which also has to provide energy to operate a water pump and air blower for the solar energy system.

The Wall Street Journal says the homeowner declines to say how much it cost to install his solar energy system. The implication, however, is that it must have been considerably in excess of $2,000.

As for large-scale use of solar energy, with today's technology it would require an array of solar cells covering 41 square miles to equal the prospective output of a single nuclear power plant like the one to be built near Midland; hardly an acceptable alternative in terms of land use.

Sincerely,

Ronney Wheeler

Why Was Boycott Held During Lent?

By Carl P. Kentner
Michigan Farm Bureau

Why was the boycott set-up during Lent? This question has not been answered.

Americans eat according to seasons, traditions and religious beliefs. We just naturally figure that turkey should be eaten on Thanksgiving, ham goes with Easter and steak is for a banquet. We eat less hot dishes in the summertime or we refrain from eating meat on a certain day of the week or specific religious seasons.

It seems to me that it would be normal to experience some decline in the demand of red meat during the Lenton season. A boycott set-up at that same season perhaps could look better than it would at any other time of the year.

Any change in the eating habits of consumers, natural or instituted, affect farmers.

The production of red meat is not something that can be turned on or off like a water spigot. Farmers must plan their production goals one, two or even three years in advance.

Presently, farmers are concerned about the effects of a boycott on meat. Not only on the agricultural industry, but also in the consumer who may want to eat steak in the future.

An emotional attack on farmers, such as the meat boycott, may discourage them from increasing production or even make it impossible for them to continue producing meat at all.

Farmers have been caught in an inflation cost-price squeeze for many years. They can no longer afford to produce animals for market unless they can be assured a reasonable profit.

Consumers would do better to call for curtailed government spending, which would go a long way towards correcting the real problem — inflation, than to stage a meat boycott.

Clockwise Zoning vs. Owning

By BOB CLOCK

When the land developers first started moving into Charlevoix County in 1966, the promoters supplied the press with a little pamphlet entitled "Zoning vs Owning."

I'm sorry I didn't keep my copy so I could quote some of the arguments directly, but it has long since gone into that great wastebasket in the sky where so many press handouts eventually wind up.

The main thrust was to the effect that zoning laws deprive the individual of his rights by telling him what he cannot do with his land. And I'll admit that the argument has great visceral appeal.

"By George, I bought that land with my own hard-earned dollars and I'll do with it what I damn well please."

Zoning advocates come back with the old argument that if we didn't have some regulations on land use there would be a rendering plant and a slaughterhouse in every block.

Land developers, particularly unscrupulous land developers, are against zoning because unzoned land is easier to manipulate unto high profits. No minimum lot size is required. Setbacks and side and rear yard clearances are unheard of. One-hundred square foot shacks can be built alongside palatial mansions. Owners are allowed to build right up to the water's edge on lakefront property.

Unzoned land is wide open for abuses that assail the eye, the ear, the nose and the public health. But it is still easier and more profitable to parcel off unzoned land than it is zoned land.

Furthermore, unzoned land leaves the environment ripe for exploitation. Lands that should remain forever for the public enjoyment are gobbled up for private use, fragile riverbanks are defoliated to give the lord and master a commanding view of his trout stream and excessive site preparation leaves vulnerable hillsides open to wind and water erosion.

All of this came to mind the other day when two young ladies from Detroit, Pat MacKenna and Helen Gaskin, stopped at the Courier office armed with a copy of a little book entitled "Forever Open, Clear and Free."

Written by Lois Wille and published in 1972 by Henry Regnery Co. of Chicago, the book catalogues the efforts made by Chicago city planners over the years to save the Lake Michigan waterfront from the encroachment of civilization. In some areas they have been successful; in others they have failed.

Misses MacKenna and Gaskin are such staunch advocates of zoning that they feel that cities like Charlevoix, which has been zoned since the early 1940's, must update its zoning laws to protect its waterfront from the kind of development Chicago has fought for more than a century.

They are frankly aghast that condominiums are being permitted on the shores of Round Lake, which they feel should remain "forever open, clear and free."

They insisted I read a paragraph from their book written in 1909 by Chicago Planner Daniel Burnham. I read it once. Then I read it again. Finally I copied it to share with you.

"The lakefront by right belongs to the people. It affords their one great unobstructed view, stretching away to the horizon, where water and clouds seem to meet. No mountains or high hills enable us to look over broad expanses of the earth's surface; and perforce we must come even to the margin of the lake for such a survey of nature. These views calm thoughts and feelings and afford escape from the petty things of life. Mere breadth of view, however, is not all. The lake is living water, ever in motion, and ever changing in color and in the form of its waves. Across its surface comes the broad pathway of light made by the rising sun; it mirrors the ever-changing forms of the clouds, and is illumined by the glow of the evening sky. Its colors vary with the shadows that play upon it. In every aspect it is a living thing, delighting man's eye and refreshing his spirit. Not a foot of its shores should be appropriated by individuals to the exclusion of the people. On the contrary, everything possible should be done to enhance its natural beauties, thus fitting it for the part it has to play in the life of the whole city. It should be made so alluring that it will become the fixed habit of the people to seek its restful presence at every opportunity."

I can't help but agree that Round Lake must remain forever the jewel in the navel of Charlevoix the Beautiful. After all, Round Lake is not only a perpetual delight to the residents of Charlevoix but it also is our stock-in-trade.

And like Misses MacKenna and Gaskin, I am concerned that tall buildings on the shores are interrupting too many attractive vistas.

But I also know that the boat sheds on the south side of the lake, which have added to its picturesque beauty over the years, won't last forever. In fact it is the architecture on all sides of the lake which makes Round Lake as attractive as it is. Without it, Round Lake would be just another small inland lake.

This winter the City Council adopted a new section to the zoning ordinance governing multiple family dwellings, including condominiums, which is all well and good. Furthermore the Planning Commission has agreed that the south side of the lake should be set aside for condominium development, but it doesn't say how many or when to stop.

Also unanswered is the question of whether Round Lake property owners should be divested of the privilege of making a buck on their holdings by selling them to condo developers. It's the old issue of "Zoning vs. Owning."

These are questions the City Council is going to have to meet head-on in the not-too-distant future.

If it Fitz Husband Swapping?

By JIM FITZPATRICK

The year's biggest baseball story prompts me to wonder why Women's Lib has never complained about the unfair news stories which always result when married couples switch partners. The transaction is invariably called "wife swapping." I have never heard it called "husband swapping."

This implies, of course, that the husbands are always the proprietors and the wives are always the merchandise.

Which simply isn't true. Wives are as capable as husbands of initiating action which could result in a swap of spouses. I know...

There was that morning in New Orleans when my wife and I got hosed. When that experience ended, Pat went out into the streets and propositioned women she'd never seen before. She'd never seen their husbands before, either.

She simply wanted to deal me away and she didn't much care what she got in return, just so long as the replacement knew how to hang a sign on a doorknob.

We were staying in a quaint motel in the French Quarter. Our 2nd floor unit had a private porch that looked out over a court. Lovely. We got in late the first night and Pat reminded me to hand out the "Do Not Disturb" sign so we could sleep in. Which I did.

Came the morning. Slosh, sprinkle and drip. Not outside. In the room. Honest.

"Wake up," my wife screamed, "someone is spraying water at us through the door."

"You must be having a nightmare," I said, getting a mouthful of water and adding: "Blub."

It was true. Outside there was a motel employee, happily hosing down our front porch. This was not a new motel and plenty of air showed between the door and the jamb. Also, the transom was partly open. Our bed was getting soggy.

"I have heard of wild animals, locked together in passion, who had to be separated with fire hoses," I said, "but I really don't think it's necessary in this case."

"Stop making dumb jokes and tell that fool to stop," my wife answered passionately.

I hollered but the guy outside couldn't hear me. The water was making too much noise as it slammed against the door. I would have opened the door and told the hoser off, except I might have been washed away.

Pat had left her best dress draped over a chair by the door. The dress was dripping and she was steaming.

"He must be a new...glug...employee," I said. I think they are supposed to close those quaint storm doors before hosing."

"But what about our Do-Not-Disturb sign?" Pat screamed.

When the water man finally moved on, she quickly found out about the sign. I had hung it wrong side out, thus announcing that no one was home, so the maid could come cleaning...or hosing.

It was then that I went on the trading block. No deal has been closed yet but I've noticed several strange women coming in the office and giving me the eye. I keep expecting them to kick my tires and slam my doors.

When the transaction is finally completed, the newspapers are hereby warned to describe it as a husband swapping. I don't want any responsibility for a deal which will probably mate me to something with a running board.

Onward and Upward.

Tired of 20th Century? Try Making Own Soap

With a sense of history as stubborn as a ring around a bathtub, more and more Americans are going back to the old ways. Now they are making their own soap.

Ecologists worry about detergents or their ingredients which may ease washday drudgery but poison nature. Some say that disadvantages to soap and soap making are more than offset by the good they do to people, places, and the future.

Housewives swap old recipes for homemade soap, uncovering them among grandma's reminiscences, or finding them at the local ecology-minded store or in the newspaper's household columns.

MINIMUM OF MESS

Soap is being cooked and stirred in country kitchens and city apartments alike, the National Geographic Society says. After a couple of batches, the serious insist, several pounds of homemade soap can be produced with a minimum of mess, while recycling waste fats into something useful and perhaps as good as store-bought soap.

An enthusiast of The Mother Earth News promises: "It's an operation that can be just as small-scale and simple or as large and sophisticated as you want to make it ... anything from throwing ashes into the cookout frying pan to carefully measuring rose geranium petals into a precisely controlled batch of face cleaner."

BUT IT CLEANS

One proud kitchen soap maker testifies: "It doesn't produce a lot of lather, and it doesn't smell like perfume. It just does an astonishing job of cleaning."

There is no known connection between suds and cleaning power. But minerals in hard water combine with dissolved soap to make lime soap — or rings around bathtubs. Only the dissolved soap remaining uncombined produces cleaning action.

Though scientists say they have developed a no-ring, anti-pollution variety, soap may steal an excessive amount of oxygen from water, suffocating fish. Conservationists say this is nothing compared to the dangers of eutrophication in lakes, a fertilizing oxygen-using process blamed on detergents.

WASHDAY WORRIES

Soap cleans because, chemically, it has a affinity with water so that clothes being washed become wet more quickly and dirt is more easily scrubbed away.

Washerwomen of Rome, according to one story, were first to suspect this. Some 3,000 years ago animals were burned to the gods, and dripping fat ran down the altar, through the ashes of sacrificial fires, and into the river. Downriver, washerwomen found they could get clothes cleaner when the water was polluted with this accidental soap.

Soap has been made from silkworms by Pakistanis and from desert plants beaten into a frothy pulp by American Indians. Soap was so scarce and in demand it was used as money in 1841 in Mexico.

Prime Minister William Gladstone abolished Britain's soap tax in 1853, but, objecting to public pressure, condemned soap as "most injurious both to comfort and health of the people."

Fat or oil and lye, the essential ingredients of all soap, are cheap. But homemade-soap makers are warned the besides the obvious dangers of boiling heat and caustic, they must not let their new soap get caught in a cold draft — or it will get hard and flinty.

Bands Win I Rate

The Charlevoix High School Symphony Band, directed by C. A. Odmark, won a first division rating at the annual State Band and Orchestra Festival held Saturday at Delta College.

All four judges awarded the top rating to Charlevoix, marking only the second or third time that a unanimous 1 rating has been awarded the Charlevoix musicians.

Charlevoix groups have now received the 1 rating 14 times since 1950.

The band remained overnight in Midland, thanks to financial support by the Charlevoix Band Boosters, who picked up most of the motel bill.

Accompanying the band as chaperones were Mrs. Charles Berg, Mrs. Wayne Carter, Mrs. Robert Wasoski, Mrs. Robert Lieberman, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stutzman and Odmark.

Bus drivers were Al Smith and Bud Heeres. Barry Pierce drove the pick-up and trailer used for equipment.

Mayor Vetoes 2-4 Vote

Mayor Edward P. Hansen exercised the mayoral veto for the first time in living memory Monday night when he overrode a 4-2 decision by the council to hire the firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley to engineer the proposed May-st. sanitary sewer.

Hansen said he vetoed the action because the resolution was worded to pay the firm on a per diem basis, without naming a dollar figure.

The mayor has three days to explain the reasons for his veto in writing to the city clerk before the question goes back to the council. The council could override the veto by a two-thirds vote at the next meeting Tuesday, May 22.

At the past two council meetings, Hansen has been advocating the hiring of Charlevoixan Greg Shadko for the engineering work. He said Shadko had agreed to draw up the plans for five percent of the total cost, estimated at $225,000, compared to eight percent for McNamee, Porter and Seeley, plus the cost of engineering supervision.

Hansen said the city could save $12,000 by hiring Shadko.

Aldermen George Plumm and Gerald Selph voted against McNamee, Porter and Seeley and Aldermen Jeannine Wallace, Richard Fochtman, Robert Timms and Sam Supernaw voted in favor of the Ann Arbor firm.

The McNamee, Porter and Seeley advocates feel the firm has given the city good service in the past and already has made preliminary engineering studies.

In connection with the May-st. sewer, the council agreed to hire the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone as bonding attorneys for the project.

Charlevoix Area Hospital Has a Week of It's Own

Charlevoix Area Hospital this week joins with the nation's more than 7,000 hospitals in celebrating National Hospital Week, honoring the three million persons employed in health care institutions.

Sponsored annual by the American Hospital Association, theme of the week-long celebration is "Your Hospital---A Caring Community; Youth Health—Our Common Concern."

Charlevoix Hospital Administrator Richard Krueger said: "We believe this theme describes our institution. With increasing public concern about the quality, availability and costs of health care, the employes of Charlevoix Area Hospital are a community of caring people who are concerned about bringing better health care to more people as efficiently as possible."

A case in point is the new coronary and intensive care unit which went into operation at the hospital in December.

In the past four months, the coronary unit has cared for 22 patients and the intensive care unit 10 patients, for a total of 32, with about an 85 percent recovery rate.

Of the nation's 7,000 hospitals, about 3,500 have intensive care units and only about 40 percent have coronary care units.

Mrs. Nathan Boss, chief of nursing, says that Charlevoix Hospital presently has nine staff members, registered nurses and licensed practical nurses, fully trained to work in the CC-IC unit.

From February through April, LuAnn Bellfy, R.N., of the University of Michigan's Continuing Education Center held weekly seminars in Charlevoix on the care of patients in intensive and coronary care units for hospital personnel, equipping other staff members to step in and help in emergencies.

Mrs. Boss says she would like every member of the staff to have some knowledge of cardio-pulmonary resusitation.

Mrs. Bellfy's visits were sponsored by the Kellogg Foundation, which also assisted the hospital financially in the construction and equipping of the CC-IC unit.

Krueger added that the new unit, which must be staffed with two persons on three shifts 24 hours a day, is budgeted for $172,000 in wages alone this year.

Krueger says the purpose of National Hospital Week is to focus attention on how the people who work in the nation's hospitals are meeting the changing and challenging health care needs of the American people.

More Gals Needed to Play Ball

The Charlevoix Women's Slow Pitch Baseball League is in the market for more ball players.

Captains and players are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 14, at the community room of the First State Bank to sign up.

Any questions about the program should be directed to Janice Duree, 547-6977 or Pat Lass, 547-9703 after 6 p.m.

Hospital Board to Fete Two Retired Directors

Two former Charlevoix Area Hospital directors with combined service of almost 50 years will be commended in a dinner in their honor Thursday, May 10, at the Weathervane Inn, according to Richard Krueger, hospital administrator.

The dinner has been planned by the hospital board, in connection with National Hospital Week.

The honorees are Fred Willis and Gordon Freedman, both of whom were elected to the hospital board July 22, 1948.

Freedman, who resigned from the board last October, has been replaced by Jack Zoulek of East Jordan.

Willis, who resigned in April, has been replaced by Glenn Kenney of Charlevoix.

Willis was elected vice president of the board Aug. 4, 1948, and president Aug. 20, 1951. At the same time Freedman was elected vice president and the two men served in the same capacity for most of their long tenure on the hospital governing body.

Elected with Willis and Freedman in 1948 were the late George Haggard, Max Novak and Phila Shanahan.

Both Willis and Freedman will receive citations commending them for dedicating themselves for more than 20 years to the "progress, growth and development of the Charlevoix Area Hospital," for their deep concern for the health services" of the community, for "working tirelessly" with the doctors and staff to "hold fast to the high standards of patient care, and for concerning themselves with the sound financial management of the hospital.

The commendations are signed "with gratitude and appreciation" by the other members of the board: Gerald A. Staublin, president; Jack C. Grubaugh, Glenn Kenney, Eleanor Schultz, Julius M. Gilbert, Max Novak, Tom Smith, Rollie Dudik, William C. Peck and Richard Krueger, administrator, who, with their wives, will ba hosts at the dinner.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY
1933 1973

FR. E. FRANCIS Denay, pastor of St. Marys Church for the past 20 years, was honored by his parishioners Sunday on completion of 40 years in the ministry. The banquet followed an afternoon mass attended by churchmen from throughout the area. On Fr. Denay's left are Master of Ceremonies and Mrs. Arthur Heilig and Mayor and Mrs. Edward Hansen.

Mayor Ousts Hanna, But Council Balks

Mayor Edward P. Hansen failed to reappoint Thomas G. Hanna as city administrator at Monday night's council meeting, but the ouster is almost certain to run into stiff opposition by members of the council. The name of Howard Hutchinson as utilities supervisor also was missing.

The council postponed action on the mayor's appointments until its next meeting Tuesday, May 22.

In Hanna's place, Hansen appointed Robert Wexstaff as city administrator and assessor at a salary of $12,500 a year. Wexstaff presently is city assessor, at a salary of about $9,000. Hanna is drawing $16,000.

Hanna confirmed that earlier in the day Hansen had asked him to resign but Hanna refused.

"They'll have to fire me," he told the Courier.

The subject was opened at the start of the council meeting when Dean Eby, a visitor, said he had heard Hanna would not be reappointed and asked if the subject were coming up for discussion.

Hansen said that Hanna's appointment was not on the agenda, and many persons who attended the meeting apparently to defend the city administrator left the room.

Toward the end of the meeting, Hansen said that since Eby had broached the subject he would like to make his appointments. Hanna's name was missing from the list, which included Robert Hoffman as city attorney at an annual retainer of $5,500 (plus courtroom work), Jack Mol as chief of police, John Curtis as fire chief, Leonard Dubey as street commissioner, Mary Feindt as city surveyor, Don Smith as dockmaster, George Smith as utilities coordinator, Lloyd Kuebler as sewer plant supervisor, James Whitley as electric supervisor, Harold Towsley as water supervisor and Greg Zhadko as engineer.

Hansen's main complaint Hanna seems to be that as city administrator he has let the city's general fund budget get out of hand. He said the budget was $64,000 in 1963, $94,500 in 1971, $129,675 in 1972 and $181,000 in 1973. Another 20 percent increase is anticipated in the budget which will be adopted May 22.

Hansen said he has taken a "hard look" at Charlevoix's city government and has come to the conclusion that it needs "some restructuring."

He also cited a lack of communication between city hall and city employes and said Hanna relied too strongly on a "hard chain of command."

Hanna objected to the "chain of command" statement and said he was attempting to run the city like a business.

The mayor also said that he has asked Hanna on four occasions to correct an electrical problem without any action. He also accused him of submitting "11th hour" budgets.

Hansen also objected to Hanna's insistence on the council's drawing up of a job description for the city administrator's office.

"If he doesn't know his job, nobody else does," Hansen said.

Alderman Jeannine Wallace insisted that she be presented with a "bill of particulars" against Hanna before she is asked to decide on the mayor's appointments.

The appointments and the budget will be discussed at a meeting of the committee - as - a - whole next Monday night.

Two years ago, former Mayor Andrew Essenburg made an unsuccessful attempt to have Hanna fired.

The Charlevoix City Council Monday night sold the city's power-generating dam, mill pond, plant and adjoining property in the city of Bellaire to Antrim County of $1.

The Antrim County Board of Commissioners was the only bidder on the property, which was advertised for sale two weeks ago.

The city was faced with a choice of repairing the dam and overflow structures to the tune of $90,000, selling the facility or tearing it down, which would have spelled the death of Intermediate Lake and other bodies of water upstream.

Last November, Charlevoix city voters agreed to dispose of the property.

Although terms of the agreement remain to be worked out, the city probably will continue to generate power until about July 1 when the present operator of the power plant retires. After that, the city asked two months to remove generating equipment from the building.

If the city had kept the facility and repaired the dam and overflow structures, it would still be left with an antique power-generating plant built in the early days of the century. Power transmission lines between Bellaire and Charlevoix also are due for considerable renovation.

The city purchased the facility in 1918 and it has supplied at least part of the city's electrical power ever since.

Two weeks ago, Antrim commissioners attended the council meeting to demand immediate action on the dam. Property owners above the structure were complaining of low water levels and property owners below the dam were afraid it might collapse.

--Paid bills totaling $61,553.62.

--Learned that a prospective recreation director who was to have been hired Monday had notified the city he has taken another job. The recreation committee was authorized to hire a director at its discretion. An interview was another candidate will be held Thursday. The council set a ceiling of $9,000 a year on the director's salary.

--Received copies of a proposed school trespass ordinance drawn up by attorney Robert Hoffman.

Talk Slated

The Charlevoix-Emmet Association for Retarded Children will meet Monday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in the First State Bank Community room to hear a talk by Robert Pangburn, associate executive director of the Michigan Association of Retarded Children.

The title of Pangburn's talk will be "aid to the Disabled."

Also on the program is Clark Ketchum of Petoskey who will discuss the regional Special Olympics held May 4.

1-Car Crash Kills Bay Shore Airman

Funeral services were scheduled to be held in Mishoppen, Pa., this week for Airman First Class Andrew L. Frantz, 20, who was killed in a one-car crash on U.S. 31 just north of city limits early Friday morning.

The accident occured about 2:35 a.m. when Frantz, who apparently was traveling east, went off the left shoulder of the road, skidded sideways for 207 feet, hit a driveway at Stroud's cabins, swung around and came to a stop after the rear end of his late-model Mercury collided with a tree.

The body was taken to the Winchester Funeral Home and later was removed to the A. Bryce Sheldon Funeral Home in Mishoppen, Pa., for service and burial.

Frantz was assigned to the Bay Shore site about six months ago and on his days off worked for dairyman Fred Foltz near Petoskey. He was unmarried.

The accident was policed by the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department and city officers.

AIRMAN First Class Andrew L. Frantz, stationed at Bay Shore, was killed early Friday morning when he apparently lost control of his late-model Mercury and the rear end struck a tree near Stroud's cabins on U.S. 31 N., just outside city limits.

Lutheran Church Scene Of Selph-Wood Rites

Arrangements of lavender and white gladioli graced the altar of Bethany Lutheran church for the wedding of Julie Selph and Michael Wood at 4 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Duane E. Imig officiated at the double ring candlelight service in the presence of 150 guests. The organist, Mrs. Richard Elzinga, played the Bridal March, the theme from "Love Story", "We've Only Just Begun" and the recessional, "Bridge Over Troubled Waters."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Selph. The bridegroom is the son of Ralph Wood and the late Mrs. Wood.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, selected for her wedding a gown of silk organza. Fashioned with a pleated ruffled neckline, high waistline and full skirt, the bodice had a V-shaped lace panel accented with orchid satin ribbon and pleated ruffles. The cuffs of the bishop sleeves and the hemline featured the same trim. Her chapel length veil of illusion fell from an orchid trimmed Juliet cap of the same fabric. She carried a colonial bouquet of orchid and pink daisies and white carnations.

Mrs. John Marek was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. Edward Gibbard and Mrs. Ronald Simpson were bridesmaids. Their floor length gowns were styled with orchid bodices and orchid and pink floral print skirts. Their colonial bouquets were of pink daisies and white carnations.

Ronald Simpson was the best man and Ray Wood of Sault Ste. Marie, and Chris Wood, brothers of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Tim Selph, brother of the bride, and Michael McClanaghan, nephew of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Selph wore a floor length pink pleated chiffon gown trimmed with pink lace and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink roses and white carnations.

Her parents hosted a reception at the American Legion hall following the ceremony. Mrs. David Dutcher and Mrs. William McClanaghan, sisters of the bridegroom, served the cake. Mrs. Marek was in charge of the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Luech of Pontiac, uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

Wedding guests were present from Santee, Calif., Grand Rapids, Detroit, Pontiac, Holland and other Michigan cities.

NOTICE

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, a petition has been filed with the City Clerk, signed by the owners of all the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by W. Upright, Sherman, W. Lincoln, and Grant Streets, more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot 154 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the City of Charlevoix, as per the recorded plat thereof in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan; thence continuing South along the East boundary of Lots 154, 155, 178 and 179 to the South boundary of Lot 179, thence East 16.5 feet to the Southwest corner of Lot 180; thence North along the West boundary of Lots 180 and 153 to the Northwest corner of Lot 153; thence West 16.5 feet to the point of beginning."

AND WHEREAS, said alley is not open, has not been used or improved and is of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and should be vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alley, provided that the City retains the right to maintain, operate, repair and replace, by itself or by any licensee or a holder of a franchise from the City, any poles, wires, pipes, conduits, sewer mains, water mains, or any other facility or equipment for the maintenance or operation of any utility now located in the alley or portion thereof vacated by this Resolution, and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, June 4, 1973, at 8:00 p.m. (Daylight Savings Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing of said alley and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courier commencing with the issue of May 2, 1973.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote:

YEAS: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman.
NAYS: None.
ABSENT: Alderman Supernaw.

Mrs. Moore Injured As Car Hits Loader

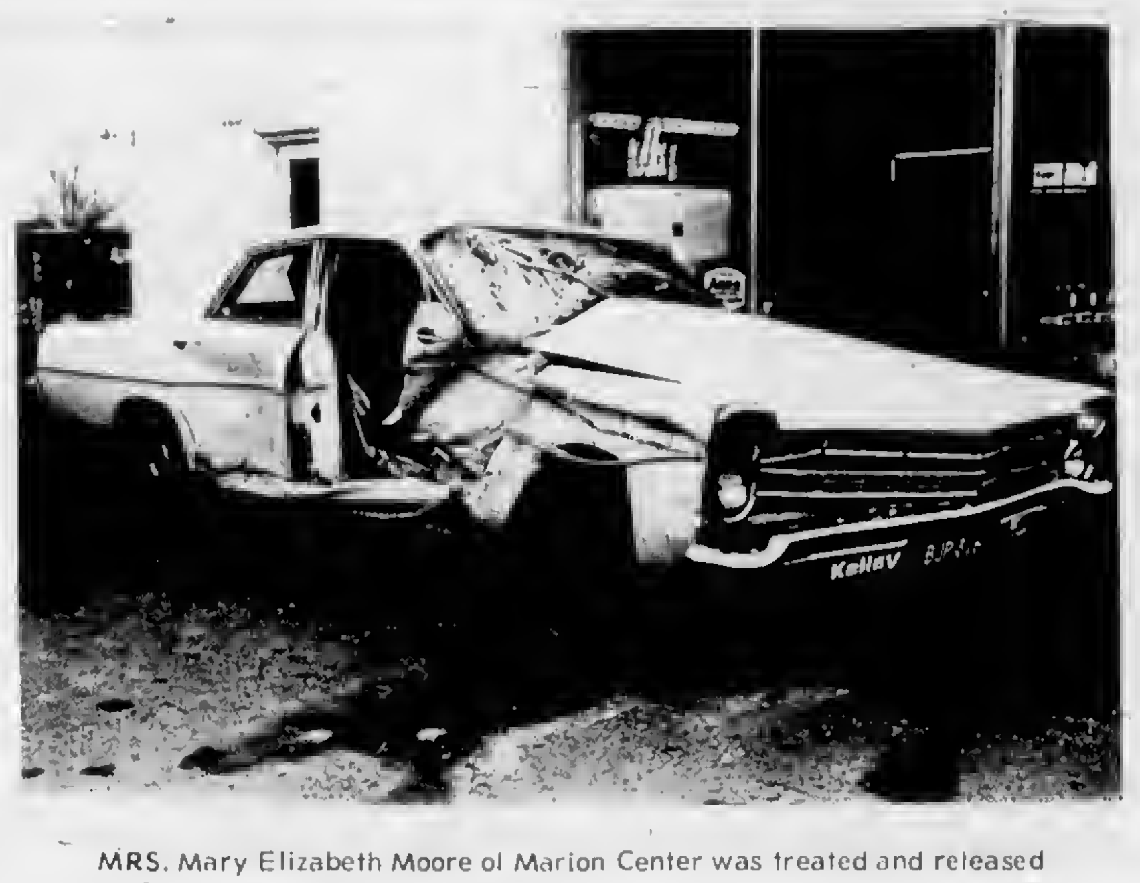
Mary Elizabeth Moore, 40, of Marion Center, was treated and released at Charlevoix Hospital May 3 after she lost control of her 1967 Ford on Marion Center-rd. and skidded sideways into a front-end loader driven by Larry Frank Brock, 26, of Ellsworth. Brock was uninjured.

Sheriff's deputies say Mrs. Moore apparently went into a skid on the rain-slick highway before plowing into the bucket on the loader. Mrs. Moore was southbound, Brock northbound.

The door on the right side of the car was pushed halfway through the vehicle, deputies said.

Mrs. Moore was taken to the hospital by the Charlevoix ambulance where she was treated for lacerations and released to the care of her husband.

Mrs. Moore told the Courier that a third vehicle was attempting to pass the loader and threatened to collide head-on with her vehicle when she applied the brakes and went into the skid. She said the car, driven by an Ellsworth resident, passed in the southbound lane as she slammed into the loader.



MRS. Mary Elizabeth Moore of Marion Center was treated and released at Charlevoix Hospital after she lost control of her car May 3 on the Marion Center-rd. and skidded sideways into a northbound front-end loader driven by Larry Brock. Brock was uninjured.

County Land Included In Proposed Auction

Approval has been sought by the Department of Natural Resources to hold a public sale in June covering state oil and gas lease rights in 25 counties of northern Lower Michigan including Charlevoix County.

The proposed sale's complete county-by-county list of recommended lease offerings was presented to the Natural Resources Commission for consideration during its May 3-4 meeting at the Holiday Inn, Gaylord.

County acreage figures for the proposed oil and gas lease sale are still being compiled by the DNR's Lands Division staff from field recommendations. If the sale is approved by the Commission next week, descriptions of its offered acreage will be drawn up and mailed to township boards, county commissioners, and other interested parties in areas listed for leasing.

Copies of those same sale lists will be sent to state legislators who represent each of these areas.

As now recommended, the lease offerings would involve parts of the following counties in northern Lower Michigan: Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Charlevoix, Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Crawford, Oscoda, Manistee, Wexford, Missaukee, Roscommon, Ogemaw, Mason, Lake, Osceola, Arenac, Oceana, Newaygo, and Midland.

The proposed sale would pinpoint acreage in those counties which oil and gas interests have asked the DNR to put up for bidding.

Each of the suggested lease units will carry a "development" or "non-development" designation for oil and gas activities, based on DNR field investigations and recommendations.

In line with an environmentally protective zoning policy adopted by the Commission in 1970, the June sale's non-development lease offerings would cover areas of special wildlife significance and unusual natural values, including state parks and recreation areas, game areas, and state forest campgrounds.

They would also lay down a no-drilling restriction within one-quarter mile of lakes and principal streams.

Where necessary, leases under the "development" category would place certain limitations on oil and gas operations to safeguard esthetic and other environmental values.

Prior to the public auction, the DNR's Lands Division will give consideration to any "justifiable" changes in the status of development acreage to be listed. DNR lands officials also point out that proposed June sale of lease rights would be subject to final approval by the Natural Resources Commission and the State Administrative Board.

County Plat Book Is Off the Press

The new Atlas and Plat Book of Charlevoix County is off the press and is on sale at the County treasurer's office in the County Building or at the office of Ed Rebman, county extension director.

The price of the book, which contains maps of every township in the county along with information on who owns which parcels, cost $5 – up $1 from the previous edition.

The book is sponsored by the Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District.

An important addition this year is a list of Land Use Services in the county, including the County Planning Department, District Health Unit No. 3, the Drain Commissioner, the Soil Conservation Service, the Cooperative Extension service, the Department of Natural Resources and the Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District.

The functions of each service also are listed.

The book also contains a page on zoning, pointing out that six townships -- Charlevoix, South Arm, Marion, Eveline, Norwood and Wilson – are zoned. The remaining nine counties fall under the County Zoning Ordinance.

It took a lot more than a smooth ride to make Ford Torino the best selling car in the mid-size field.

The closer you look, the better we look.

Behind Torino's smooth ride are better ideas in engineering. Like angle mounted shock absorbers for increased directional stability. Rubber body/frame mounts that help isolate the passenger compartment from road shocks. And a coil spring rubber-insulated front suspension that helps minimize noise and road vibration.

So take a good, close look at Ford Torino for '73. Discover why it's become the best selling car in the mid-size field.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams returned home Friday after spending the winter in Punta Gorda, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. James Huff and small daughter Heather of Durand, Mich., spent several days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nielsen. Mary Carol Nielsen returned with them after spending her Easter vacation with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodbury are spending this week in Swartz Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Roberts of Athens, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harper of Union City were guests last weekend at the home of their mother, Mrs. Elwyn Johnson and Mr. Johnson.

Mable and Elliot Bird arrived from their home in Flint Wednesday and are busy getting their local home ready for the summer season.

Mrs. Lorena Beane has returned home after spending the past ten days with her daughter, Mrs. Dan Sullivan and family, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edwards have returned to their home on Wickersham-rd. after spending the winter in their home in Clearwater, Fla.

We are beginning to pay for all our nice spring weather. We are having temperatures in the 30's with light frost at night and strong northwest winds that has put a stop to the early spring work. Poor weather also is keeping fishermen off the lake.

REV. LEWIS CHURCH was moderator at a day-long seminar Saturday at Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church.

Area Indians Convene At Greensky Hill Church

By Oscar Erickson

The Greensky Hill Methodist Church, on old US-31, hosted the Indian Workshop Conference on Saturday May 5.

Spokesman for various Reservations around the state and Rev. Elmer J. Faust of Charlevoix welcomed Bishop Dwight E. Loder, bishop of the United Methodist Church of Michigan.

The theme of the opening service, "Seek not a way out, but a way in," symbolized the spirit of the conference. All reservation reports showed an increase in membership and Sunday School attendance. Progress in both academic and vocational training continued to improve with the help of government funding through the Race and Religion program and with increased scholarships within the churches.

Indian unemployment persists at a high level. In one 700-member reservation it stands at 43 percent. In another case, meals on wheels for senior citizens and housebound could not be initiated due to lack of funds for prescribed plumbing.

Such statistics take on new meaning from the lips of a gray haired patriarch who was devoted his lifetime helping his people.

The ladies of the church prepared a ham dinner as only they know how, topped off with fresh strawberry shortcake. After dinner the group numbering over 50 people visited the burial grounds where wake-robins and violets bloom in special freshness near the lake of Susan Greensky.

This 20-acre retreat, which has been designated State Historical Site and National Shrine, was an appropriate setting for the meeting of Indians, Blacks and Whites. It was here that Peter Greensky in 1833 began preaching brotherly love in a temple of boughs and bark.

1971 Eldorado — 1973 Sedan deVille — 1969 Coupe deVille

Own a Cadillac?
Of course you can!

Right now, you could be very, very close to the special pleasures of Cadillac ownership.

Because right now there exists a very special set of circumstances favoring the person who longs to be a Cadillac owner.

It begins with the beautiful new 1973 Cadillacs themselves. These cars are the finest ever built by Cadillac—reflected by the fact that the '73 Sedan deVille shown above, has already established itself as the single most popular luxury car in automotive history.

There are nine great '73 Cadillacs from which to choose. And right now, your Cadillac dealer can probably supply just the model you want . . . just the way you want it!

If a new Cadillac is not yet in your plans . . . consider the pleasure of driving a Cadillac of another year. The great demand for new Cadillacs has made a number of beautiful previously-owned cars available. Like the 1971 Eldorado or 1969 Coupe deVille shown above.

It's true. A Cadillac of any recent year will likely have more luxury, more convenience features, more power equipment than you'll find on many of today's new cars.

For a lot of reasons, there couldn't be a better time to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer than right now.

First choose Cadillac . . . then choose the year.

Ellsworth School Names Valedictorian, Salutatorian

Timothy Jay Wynsma will serve as valedictorian and Joy Arlene Drenth as salutatorian of the 1973 Ellsworth Community School graduating class, Superintendent Robert Gaunt announced this week.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wynsma jr. of Atwood, Tim achieved a grade point average of 3.95 out of a possible 4.00. He plans to attend Calvin College in Grand Rapids in the field of Pre-medical Technology. During his four years at Ellsworth High School, Tim has participated in baseball, basketball, and track; was class president in his sophmore year and class treasurer in his junior year; a member of the National Honor Society; a representative to Boys' State in his junior year; and this year was the winner of the Betty Crocker Award and a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

Joy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Drenth of Ellsworth, and she achieved a grade point average of 3.80. Joy also plans to attend Calvin College where she will major in Elementary Education. During her high school years, Joy participated in both the junior and senior plays, belonged to the yearbook staff, the National Honor Society, worked on the newspaper staff, and was class treasurer in her freshman year. She is also vice-president of the Young People's Society of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church.

Other honor members of the class scholastically are: Barbara Vandeberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vandenberg of Ellsworth, with a 3.68 grade point average; Darla Best, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. John Best of Ellsworth, with a 3.54 grade point average, and Darlene Groesser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Groesser of Ellsworth, with a grade point average of 3.17.

Commencement exercise for the class will be held on June 8 in the Ellsworth High School gymnasium.

Thom Mansen Wins Degree

Thom Mansen, son of Rev. and Mrs. Albert Mansen of Charlevoix, was among 6,000 students who received degrees from the University of Michigan in commencement exercises May 5. Mansen was graduated from the School of Nursing.

Sir Kingsley Dunham, a geologist with an international reputation, was commencement speaker.

David Plum To Marry

Mrs. Rosaline Stryker of Freehold, N.J., announces the engagement of her daughter, Rosemary, to David Plum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Plum of Charlevoix.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Freehold High School and St. Frances School of Nursing, Trenton, N.J., where she received her RN degree. She is working as a nurse at the Intensive Care Unit of Freehold Hospital.

Plum is a graduate of Charlevoix High School and is serving with the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Saratoga, stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The wedding will be May 19 in Freehold.

Reps Ask Non-State Probe of Gas Geysers

State Reps. Michael A. Dively (R-Traverse City) and Ralph Ostling (R-Roscommon) have reacted to Governor Milliken's statement on the investigation of gas eruptions in Northern Michigan both positively and negatively.

Both said they were in agreement with the Governor's statement that further sale of oil and gas rights in Northern Michigan be delayed until the DNR's investigation is completed.

They also agreed with the Governor that the Oil and Gas Advisory Board membership be broadened to reflect a broader point of view and indicated they would assist in getting legislative approval for this change.

But they disagreed with the Governor's call for the investigation of the Williamsburg gas eruptions by the DNR. Both men last week called on Governor Milliken to conduct a thorough investigation of the matter. "We feel very strongly that this investigation should be conducted either by a federal agency, or by some outside, independent agency.

"We want a totally objective look into this very serious matter in our area, and we feel that this can only be accomplished by someone completely removed from the situation," Dively and Ostling commented.

"We are not finding fault necessarily, nor are we nit-picking. We do feel, however, that we want facts about this very serious situation unencumbered by anyone closely related to the situation. We would hope Governor Milliken would see the wisdom of this approach and consider favorably our request," they concluded.

City Council

COUNCIL MINUTES APRIL 23, 1973
8:00 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

The minutes of the April 9, 1973 meeting as recorded in the Council Minutes Book were corrected and approved as follows: Date of the last Council meeting corrected to read, April 9, 1973 and the resolution regarding requests for water by Charlevoix Township property owners along the south boundary line of Industrial Park was corrected to read $3.73 per front foot.

Several visitors from the Bellaire area were present to express their concern that a determination be made by the City Council regarding the condition of the Bellaire Hydro Plant. Upon request by Mayor Hansen, Mr. William Cruise of Scott Engineering was asked to speak. He stated that he felt that if the City plans to keep the plant, extensive work will be needed to put both the building and other structures in satisfactory repair, but that he was unable to make an estimate of structures in satisfactory repair, but that he was unable to make an estimate of what such repairs would cost without soil borings and topographical studies. Mr. Hans DeYoung, chairman of the Antrim County Board of Supervisors, asked that the City of Charlevoix do something - and quick, as it is a very serious problem that their County faces. He also asked that their Board be notified of the Council's decision as soon as possible.

The following Resolution was presented by Alderman Fochtman and he moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix advertise for the taking of sealed bids on the sale of the Bellaire Dam, land and property, not to include any hardware. Bids to be received by the City Clerk until 8 p.m. D.S.T. on May 7, 1973.

The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

Attorney Michael was present and requested that Council give the City Administrator authority to write a letter to the developers of the old Camp Charlevoix property, relative to the City's position on the handling of waste water from their proposed development. Mr. Hanna was given the authority as requested.

Bill Supernaw inquired as to the status of the Forbrig property on Meech Street. He was advised that the Hartger & Willard Mortgage Company is working to free the property to Mr. Forbrig.

The request of Randy Winchester for use of Ferry Avenue Park for a Rock Concert, April 29, 1973 from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m., with proceeds going to the Retarded Children Association was granted.

Correspondence dated April 17, 1973 from Theodore Sundquist was reviewed. The City Administrator was instructed to reply and return Mr. Sundquist's check, since he no longer wishes to pursue the rezoning of his property at 206 Michigan Avenue.

The Public Hearing for the re-zoning of Mildred Campbell's property south of Pine River Lane from Residential I to Commercial I was heard. Letters of objection were read. A letter from the Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission was read advising that the request be denied because of poor land use. The Lions Club's opposition was read and also their suggestion that the City purchase the property or make a land swap with Mrs. Campbell. Alfred Aerne expressed his objection to the rezoning and a desire to keep Charlevoix beautiful. Alderman Fochtman stated he would like to see the City explore the possibilities of purchasing the property from Mrs. Campbell.

Motion was made by Alderman Timms and supported by Alderman Fochtman that Council reject the rezoning request of Mildred Campbell due to citizen protests and the recommendation of the Planning Commission that the request be denied due to poor land use. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

There were no bids to be opened for gas and oil. Mayor Hansen told Council that Mr. Reibel had contacted him stating he had 30,000 gallons of premium gas, which he would sell to the City at 20 cents per gallon. It was discussed and Council requested that Mr. Reibel's offer be presented in writing.

One bid was opened for the Police Car from Cass Russell for $975.

Motion was made by Alderman Timms and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the bid of Cass Russell, being the only bid, be accepted in the amount of $975 for the 1973 Ford Police Car. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

Bids on the remodeling and addition to the multi-purpose Dock-Site building were opened and tabulated as follows:

Bidder: Ralph McRae, Lump Sum, $2,800, Starting Date, April 30, 1973, Completion Date, Depending on glass 20 to 24 days. Bidder: John Pearl, Jr., Lump Sum, $3,200, Starting Date 1 to 2 weeks, Completion Date, Depending on glass 20 to 24 days. Bidder: Joel Arvilla, Lump Sum $2,823, Starting Date, 5 days, Completion Date depending on glass approximately 3 weeks.

Moved by Alderwoman Wallace and supported by Alderman Fochtman that Ralph McRae's bid of $2,800 being the lowest bid that it be granted to him for the remodeling and addition to the City's multi-purpose Dock-Side building. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

The offer by John Haggard to rent Berth 3 for the 1973 season for $150 and make the necessary repairs to put the dock in safe and usable condition was discussed. Motion was made by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the City accept the offer of Mr. Haggard to rent Berth 3 for $150, plus necessary repairs. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

Alderwoman Wallace offered a Resolution, supported by Alderman Plumm requesting the approval of a new Resort Class C & SDM licenses to Heinz L. & Irene M. Leutheuser. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

Alderman Timms offered a Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace regarding the vacating of an alley bounded by W. Upright, Sherman, W. Lincoln, and Grant Streets. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

City Attorney Hoffman explained that he does not have the Trespass Ordinance completed, but will try to have it ready before the next regular meeting.

WHEREAS the bid of Charlevoix Marine Transport being the highest bid, the City accepts their bid for Berth "A" for the period June 1, 1973 to June 1, 1974 for $482, subject to a sign not to exceed ten square feet; placement of sign subject to the Council's approval. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

RESOLVED that the City accept the bid of Lewis Brooks for Berth 6 for the period June 1, 1973 to June 1, 1974, for $350 and the alternated bid of G. W. Peterson for Dock 4 and 5 for the same period for $360. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

Mayor Hansen expressed a desire to hire Greg Shadko to inspect the May Street Sewer project for a fee of 5 percent of the cost, and to hire him on a retainer to do other engineering jobs. The City Administrator reminded Council that this job was started back in 1965-66 and that before anything is done, McNamee, Porter and Seeley should be contacted, since they had done the preliminary work on the project.

Alderman Timms offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Fochtman. RESOLVED that Certificate of Deposit No. 1613 for $42,000 belonging to the Electric Fund be cashed and that the Electric Fund loan $42,000 to the Public Improvement Fund (Waste Water Treatment). The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $92,498.58 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Motion was made by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Timms that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: Alderman Supernaw.

On motion the Council adjourned.

Ida A. Heise, City Clerk

Rayder Girls Take 11 Firsts at Meet

Rayder girls won every first place in all 11 events at a track and field meet with Gaylord May 3 at Cheboygan, according to Mrs. Marie Osterberg, coach.

Despite snow, rain and generally unsavory weather, the Charlevoix girls racked up 76 points, compared to 15 for Gaylord.

Among freshmen, Denise Boss took a first in the long jump, 14 feet 9 inches; a first in the 880 run, 2:52:4 minutes; and a first in the 440 dash, 1:12:5 minutes. Dona Bellows placed first in the 220 dash, 30.1 seconds.

For the Sophomores, Cheryl Pence placed first in the high jump, 4 feet, 3 inches; and first in the shot put, 29 feet, 7 inches.

Senior Elaine Carr placed first in the 80-yard hurdles, with a time of 12.9; and a first in the 100-yard dash, 13.3.

Charlevoix girls also placed first in the 440-relay, 57.9, and in the 880 medley, 2:10.

The Rayders also claimed five second and six third places in the meet.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE

TO: ALFRED J. HASS and JOANNA HASS,
of P.O. Box 71, Walloon Lake, Michigan,
and all persons claiming under and
through them:

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain real estate Mortgage made by Alfred J. Hass and Joanna Hass, his wife, of P.O. Box 71, Walloon Lake, Charlevoix County, Michigan, as Mortgagors, to The First National Bank of Petoskey, now by reason of change of name First National Bank and Trust Company, a national banking association of Howard and Mitchell Streets, Petoskey, Michigan, as Mortgagee, which Mortgage was dated June 10, 1968 and recorded June 11, 1968 in Liber 124, Pages 647-648, Charlevoix County Records, and the entire balance secured by said Mortgage having become due and payable by reason of the continuance of said default for a period exceeding five (5) days, according to the terms and conditions of said Mortgage, and upon which Mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal the sum of SIXTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED EIGHTY-SIX DOLLARS and EIGHTEEN CENTS ($16,486.18) and for accrued interest the sum of ONE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED EIGHTY-SIX DOLLARS and SIXTY-FIVE CENTS ($1,986.65), for a total of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED SEVENTY-TWO DOLLARS and EIGHTY-THREE CENTS ($18,472.83), and no suit or proceeding in law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof;

Now, Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Friday, the 8th day of June, 1973, at 10:00 o'clock a.m. said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction to the highest bidder at the main entrance to the Charlevoix Courthouse, City of Charlevoix, Charlevoix County, Michigan, that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Charlevoix is held, of the premises described in said Mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amounts due, as aforesaid, on said Mortgage with interest thereon at seven percent (7 percent) per annum, together with all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney fees allowed by law, and also any sums which may subsequent to the date of this notice be paid by the undersigned, necessary to protect its interest in the premises. The premises to be foreclosed, described in said Mortgage, is as follows:

Beginning at an iron stake which is North 13 degrees 10 minutes East 581.8 feet of the point of intersection of the East edge of the right-of-way of Highway M-75 and the South line of Section 9, Township 33 North, Range 5 West; thence South 76 degrees 50 minutes East 165 feet to an iron stake; thence North 4 degrees 34 minutes West 131.25 feet to an iron stake; thence North 76 degrees 50 minutes West 125 feet to an iron stake; thence South 13 degrees 10 minutes West 125 feet to the point of beginning; being a part of Government Lot 1, Section 9, Township 33 North, Range 5 West, Village of Walloon Lake, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

The redemptive period afforded Mortgagors by Statute is six (6) months from date of foreclosure sale.

Dated at Petoskey, Michigan this 20th day of April, 1973.

Land Use, Courts DNR Topics for League Meet

"Land Use Regulations, Court Decisions, and Reorganization of State Department of Natural Resources" will be the first topic for general discussion at the Michigan Municipal League's Regions VIII-IV meeting in Petoskey on Wednesday, May 16.

Attending this annual meeting to begin at 1:30 p.m. will be mayors, village presidents, councilmen, and other officials from the cities and villages within the counties of Antrim Benzie, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Lake Leelanau, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, Osceola and Wexford in Region VIII, and Alcona, Alpena, Cheboygan, Crawford, Iosco, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle and Roscommon in Region IX. Speakers for the first session will be Ted Johnson, Professional Community Planner and partner in the firm of Edwards, Johnson, Mills and Associates, Planning Consultants; and a speaker from the State Department of Natural Resources.

The second general session topic to begin about 2:30 will be "Current Approaches to Collective Bargaining." Speakers for this session will be Thomas L. Butch, partner in the firm of Strohm and Hoehn, Labor Attorneys at Law from Escanaba; and Donald Mason, the City Manager of Cadillac. The moderator for the general session will be Mayor James H. Gibson of Petoskey.

The second half of the afternoon program features concurrent interest sessions. Mayor Pro Tem Harry C. Nelson of Gaylord will moderate the session on "The Provision of Services on Area-wide Basis: Ambulance, Fire, Utility." The panel will consist of a speaker from the Michigan Emergency Services Health Council on the provision of ambulance and emergency services on an area-wide basis; and Jerry Morford, City Manager of Grayling, on the provision of fire protection and utility services on an area-wide basis.

The "Federal Flood Insurance Program" serves as the second con-current session will consist of Kenneth Young from the Insurance Company of North America, and Richard Kooestra from the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Federal Insurance Administration. The session will be moderated by an official from the City of Charlevoix.

At each of these program sessions there will be time for questions and answers in which the audience of city and village officials is actively involved, providing another opportunity for the exchange of ideas among all of the officials within the region.

At the dinner session welcoming remarks will be given by Michigan Municipal League President Thomas K. Eardley, Jr., Mayor of Wyoming. "Host City" greetings will be extended by Petoskey Mayor James H. Gibson and Robert E. Fryer, director, Michigan Municipal League, will report on the League's 1973 Legislative Program. The meeting will conclude with the election of new regional officers for 1973-74.

Present Region VIII-IX officers are: William D. Gilmet, Mayor, Alpena, chairman; George Fisher, commissioner, Manistee, vice chairman; and Richard I. Gorman, city manager, Petoskey, secretary.

The regional officers serve as a liaison between League headquarters in Ann Arbor and its member municipalities in helping officials make use of League services. Representing some 455 member cities and villages throughout Michigan, the Michigan Municipal League serves to unite its members in collectively striving for home rule and promoting higher standards of municipal government.

Obituary

Dr. Russell Palmer

News of the recent death of Dr. Russell L. Palmer, 82, resident doctor on Beaver Island for 32 years prior to his retirement in 1955, has been received here.

He died recently at his home in Clearwater, Fla., where he had lived in recent years.

A native of Canada and a graduate of McGill University School of Medicine, he practiced in Toronto before becoming Beaver Island's first resident physician. He came to the island in 1923 and remained there until his retirement in 1955. He resided in Charlevoix for several years and spent some time in Lansing before going South to make his permanent home in Clearwater. He had been in failing health since December when he suffered a stroke.

He is survived by his widow Mary Martha, whom he married several years ago.

1st Practical Typewriter Patented Century Ago

Christopher Latham Sholes was the 52nd man to invent the typewriter, but he deserves credit for two firsts.

He invented the first practical writing machine suitable for mass production. And he was the first man to pick out that immortal sentence, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party."

A heated political campaign was underway when Sholes perfected his machine, so his clarion call was inevitable. History does not record the first typist who put the quick brown fox through its paces.

Exactly 100 years ago, Sholes sold his interest in the typewriter to E. Remington & Sons, then a small-arms manufacturer. He was paid only $12,000.

Succeeds at Failure

Years later when the typewriter business was booming, Sholes ruefully said, "All my life I have been trying to escape being a millionaire, and at last I think I have succeeded."

Henry Mill, an Englishman who was granted a patent for a writing machine by Queen Anne in 1714, often is called the first typewriter inventor, the National Geographic Society says.

But is was faster to write by hand than to operate Mill's gadget and the 50 other cumbersome contrivances that followed it. Sholes and his associated built the first writing machine that typed rapidly without jamming the type bars.

Keyboard Critics

Their QWERTYUIOP keyboard may have reduced jamming, but for generations typists have complained that the arrangement lacks logic. Periodic efforts at keyboard reform never have caught on.

In 1866, Sholes–printer, editor, and inventor–and two partners began work on their typewriter at Kleinstuber's machine shop in Milwaukee. By 1867, they had finished the first working model, a crude machine with piano keys.

For five years, Sholes struggled to improve the typewriter. Some of his best friends were newspaper reporters, and they helped by testing new models on the job, pointing out defects and making suggestions.

'No. 1' No Beauty

Remington engineers refined Sholes' final model, and produced the first commercial typewriter in 1873. Remington No. 1 resembled an ungainly sewing machine, complete with a foot treadle to return the carriage. It printed only capital letters.

Only a thousand No. 1's were made, but the typewriter slowly caught on–helped by claims that it safeguarded against "pen paralysis, loss of sight, and curvature of the spine."

Speed contests also sold typewriters. One company kept a stable of racing typists who trained daily on souped-up stock models adjusted for hair-trigger response.

In 1880, the New York YWCA offered a course on the "mechanical chirographer" for young ladies. Soon the typewriter opened thousands of office jobs to women for the first time.

Sholes, who had feared his invention would be ignored as a novelty, wrote shortly before his death in 1890; "The typewriter is obviously a blessing to mankind, and especially to womankind. I builded wiser than I knew, and the world has the benfit of it."

Phil Ruppe Responds to POW Mail

Dear Constituents:

Thank you all for your letters expressing concern about the fate of the civilian and military personnel missing in action in Southeast Asia. I have received hundreds of letters about this and I regret that I am unable to respond to each one individually for this is an issue which deserves the continuing attention of each of us.

The Paris Agreement signed January 27, 1973, provided for the establishment of a permanent Four-Party Joint Military Commission. Through this Commission, a team of highly-trained American specialists, located in Southeast Asia, has already begun the exhaustive and detailed research for information concerning our missing men. I have been personally assured by the Defense Department that the search will extend to all areas of Southeast Asia, no matter how remote, and will continue until each man has been accounted for.

I know what a terrible burden it is for the families and friends of these servicemen whose whereabouts have never been accounted for, and I promise you that they will not be forgotten.

Your continued support of this cause must be of great comfort to the families of those missing in action.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,
Philip E. Ruppe

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Thanks to our misguided attempts to improve on the perfection embodied in the Model-T, the modern auto has become a paradox. It creates more problems than it solves. Some of the T's noteworthy features deserve the attention of us safety-conscious polluttioners.

There was no bumper controversy because there were no bumpers! Their absence pleased the motorist, flattered by the implied confidence in his prudent use of this mechanical marvel.

There could never be a fuel crisis or undue pollution since this economy car was designed for seasonal use. Every car between Bay City and Hancock wintered on blocks in the barn and this became a source of irritation to budding auto competitors, the petroleum people, banking interests and certain alert government officials.

Auto makers began adding cylinders, comfort and speed while buying up any promising carburetor patents. Refiners added lead and politicians began adding taxes but it was the prospecting banker who struck the mother lode by inventing the credit card. Now that the honeymoon has ended in the spotlight of public indignation each conspirator glares accusingly at the other like Oliver Hardy as he complains to Stan Laurel,

"Now look at the mess you got me into!"

We design straps and bags to keep the driver at the controls tending to business but the Model T accomplished this very simply by providing no exit on the drivers side. This also prevented him from stepping into the path of hooves or wheels sharing the roadway, and was one less door to bang into the adjacent car in a parking lot.

Various electronic devises are proposed to deny the drinking driver the right to maim and kill. The early Ford dealt with this problem with an effectiveness which defied deacon and inebriate alike by endowing Lizzie with that human quality known as temperament which varied from day to day without any particular reason.

Identical starting procedures would fail five minutes later. The usual countdown went as follows: Raise the spark lever and turn on the key, Flip the crank forcefully but gingerly. Race back and advance the spark to clear up the coughing and sputtering. The ritual was accompanied by a vocal chant adapted to any language, clenched fist gestures, and at times a hefty boot which hurt the kicker more than the target.

Assuming these split second maneuvers were successful after the nineteenth performance, one still had to vault over the hingless "door" stamped into the body, choose between three foot pedals and then locate the elusive handbrake imbedded in the overhanging seat cushion.

It was this physical and mental agility demanded of the motorist which made highways safe in those days for all pedestrians be they feathered, furred or human. These vintage cars bear historical plates and rightfully so. They made history which hopefully may repeat itself for want to something better.

SAFETY VALVE

QUESTION: Is it legal for passengers to consume alcoholic beverages in a vehicle going down the highway? W. A. L., Algonac

ANSWER: No. No alcoholic liquor shall be consumed on the public highway.

QUESTION: My farmer friend is real proper with his slow moving vehicle emblem on the back of his farm equipment, but that's no excuse for those dim headlamps! R. O. B., West Branch

ANSWER: There is a special provision in our vehicle lighting equipment requirements for slow-moving vehicle which allows them to be operated (during specified hours of darkness) when equipped with two lighted lamps on the front capable of revealing persons and objects 75 feet ahead. Provided, however, that at no time shall that vehicle be operated at a speed in excess of 20 miles per hour.

QUESTION: My boy friend's new motor vehicle operator license doesn't even include information on his height and sex any more. His long hair and big steel rimmed glasses hide enough of his face he could almost pass for a girl! Does a police officer who stops him on the highway have any way to determine for sure what gender he really is? L. R. S., Stephenson

ANSWER: Although the new law effective Jan. 9. 1973, erases that physical description information from the license itself, the Secretary of State advises us that physical description will still be required on the license application and that this information will be available to all police officers on the law enforcement information network.

QUESTION: Does the law require people operating emergency vehicles on an emergency run to carry an operator's license with them? J. W., Bridgeport

ANSWER: "Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any fireman while responding to or returning from a fire alarm or while actually engaged in fighting a fire shall be exempt from carrying on his person any certificate, license or any paper or writing required by law to be on his person or presented upon demand of a peace officer."

Incumbents Must Let Us Know Their Plans

One of our long-time readers has come up with an admirable suggestion relative to the filing of candidates for public office.

She believes that when an incumbent office holder decides not to seek re-election, he should let his constituents know by means of notices in the public prints at least one month before the filing deadline.

It sometimes happens that a public official with whom almost everyone is well satisfied decides at the last minute not to run for re-election.

At least once in recent years, such a decision was reached over a weekend and the filing deadline was only hours away.

He won the election hands down, although he certainly would have had plenty of able opposition had the public known the incumbent were stepping aside.

Such situations could be avoided if incumbents were required to file for re-election at least one month before their challengers, with due public notice of the incumbent's intentions.

We believe this suggestion has such great merit that it deserves immediate consideration by the State Legislature.

It is untenable in a democratic society for citizens to find themselves at the mercy of elected officials who achieved public office virtually by default.

Other Rights Depend On Right to Know'

By John Gardner
Chairman, Common Cause

For two and a half years now, Common Cause, with its more than 200,000 members, has been fighting pitched battles in the public interest – and often winning. We've learned a lot of lessons, but none more fundamental than this: As far as citizens are concerned, all their other rights depend on their right to know. It's no accident that the First Amendment comes first: if freedom of information is successfully stifled, all the other freedoms can be snuffed out at leisure. What citizens don't know, they can't object to.

The good investigative reporter is, therefore, an invaluable ally when citizens are fighting battles in the public interest. And reporters are virtually unanimous in asserting that aggressive investigative reporting could not survive without extensive use of confidential sources. Such sources will fall silent if it becomes apparent that courts can force reporters to reveal their identity.

Unfortunately, courts and prosecutors all over the country seem to be seeking just that result. In the last several years, journalists have repeatedly been subpoened to reveal confidential information, and some who refused to talk have gone to jail.

Present safeguards are inadequate to protect the public's right to know. The Attorney General's guidelines for the issuance of subpoenas to the news media apply only to the Department of Justice, contain significant loopholes, and may be changed at the whim of the Attorney General. Eighteen states possess newsmen's privilege statutes, but these laws are usually narrow and imprecisely drafted, and in many cases have been gutted by judicial interpretation.

In June, 1972, a narrowly divided Supreme Court ruled 5-4 in Branzburg v. Hayes that a newsman had no First Amendment right to refuse to reveal his confidential sources to a grand jury. The court emphasized, however, that Congress or state legislatures were free to enact newsmen's shield legislation, and it virtually invited such action.

The public's right to know should not depend on the willingness of newsmen to go to jail rather than betray confidential sources. A shield law will benefit the public as well as newsmen and is not really a "privilege." Protection for sources is a necessity as basic as a typewriter if a journalist is to search out the truth. Congress should act now to protect the free flow of information to the public.

A federal shield law should apply to reporters for newspapers, magazines, television and radio, and should protect the identity of informants and the information they give in confidence. It should apply without exception to grand juries, legislative hearings, and administrative proceedings. It should cover all civil trials with the possible exception of libel cases. This broad coverage is necessary to guard against "fishing expeditions" made possible by the lack of evidentiary rules at investigatory proceedings and the broad discovery possible in civil trials.

Criminal trials present a different problem, and here there should be a narrow and well-defined exception. The scope of inquiry here is sharply focused since a jury or prosecutor has formally preferred charges and found probable cause to believe that the defendant has committed a crime.

Furthermore, to make an effective defense, a criminal defendant may have a compelling need for confidential information possessed by a reporter. Any newsmen's privilege that Congress enacts would have to give way, in any case, before the Sixth Amendment's guarantee to a criminal defendant of compulsory process for obtaining witnesses and for confronting tthe witnesses against him.

The exception allowed in criminal trials must be extremely specific. It should not allow a court to engage in a general "balancing of equities" that would make it difficult for informants and reporters to predict the situtations in which their agreements of confidentiality might be invaded. Three conditions should be met before disclosure is required: (1) the trial should involve a specified serious crime; (2) there should be a demonstration of probable cause to believe a newsman possesses relevant information; and (3) it should be shown that no alternative means of obtaining the information exists.

Enactment of a statutory newsmen's privilege will never prevent a reporter from testifying if he feels his obligations as a citizen compel him to do so. In cases involving immediate danger to human life, such as planned bombings, kidnappings, hijackings, and incidents of food poisoning, reporters have in the past willingly presented whatever knowledge they have to public authorities regardless of confidentiality.

No doubt a statutory privilege will sometimes operate to exclude trustworthy and relevant evidence from judicial proceedings, but this is justified by the central role played by the press in the preservation of free self-government. Thomas Jefferson said, "The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

If it Fitz — So Long, Heroes

By Jim Fitzgerald

Some teenage friends spent the Easter holiday in Washington, D.C., probably because Florida was too crowded to enter.

"Did you get into the White House?" I asked.

"No," they answered excitedly, "but we got into the Watergate."

Nifty.

Then there is my favorite bartender who used to ply his trade near the capitol building which houses all the great minds responsible for running Michigan. His name is Joe and he used to brag about all the governors and senators whose elbows he helped bend. But not anymore.

Now Joe brags that he used to know Glenda McGuire.

You know Glenda. She's the foxy chick who was on Gov. Milliken's staff until the newspapers revealed that taxpayers were paying her $18,000 per year for doing nothing. It turned out she was a girlfriend of Judge Jimmy Del Rio and her job was part of a political pay-off for Del Rio's support of Milliken in the last election.

Plenty embarrassed by the publicity, Milliken quickly fired Glenda. He is still juggling his staff and trying to explain how his halo suddenly crumbled and dropped dirt all over his boyish image.

What I am doing here, children, is establishing a pattern. Two teenage boys would rather see the Watergate than the White House. Joe the bartender would rather serve booze to Glenda McGuire than to the governor of his state.

What does it mean? I'm glad you asked.

It means the guy in the street is totally soured by the stink of politicians who will cut any corner on their way to power. It means John Citizen has quit believing in heroic leaders. There aren't any. Like is dead. There are just ambitious men who can carry all their scruples in their navels.

It means there are no more statesmen to whom people will build shrines. So the populace must worship at $100-a-ticket barbecues staged to finance political campaigns which elect little men owned by the corporation that bought the most tickets.

It means that if John Wayne quits making movies, the people will watch Marlon Brando dance a dirty tango with The Godfather.

To the Editor:

We would like to publicly thank the fifth grade teachers for the wonderful job they did in making it possible for our fifth grade children to go to Dearborn.

We wonder if the parents of these children realize the planning, and the time that goes into a trip such as this.

We who went along could see first hand the job these teachers did.

May we say thank you Mrs. Brock, Miss Wagner and Miss Peters.

And a very special thank you to Mrs. Seymour, and Mrs. McNamara.

Also thanks to the bus drivers. Without them the trip would have been impossible.

Questions & Answers On Zoning

Q. What fines can be imposed on a violator of the County Zoning Ordinance? J.D.

A. The Ordinance states under Section 12.6 that anyone who resists enforcement of the zoning ordinance shall be fined not more than one hundred (100) dollars for every day that the violation is permitted to exist. This fine shall only be imposed upon conviction in Court.

Clockwise

Watergate

By BOB CLOCK

I wish, just once, President Nixon would address the American people without making us feel like a pack of simple-minded nincompoops.

The President's "father knows best" attitude whenever he gets before the television cameras certainly can't be sitting well with many of his constituents.

If I talked that way to my brood at home, they'd laugh me out of the house.

The problem, I think, is that during his political life Nixon has been haunted by the specter of insincerity, whether or not it was deserved. Its an amateurish attempt to overcome this one terrible handicap, Nixon waves Old Glory before the American people solemnly professes his own patriotism and does everything but dress up like Uncle Sam.

Now I can take cornball humor "Hee-Haw" but when I see the President himself going through the same song and dance it's enough to turn the stomach.

A case in point was his dreadful TV appearance last Monday night when he attempted to explain away his party's shenanigans in the Watergate bugging incident.

Midway through his address, after explaining that he had accepted the resignations of this oldest and truest friends in government the President stuck out his mighty jaw, peered fearlessly into the television cameras and said: "I love America!" And unless there was any mistake about how he felt about his country, he added: "God Bless America."

I half expected him to lead the camera crew in song, but he didn't.

Now don't get me wrong. It is perfectly proper for a president to love his country, just as it is perfectly proper for any citizen to love his country.

But you just don't go around telling folks you love your country. That much, at least, should be understood. Normal everyday people who drink beer and play poker don't find it necessary to tell each other they love their country.

If I ran into you on the street and told you that I love America, you'd think I had a screw loose. You might even start to suspect that I am a pinko Commie traitor, human nature being what it is.

And that's precisely the problem Nixon is having with his public image. He tries so hard to appear sincere that his performance becomes a burlesque of sincerity and he appears totally phony.

I once knew a man who held a minor public office, a government functionary of sorts, who prefaced every statement to the press with a lengthy dissertation on his own honesty and integrity. As a result, no one ever believed a word he said.

If he had cut out the garbage, he could have told straight lies and at least half of them would have been believed.

The same goes for poor President Nixon, and I'll never know why his speech writers let him get away with it --unless they're all Democrats in disguise.

If Nixon's Watergate speech had been composed by a TV or movie script writer in an effort to conjur up the image of an insincere president, not one word would have had to be changed.

Frankly, it's hard to imagine how a man with so little understanding of human nature could have made it all the way to the White House, but life is full of these little mysteries.

Aside from his platitudes, what Nixon did have to say relative to Watergate's certainly wasn't consistent with sincerity. If John D. Ehrlichman and Bob Haldeman are truly innocent of any wrong-doing in the affair, how could the President in good conscience accept their resignations? It's a helluva state of affairs whan a man deserts his buddies under fire.

I would have thought a lot more of Nixon as a man if he had refused to let them step down and made some attempt to defend their honor as vigorously as he did his own.

But Nixon, unfortunately, is not made of very stern stuff. With a sad-eyed bust of Lincoln gazing solemnly over one shoulder and a portrait of his family smiling proudly over the other, he bid goodbye to his oldest and dearest friends without so much as a thank you.

For a few minutes there, I thought the bust of Lincoln was going to burst into tears.

Sen. Davis Defends Solons' Easter Vacation

By SEN. ROBERT DAVIS

Q. What is this I read in the paper about a two-week Easter vacation for the Legislature? L.A., Sault Ste. Marie

A. On dull days around the Capitol, newsmen often liven up the proceedings by finding critical things to write about the Legislature. So it was not unexpected when some newspapers concocted editorials about legislators "bolting for the door" when a two-week Easter recess was declared.

But the serious political writers who are concerned with covering the legislative activities constructively know that so-called "recesses" often wind up being time for doing the spade work drudgery in committee.

Thus it is this Easter recess. Committees of both the Senate and the House of Representatives – notably the Appropriation Committee, of which I am a member – have been working overtime on the backbreaking task of hammering out the budget, always the most difficult and most important task of most any legislative session.

The public doesn't see the steady stream of college and university and presidents and financial experts entering and leaving the Appropriation Committee rooms of both chambers all day long.

Likewise, state department heads and their financial advisors make constant trips to the committee rooms where they are subjected to long questioning, some of it rather intensive on why they demand increases and where they spent their last appropriation.

Being a member of the Appropriation Committee of either house is a prestigious job, coveted by many. This is especially so in the case of many new legislators who like to be "where the action is."

Hamilton Launches Marine Shop

A new sailor's supply shop called the Captain's Corner has been opened in the former Bartlett Tile and Floor Covering building at 110 Mason-st., across from the Post Office

The proprietor is Robert S. Hamilton, former owner of Hamilton's Marina, whose family has catered to Charlevoix sailors for more than 60 years.

The Captain's Corner offers a complete line of marine hardware and accessories, including Stearns life jackets (Coast Guard approved), Lan-O-Sheen cleaners, Pettit paints, Mayfair ladders, E-Z-On ladders tables, chairs and other shipboard furniture, nylon and dacron line by Puritan, and Parr fenders.

The shop also is carrying a full line of brass and stainless steel bolts, screws and nuts, pre-packaged for the shopper's convenience.

Hamilton also is an authorized dealer in lakes charts.

Although the shop is now open, Hamilton has postponed his grand opening until later this month. Watch for his advertisement in the Courier.

To Honor Odmark

The 52-piece Charlevoix Concert Band will participate in the annual Massed Band Festival Thursday, May 10, at Kingsley, according to Director Clarence Odmark.

Several area bands will join forces to make up a band of approximately 300 pieces. The huge band will rehearse for two hours in the afternoon before giving a concert at 7:30 p.m. There will be a small admission charge for the public.

Two long-time northern Michigan band directors will be honored at the festival by the association. They are Odmark, who has been band director at Charlevoix for more than 25 years, and Max Smith, Petoskey band director.

Smith will serve as guest conductor at a band festival to be held in Onaway Wednesday, May 9, and Odmark will be guest conductor of the Kingsley festival May 10.

Bath and Bed Boutique Opening on Bridge-St.

A new downtown shop – Haggard's Bath and Bed – is expected to open next week in the 200 block on Bridge-st., next door to the Portside Sports.

The shop will be owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haggard and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Manning

Mrs. Margaret Manning will be manager.

The Bath and Bed shop will offer top-line bed linens as well as merchandise for the bath ranging from towling, shower curtains, hampers, bathroom scales, Kohler fixtures and bathroom furniture.

The shop also will feature a large selection of Italian imports, according to Mrs. Bill (Mary) Haggard.

In addition to merchandise, Mrs. Haggard says she will be available for consultation on decorating schemes.

The Haggard's are owners of the Haggards' Plumbing on Antrim-st., but plan to run their Bath and Bed shop as an independent venture

Bill and John Haggard are the sons of the late Polly Sradko, co-founder of the Polly-Kay Shop, located just across the street from Bath and Bed. Both are natives of Charlevoix. Their father was the late George Haggard, a Charlevoix insurance agent.

Appointment Rift Underscores Need For City Charter

IT ALL boils down to this:

Charlevoix needs a new form of government under a new City Charter, with a strong manager to handle the day-to-day affairs of government under the watchful eye of an elected council.

Last week for the second time in less than two years, City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna was almost given the boot by a Charlevoix mayor.

Mayor Edward P. Hansen threw city government into turmoil when he failed to reappoint Hanna as superintendent. His main charge at the time was that Hanna has let city operating expenses get out of hand.

In Hanna's place, Hansen appointed Robert Wexstaff, who has worked for the city as assessor for the past five months. Wexstaff would serve as both assessor and administration for about $3,500 less than Hanna is receiving as administrator alone.

Hansen also expanded the mayor's appointments from five to 12, making appointive jobs out of such non-political positions as water supervisor, electric supervisor, sewer plant supervisor and others.

The council, of course, wisely postponed action on the mayor's appointments. It is understandably hesitant to create so many political footballs in city government, a move which certainly is not consistent with continuity and stability among supervisory personnel.

Furthermore, the council by and large feels that Hanna has done a superb job as city administrator.

If Hanna has one fault it is that he has not stood up and shouted for more assistance in running the city. If any man needs an able-bodied assistant it is he.

For in a city the size of Charlevoix, the administrator must wear many hats. He is the administrative head of city government and must keep in constant touch with all of its problems, including sewage plant operation, street maintenance, electric facilities and the water supply. He also is the fellow who signs building permits, hammers out the budget, negotiates with union representatives in labor disputes, supervises billing operations, fills out applications for state and federal funds and deals with dozens of state and federal agencies on dozens of state and federal programs.

One man simply cannot do it all and we shouldn't expect Hanna to. Provision should be made in this year's budget for the hiring of an assistant to relieve him of some of his routine duties so that he can concentrate his efforts on the larger responsibilities of his office.

In the meantime, the citizens of Charlevoix should insist that the council put a charter proposal on the next city ballot. If it passes, a commission would be elected to draw up a city charter. It will require lots of work by lots of dedicated people. But the result will be a streamlined form of city government that will be able to withstand the buffeting of political obligations and personal commitments.

CHS Addition, Operating Mills On June Ballot

Voters in the Charlevoix school district will be asked to vote on two millage issues as well as elect two trustees to the Board of Education in the forthcoming school election scheduled for Monday, June 11.

At that time voters in the school district will decide if they want to borrow a sum not to exceed $2.15 million and issue its bonds for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the existing high school and to remodel and re-equip the high school; to acquire a new school site and improve existing sites.

They will also be asked to vote on a six mill ($6.00 per $1,000 valuation) tax levy for a period of three years to underwrite operation purposes. The millage will replace the 6.9 mills voted for the same purpose three years ago.

At the same time voters will elect two trustees to the Board of Education for terms of four years each from among the following candidates: incumbent Larry Warner, C. Max Novak who will retire June 30 as Middle School principal, Mrs. William Brady and Oscar Erickson.

Also at Monday's meeting, the board —Voted to accept the resignation of Robert J. Cook as teacher and vocational director for the past 19 years and directed that a letter of appreciation be sent to Cook for his many years of service to the school.

—Voted to renew the student insurance with the American Community Mutual Insurance Co. for the second year of a two year contract at $1.00 per student, effective Aug. 15, 1973.

—Voted to turn down a request by Ski & Shore to place a bill board on the Southgate property. The real estate company offered $50 per year for the billboard space.

—Decided by a vote of 4-2 to honor Mrs. Ellen Copeland's request for an over-age extension for retirement for one year.

—Heard an assessment report by Supt. Robert L. Miller which revealed that fourth grade tested slightly lower and the seventh grade slightly higher than the last such tests.

—Heard a recommendation by Robert Bogart, business manager, that the Haggard Plumbing bid of $1,480 be accepted for re-locating the heating system at Southgate to the cement pad on the west side of the building. The Building Trades class will then erect walls and ceiling and install a fire door as per orders by the state fire marshal.

The project will cost an estimated $1,000, depending on the cost of a fire door.

—Heard reports on the recent fifth grade trip to Greenfield Village at Dearborn by fifth grade teachers and on the Latin Club trip to Rome during the recent spring vacation by Mrs. Frances Novak, club sponsor.

—Set May 22 and June 11 as the dates of forthcoming meetings and the appointment of a superintendent to succeed Mr. Miller, Middle School principal appointment, captial outlay expenditures and insurance bids as future topics.

Bells Bay Bike Trip Saturday

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a spring bicycle tour. Scheduled to start at the chamber office at 11 a.m., bikers will ride to Bells Bay.

At Bells Bay the group will have lunch and then return to Charlevoix. The round trip tour will be approximately eight miles long.

Persons may make reservations by calling the Courier office at 547-6558. Cost for the trip is 75 cents to cover expenses for the lunch. Bikers should bring their own beverages.

Reservations must be made by 3 p.m. Friday, May 18, so that the planners can arrange the picnic lunch.

John Connolly Resigns Post

Connolly gave no explanation for the move, saying he didn't "want to get things stirred up."

He served as an elected JP for 20 years before being named magistrate of the reorganized 90th District Court.

Storyteller Lisa Takes 1st in State

Lisa Wasoski, a senior at Charlevoix High School, took first place in Storytelling during the State Forensic Competition held in Ann Arbor last Saturday. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wasoski of Marion Center Road, Charlevoix.

Steve Kantola, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kantola of Boyne City-rd., Charlevoix, placed fifth in Humorous Reading.

The two qualified for the state competition by placing during Regional Forensic Competition. Other Charlevoix students who competed in Ann Arbor are Maureen Wallace in Storytelling and Sharon Montieth in Girl's Oratory.

Awards were given in Ann Arbor on Saturday to the top six contestants in each of ten categories.

This Saturday Lisa and Steve will again travel to Ann Arbor to take part in the State Forensics Sweepstakes Tournament. Each will participate in five of the ten scheduled events.

CHS Athletes to Receive Letters, Awards Monday

Awards night for Charlevoix High School athletes is scheduled for Monday, May 21, at the high school gymnasium.

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Boosters Club and the Charlevoix High School Athletic Association, the program will begin at 8 p.m.

Refreshments will be served during the presentation and there will be no admission charge.

Varsity letters will be presented to athletes who participated in a varsity sport during the 1972-73 school year. The coaches for each sport will present the awards. Special awards to participants in various sports will also be given out.

Coaches will be handing out letters for 11 different sports. The coaches and their respective sports include: Don Carey, football; Barry Anderson, basketball and golf; Dennis Carr, cross country; Norman Probert, wrestling; Gary Stutzman, track; William Murray and Karen Hines, skiing; Marie Osterberg, girl's volleyball, track and cheerleading; and Toni Felter, girl's basketball.

Due to the large number of athletes receiving awards this year, the awards night is replacing the annual awards banquet.

Vane Smith, High School Principal, Dale Burge, High School Athletic Director and im Alger, president of the Boosters Club, will host the event.

The Charlevoix Pep Band will also provide entertainment for the evening.

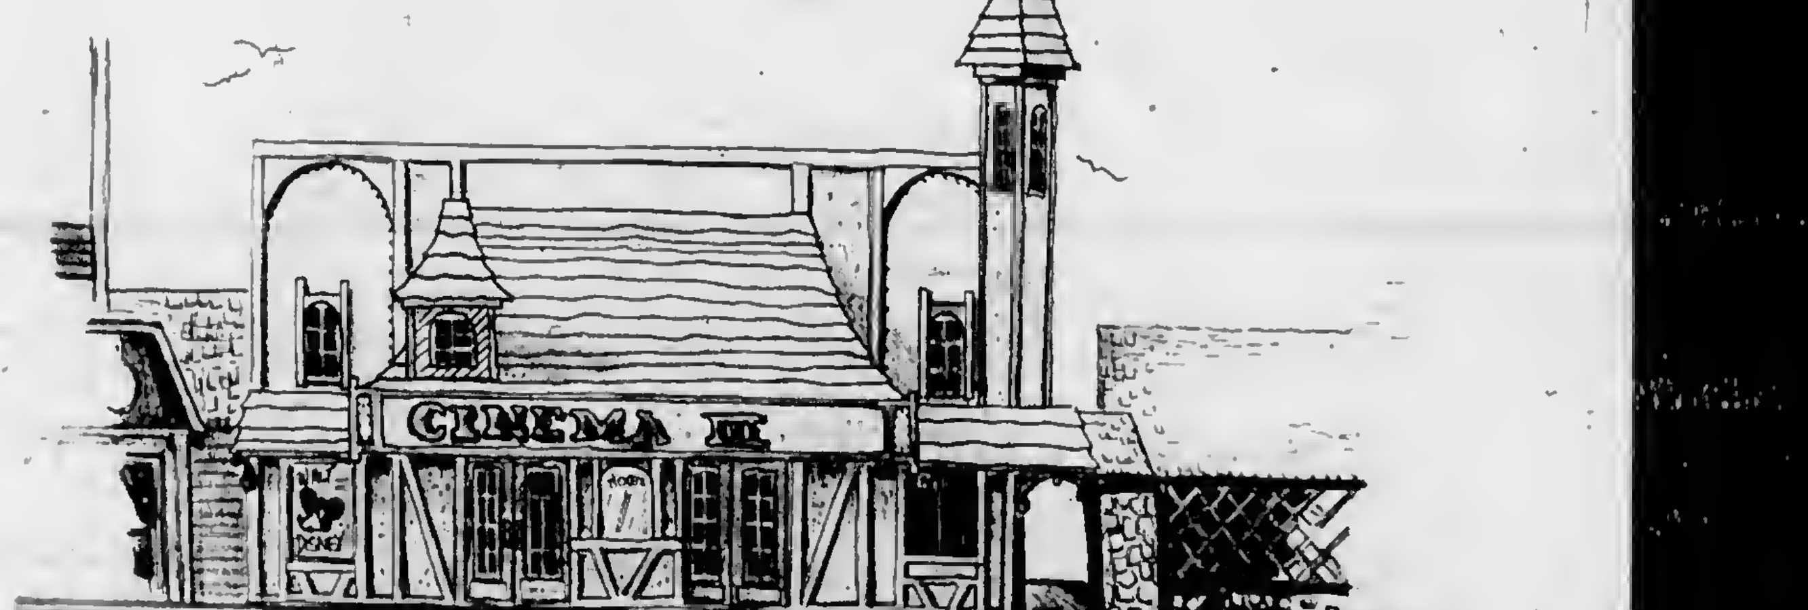
C of C Plans Dinner-Dance For June 2

The Chamber of Commerce's spring dinner-dance will be held at the Belvedere Casino Saturday, June 2, according to C of C Executive Director Toni Merta.

Tickets may be purchased from C of C board members or at the chamber office. They cost $10 each.

The evening will start at 7 p.m. with cocktails, followed by dinner at 8 p.m. An orchestra will be on hand to furnish music for dancing until the wee hours.

The dinner will be catered by Grey Gables.



Charlevoix Theatre

WORK IS expected to start this week on remodeling of the Palace Theater, re-named the Cinema III, according to owners Sam and Bill Supernaw and Tom Merta. Merta collaborated with architect Jack Begrow on the new French motif facade. The interior of the building also is being remodeled for more effective use of space. John Pearl is general contractor. Remodeling is expected to be completed by mid-June.

John W. Duerr Claims Bride in Birmingham

June A. Wink of 32721 White Oaks, Birmingham, became the bride of John Wellwood Duerr of Charlevoix in ceremonies May 11 at St. Regis Church, Birmingham, the Rev. Fr. Vogan officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wink Jr. of Birmingham. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Duerr of Charlevoix.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory Irish lace appliqued on imported English net which was designed by Priscilla of Boston. Her long mantilla-type veil was lavishly embroidered in matching lace attached to a bonnet-shaped headpiece.

Mrs. John Duerr

Bridesmaids were Carol Num of Bismark, N.D., a sister of the bride; Judy Scherer of Miami, Fla., and Andrea Shorrs of Hastings, Mich. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendants'.

Tony Duerr of Charlevoix was best man and ushers were Jerry Stewart of Gaylord, Thomas Robinson of Ann Arbor and William J. Wink III of Birmingham.

Ringbearers were John Logie and Charlie Venema, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Logie and Dr. and Mrs. William Venema, and flower girls were Erica Bratherton and Amy Venema, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Brotherton and Dr. and Mrs. Venema.

The wedding dinner was held at the Oakland Hills Country Club.

Library notes

For your spring reading, we suggest a few of the titles now available on our Library shelves. "Angle of Repose" is a beautiful new novel by Wallace Stegner. Those who have read Stegner's other books have one very loud criticism. He doesn't write more! Those who have not read his previous works will want to read them as soon as they finish his latest masterpiece. This is a quiet, beautiful peaceful novel about Susan Ward, a gifted and lovely woman whose skill as an artist brings her fame but it also brings unhappiness to her marriage. It is a strange, sad story told by a handicapped old man, confined to his wheel chair, who, after searching through diaries, notes and letters, writes of his beloved Grandmother Susan. We learn to love her as much as he did. There is no book we have read this year which is more highly recommended.

"The Sunlight Dialogues" is a new and rather ponderous novel by John Gardner, who has become one of our major contemporary writers. The plot concerns a befuddled old police chief who believes sternly in law and order, and his attempt to understand a strange magician called the "Sunlight Man" who believes in absolute existential freedom. These two crazy idealists hunt each other until each drives the other down to bedrock normalcy. In a way, it is a very funny book, but it is also very solemn, supenseful and mysterious. Unusual in present-day novels, there are interesting line drawings and illustrations. There are nearly 700 pages in this book, but–the reading is easy and fast-paced.

"Evening in Byzantium" is a great victory! When a new book comes out by Irwin Shaw, we almost have to put it behind bars to protect it from eager patrons. It is a marvelous new novel about Jessie Craig, a famous film producer who, at 48, has reached the crossroads in his life. He faces a shattered marriage, two daughters whom he hardly knows, an insistent mistress and a world tumbling down on him. The book offers high, absorbing entertainment at its very best.

"Oklahoma Crude" by Marc Norman is just a darned good, rip-roaring western! Set in the Oklahoma oil fields shortly before World War I, it is the story of Lena Doyle and her desperate fight to bring in her oil well against overwhelming odds.

Cruising Club to Meet At Mackinaw in July

The Great Lakes Cruising Club, America's largest fresh-water organization of yachting families, will hold its 1973 summer rendezvous at Mackinaw City, Michigan, July 27, 28 and 29, according to Port Captain Dayton Mudd of St. Louis, Mo., and Charlevoix.

The 1973 rendezvous, headed by chairman Roy Spanjer, a Past Commodore of the club and Chicago business executive, is being planned as a three-day event beginning with a special welcoming program Friday afternoon and evening at Mackinaw City.

A day-long program of special events and activities on Saturday, July 28, will be climaxed by a reception and dinner dance for all attending members and guests at the famous Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island.

The club's fleet will remain moored at the Mackinaw City marina during the entire three-day affair and participants will travel to and from Mackinac Island via the regular Island ferry service. Sunday, July 29, final day of the 1973 rendezvous, will feature non-denominational religious services at the Mackinaw City harbor, followed by a short cruise through the Straits area aboard the U.S. Coast Guard cutter, "Mackinaw".

Rear Admiral Heckman, Commandant of the Coast Guard's Ninth District, is making the cutter available for the cruising yachtmen's event.

Last year's GLCC rendezvous, staged at Harbour Island, Ont., drew more than 130 boats with guests and members registering from 15 states and three Canadian provinces.

With this year's affair scheduled for Mackinaw City, "cross roads of the Great Lakes", and with membership in the club standing at an all-time high in excess of 2,000, Commodore Jim Poe of Chicago anticipat an even greater particip.

Here Are Gals Who Brought Home the Title

CHERYL PENCE of Charlevoix won the high jump with a leap of 4 feet 8 inches in the dual-dual track meet held last Thursday against Petoskey and St. Ignace.

THE CHARLEVOIX 880-yard medley team, composed of Tori Alger, Debbie Kreger, Sue Westenbroek and Marion Staley, easily defeated the opposition. Here Marion Staley is shown breaking the tape at the finish line.

THOUGH ONLY a freshwoman, Charlevoix's Denise Boss has already put her name into the record books. Her long jump of 15 feet 4 inches during the field events on Thursday bested the previous record jump of 14 feet 7 inches at the Charlevoix field.

Track, Field Team Captures Regionals

Charlevoix's girls' track and field team piled up an impressive 42 points in the regional meet at Petoskey Saturday to capture its first regional title.

The team, coached by Mrs. Marie Osterberg, captured two firsts, five seconds, and three thirds and a fifth place to win the event and a chance to participate in the state meet at East Lansing Saturday.

Blue ribbon performances were made by Denise Boss who took a first in the long jump with a jump of 14' 7" and a first in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:40.55. She also placed second in the 440 yard run.

Placing second were Cheryl Pence in the high jump and Elaine Carr in the 80 yard hurdles. Cheryl also took third in the high jump and Elaine took third in the 100 yard dash and long jump.

Charlevoix's medley relay team composed of Tori Alger, Debbie Kreger, Sue Westenbroek and Marian Staley and the 440 yard relay team composed of Alger, Westenbrock, Teri Morris and Elaine Carr placed second in both events.

First, second and third place winners are eligible to participate in the state meet at Michigan State Saturday.

The Charlevoix Police Department met the school bus returning from Petoskey and escorted it, sirens wailing, through downtown Charlevoix to the High School Saturday afternoon.

Hospital Admissions

Charlevoix Hospital reports the following admissions:

Charlevoix: Florence McGhan, Chester Smith, Vera Kelly, Patricia Roenicke, James Driggett, Richard Oestrike, David Bergstrom and Kay Fiedorek.

East Jordan: Elsie Kanode and Nancy Richards.

Central Lake: Lester Essenberg and Raymond Aenis.

Petoskey: Daniel Kidd.

Ellsworth: Carolyn Brock and baby.

Cheerleading Clinic Slated

Alma College in Alma, Mich., will be the site of the annual Michigan Baton Twirling and Cheerleading Clinic. Mary Thurman will conduct the clinic, which is sanctioned by the National Baton Twirling Association and the International Cheerleaders Association.

ON HER WAY to win the 80-yard low hurdles is Elaine Carr (on the left) of Charlevoix. Elaine won the hurdles with a time of 12.1 seconds.

Softball Tourney Planned

A "kickoff" softball tournament will be held in Charlevoix this month, with all games at the ball field on Carpenter-st.

On May 19, Boyne City will play the Woodshed (now the Shed) at 4 p.m., American Mold will play Andy's at 5:30 p.m. and Medusa will play Topside at 7 p.m.

On May 20, winner of the Boyne City-Woodshed match will play Freedman's, at 2 p.m., winner of the Mold-Andy's match will play Jim's Standard at 3:30 p.m., the winner of the Medusa-Topside match will play Portside Sports at 5 p.m. and the Airport will play the Township at 6:30 p.m.

Semi-finals will be May 22 at 7 and 8:30 p.m., with the championship game May 24 at 7 p.m.

Group Loses Amateur Standing With 'Fiddler'

More Shows Slated

By BOB CLOCK

The Little Traverse Civic Theatre lost its amateur standing Thursday evening during the first performance of it's latest offering, a poignant production of "Fiddler on the Roof."

Polished professionalism was the hallmark of the musicale, which had members of the audience laughing, crying or thumping their feet to the beat of the provacative, minor-key Old World music.

Remaining performances are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 17, 18 and 19 at Petoskey High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The group, which has been in business more than 25 years and has scored successes with such musical productions as "Oklahoma" and "My Fair Lady", does such a terrific job with "Fiddler" that it makes the reviewer wonder what it can possibly do for an encore.

Of course, the Little-T players have everything going for them this time around. They are using the new well-equipped auditorium team teaching room at Petoskey High School, which has excellent acoustics and sufficient back-stage acoutrements to eliminate the bugs that have plagued other productions.

Furthermore, the group has been able to make use of the school's television equipment to video-tape portions to let directors and cast know what they are doing wrong — and what they are doing right.

There also are monitor sets back-stage to keep Director Ross Stoakes abreast of what's happening out-front.

A key to the success of "Fiddler" is that the sets, designed by Jack Perry, are sufficiently skeletal to allow for fast changes. The tempo of the production is face-paced from start to finish, with scarcely a momentary pause between scenes.

"Fiddler" takes place in the tiny Russian village of Anatevka, populated exclusively by Jewish settlers and a contingent of Russian soldiers. The time is shortly after the turn of the century when outside influences from the west are first beginning to make themselves felt.

Dairyman Tevye, played superbly by Maury Cohen, an instructor at North Central Michigan College, finds himself caught up in a worldwind of social change that threatens to destroy the traditions upon which life in Anatevka is based.

Most unnerving of the new ideas to invade Anatevka is that parents no longer have the right to arrange marriages for their children with the help of a matchmaker. As the father of five girls, Tevye would like tocling to the old ways but finds he is unable.

When Yente, the matchmaker (palyed by Linda Hergt) pairs his eldest daughter, Tzeitel (played by Cheryl Mulvanney), with a middle-aged butcher, Lazar Wolf (played by Melvin Holden), Tzeitel objects and professes her love for Motel (Ross Collins) a poor tailor.

Tevye takes compassion on Tzeitel and consents to the marriage without consulting his wife, Golde (played by Beverly Holden). To convince her of the correctness of his choice, he wakes her in the middle of the night to tell her of a dream he has just had in which Golde's Grandma Tzeitel (played by Pat Bloom) comes back from the grave to warn of the impending union with Lazar Wolf. Wolf's dead wife (played by Jean Powell) also makes an appearance, saying she will strangle Tzeitel if she marries her former husband.

The dream sequence in which Grandma Zeitel flies on the scene suspended from the heavens is one of the most dramatic – and yet comic – scenes in the play. Director Ross Stoakes could have had grandma arrives in a dry ice mist, but choose instead the more dramtic high-wire act, which, even though the audience would see the sky-lines, was certainly more effective.

After Tzeitel's marriage to Motel, the bars are down and tradition falls by the wayside right and left.

A number of Charlevoixans are in the cast and orchestra, including trombonist Dave Patrie and his sons, Kevin and Heath, who play Russian soldiers; Mrs. Dorothy Lee, Mary Lee Campbell, and Jan Bloom, members of the chorus; and Cathi Bldwin as daughter Shprintzl

Other members of the cast are William Zoerhof, Gerald Laandry, Gary Topolinski, John Holec, Laura Upton, Susan Boss, Debby Powell, Ross Collins, Paul Voorheis, Kim Kreiger, Kim Shanahan, Dan Davis, Wayne Burkhart, Jean Powell, Jean Beckley and Dorothy Koury.

The orchestra was led by Gig Stewart, vocal director was Constance Tanner, and choreography was handled by Diana Mason.

The book "Fiddler on the Roof" was written by Joseph Stein.

THE CAST OF 'Fiddler on the Rool' takes curtain call following opening night performance at Petoskey High School. The musical will be presented again this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Curtain lime is 8 p.m.

Northern Counties Ask Review of Assessments

Policies and procedures of the State Tax Commission in establishing the valuation of individual counties came under attack last week at a meeting of the Michigan Northern Counties Association held in Grayling.

One official reported that state assessors study as few as eight or nine sales in each township as a basis for the county-wide valuation. Out of the discussion came a resolution requesting a "broad and full investigation" of the Commission by Gov. William G. Milliken. The resolution stipulated that the investigation should include public hearings at numerous locations throughout the state. It was adopted by unanimous vote of officials of the 21 counties represented at the meeting.

Members also voted to continue their efforts to have all stateowned land placed on the property tax rolls at the same rate as all other property

A state-wide study of jails is to be inaugurated by the Association. This action stems from the condemnation of many county jails by the State Criminal Justice Department. Officials reported they had been unable to get any assurance new jails would be approved by the State even if they were built.

Efforts to have state-owned lands placed on the tax rolls at the same rate as all other property will be continued by the Association. Officials were unanimous in their decision to protest proposed state legislation which would pay into the State Treasury all taxes paid by public utilities. At present, taxes paid by telephone companies, telegraph companies, and railroads go into the general fund of the state. During the discussion, it was brought out that when these tax dollars were taken over by the state they were to have gone to the schools.

Lt. Robert Ruddy, head of the drug identification laboratory in Crawford County, spoke briefly to members about the work of this new facility. He indicated that good laboratory work eliminates long, drawn-out court trials and result in more convictions in Crawford County.

Dust Riles Neighbors

WITH UNSEASONABLE dry weather, dust is once again a problem at the south end of Charlevoix in the vicinity of the Medusa Cement Plant. Dump trucks carrying dust from the precipitator to an above ground storage area seem to be creating more of the problem. Dusty roads also contribute their share of air borne particles, according to observers.

MEDUSA dump truck leaves trail of dust behind as it leaves area where residue from the precipitator is being stored. Residents believe oiling the roads would help. The dust problem is particularly offensive near the airport.

More Candidates Needed For Fluoride Program

The Charlevoix School District Summer Topical Fluoride Program will be held from June 1, 1973 - June 8, 1973, according to the co-chairmen of the program.

Advance registrations have already taken place but there is presently room for some additional enrolles and those parents wishing to enroll their children may do so at this time by contacting Mrs. Jean Davis at 547-4105.

Topical fluoride applications are being offered to children in specific grades and according to residence as follows:

a) Prescholler (3 years and over), second, fifth and eighth graders who do not drink from the Charlevoix water supply.

b) Eighth graders who have lived in Charlevoix less than seven years,

c) Fifth graders who lived here less than five years, and

d) Preschoolers and second graders with less than three years residence in the city.

At approximately these ages many new teeth appear and should be protected with fluoride. The program is conducted annually so that children not eligible this year will have an opportunity to participate in the future.

This program is conducted under the direction of the Michigan Department of Health and sponsored by the Charlevoix District Health Department in cooperation with the Charlevoix Public Schools. A fee of $4 is charged to participants to cover costs of operating the clinic.

In addition to providing protection against cavities, the program offers a valuable dental experience for children with no discomfort. Dental health education by the clinic personnel is an important part of the program.

Parents of children enrolled in the program will receive appointment cards in mid-May.

In addition to the clinic to be held in Charlevoix, in the basement of the public library, thousands of children will be receiving fluroide applications this summer in over 200 similar clinics throughout the state.

A HAM and turkey was served to more than 300 parishioners at St. Marys Hall last Sunday. The celebration marked Fr. E. Francis Denay's 40th year in the ministry.

Desert-Dixie Travelogue Set May 24

Tickets will be on sale at the door at a cost of $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. The travelogue is sponsored by the Ebenezer Ways & Means Committee.

Chris Begrow Wins Award for Drawing

Chris Begrow, a sophomore drafting student at Charlevoix Senior High School, placed 6th in his division at the Michigan industrial Arts Awards Fair in Grand Rapids recently.

Begrow's drawing was of various types of ductwork used in the heating of homes and business places. He won regional awards on five of his drawings.

More than 10,000 industrial arts projects were entered at fairs on the regional level. About 3,000 first and second place winners were eligible for the state contest, in which 750 awards were made.

3 bedroom home, beautiful view. 4 miles So. of Charlevoix on about 2 acres of land.

3 Miles North of E. Jordan. 350 feet on M 66. Excellent view of the lake. Can be had on Terms.

10 Acre parcels. Lots of them, clear or wooded. Other acreage from 18 to 140 acres. Call us for particulars.

DEEP THROAT
ADULTS ONLY IN COLOR
RATED X

Sunrise finds a typical dish rag neatly folded in the kitchen linen drawer. Mom takes it out and rinses it. She uses it to wipe the spilled orange juice, clean up the toast crumbs, wipe grease splatters off the range and mop up the milk circles under the cereal bowls. Then she washes the breakfast dishes. Come lunch time there's more of the same. About three in the afternoon "little George" comes in from school. Hungry as a bear. He sneaks a cookie and wipes up the "crummy" evidence with the dish rag. And while he's mopping up he hits the dog's water bowl. Messy. No matter. Two or three swipes with the dish rag and it's all cleaned up. No one's the wiser. After supper Mom goes about the job of cleaning up . . . dish rag in hand. She's thankful it's her last batch of dishes for the day.

Exaggerated?

Perhaps.

But regardless, there's a better way to do dishes.

NOTICE

Alderman Timms offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, a petition has been filed with the City Clerk, signed by the owners of all the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by W. Upright, Sherman, W. Lincoln, and Grant Streets, more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot 154 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the City of Charlevoix, as per the recorded plat thereof in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan; thence continuing South along the East boundary of Lots 154, 155, 178 and 179 to the South boundary of Lot 179, thence East 16.5 feet to the Southwest corner of Lot 180; thence North along the West boundary of Lots 180 and 153 to the Northwest corner of Lot 153; thence West 16.5 feet to the point of beginning."

AND WHEREAS, said alley is not open, has not been used or improved and is of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and should be vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alley, provided that the City retains the right to maintain, operate, repair and replace, by itself or by any licensee or a holder of a franchise from the City, any poles, wires, pipes, conduits, sewer mains, water mains, or any other facility or equipment for the maintenance or operation of any utility now located in the alley or portion thereof vacated by this Resolution, and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, June 4, 1973, at 8:00 p.m. (Daylight Savings Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing of said alley and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courier commencing with the issue of May 2, 1973.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote:

YEAS: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman.
NAYS: None.
ABSENT: Alderman Supernaw.

Reformed Church Site Of Austin-Withers Rites

Sheryl Austin of Charlevoix became the bride of James Withers in ceremonies May 12 at the Community Reformed Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Davies of Charlevoix. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Bruce Withers of Charlevoix.

Approximately 200 guests attended the double-ring ceremony which was performed at the Community Reformed Church by the Rev. Albert Mansen before an altar decorated with baskets of spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a gown of blue chiffon over blue silk with three-quarters sleeves, an Empire waist and stand-up collar. The gown was decorated with pink and yellow flowers and tiny daisies outlined her powder-blue veil. She carried a nosegay of lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

Cindy Ager of Charlevoix was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Patricia Kenney and Patricia Withers, both of Charlevoix. They wore pale yellow Empire-styled dresses with short sleeves and white trim. They carried bouquets of white daisies and lilies of the valley.

Jon Withers was best man, Dick Kenney and Joe Beaudion were groomsmen and Dan Austin and Bob Withers were ushers. All live in Charlevoix.

Two receptions followed the ceremony, one at the church fellowship hall and another at Mary's Parlor in the Weathervane Inn. After a wedding trip to the British West Indies the couple will live at Pine Point.

Mrs. Bruce Withers hosted a rehearsal dinner for the couple at the Weathervane Inn Friday evening.

We were all happy to have Rev. and Mrs. Harmon with us again for our morning church service Sunday after their three-week vacation in California. They report having a nice trip with luck being with them all the way. They went through Roseville, Calif., two hours before the disastrous explosion that leveled most of the town. They crossed Wyoming about six hours ahead of a heavy snowstorm and left Illinois ahead of a tornado. Home and our spring weather really looked good to them. A social hour was held in the church dining room after the service.

Magistrate Connolly: A Hard Man to Replace

Magistrate John Connolly who resigned abruptly last Tuesday from his post with the Charlevoix District Court will be sorely missed from the Charlevoix County Courthouse complex

Judge Connolly had served the people of the Charlevoix area well for 23 years, first as justice of the peace and later as magistrate under the reorganized district court system.

It was typical of Judge Connolly not to file charges or make recriminations upon his leaving. He declined to tell the press why he was stepping down, explaining that he "didn't want to get things stirred up."

Even the miscreants who have appeared before him over the years will agree that Judge Connolly was always tough, but fair. Unlike the high-born and college-educated paragons who often occupy the judicial bench, Judge Connolly rubbed elbows with the common man. He knew well their problems, the temptations they faced and the weaknesses to which the flesh is heir.

And although he followed the law to the letter, his decisions were always tempered by a compassion rooted in an understanding of human frailty

Courier reporters who visited his chambers regularly to pick up the "court news" often found him poring over ominous legal tomes in order to better understand the law in cases coming before him.

For almost a quarter of a century, Judge Connolly has performed an essential service in an exemplary manner for the people of Charlevoix County. He will be a hard man to replace

School Made Over $1,000 On Dance

To the Editor:

The staff and students of Ironton School would like to thank all people who helped to make our benefit dance a success.

We made more than $1,000 which will provide the school with equipment for learning and for pleasure.

Your consideration is very much appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Questions & Answers On Zoning

Q. I own a lot in the agricultural zone which is 200 x 200. Can I build on this lot even though it is less than 2 acres? D.A.R.

A. Yes. Because this land was subdivided prior to the effective date of the zoning Ordinance (Oct. 25, 1972), this land becomes a lot of record, as defined in the Zoning Ordinance. Therefore, you may build on the property as long as you comply with the front, side and rear yard requirements and with the floor area and height regulations.

Q. I am building a porch on my house. Do I need a zoning permit? I.P.

A. Because you estimate that the cost of the porch (with your labor) will be less that $1,000.00 dollars, you do not need a zoning permit. If the cost were more than that amount it would be necessary for you to comply with the Ordinance and get a zoning permit.

She Plays Important Civic Role

Too many acts of public service go unrecognized.

A case in point is the service provided by Mrs. Thomas (Ada) Maxwell of See-rd., Hayes Township.

For more years that she cares to remember, Mrs. Maxwell has acted as a voluntary "clearing house" for activities throughout the area.

Quiet and unassuming, Mrs. Maxwell is not much of a joiner herself. But she has fallen into the role of the unofficial keeper of the Community Calendar.

Virtually every organization in the area -- be it church, civic, social, service or fraternal --- touches base with her before scheduling major events. She lets the groups know what events --- if any --- are being planned at the same time that might be in conflict.

As a result, band concerts are rarely scheduled on the same nights as public hearings. If they are, it's because someone failed to get in touch with Mrs. Maxwell.

Mrs. Maxwell also compiles the Community Calendar for the Charlevoix Courier to let you know what's happening, when and where, in capsule form.

The next time you run into Mrs. Maxwell, let her know how much you appreciate the big role she is playing in Charlevoix's community life.

Rayders Capture Title

Charlevoix Red Rayders captured their first Michigan-Huron Shores conference title in Track and Field Wednesday at Petoskey, despite rain, mud and generally foul weather.

The Rayders chalked up 53½ points, followed by Petoskey with 48 and Boyne City with 43.

Charlevoix won only four of the 15 events, but had plenty of strength in secondary spots.

Filling up the slots behind Boyne City were Rogers City, 38; Cheboygan, 30; Gaylord, 19; St. Ignace, 8½; and Grayling, 0.

Rayders 2nd in Region

The Charlevoix Rayder thinclads tallied a total of 36½ points at the Class C Regional Track and Field Meet at Pine River Saturday to place second behind Benzie Central who won the meet with 42 points.

The Rayders captured four firsts and set a new regional record in the 220 yard run as they ran up their impressive total.

Kevin Martin set the new record with a time of 23.5 to better the former record of 23.85 set by Craig Dixon of Benzie Central in 1971.

Other blue ribbon winners were Mike Streeter who took the long jump with a distance of 19 ft. 9½ in.; Pat Plumm who placed first in the pole vault with an 11 ft. 5 in. jump and the 440 yd. relay team composed of Jerry Skippergosh, Joe Kaufman, Streeter and Martin with a time of 48.2.

Other point winners were Martin who placed second in the long jump; Streeter who placed third in the 100 yard dash; Randy Faust who tied for fourth place in the pole vault and placed fifth in the 120 yd. high hurdles; Tom Moore who took a fourth in the two mile run and Skippergosh a fifth in the high jump.

First, second and third place winners are qualified to compete in the state meet at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant this Saturday.

Boyne City came in seventh in the meet. Two Ramblers set new records in field events, with Devere Washburn with a toss of 49' 1" bettering the record 48' 10" set by Joe Jones of Charlevoix in 1972 and Kevin Stackus with a jump of 6' 1" in the high jump breaking his own record of 5' 11" set last year.

Kipke's Nephew New Rec Director

Curtis K. Kipke of Grand Rapids, a nephew of retired Charlevoix High School coach and athletic director Ray Kipke, was hired Monday as the city's first full-time recreation director

The appointment was announced by Alderman Sam Supernaw, chairman of the recreation committee The committee was authorized to hire a director at last Monday's council meeting.

Kipke, 27, will receive a salary of $9,500 a year. The council had agreed on a salary of $9,000, but members and Mayor Edward Hansen decided to up the ante after reviewing Kipke's qualifications.

Supernaw said that the new athletic director is expected to move to Charlevoix about the first week in June. He presently is a general supervisor in the Grand Rapids Recreation Department, a job he has held since Jan. 1, 1972.

His duties include organizing, budgeting and evaluating various programs, with responsibility for 300 after-school classes in 50 schools, 120 adult gym classes in 40 schools, supervision of a table tennis center and four teen centers.

Kipke is the son of Herb Kipke, long-time Lansing recreation director and a brother of Charlevoix's Ray Kipke.

A graduate of Lansing Sexton High School, he attended Lansing Community College and received a degree in Applied Arts from Central Michigan University in 1968. He has served two years in the Army as a transportation officer in Vietnam.

Open House On Sundew

Open house will be held aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Sundew Saturday, May 19, from 1 until 4 p.m.

The cutter will be tied up at the Coast Guard Station for the day. Visitors will be welcomed aboard to inspect the ship.

Gospel Pair Will Appear

Jerry Falwell and Doug Oldham, radio and TV gospel personalities from the Thomas Road Baptist Church in Lynchburg, Va., will appear at the Traverse City High School Gymnasium Tuesday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Five Musical Programs Coming Up in Schools

The Charlevoix Public Schools will present a series of five musical programs during the next ten days.

On Tuesday, May 22, the High School Ninth Grade Band and Concert Band will present a concert at the High School Gym; on Wednesday, May 23, the state championship High School Symphony Band and the Girls' Vocal Ensemble will collaborate in presenting a concert. Both programs will begin at 8:00 p.m. with no admission charges. C.A. Odmark will conduct.

On Thursday, May 24, the Elementary School Spring Program will be presented. Under the direction of Miss Marina Anegon, the program will begin at 7:30 p.m., and will also be held in the High School Gym.

The Middle School Seventh and Eighth Grade Bands will present a program on Wednesday, May 30. Gary Stutzman will direct the groups, with the concert schedules to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The finale in the series of programs will be staged on Thursday, May 31. The Fifth Grade Operetta, "Tom Sawyer", will be presented under the direction of Miss Evelyn Peters.

Dignitaries Awaited

Alderman Jeannine Wallace reported to the City Council Monday night that Walled Lake Mayor Marshall Taylor, his secretary Dora Soma, and Police Chief and Mrs. Wilford (Trigger) Hook are expected to arrive in Charlevoix Sunday afternoon to participate in Mayor's Exchange activities in connection with Michigan Week

The mayor and council have been invited to have cocktails with the visiting dignitaries at the Wallace home Sunday evening, followed by dinner at Grey Gables.

Monday, the visitors will have breakfast at a local restaurant, tour the city and be guests of honor at a luncheon at the Weathervane Inn.

Soup to Nuts

A RARE ATMOSPHERIC phenomena was witnessed over northern Lake Michigan last Friday and Saturday evenings. From the foot of W. Dixon-ave., the entire northern and western shores of the lake appeared as a dark line reflected just above the horizon. North and South Fox Islands and Beaver Island appeared five or six times "taller" than normal, casting dark inverted images against the sky. A distant freighter appeared as two ships, one floating upside down above the other. The smoke from the real ship and the smoke from the reflected image merged in long "V" banner. Great Lakes sailors are familiar with such "mirages" on the lakes. Dick Lyons said he once saw a freighter on Lake Superior that was at least 50 miles distant, but loomed as large as a 10-story building.

IF YOU TRAVELED due west from Charlevoix, what is the first land you would hit? According to the new state highway map, copies of which are available free at the Courier office, you would go aground on the southern tip of Detroit Island, Wisc., which lies between Washington Island and the Door Peninsula. If you continued west, you would be back in Michigan again, landing at a point along M-35 eight miles south of Cedar River in Menominee County. And if you continued west, you'd be back in Wisconsin again, just south of McAllister.

JUNE IS JUST around the corner, but it is not June brides who are snatching up most of the silk bridal veil for sale at the Chelsea Cloth Shop. Store Manager Diane Rosendahl reports her best customers for bridal veil are husky fishermen who cut it into four-inch squares and stitch it up into spawn bags.

MRS. MAX (JOYCE) Hosmer of Charlevoix isn't complaining about the mail service — at least the international mail service. During the Hosmer's Easter week trip to France, Mrs. Hosmer's wallet was lifted by a pick-pocket from her open carry-all bag while she was on a tour of the attractions in Paris. The wallet contained about $50 in bills, credit cards, driver's license and other important papers. On May 5 she received a package mailed May 4 from the American Embassy in Paris. In it was the missing wallet. An accompanying note said the wallet was found in a parking lot by two French school teachers, who turned it over to the Embassy. The money and some of the credit cards were missing, but everything else was intact. Mrs. Hosmer sent picture postcards of Charlevoix to the two teachers, along with her "merci beaucoup."

SPEAKING OF FRANCE, the latest French import in town is a motorized bicycle called the "Solex," which is being marketed locally by Bill Stokes at Charlevoix Automotive Supply on Bridge-st. The bikes, which retail at just over $200, including lock, feature a light-weight, front-mounted gasoline engine to help the cyclist over hills or just give his legs a break on the long-haul. A lever lowers the engine on the front wheel, which is started by the foward motion of the bicycle. Then the engine takes over, driving the front wheel by means of a friction cylinder. Top speed on a straight-away is 20 mph. Stokes says the state doesn't even require plates on the little bike. The only hitch is that it can't be used on the interstate highways like I-75 because it won't make the minimum speed. However, the engine offers 200 miles to a gallon of gasoline, which is something to consider in these days of fuel shortages.

AND SPEAKING of bikes, Bit of Finland on Bridge-st. near the bridge has some collapsible models on sale, right from Finland. The bikes fold in the middle for easy transportation and storage. Proprietor Paul Osterberg believes they are just the thing for the sailor who arrives in port and wants land transportation.

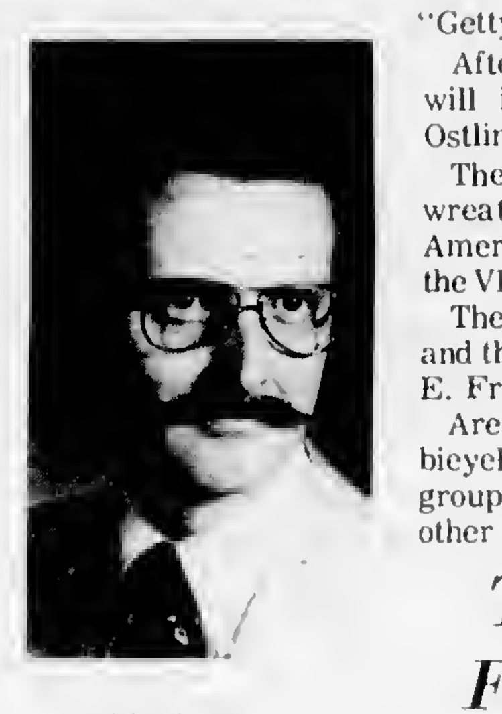
FAY'S DRESS SHOP, which has done business in the 400 block of Bridge-st. for many years, is moving shortly to the former bakery building, between Ken Cellner's Barbershop and the Topside.



Richard Vanderstelt

New VP Named by 1st State

Richard Vanderstelt of Spring Lake has been named vice-president of the First State Bank of Charlevoix, according to Lou Hollow, president.

Vanderstelt formerly was branch officer, officer in charge of Bank Americard and a trust officer with the Peoples Bank and Trust Co. of Grand Haven.

He and his wife, Cheryl, have two children, Anne, 7, and Andrew, 6. They have purchased the home formerly owned by Charlevoix School Superintendent Robert Miller on Hampton-rd. Miller has accepted a new post as superintendent of schools in Grand Ledge and will leave Charlevoix at the end of the school year.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Vanderstelt have been active in church and civic affairs in Spring Lake.

The new vice-president is a graduate of Muskegon High School and attended both Muskegon Community College and Aquinas College.

Mayor Visits

Mayor and Mrs. Edward P. Hansen and Alderman and Mrs. George Plumm were in Walled Lake over the weekend to participate in Mayor's Exchange Day activities.

Memorial Day Parade Starts At 10 Monday

Charlevoix's annual Memorial Day parade, sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts, is scheduled to begin Monday at 10 a.m.

Line-up for the parade will be at 9:30 a.m. on Park-ave. and State-st.

The parade will proceed east on Park-ave. to Bridge-st., then south to the Chamber of Commerce Building where a wreath will be placed on the waters of Round Lake by members of the American Legion and VFW auxiliaries in memory of Charlevoixans lost at sea. Taps also will be sounded.

The parade will then proceed to Brookside Cemetery, where the Charlevoix High School Band will play the National Anthem and Rev. Albert Mansen of the Community Reformed Church will offer the invocation. He will be introduced by Mayor Edward P. Hansen, master of ceremonies.

Alderman George Plumm will lead the Pledge to the Flag and Terry Phillips will recite Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address."

After the band plays "America", Mayor Hansen will introduce the speaker. State Rep. Ralph Ostling of Roscommon.

The program will conclude with the placement of wreaths by Hal Forbrig, commander of the American Legion, and Ken Staley, commander of the VFW, followed by a gun salute and taps.

The band will again play the National Anthem and the benediction will be offered by the Rev. Fr. E. Francis Denay, pastor of St. Marys Church.

Area youngsters are invited to decorate their bicycles and ride in the parade. Local equestrian groups also are invited to take part, along with other community groups.

Two Meetings Set For Tuesday Night

Two important civic meetings were scheduled for Tuesday evening in Charlevoix.

At 7:30 p.m., the Charlevoix Board of Education was to meet at the High School. One item on the agenda will be the naming of a new superintendent to succeed Robert Miller, who has resigned to accept a similar position in Grand Ledge.

The City Council will meet at 8 p.m. in the council chambers on the second floor of the City Hall.

On the agenda is a public hearing on the 1973 city budget and Mayor Edward P. Hansen's appointments for the coming year.

Mayor Hansen submitted his appointments to the council two weeks ago, but his line-up showed Robert Wexstaff replacing Thomas G. Hanna as city superintendent.

Mayor Hansen Moderator

Mayor Edward P. Hansen was moderator of a session on "Federal Flood Insurance Programs" at a meeting of Regions 8 and 9 of the Michigan Municipal League at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey May 16.

Deadlines Are Early This Week

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, Courier advertising and copy deadlines have been moved up.

Deadline for display advertising is 3 p.m. Thursday, May 24. Deadline for classified ads and local news copy is 5 p.m. Thursday.

The paper will be on sale at newsstands Tuesday afternoon and in the mail Wednesday morning, as usual.

DONATED to Charlevoix Area Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cummings, this statue of a shepherd carrying a lamb on his shoulders is now in place near the hospital entrance. Sculpted by A. Pattison, the statue is a companion piece to "The Sower" which the Cummings donated to the Charlevoix Library.

CHS Athletes Cited At Awards Program

The first All-Sports Award night honoring high school athletes was held Monday night under the sponsorship of the Sports Boosters Club and the High School Athletic Association.

Letters and several special awards were presented by the coaches of the various sports.

Dale Burge, athletic director, spoke briefly and said that Charlevoix had more students involved in sports programs than any other team in the league.

Vane Smith, high school principal, as master of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. James Alger, who spoke in behalf of her husband, president of the Sports Boosters, who could not attend. She welcomed the athletes, their parents and friends of the various program and urged them to join the Boosters and support the teams.

Coaches who spoke briefly regarding their sport before naming the students to receive letters were Don Carey, football; Dennis Carr, Cross Country; Barry Anderson, golf and basketball; Norman Probert, wrestling; William Murray and Karen Hines, skiing; Gary Stutzman, track; Mrs. Toni Felter, girls' basketball; and Mrs. Marie Osterberg, girls' volley ball and track.

Recipient of letter awards and the sports they received them in follow: Phil Christ, F, W, T+; Clay Jones, F, BB, T; Joel Dyksterhouse, F; Steve Kantola, F; Mark Custer, F, W; Pat Doan, F, BB, T;

MR. AND MRS. Dale McCann of Flint, former Charlevoix residents, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynda Michele, to Andrew C. Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Newman of Flint. The wedding will be May 25, 1974. The bride-elect is a graduate of the John Powers Modeling School in Detroit and the Chicago School of Design and will graduate this spring from Genesee Community College. She will transfer to the University of Michigan to work on a degree in psychology. Her fiance attended Ferris State College and Harpers College in Chicago. He graduates this spring from Genesee Community College. Miss McCann presently is employed as an executive secretary for the AFL-CIO in Flint.

Donald E. Black Claims Linda Burns as Bride

Linda G. Burns of Boyne City became the bride of Donald E. Black of Charlevoix in ceremonies May 12 at Charlevoix's United Methodist Church, the Rev. Elmer Faust officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burns of Boyne City. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black of Charlevoix.

Approximately 200 guests attended the double-ring service, which was performed by candlelight before an altar decorated with white floral arrangements.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza over powder blue taffeta. The gown had a ruffled yoke, with cotton lace around the Camelot sleeves and Empire waist. The A-line skirt swept into a full chapel-length train and she wore a veil of illusion secured by a Camelot cap of cotton lace.

Sandra Hughes of Davison, Mich., a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Claudia Black, a sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore long floral print pant dresses of chiffon over taffeta, featuring Gibson Girl colors, bishop sleeves and velvet trim. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white pom-poms and bachelor buttons.

The bride is employed as manager of the Modern Beauty Shop in Crago's Shopping Center, Petoskey. The bridegroom is a draftsman with Control Engineering at Pellston.

Guild Seeks Members At 'Coffee' on May 24

The annual membership coffee of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild will be held at the hospital Thursday, May 24, from 2 until 5 p.m.

Mrs. James Driggett, guild president, invited all present members to attend and renew their membership and extends a hearty welcome to all prospective members.

Anyone interested in the Hospital Guild and its many activities may become a member, whether or not she intends to participate actively. Membership fee is $1.

Some of the many service which the guild offers to the hospital include the "Showease", a gift shop located in the hospital lobby. Members of the guild serve as sales people.

The group also maintains a "library cart", makes tray favors for patients on special days, sews layettes for newborns and knits items for needy mothers, makes puppets and pillows for nursery patients and maintains a TV rental service.

Proceeds from guild activities go toward the purchase of hospital equipment. The guild also has contributed to the new coronary and intensive care units.

Lava Missing

Though an erupting volcano brings to mind pictures of flowing rivers of boiling lava, not all active volcanoes emit lava. Mount Taal in the Philippines, with a history of death and destruction, has spewed forth noxious gases, steaming mud and ash, and white-hot rocks--but never lava.

DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

That's because Bea's Gas range has the Burner-with-a-Brain—the Gas-saving feature that provides the exact amount of heat for every food. So if Bea is busy elsewhere, or just plain forgets, her Burner-with-a-Brain adjusts the heat for her—automatically.

Today, Natural Gas does so many things so well—so inexpensively—that we should make sure wo don't waste it.

You can help conservo Natural Gas if you'll cover your saucepans for faster cooking, use the lowest heat required for the job, cook one-dish skillet meats occasionally, and uso a pressuro cooker for steam cooking.

And if your range needs replacing, seo the new, efficient, Gas-saving models at appliance dealers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company business offices.

CHARLEVOIX'S Community Reformed Church becomes a Little Red Schoolhouse once a year when champion spellers from throughout the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District convene for their annual spelldown. The top three winners in each grade receive medals. Taking home honors from the 1973 spelldown last Wednesday were (from left, front row) Third Grade: Gary Miller, Ellsworth, first; Cindy Engler, Charlevoix, 2nd; and Melody Wilson, Boyne Falls, 3rd. Fourth Grade: Jan Bogema, Boyne City, 1st; William Cary, Central Lake, 2nd; and Janice Murray, East Jordan, 3rd. Fifth Grade: Heide Graham, Central Lake, 1st; Beth Begrow, Charlevoix St. Marys, 2nd; and Rhonda Zimmerman, Boyne Falls, 3rd. Back row from left, Sixth Grade: Paula Krusell, Petoskey St. Francis, 1st; Gayle Hansen, Charlevoix St. Marys, 2nd; and Lisa Kullik, Boyne Falls, 3rd. Seventh Grade: Tracy Irish, Harbor Springs, 1st; Joan Budek, Petoskey St. Francis, 2nd; and Ginger Smith, Charlevoix, 3rd. Eighth Grade: Jani Bogema, Boyne City, 1st; Laurie Burry, East Jordan, 2nd; and Dollie Keway, Harbor Springs, 3rd. Beaver Island youngsters also were expected to participate in the bee, but poor weather (rain, snow and high winds) prevented Joe McPhillips from making a flight to the Island Wednesday morning to bring them across.

1st Garden Plaques Awarded by Club

Winners of garden plaques for the period May 20 to June 2 have been announced by the Charlevoix Garden Club.

Southside winners were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kleiber, 831 S. State-st. Judged were Mrs. Donald Couse and Mrs. Thomas Hanna.

Mrs. C. W. Burlin was awarded the plaque for the northside. Mrs. Burlin's garden features a variety of tulips, white narcissus, blue myrtle and forsythia against a backdrop of maples, cedars and white birches. The lawn is immaculate.

Honorable mention on the Northside went to Mrs. Wilma Stabnick for her new rock garden, lawn, cedar hedge and trees.

NOTICE TO THE ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY OF ELECTRIC RATE HEARING

On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company filed an application with supporting testimony and exhibits with the Michigan Public Service Commission in Case No. U 4332, which requests authority to amend its retail electric rates so as to increase its retail electric revenues by approximately $36,100,000 on an annual basis. On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company also filed an application in Case No. U 4331 with the Commission for authority to increase its rates for the sale of gas. At the hearing hereinafter noticed, the application to increase the gas rates, Case No. U 4331 will be heard concurrently with the application to increase electric rates, Case No. U 4332. In its application, Consumers Power Company has stated that significant increases in the cost of capital, fuel, taxes, wages, equipment, materials and supplies have had a serious adverse impact upon the earnings level of its electric business and that it has not been able to attain the level of earnings in its electric business found to be reasonable in the prior electric rate order of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has scheduled hearings on the applications filed in Case Nos. U 4331 and U 4332 and on the Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief in Case No. U 4332 and has ordered that notice be given that:

A. A prehearing conference be held at 9:30 a.m. on June 6, 1973, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of exploring and, if possible, agreeing upon matters which will expedite the proceedings in Case Nos. U 4331 and U 4332, including the following:

1. Determining the parties to the proceeding, the nature of their appearance and the positions they are taking in the proceeding.
2. Simplifying and defining the issues.
3. Obtaining admissions as to, and stipulations of, the facts not remaining in dispute, the authenticity of documents, and matters of public record.
4. Determining the number and identity of witnesses.
5. Specifying the schedule for the exchange of proposed exhibits and written testimony, and the reduction of oral testimony to written form.
6. Establishing procedures for the hearing.
7. Specifying a further schedule of dates of hearing.
8. Expediting any other matters that may aid in the orderly conduct of the hearing and the disposition of the proceedings.

B. A public hearing will be held at 9:00 a.m. on July 2, 1973 in the Auditorium of the Law Building, 525 W. Ottawa, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of taking statements from ratepayers and representatives of consumer groups. Hearings will commence at 9:00 a.m. on July 3, 1973 and continue that week on July 5 and 6, 1973, the week of July 16 and the week of July 23, 1973 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913 for the purpose of offering in evidence the direct cases of Consumers Power Company in Case Nos. U 4331 and U 4332, and cross examining such direct cases of Consumers Power Company.

C. The Commission, on its own motion during the course of these proceedings, Case Nos. U 4331 and U 4332, will carry on an investigation and hearing into the existing rates, charges, revenue deficiencies or excesses, services, practices, procedures and operations of Consumers Power Company, and this investigation and hearing will not necessarily be confined to matters contained in Consumers Power Company's applications but will include all matters pertaining to the reasonableness and justness of its rates, charges, operations and practices as may be necessary to enable the Commission to determine whether the existing or proposed rates and charges are unreasonable and excessive and should be reduced or altered.

D. Any party seeking to intervene in this proceeding, in accordance with Rule 11 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, shall file with the Commission, at least five (5) days prior to June 6, 1973 an original and eleven copies of the petition to intervene together with proof of service upon Consumers Power Company.

E. Consumers Power Company, on or before June 6, 1973, shall serve upon each intervening party a copy of the written direct testimony of its proposed witnesses and proposed exhibits as filed with the Commission, and proof of service shall be filed with the Commission on or before June 6, 1973.

F. Public hearings shall be held, in addition to the dates aforementioned, at such times and adjourned dates as shall be determined by the presiding officer until the matter has been fully heard.

G. The rate increase described in this notice has been requested by Consumers Power Company. The Michigan Public Service Commission may either grant or deny the requested increase or may grant a lesser or greater increase than that requested.

Jurisdiction of the Commission in this matter is pursuant to Sections 1, 2, 6, 7 and 8 of Act 106, P.A. 1909, as amended (M.C.L.A. 460.551, 460.552, 460.556-8), Act 300, P.A. 1909, as amended (M.C.L.A. § 462.2 et seq); Sections 3 and 4 of Act 419, P.A. 1919, as amended (M.C.L.A. 460.53, 460.54), and Sections 4 and 6 of Act 3, P.A. 1939, as amended (M.C.L.A. 460.4, 460.6); and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, as amended, No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

A summary of the proposed rate changes showing the requested increases by classes of service in terms of dollars and percentage is set forth below.

CARRIE PIEHL marked 25 years with county intermediate school offices last week. Her co-workers at the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District office on Mercer-blvd. surprised her at a luncheon in the Pine River Room of the Weathervane Inn. A resident of Petoskey, Miss Piehl joined the former Emmet County Board of Education as a secretary in 1948, transferring to the Intermediate District office in the early 1960's. Flanking Miss Piehl are James Shepard, (left) C-E District superintendent, and Charles Crosser, assistant superintendent.

5th Grade Sees Medusa

By Leslie Wood
And Sue Herriman
(5th Grade)

Thursday and Friday, the Fifth Grade from the Charlevoix Middle School went to Medusa on an Ecology Field Trip.

We toured the place with some Medusa men. We saw how cement was made. We saw smoke pouring out of the stack, but the men said it was mostly steam.

Ms. Peters and Ms. Wagner accompanied the group, along with several chaperones.

Fay Davis Meets With Firm Execs

Fay C. Davis of Charlevoix, sales representative of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, is in Bedford Springs, Pa., this week for a business conference with officers and officials of the company.

Davis, who lives at 706 E. Dixon, Charlevoix, had an exceptional sales and service record last year and is among the top-ranking members of Metropolitan's staff of 22,000 sales representatives in the United States and Canada.

This is the 26th consecutive year Davis has qualified to attend leaders conference.

Deschermeir Is Assigned to Texas Base

Airman Mark T. Deschermeir, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Deschermeir of Bay Shore, has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Sheppard for specialized training in aircraft maintenance.

Airman Deschermeir is a 1970 graduate of St. Francis Xavier High School, Petoskey. His wife is the former Linda D. Kincer.

TO THE CITIZENS OF CHARLEVOIX

Property owners, who bear the brunt of increasing educational costs, are entitled to a prudent analysis of every possible alternative regarding some pertinent questions.

1. With 24 acres m/l presently under school ownership is the acquisition of additional property for a stateliite school the most economical solution?
2. Is not two-story construction at lower costs and occupying less real estate worthy of consideration in future plans?
3. Would not sharing of common facilities such as gym, cafeteria and library provide economies without curtailing activities?
4. Would not centralized facilities result in lower heating, maintenance and administrative costs?

While it is our responsibility to insure quality education it is also our obligation to those who bear the costs to meet these needs realistically and without extravagance.

Obituary

Bricker

Funeral for Mr. Beryl G. Bricker, 50, of South Arm township who died May 12 at Little Traverse Hospital where he had been a patient for five days, was held at the Watson Funeral Home Tuesday. The Rev. Chandler Benton officiated and burial was at Graceland in Grand Rapids.

Born at Prattville, Mich., March 9, 1923, Mr. Bricker had enlisted in the U.S. Air Force at Jackson in 1941 and during World War II served in the Asiatic theatre. He remained in the Air Force as an electronics technician until his retirement at Wichita, Kan., in 1961 with the rate of Chief Warrant Officer W 2.

Following retirement he came to East Jordan and, at the time of his death, was a superintendent at East Jordan Plastics where he has been employed for seven years. He was a member of an American Legion post in California.

Surviving are his wife, the former Norma Grace Richards whom he married in Los Angeles Oct. 27, 1945; three sons, Bradford of Ypsilanti, Curtis, serving with the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp LeJeune, N.C., and David, at home; two daughters, Geraldine of Petoskey and Phyllis, at home; two grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Edward Colona of Chicago, Mrs. Toivo Mild of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Kenneth Scharfe of Long Beach, Calif.

Stephens

Word has been received of the death of John S. Stephens, 72, a former Charlevoix resident, on May 9 at Clare Osteopathic Hospital.

Born May 2, 1901, in Freesoil, he was the son of John and Mary Stephens.

He was married to the former Etta Dougherty of Charlevoix and the couple made their home on W. Upright-st. while Mr. Stephens was employed by the Charlevoix County Road Commission. They left Charlevoix after World War II.

Following Mrs. Dougherty's death, he was married to Mary Boudreau in Florida Dec. 14, 1972.

Surviving besides his widow are two sons, George of Swanton, Ohio, and Earl of Port Huron; and one daughter, Mrs. Lucille Fletcher of Manchester, Mich., and one grandson.

Funeral was held May 11 at the Coker's Harrison Chapel, the Rev. S. H. Houbolt officiating. Interment was in Lenawee Hills Memorial Park in Tecumseh.

Mr. Stephens had been a resident of Harrison for the past three years.

The blaze was discovered Wednesday morning by insurance adjuster Frank Glaza of Petoskey who stopped at the office to settle claim on a car fire in the Ski & Shore garage about six weeks ago. Ski & Shore officials had high praise for the Charlevoix Fire Department, which extinguished the office blaze without damaging carpeting or furniture.

Notre Dame Awards BA to Miss Bush

By Jeanne Seymour

Miss Karen Louise-Ann Bush was graduated magna cum laude with an AB in modern languages at commencement exercises Sunday May 20th at Notre Dame University.

This is the first year that undergraduate women will receive degrees from Notre Dame.

Her guests at the commencement exercises were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard J. Bush of East Lansing, the grandmother Mrs. Charles Szoka of Grand Rapids, her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Chester Szoka of Grand Rapids and Mr. John Amato of Norwalk, Ohio.

Long Stretch

It takes about seven years before a rubber tree plant produces the raw material used in making natural rubber. The tree's breeding cycle, from cross-pollination to production, takes 25 years.

REMEMBER LAURA, the five-month-old victim of dwarfism who was offered for adoption by Michigan Children's Aid and Family Services of Grand Rapids? Pictures and news stories about Laura were published in area newspapers. As a result, more than 75 inquiries were received by prospective adoptive parents. "The overwhelming number of people who called and were ready to open their hearts and homes to Laura was most gratifying," said William Smith, casework supervisor. Thanks to the responses, Smith said Laura will soon be in a permanent adoptive home "with a loving family."

Library Notes

By Eleanor Ratigan

Of special importance this week is the addition to the Library shelves of the two-volume, illustrated set "The Great Lakes." This gigantic compilation of the history of the Great Lakes is peculiarly a pioneer publication.

For some incomprehensible reason, this rich field has been ignored by historians of the past. There is an abundance of material gleaned from widely scattered sources, but nowhere can there be found any extensive work containing in collected form the lake history which belongs to past or present generations.

All possible fragmentary sources of information were consulted with careful and painstaking fidelity and, in addition, exhaustive interviews were held with prominent marine men at every prominent port upon the Great Lakes for both historical and biographical material. Genealogical and biographical material comprise the second volume of this monumental work, thus preserving in permanent form the personal histories of a large number of the men who wove the destinies of the Great Lakes.

We are extremely proud to include this outstanding set in our growing collection of Michigan memorabalia.

"Group Portrait with Lady" is a new, hot-off the-press novel by Heinrich Boll, winner of the Nobel prize for literature in 1972. The time is 1970. The place is the Rhineland, West Germany. The lady is a charmer called Leni. Her brother was killed early during World War II. Her husband was killed in Russia a week after their wedding. Leni is 48 years old on the first page of the book–and on the last. The "group" in the title is made up of many men and women who know Leni. It is possible that this puzzling and beautiful woman symbolizes Germany or one aspect of it. This is an absorbing book written by one of the most prolific and popular of post-war German writers.

The much-anticipated new book by Philip Roth has arrived, "The Great American Novel" is a very funny, very bizaare story about American hypocrisies.

Mailbox in Poor Repair? Now's the Time to Fix It

The condition and position of mailboxes, both rural and in towns, will be noted during the week of May 21-26, the period set for Mailbox Improvement Week, according to Postmaster Rex Davis.

"The Postal Service designates a week during May each year when customers on rural, city, motorized and contract delivery routes are encouraged to examine and improve, where necessary, the appearance of their mailboxes," Postmaster Davis said.

"The program of Mailbox Improvement Week is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect mail from the weather and are neat in appearance, conveniently located, and safe to use," he said. "Neat, attractive mailboxes make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and the streets in suburban areas," he added.

Postmaster Davis said the placing of owners' names on the boxes is optional. "However, he added, where box numbers are assigned, the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped."

He said that in areas where snow removal is a problem, the use of s semiarch or extended arm type of support is suggested. "This allows snow plows to sweep near or under boxes without damage to supports and provides easy access to the boxes by carriers and customers," he explained.

Postmaster Davis reminded customers that when boxes are located on a street other than the one on which the customer resides, the street name and house number must be inscribed on the box.

He said the height of the box depends upon the type vehicle used by the carrier. "The box should be adjusted so that as the lid opens, it falls even with the lowered window of the vehicle," he said. "This by enabling the carrier to see clearly into the box when letters are to be picked up and helps him to expediate delivery by saving a few seconds at each box," Postmaster Davis explained.

Boxes and supports should be kept painted and free from rust, he said.

Leukemia Unit Plans Dinner On Thursday

The Brucie Chapter of the Children's Leukemia Foundation is sponsoring a spaghetti dinner with homemade pie Thursday, May 24, from 5:30 to 7:30 at Boyne City High School.

District Court

The following cases were heard in District Court in Charlevoix last week by Judge Arthur Reibel:

Eugene Kerr, 31, Boyne City, plead innocent to a charge of reckless driving. Trial will be held later.

Tom Jay Fettig, 20, Petoskey, was assessed $35 and sentenced three days in jail on a charge of driving while his license was suspended. (Fettig had already spent one day in jail when sentence was passed.)

Theodore A. Traviss, 38, Boyne City, was assessed $125 on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He also surrendered his driver's license for 90 days.

Steven Hawkins, 19, Boyne City, was assessed $100 and ordered to pay $200 restitution on a charge of being in possession of stolen property. He also was placed on six months' probation.

Gregory Douglas, 44, South Arm Township, was released on personal recognizance on a charge of larceny (under $100). He was ordered to reappear in court this week.

John William Case, 45, Charlevoix, appeared on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, third offense. Case was continued pending appointment of attorney.

Irene M. McSawby, 36, Charlevoix, asked for a court-appointed attorney on a charge of felonious assault. Case was continued.

Valan Ray Joiner, 18, San Antonio, Texas, plead guilty to charges of driving with expired license plates and speeding. He will be sentenced later.

Delbert Simmons, 28, Boyne City, and John B. Martin, 24, Boyne City, were bound over to the June term of Circuit Court on charges of grand larceny; Simmons one count, Martin two counts.

Leo Jerome Hoppe, 37, Boyne City, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Trial will be held later.

Peter Morales, 19, Charlevoix, asked for a court appointed attorney on a charge of felonious assault. Bond in the amount of $3,000 was posted.

Cash bonds of $10,000 each was set for Lester Irving Hardy, 17, Boyne City, and John William Peterson, 21, Boyne City, on charges of possession of a controlled substance (THC). Both cases were continued.

THE YACHT Elizabeth rests on the bottom of Round Lake off the former Hamilton marina. The boat was taken to the boatyard for winter storage but sank before she could be pulled ashore. Built in 1929, the 55-foot boat is owned by Robert Mitchell of E. Lansing.

C & O Wants to Drop Spur S. of Elk Rapids

All three major railroads serving the Northwest Michigan region now have proposals before the Interstate Commerce Commission for abandonment of rail lines serving parts of the region.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad has petitioned for abandonment of nearly nine miles of line connecting Williamsburg and Elk Rapids, joining the Ann Arbor Railroad and the Penn Central in seeking elimination of rail segments.

The C & O bid, the most recent, claims it is uneconomical to continue service on the Williamsburg-Elk Rapids route. The main C & O line stretching through the northwest 10 counties from Manistee to Bay View would not be affected by the petition.

Bill G. Rowden, Executive Director of the Northwest Michigan Economic Development District and Regional Planning Commission, said the Commission is expected to act at its meeting Friday, May 11, at Boyne Highlands on a resolution opposing the proposed abandonment and asking that a public hearing be held.

Penn Central also has proposed abandonment of the entire 202 miles of its line from Cedar Springs to Mackinaw City and the Ann Arbor Railroad has proposed abandonment of ferry service across Lake Michigan and the Ann Arbor line from Frankfort to Thompsonville. Also being weighed by the Interstate Commerce Commission is abandonment of Penn Central's secondary track from Walton Junction to Traverse City.

Harold A. Cartier Now Director of Brown and Matthews

Harold A. Cartier, a former local resident now living in Ironia, N.J., has joined the board of directors of Brown & Matthews, Inc., an engineering and construction firm. He was a construction industry executive with more than 46 years experience in design, engineering and building of manufacturing prior to his retirement in 1970.

Cartier, a civil engineering graduate from Princeton University, Class of 1922, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier. He was an executive with Walter Kidde Construction of New York from 1926 until his retirement. He was named vice president in 1941 and became senior vice president in 1961 with general responsibility for project management and contract negotiation. During his years as an executive, he had direct responsibility for the engineering and construction of major projects for such firms as IBM, National Biscuit, Warner Lambert, Fuller Brush Co., Federal Paperboard, M & M Candies, Sacony Mobil Oil, Union Bag Camp, Prudential Insurance, Chicago Pheumatic and Interspace. He has served as a consultant to the construction industry for the past two years.

Realty Board President Sees '73 'Banner Year'

Because Realtors believe in emphasizing the positive aspects of America and because this year provides an excellent time to invest in property, "Call Your Realtor...He Sells America First – Everyday," is the theme for the 1973 observance of Realtor Week which begins today, Realtor Mrs. Lucile Cunningham of Charlevoix, president of the Antrim-Charlevoix Board of Realtors, announced.

Mrs. Cunningham and the members of her board join about 100,000 Realtors nationwide in calling attention to the positive attributes of our country and the services rendered by Realtors.

"We have heard enough of the cynicism and unfounded complaints about America and our free enterprise system," Mrs. Cunningham said. "We have read and listened to a variety of vocal people, many with questionable motives, condemning the way of life which has given us the most prosperous, the most envied, the most powerful nation in history, with a maximum of freedom for every citizen. It's time to sell America first in every philosophical and social discussion.

"In addition, most economic predictions say that 1973 will be a period when economic factors stabilize. We foresee a banner year for anyone buying, selling, or investing in real property," she added.

After discussing why Realtors had chosen their positive theme, Mrs. Cunningham explained that a Realtor is not just "anyone in real estate, but one who subscribes to a strict code of ethics. As a Realtor, "she continued, "he is someone with special qualifications who is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and one of the 1,600 constituents boards. In addition, he has access to broad educational facilities at local, state, and national levels to increase his knowledge and helps him or her remain current about the many increasingly complex factors which enter into all real estate transactions.

"The Code of Ethics," Mrs. Cunningham continued, "was one of the first such codes adopted in American business. Under its 30 articles, Realtors pledge fair treatment and their complete knowledge to the public and to both the buyer and the seller.

"We are proud that Realtor have been in the lead in helping more than two-thirds of the families in America own their homes," she continued. "And we are equally proud of the professionalism which has become synonomous and expected by the public.

"We know of the problems which exist, but rather than complaining or tearing down a system without a responsible new method, we are trying to improve where changes are required.

"Whether it be in such areas as obtaining improved housing for low-income Americans, or cleaning up our environment, Realtors are taking steps which will benefit all Americans," she concluded.

Daggett Signing Up Kids For '73 Summer Camp

There are still some openings at Camp Daggett this summer, according to Jack Scorrer, president of the camp's board of trustees.

The camp is located on the shores of Walloon Lake between Charlevoix and Petoskey.

The season will start June 10 with a one-week session for boys aged 7-14. Two-weeks sessions for boys will start June 17 and July 1.

Girls' camp (ages 7 to 14) will start with a one-week session July 15 to 21, followed by two two-week sessions starting Aug. 4 and Aug. 18.

Camper fees for residents of Charlevoix and Emmet counties are $35 for a one-week session and $65 for a two-week session. Out-of-county youngsters pay $55 and $100 respectively.

The fees include health insurance, handicraft fees and a Camp Daggett sweatshirt.

Campers arrive at camp between 3 and 5 p.m. on the first Sunday of their camp session and leave between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on the last day of the session.

Camp Daggett is a non-profit childrens' camp supported by service clubs and individuals throughout the area. The camp also is supported by community chests in Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

Parents wishing to send their children to camp are asked to mail applications early to avoid disappointment.

For further information, contact Jack Scorrer, R-2, Parkway-dr., Box 37, Petoskey, or phone 347-8852.

Officers of the board include E. K. Shanahan of Charlevoix, representing the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, vice-president; Mrs. C. V. (Betty) Libke, secretary; and Mike Hills, Jaycees, treasurer.

NOTICE

Alderman Timms offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, a petition has been filed with the City Clerk, signed by the owners of all the property abutting upon the alley hereinafter described, requesting the Common Council to discontinue and vacate the alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by W. Upright, Sherman, W. Lincoln, and Grant Streets, more particularly described as follows:

"Commencing at the Northeast corner of Lot 154 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the City of Charlevoix, as per the recorded plat thereof in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan; thence continuing South along the East boundary of Lots 154, 155, 178 and 179 to the South boundary of Lot 179, thence East 16.5 feet to the Southwest corner of Lot 180; thence North along the West boundary of Lots 180 and 153 to the Northwest corner of Lot 153; thence West 16.5 feet to the point of beginning."

AND WHEREAS, said alley is not open, has not been used or improved and is of no use to the property owners in said block or to the City of Charlevoix and should be vacated in order to allow the full use and development of said land;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that it deems it expedient and advisable and a public improvement to vacate, discontinue and abolish the aforesaid alley, provided that the City retains the right to maintain, operate, repair and replace, by itself or by any licensee or a holder of a franchise from the City, any poles, wires, pipes, conduits, sewer mains, water mains, or any other facility or equipment for the maintenance or operation of any utility now located in the alley or portion thereof vacated by this Resolution, and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix to be held in the Council Room in the City Hall on Monday, June 4, 1973, at 8:00 p.m. (Daylight Savings Time), be and the same is hereby appointed as the time to hear any and all objections to the vacating, discontinuing and abolishing of said alley and that the Clerk publish notice of said meeting containing a copy of this resolution for four successive weeks in the Charlevoix Courier commencing with the issue of May 2, 1973.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote:

YEAS: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman.
NAYS: None.
ABSENT: Alderman Supernaw.

COMMON COUNCIL

COUNCIL MINUTES

May 7, 1973
8:00 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Absent: None.

One sealed bid on the sale of the Bellaire Hydro Dam was opened and tabulated from the Antrim County Board of Commissioners for $1.00.

Alderman Fochtman offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph. RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix accept the bid of Antrim County Board of Commissioners of $1.00 for the Bellaire Hydro Plant as advertised by the City of Charlevoix, subject to an agreement to be made and ratified by the Charlevoix Council and the Antrim County Board of Commissioners in regards to operating the Hydro Plant until July 1, 1973 and the removal of equipment by the City of Charlevoix. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

WHEREAS the City of Charlevoix and the Charlevoix Board of Education are desirous of hiring a full time Recreational Director to co-ordinate a recreational program for the City.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Council give the Recreational Committee the power to act in hiring a desirable applicant, with salary not to exceed $9,000.

The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following motion supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the next regular meeting of the Council be held May 22, 1973, due to Mayor Exchange Day and designated that a Public Hearing on the proposed 1973-74 Budget for the City of Charlevoix be heard at the meeting of May 22, 1973.

The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Fochtman offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Supernaw.

WHEREAS, it is deemed necessary for the public health and welfare of the residents of Charlevoix that the City extend sanitary sewers to the residents of the May Street area,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix engage Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, bonding attorneys, to handle the Special Assessment bonding for the May Street Sewer Project.

The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Motion was made by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Timms that the necessary provisions be made to direct traffic between Division Street and U.S. 31 by taking measures to make Division Street a one-way street leaving U.S.-31 to Mercer Blvd., going West. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Correspondence dated April 27, 1973 was read from the Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission with a recommendation regarding parking congestion in the metered parking lot near the Sundew during the summer months of June 15 to September 15. It was requested that a copy of their letter be sent to the Commander of the Sundew.

Council members were reminded of the Municipal Regional Meeting to be held in Petoskey May 16, 1973 at 1:00 p.m. at the Holiday Inn.

A letter from Hartger and Willard, dated April 30, 1973, addressed to Hal Forbrig was reviewed, stating they had obtained approval to release the Forbrig property on Meech Street.

A Trespass Ordinance was presented to Council by Attorney Hoffman with his request that the members review and study it, so it could be discussed at a committee meeting and he could then make a final draft to submit to Council.

Alderman Supernaw asked about a bicycle ordinance. It was discussed and put into committee.

CHS Matmen Place 5th at Alpena

In the United States Wrestling Federation High School meet held in Alpena last Saturday, the four-man team from Charlevoix High School composed of Pat Linse, Phil Christ, Marc Custer and Dan Mort placed fifth overall.

Entered in the meet were 57 schools, with 169 boys participating in 17 different weight classes.

Phil Christ also won the Most Pins Trophy for the tournament with four pins.

In taking first place, Linse defeated Abby Rensberry of Alpena, 2-0; Vince Barber of Almost in a fall at 1:19; Steve Mazurek of Alpena, 6-3; Kirk Herriman of Davison, 11-2, and Dan Carsteng of Mt. Pleasant, 4-3.

In placing second Marc Custer pinned Rusco Buysse of Mt. Morris at 1:04; defeated Marc Bloxsom of Grand Blanc, 5-3; pinned Marc Gross of Shepard, and was pinned and lost to Dave Mintu of Davison at 5:10.

In placing second and winning the Most Pins Trophy, Phil Christ pinned Mark Mitchell of Davison at 1:24; pinned Wendy Scott of Alpena at 1:05; pinned Larry McComb of Ann Arbor at 1:20; pinned Rodney Berg of Oscoda at 1:06 and defeated Gary Cladwell of Swartz Creek, 8-4. Christ lost to Rick Lawrence of Bay City. He was pinned by Lawrence at 5:43.

PAT LINSE of Charlevoix, who won the 145-lb. class of the state high school wrestling match on Saturday, defeated Steve Mazurek of Alpena 6-3 for one of his five wins. Here Pat (on top) is in his well-known figure-four move in defeating Mazurek, a move which Pal has used with great success throughout the season.

Mayor Hansen expressed his desire to hire Greg Shadko to engineer the work to be done on the May Street Sewer Project; stating that Mr. Shadko would do the engineering for 5 percent of the total cost.

Alderman Fochtman offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms, RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix enter into an agreement with McNamee, Porter and Seeley on the May Street Sewer Project on a per diem basis and proceed with the final engineering on the May Street Sewer. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: Aldermen Plumm and Selph. Absent: None.

Mayor Hansen then declared: "I veto the Resolution on the grounds that there is no stipulation in the Resolution of what it would cost the City of Charlevoix in special assessment or Council to assess the cost of it."

Attorney Hoffman instructed Mayor Hansen that he must write his objections and file them with the City Clerk within three days of this meeting.

An offer by Robert Timms to rent the open area at the foot of Clinton Street for $25.00, plus construction of a walkway for boarding his boat was discussed. Mr. Timms was told to check into insurance and present his offer again at the next meeting.

Mayor Hansen presented the following as his appointments for the year 1973-74:

City Attorney - Robert Hoffman $ 5,500.
Administrator &
Assessor - Robert Wexstaff $12,500.
Chief of Police - Jack Mol
Fire Chief - John Curtis
Street Commissioner Leonard Dubey
City Surveyor - Mary Feindt
Dockmaster - Donald Smith
Utility Co-ordinator - George Smith
Sewage Supervisor - Lloyd Kuebler
Electrical Supervisor - James Whitley
Water Supervisor - Harold Towsley
City Engineer - Greg Shadko $ 1,500.

The Council members asked that they not be requested to act on the Mayor's appointments until the next regular meeting.

After three attempts to decide by ballot on a Mayor-protem, Alderman Supernaw made a motion, supported by Alderwoman Wallace that Alderman Fochtman be appointed Mayor-Protem. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Alderman Fochtman abstained. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Fochtman brought to the Council's attention Ordinance No. 64 dated January 5, 1906 stating the qualifications of City Assessor and outline of duties. Attorney Hoffman was asked to research it and report by next meeting.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $61,553.62 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the bills be allowed and ordered drawn for their amounts. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, and Alderwoman Wallace. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Alderman Fochtman that Council adjourn.

Ida A. Heise, City Clerk

There's Good Reporting --And Bad Reporting

Sunday May 13, 1973

Editor,

I have just finished reading the Sunday (May 5) "Detroit Free Press" which contains four examples of the power that a reporter has at his command. Some of the examples are good, some half and half, some bad. I personally am highly in favor of a free press, but I also think that the reporters should be held responsible if they do not use accurate information. They should only report the "facts."

The examples I saw in "The Detroit Free Press" are: 1. An editorial about the two award winning Knight newspapers reporters who discovered Thomas Eagleton's medical record. They did not take advantage of the news scoop but instead they contacted Sen. McGovern's campaign headquarters with the information. They received the award even though they didn't publish the story. Quite a switch! This, is really responsible reporting.

2. The Washington Post's persistent digging on the Watergate case. The Post found the information and blew the whistle. I think they and all subsequent newspapers that have been coming forth with additional "Watergate" information have done the people a great service.

3. The story about Sen. Joe Mack. It appears that the reporters have brought out some interesting items about this man. Some of the items are documented (like the road between Lansing and his home), but in another area someone is just guessing. Specifically I am referring to the comment about his boat, the Sea Wolf. The statement was: "a steal at $65,000." This is a wild guess and would tend to "lead" the public when it is highly probable that the boat is worth much less. First, nothing is said about the age of the boat. The picture shows that she does not have a fly bridge and the picture also indicates that the boat is a Roamer, which tells me she is 41' long (not 42'). Nothing is said about the boat's engines, If they are gasoline the boat is worth from $30,000 to $40,000. If she has diesels the value is from $40,000 to $50,000. This may sound like a small point, but $30,000 is a long way from "a steal at $65,000." I am familiar with the value of this style boat and do have several broker listings at this time which substantiate the values I have just mentioned.

4. The headline at the top of page one..."Nuclear Plant's Neighbors Are Uneasy." This page one story is about Charlevoix's Big Rock Nuclear Power Plant. I jumped at the story so that I could find out what my friends and neighbors here in Charlevoix were saying about the Consumers Plant. In checking the statements on page one I couldn't find anything that the people in Charlevoix have said, so I turned to the continuation on page 11-A where the bold faced headline all the way across the top of the page stated: "Nuclear Plant's Neighbors Uneasy Over Deadly Fuel." I read on...but low and behold I can't find any references to anybody in Charlevoix. Finally I found one small paragraph where a Mr. George Pio of the Health Dept. says "the people here want some guarantee that this change (plutonium in fuel core) isn't going to hurt them." He added, "No one knows even what questions to ask."

I think this newspaper story is a classic example of irresponsible reporting. Both headlines are completely in error as not a single statement is contained (relative lines are sensational and would lead people around the country to think that Charlevoie people are up in arms ...while the story contains some warmed over statements that have already been published several times in recent weeks. Please...don't yell "foul" unless you have some accurate details to substantiate your claim. In summary...we need good reporting and a free press, but please keep it honest. Don't guess because many people believe that everything a newspaper prints is the gospel.

Dick Donaldson
Charlevoix, Mi.

P.S. The story about Rig Rock, even though not entirely accurate, brings out some interesting points It seems that so many outsiders and downstate "do-gooders" are so quick to jump at anything and everything that could affect the environment in out-state Michigan. Here in the Charlevoix-Petoskey area I have heard virtually no negative comments about the plant. Personally I wish the big city people would stick with their smokestacks and polluted conditions while we here in the north enjoy the clean air...even though we live next to a big power plant.

I like Consumers.

I remember the economy here in the 1950's before Consumers arrived. The area was virtually dieing. The air and water were clean then...and thanks to the type of power plant Consumers built here they are still clean. As far as dangers are concerned, I am more uptight about the volatile gasoline that is transferred from trucks to a boat for shipment to Beaver Island...right in the Charlevoix Harbor. The gasoline is much more dangerous than is Big Rock. With so many people and groups jumping on the utilities for trying to use nuclear (smokeless) (non oil or gas burning) power plants I think it is about time for the silent majority to stand up and be heard. I think the people, civic groups, organizations and even the governmental units in the Petoskey-Charlevoix areas should give some moral support to Consumers Power Company. Stand up and tell the world that we have a nuclear power plant. We like it and we want to keep it. In closing I would like to say thanks to Consumers for building the Big Rock Plant here in our area.

Cheboygan Says Thanks For Plaque

Mr. Gary Stutzman and Members of Charlevoix Track Team, 1972-73
Charlevoix High School
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the entire membership of Cheboygan Area High School, it is my privilege to say "Thank You" to each and everyone of you for your generous gift of the Gary Moody Memorial Plaque for the 440 yard relay. This Plaque will be placed in our trophy case and will serve as a reminder of the fine qualities found in the lives of our young athletes.

The Cheboygan Area High School will long remember your kind thoughts.

Sincerely,

Marvin Shebel, Principal

Questions & Answers On Zoning

Q. I live in a township which has its own Zoning Ordinance. Does the County Planning Department have anything to do with my Township Zoning? R.S.

A. No, nothing directly to do with your township zoning program. However, the Planning Department has assisted three of the townships in the County in updating their zoning ordinances. The Planning Department is also in a position to lend a hand to township zoning administrators who encounter problems in the administration of their respective ordinances.

Q. I understand that to build a house, I have to have a building permit in some townships and a zoning permit in the County. What is the difference? H.S.

A. Actually, there is no difference. There are six townships that presently have zoning ordinances. Those six choose to call their required permit a "Building Permit". The County uses the more proper term – "Zoning Permit." By rights, a "Building Permit" should be issued under the auspices of a Building Code. A "Zoning Permit", on-the-other-hand, should be issued under a Zoning Ordinance.

Q. There is someone building a house down the road. There is no zoning permit that I can see. What should I do? W.D.

A. When a dwelling is moved on to, or construction begun on, a parcel of property in the townships covered by the County Zoning Ordinance, and there is no permit visable, the Planning Department should be notified. This Department will then send the property owner a letter informing him that a zoning permit must be obtained prior to construction. If there is no reply to this letter, a violation notice will be submitted giving the individual thirty days to rectify the violation. If no action is taken by the violator, the case will then be turned over to the Prosecuting Attorney.

Clockwise What? Me Worry?

By Bob Clock

Newspapers are sometimes accused of exaggeration and over-statement in an effort to manufacture a story, and sometimes they stand guilty as accused.

A case in point was the lead story in the Sunday Detroit Free Press which indicated that the people of Charlevoix are "uneasy" living in close proximity to Consumers Power Co.'s nuclear plant at Big Rock Point, particularly since the introduction of plutonium as a fuel source.

This simply is not the case. I have never met a Charlevoixan – and I have met quite a few of them – who has ever expressed any apprehension about living so close to a nuclear reactor. I am sure there was a little fuss when Consumers decided to locate at Big Rock Point, but by the time the Clocks moved to Charlevoix the excitment was over. Consumers was busy converting little atoms into breakfast toast and coffee via its big turbine and few people even gave the plant a second thought.

This doesn't mean that we shouldn't be concerned, but we aren't, regardless of what the Free Press says in its headlines.

The Free Press article was written by John Miller, Harvard graduate who spent his time in the Navy aboard a nuclear-powered submarine. Although he is too young too remember the public horror that ushered in the atomic age back in 1945, Miller is probably the best-qualified man on the Free Press staff to write about nuclear energy. The story is well written, informative and largely factual – except for this little business about Charlevoixans being uneasy.

Maybe they'll suffer some discomfort after reading his article, but they certainly have had a devil-may-care attitude up to the present.

I think what has made most of us complacent about Big Rock Point is that there is no visible pollution, if indeed, any exists. The plant, which has no huge stacks belching noxious smoke and no coal piles to pollute our waters, is such a vast improvement over most fossil-fuel plants that we are hesitant to complain. I would like to think that atomic fuel will answer our needs for electric power for generations to come.

Yet there's a monkey in the works.

Neither the Atomic Energy Commission nor the Independent power companies operating under AEC licenses has been able to come up with an acceptable solution to the problem of what to do with atomic waste – and, brother, it's a problem of the first magnitude.

If we were jsut dealing with uranium, a natural element, it wouldn't be so bad. But uranium breeds plutonium, which is deadly beyond the limits of human imagination. It has a half-life of 24,400 years, meaning that in the Year of Our Lord 26373, the plutonium born today at Big Rock Point will have lost only half of its deadly energy. And it won't be safe enough for kids to take to school for Show-and-Tell until the year 501973, which is a good long time off.

In the meantime, what are we going to do with all the dirty plutonium we are creating? This, to me, is the central issue and one which should concern the residents of Charlevoix as well as Australian aboriginies and African bushmen.

If, through some godawful accident, even a minute quantity of plutonium should be unleashed into the atmosphere, or into our water supplies or, even exposed to the elements in a desert wasteland, we – and that means the whole of mankind – are in for big trouble.

The experts (I'll use that word although they really aren't any experts yet in the field of atomic waste disposal) believe that their plutonium debris will be safe if it is hurried hundreds of feet underground in a bed of salt. The thinking seems to be that if some of it breaks free, the salt will somehow seal over the fissures and we'll be safe.

The experts are looking fur a site where the salt is at least 200 feet thick, where it is buried 500 feet down and is theoretically safe from glaciation. And they don't want to go deeper than 2,000 feet, because of the costs involved.

In this broad land of ours there are only three sites that meet the criteria. One is located under the city of Detroit; another is located in western New York state, and the third is under the town of Lyons, Kan., (Pop 5,000).

To date, Lyons seems the most likely site, but the people of Lyons aren't particularly happy about having the nation's atomic graveyard in their backyard.

However, since 1965 questions have arisen as to the stability of the Lyons site and the AEC apparently is still casting about for another location.

In the meantime, the nation's atomic ashpile is growing daily and no one apparently knows what to do with it.

An alternative would be to store the material under eternal (500,000 years) surveillance, but can we expect future generations to exercise the caution regarding atomic waste the we know is mandatory? Have we the right to impose such burden on 25,000 generations? I don't believe so.

Until we find a way to neutralize atomic waste, it appears the only prudent course is to declare a moratorium on the construction of new nuclear facilities and suspend operations at those now in production. And we should urge other nations to do the same.

This is what the people of Charlevoix, New York, Berline, Vlaadivostok, Tokyo and Rio de Janiero should really be worried about – but they aren't.

Reader Says 'Nixon Rings Of Patriotism'

Your Clockwise column two weeks ago (May 9th) in the Charlevoix Courier was not, to say the least, one of your best. I'm afraid you have been caught up by that highly contagious disease known as "Pessunism."

In a country which I feel has been so truly blessed by God, you neglected the positive possibilities and dwelled on, "this one terrible handicap", namely, President Nixon's alleged inability to make a good impression over television. You wrote "Nixon has been haunted by the secter of insincereity, whether or not it was deserved." Thank goodness you allowed him that much.

Contrary to your column I have also been compelled to state my love fur this country and what it stands for, when some inane jackass starts spouting off about what a lousy place America is. That is why I appreciate hearing something that rings of patriotism, like President Nixon did in his speech, instead of the "down with America" which seems to be the "in" thing.

The irony of your article was when you wondered why the President didn't stand behind his buddies, John D. Ehrlichman and Robert Haldeman.

In one breath you say you don't trust the man and then in the next you say he should expect that trust and help Ehrlichman and Haldeman. I'm sure it was not an easy decision to accept the resignation of these two long-time friends, but he was aware of the American people's feelings and felt this was the best course in order to restore the public's faith in government. So it was – Damned if you do and damned if you don't.

As adults, let's show respect to the country we live in and to the elected leader of our country. We might be surprised at the attitudes our young people would then acquire.

With the super talent you have for entertaining and informing people through your column, Bob, why don't you e-l-i-m-i-n-a-t-e the negative and accentuate the POSITIVE.

'Flag Waving Shabby Effort To Cover Up'

205 Mason
Charlevoix

Dear Mr. Clock:

I would like to congrafulate you on your recent editorial regarding the zoning regulations and the President's Watergate speech. On both issues you captured my sentiments completely.

Of all the editorial writers' commenting on the Watergate speech, none saw it for what it was and stated it more truly than you.

Mr. Nixon's flag waving was a shabby attempt to gloss over the worst scandal in the history of the United States presidency.

I felt sick at his amateurish melodramatic acting and wondered how many people he would dupe with this.

Congratulations again for stating just what we all witnessed and please continue to make your timely social comments.

Sincerely,
Rick Wiles

Checkers Borrowed

Dear Sir:

Congratulations on a good editorial. Those props Nixon uses, first Checkers and now these! Checkers was borrowed, you know.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Ever since Adam, people have cured their ills and aches with every imaginable poultice, herb, root, charm or voodoo. During King Richards crusade some charlatan even attributed the healing powers of penicillin to a moldy biscuit placed over a wound.

The American Indian suspended a pouch of sacred bones around his neck to ward off both illness and evil while many Pilgrims substituted garlic which warded off germ carriers for a downwind distance of 30 feet. Time tested remedies were also brought from the mother countries of various nationalities to supplement that old standby, horse linament.

Gum from the blisters of balsam trees cured acne or barbers itch. Cedar berries were brewed for any stomach disorder common to man or beast. Sasafras was both a flavoring and medicine. Alfalfa fed cattle and as a tea it eased the pain of lumbago, gout and miscellaneous miseries classed as 'complaints'.

Depending on the nature and location of the pain, many medications could be taken internally or applied externally with medications could be taken internally or applied externally with equal effectiveness. Scandavians had a red tart liquid called Riga-Balsam marketed by an apothecary in Duluth. No cut ever became infected when danbed with it, and when saturated into a sugar cube it brought relief to an internal ailment. Taken as a hot sling it cured a cold and a toothache disappeared when an impregnated cotton wad was placed near the torment.

The patent medicines and the apothecaries who made them have been ousted by the pharmacist dispensing doctor prescribed baking soda under a Greek name at 30 to 1 markup. Then, as now, some medication has definite side effects. Castor oil, for example, by its mere mention induced a child feigning illness to develop an instant desire for an uninterrupted education.

Conceding the proven merit of these early cures, medical sicence is researching these unwritten formula from Fiji to Lapland but even were they able to analyze the ingredients their findings would be of doubtful value since the components are being buried under the concrete and aspholt of our civilization.

The youngster who pretended to be ill can hardly afford even a serious ailment today unless he has come into a substantial inheritance. It may be consoling to note that even in the early days the cost of medication was quite prohibitive. When the grocer wiped off a dusty bottle of elixer with his apron he was wont to say.

"That will be a dollar and a quarter please."

Wanted: Lazy Bones

By JIM FITZGERALD

As one of the world's laziest men, I feel vindicated by the Watergate stinkeroo.

It was just last month that the New York Times reported on the long, hard hours worked by the White House staff. For instance, the Times said about H. R. Haldeman:

"Up before 7 o'clock, at his White House desk before 8, back home 12 hours later, he is the epitome of the nose-to-the-grindstone man the President likes, admires and appoints."

Obviously, what this country needs is a two-hour grindstone in the White House, with an hour off for lunch and plenty of coffee breaks. Those guys are working too hard. If brilliant men such as Haldeman and Erlichman ever start working 24-hour days, the Republic may not survive.

It would make me feel good to learn that Elliot Richardson is the kind of guy who sometimes doesn't get back from lunch because of an exciting game of 8-ball.

I would like to read that Richardson goes home at 5 p.m. every evening and yells at his kids to stop watching TV and come to dinner. I hope there is a secret FBI report somewhere that says Richardson does no constructive work on Saturdays but instead goes to baseball games or simply sits in the woods and watches the squirrels squirrel around.

I am particularly concerned with Richardson because of a unique employment technique recently instituted by President Nixon. Whenever there's a big job open, Nixon hires Richardson. Within the last five months, in this order, Richardson has been secretary of health, education and welfare, secretary of defense and attorney general. These are three of the most important positions in the United Stated, which certainly makes Richardson an important man, possible even three times as important as Haldeman.

Through his use of Richardson, Nixon is putting the lie to the old bromide which says you shouldn't judge a man's performance until he's had time to learn his job. Or sometimes it is put this way: "Wait until he gets his sea legs."

Richardson was secretary of defense for only three months. This is hardly time enough to locate the pencil sharpeners and to learn which stenographers welcome a little leering. In the parlance of the sea, Richardson was still up-chucking over the rail.

But Capt Nixon spotted something about Richardson's short performance as defense chief. It made Nixon think Richardson would make a good attorney general. Good enough to justify the sudden loss of leadership to the defense dept, just as the generals were beginning to learn what time Richardson liked his coffee served and his bombs dropped.

Politics works in wondrous ways. I don't pretend to know what Nixon knows about Richardson. But I think our president is on the right track. Perhaps Richardson should be appointed to ALL of the administration's top jobs at the same time.

Then he should be instructed to take it easy. Stay home 6 or 7 days a week and go fishing a lot.

What this country needs is more sloth in the White House.

MRS. BRET Riley (left) of East Jordan and Mrs. Julius Gilbert of Charlevoix discuss possible use of the former George Westgate property on the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix. Mr. and Mrs. Westgate donated the property to the City of East Jordan for recreational purposes. Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Gilbert attended a meeting of the Portside Arts Fair Committee at the home Sunday afternoon.

IN ADDITION to a spacious home over looking the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix, the Westgate estate includes a mammoth two-story garage. The big upstairs room will be used for dance instruction this summer. In August, residents of East Jordan will be asked to vote on whether the property should be sold, or retain for civic gatherings and cultural activities.

AEC Pledges Hearing When Study Completed

The Atomic Energy Commission has committed itself to completing in 1974 a basic study of the use of plutonium as fuel in nuclear reactors and to then schedule a hearing on the study results. The A.E.C. decision was revealed in a letter to the State Health Director, Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, in response to questions he has raised in March concerning the A.E.C. action to amend the operating license of Consumers Power Company's Big Rock plant at Charlevoix.

The A.E.C., in December, 1972, concluded that the change at Big Rock from uranium to plutonium as fuel, with an increase from 50 to 150 kilograms of plutonium dioxide, did "not involve significant hazard considerations different from those previously evaluated," and therefore required only an amendment to the existing license. Dr. Reizen, however, challenged the validity of this view, a position which is shared by some members of the scientific community.

Although the A.E.C. says it has not changed its view, it has reacted to the public interest in the matter by announcing that it would hold a hearing on the amendment if requested to do so.

The A.E.C. also told Reizen that in addition to their plans for "a generic environmental survey concerning the plutonium fuel cycle," Consumers Power Company had indicated to them that it "does not plan to operate Big Rock with a core containing more than 50 kilograms of plutonium recycle fuel until after 1974."

Band, Vocal Group On Stage May 23

The state championship Charlevoix Symphony Band and the Charlevoix Girls Vocal Ensemble will join forces to present the second program on "Music Week" on Wednesday, May 23, at 8 p.m. in the High School gym.

The band will open the program with a group of selections including Peter Schmoll by VonWeber, the contemporary "Chelsea Suite" by Thielman; and "Prelude to Act 1" of "LaTraviata," by Verdi.

Concluding the first portion of the program will be the K.L. King march "The Klaxon," with Kit Lieberman as student director.

The Vocal Ensemble will then present a group of numbers including "It's a Grand Night for Singing," "Celtic Lullaby," the spiritual "All Night, All Day" and others, concluding with "When Day is Done."

The ensemble is in its first year and is hopefully the nuclus of a larger vocal group in future years.

The band will conclude the program with a series of numbers, including "Dance Tocata" by Agay, the Carmen Dragon arrangement of "America the Beautiful" and one of the numbers played in the state festival, "Festno" by Nelhybel.

Woodshed Meets Andys In Tourney Tuesday

The Woodshed will meet Andy's Tire World at 7 p.m. tonight (Tuesday) and Topside will clash with Airport as the pre-season single elimination softball tournament goes into the semifinal playoffs.

The finals will be played at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The tournament featuring the 10 teams of the men's league launched the 1973 season when it opened Saturday at the city softball park.

In the second series of games Sunday Woodshed swamped Freedman's 31-1 with Gary Balch holding the losers to five hits and Bernie DeVries and Joe Beaudoin contributing two homers each and Andy Peters, Al Wojan and O.J. Faust one each. Glen Cunningham was the losing pitcher.

In a second game Andy's eliminated Jim's Standard by a score of 19-4 with Don Smith the winning pitcher, allowing only eight hits. Dean Mikulski and Don Blalock scored homeruns on the losing pitcher, Tom Pence.

Bob Crain and Fritz Allard allowed 11 hits each as the Topside stopped Portside 7-5. Tim Carey and Tim Donna backed up Crain with one home run each.

Dick Metzger gave up only three hits as Airport downed Townhouse 18-1. Art Reibel was the losing pitcher.

In the openers on Saturday Woodshed defeated the Coast Guard, a new team in the league, 34-2; Andy's dumped American Mold 12-4; Topside won over Medusa 23-20.

Tickets Still Available for Dinner-Dance

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner dance June 2 at the Belvedere Casino are still available, according to Tom Merta, executive director of the C of C.

The evening starts with cocktails at 7 p.m., followed by a dinner catered by Grey Gables at 8 p.m. The entree is beef Wellington.

After the meal there will be dancing to the music of the Richard Springstead Trio. In the wee hours, a continental breakfast will be served.

For tickets, call the Chamber office at 547-2101.

Allocation Will Remain Same as '72

In setting the tentative tax rate Monday, the Charlevoix county Tax Allocation board allocated the same millage to units receiving tax monies as last year.

This was 4.3 mills to the county; one mill to all 15 townships; 9.5 mills to the schools and .20 mill to the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

The final tax rate for 1973 will be finalized at a meeting to be set at a later date.

Music, Music, Music

Charlevoix High School bands were scheduled to present the first of a series of five musical programs winding up the school year on Tuesday, May 22, at the High School.

Slated to appear were the Freshman and Concert Bands with selections demonstrating training materials used.

The Freshman portion of the program included several marches, the overture "Horatius" by Buchtel, "Symphonette for Band" by Olivadoti and popular selections.

The Concert Band was to perform several selections played at the Massed Band Festival held recently in Kingsley.

The concert was scheduled to start at 8 p.m. and there was no admission charge. Patrons, however, were given an opportunity to contribute to the band fund.

On Thursday, May 24, the Elementary School will present its Spring Program under the direction of Marina Anegon, starting at 7:30 p.m. The program also is scheduled for the High School gym.

The Middle School Seventh and Eighth Grade Bands will present a program Wednesday May 30 under the direction of Gary Stutzman, starting at 7:30 p.m.

On Thursday, May 31, the Fifth Grade will present the operetta "Tom Sawyer" under the direction of Miss Evelyn Peters.

Sen. Davis Get-Together Is Monday

A fund-raising get-together for Sen. Robert Davis will be sponsored by local Republicans on Monday, May 28 (Memorial Day) from 1 until 4 p.m. at the Golf View Motel, U.S. 31 and Mercer-blvd.

Cocktails and other refreshments will be served.

Tickets may be purchased from James McCallum, 547-9657, or at the motel on the day of the event.

Court Accord

The Charlevoix Courier has reached agreement with District Court Judge Arthur Reibel on the release of court news. This week's report appears on Pg. 8.

In other court developments, Magistrate John Connolly is returning to his desk in the Court House Annex after a brief vacation. It was reported earlier that Connolly had resigned.

GUITAR-PLAYING Sister Ann will leave Charlevoix in June for a new teaching post in Melvindale. She has been principal and teacher at St. Marys School for the past eight years.

St. Marys School Bids Farewell to Sister Ann

After eight years as principal and teacher at St. Mary's School, Charlevoix, Sister Ann, O.P., will leave at the end of the school year for a new teaching post in Melvindale, a southwest Detroit suburb.

Hundreds of Charlevoixans turned out Sunday, May 19, for a testimonial for Sister Ann who has served the school during a time of radical changes in educational philosophy as well as in changes in time-honored customs and traditions of the Catholic Church.

When Sister Ann came to Charlevoix, TV in the classroom was practically unheard-of in northern Michigan. Today there is a set at every teaching station at St. Mary's.

During her years in Charlevoix, Sister Ann also has fallen in line with changes in the traditional habit worn by Catholic sisters. When she arrived in Charlevoix, Sister Ann wore ankle-length skirts and her headdress fitted snugly around her forehead.

Today she wears attractive, practical street clothes in the classroom, and her new headress allows for a display of brown, wavy bangs.

Sister Ann also has undergone another important change during her tenure in Charlevoix. Three years ago she was given an opportunity to change her name back to her Christian given-name, Ann. Since taking her orders, she had been called Sister Martin Porres, taken from a South American saint recognized for his work with the poor.

The sister had always liked her given name, and decided to make the change. She announced her new name in a school bulletin and the youngsters accepted their new "Sister Ann" with enthusiasm.

Sister Ann isn't sure she appreciated her new freedom in the grooming department, however, pointing out that she is now faced with the daily question of "what to wear." She also has to have her hair "done," which was never a problem before.

A native of Saginaw, the former Ann Kostrewa attended St. Rita's Elementary School and Marywood Academy in Grand Rapids. She received her B.S. degree and an M.A. in theology from Aquinas College. She also has received a M.A. in administration from Central Michigan University.

Since then she has continued her education every summer, with one summer off to campaign for Parochiaid.

Sister Ann's purpose in leaving Charlevoix is to broaden her teaching and administration experiences to travel.

Her first choice of locations was New Mexico, "which is far enough away so I wouldn't be tempted to come back to Charlevoix for every holiday." However, all of the teaching posts in New Mexico were filled, but there was an opening at St. Mary Magdalene School in Melvindale.

She accepted because she

Insurance Bids Accepted

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at a special meeting Tuesday night, voted to make a State Aid payment due June 1, accepted bids for two types of insurance, approved a lot line waiver and accepted a check given as a gift.

By a unanimous vote, the board approved payment of a $100,000 state Aid note plus interest due June 1. Supt. Robert L. Miller said that funds would be available to meet the obligation, all transactions underway were completed on schedule.

Charlevoix Agency bids on multi-peril and workman's compensation insurances were accepted, the bids being the lowest of the two received.

The agency bid for multi-peril insurance was $4908 compared to a second one by the Redeker agency in the amount of $5281.

The Charlevoix agency bid for Workman's compensation was $5879 or less than $300 less than the Redeker bid of $5882.57.

After the bids were approved, Richard Martin of Charlevoix Agency objected to the manner the board was bidding on the multi-peril

June 7 Last Day for Kids

Charlevoix schools are preparing to close up shop for the summer next week.

At all three schools, Thursday, June 7, will be the last day for classes, although teachers will be required to finish up their work June 8.

At the Elementary School, the 1st and 3rd grades will have their picnic on the final day. The 1st grade will go to Depot Beach and the 3rd grade to the Lake Michigan beach.

The 2nd grade picnic is June 6 and the 4th grade picnic June 1, both at Depot Beach, according to Principal Glenn Snider.

Students at the Middle School also will wind up the school year June 7. Among year-end activities is a presentation of the operetta "Tom Sawyer," directed by Miss Evelyn Peters. Students will see the operetta the afternoon of June 1, with parents invited to attend an evening performance at 7:30 p.m. June 1.

Principal Max Novak said students will receive their report cards by mail after school is out.

At the High School, half-day (morning) sessions are planned for the final two days, June 6 and 7, giving teachers time to correct exams in the afternoon. Students will receive their report cards in the mail by June 18.

June 2, the senior tea for both boys and girls will be held at the home of Mrs. Julius Gilbert on Mihigan-ave. A combo made up of CHS students will provide music and members of the Charlevoix Women's Club will provide refreshments.

The baccalaureate service will be the evening of June 3 and commencement will be the evening of June 6. Commencement speaker will be Speaker will be T. F. Bartley of St. Joseph, an executive of Whirlpool Corp.

Richard R. Fonger New School Chief

Richard R. Fonger, who has been associated with the Vocational Skill Center in Grand Rapids from 1970 until now, has been named superintendent of the Charlevoix Public Schools to succeed Robert L. Miller who has filled the post for the past three years.

Prior to going to the Vocational Skill Center, Fonger was with the Spring Lake Elementary School from 1956-59 as elementary principal and assistant superintendent and after becoming superintendent at that time built the school to a Class B secondary school and enlarged the facility with new high school buildings including a gymnasium and swimming pool. He left this position to become associated with the Vocational Skill Center.

A native of Lowell where he played football, basketball and baseball while in high school, he served 18 months in the U.S. Navy during 1946-47 before entering Western Michigan University. He was graduated in 1950 with a B.S. degree and in 1955 with an M.A. degree.

Following graduation in 1950 he joined the Whitehall school system as a teacher and in 1954 became Junior high school principal. He left this position to go to Spring Lake. He received his degree as Education Specialist from Michigan State University in 1969.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have four children.

Fonger accepted a two year contract at a salary of $20,000.

'Tom Sawyer' Slated Friday

Fifth and Sixth Grade students at the Middle School will present the operetta "Tom Sawyer", to be presented to the public June 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the Middle School gym. Matinees for youngsters will be presented Thursday morning and Friday afternoon.

Members of the cast include John Fiedorek as Tom Sawyer, Scott Morgan as Huck Finn, Debby Tollas at Aunt Polly, Brenda Boss as Becky Thatcher, Tammy Noirot as Amy Lawrance, Broke Stokes as Ben Rodgers and Robert Smith as Joe Harper.

REP. RALPH OSTLING was speaker at Charlevoix's Memorial Day celebration Monday at Brookside Cemetery. He urged his listeners to renew their faith in American principles that so many fighting men have died to protect. Ostling spoke at the end of the memorial Day parade, sponsored by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and their auxiliaries. Rev. Albert Mansen offered the invocation, Terry Phelps read "The Gettysburg Address," Alderman George Plumm led the "Pledge to the Flag" and Fr. E. Francis Denay offered the benediction. Mayor Edward P. Hansen was master of ceremonies.

General Fund Budget Of $436,100 Is OK'd

The City Council has approved a general fund budget of $436,100, an increase of $67,134 over last year's budget of $368,966.

The money will come from property taxes, $170,000; federal revenue sharing, $27,200; electric fund transfers, $43,800; and $203,600 from other sources.

The general fund budget is included in an overall budget of $1,330,700, which also includes $92,800 for major streets and trunklines; $59,300 for local streets, $538,300 for the electric fund; $75,100 for the water fund, and $129,000 for the sewer fund.

The general fund revenue will be raised in part by a local property tax levy of nine mills, down one mill from last year. The other funds, for the most part, are self-supporting.

Although the general fund levy will be down, total property taxes will increase one-quarter of a mill because of an increase in debt retirement from 2.5 mills last year to 3.75 this year. The money will be used to pay off $700,000 in bonds approved by voters to finance the new waste water treatment plant.

The budget is down slightly from the $444,100 proposed a month ago by City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna.

Major expenditures in the general fund budget include $10,700 for the council; $21,900 for the city administrator's office; $12,300 for the assessor's office; $12,000 for the city clerk's office; $26,600

Tom Hanna Keeps Job as City Administrator

City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna is still at his desk at the Charlevoix City Hall.

The second attempt by a Charlevoix mayor in less than two years to have him ousted was thwarted last Tuesday night by public sentiment.

More than 70 spectators jammed the council chamber, the majority of them to support Hanna and the job he has done as city administrator during the past three and one-half years.

But the promised fireworks that attracted such a crowd were short-circuited by Mayor Edward P. Hansen when he refused to offer any nomination to the council for city superintendent. He said such an appointment is not required under the 4th Class Cities Act.

"He (Hanna) can either resign or continue working," Hansen said at the end of the meeting.

Three weeks ago, Hansen submitted the name of Assessor Robert Wexstaff to the council as Hanna's successor. The council postponed action on Wexstaff's appointment and all other appointments until Tuesday's meeting.

The mayor took the council by surprise by making only five appointments to fill posts specified in the 4th Class Cities Act.

The council postponed action on the appointment of Robert Hoffman as city attorney until a job description is drawn up and refused to approve the appointment of Leonard Dubey as streets superintendent. The council felt that the job shouldn't be appointive.

The only appointments approved were those of Jack Mol as chief of police at a salary of $11,000 a year (up $1,000 from last year); Fire Chief John Curtis, whose salary has been increased from $7,800 to $8,280; and City Surveyor Mary Feindt, who works on a fee basis.

The council and audience waited for the appointment of a city administrator, but none was forthcoming. Hansen explained that under the 4th Class Cities act he is required to make only the five appointments.

He then launched into a long dessertation on city government, pointing out that the same problems that faced the council during his tenure as alderman more than a decade ago still face the council today. As examples he cited the May-st. sewer and the Bellaire dam.

"The problems haven't changed, but the people have," he said.

Hansen said he was elected mayor because citizens weren't satisfied with the way city government was being conducted. He implied that he had a mandate from the voters to see that some changes were made.

"I am charged with responsibility for the city," he said, adding that Hanna's resignation would be in the best interests of Charlevoix.

"If I were him, I would have resigned long ago," he added.

He said he has told Hanna what problems are facing the city, but that Hanna has not acted on them. He refused to identify specific areas in which he considers Hanna has been remiss in his duties.

"I am not questioning his (Hanna's) professional ability and I am not questioning his intent. I cannot read his mind. I have a personal commitment to everyone in this room to do this job to the best of my ability," he said.

"The people involved know it is not Tom Hanna's problem; it is my problem. He is worth half again what the city is paying him. This city has been 'fractionated' long before Tom Hanna heard of Charlevoix," he continued, explaining that the rift between segments of the community dates back to the days when the city decided to buy power from Consumers rather than sell the company the city's electrical distribution system.

Hanna interjected that part of the problem, as he sees it, is the 4th Class Cities Act itself under which Charlevoix operates. He called it an "antique set of laws." He said the seven people seated around the council table cannot solve the problem and asked if anyone in the room believed he himself had created the problem.

"I do," responded former Mayor Andrew Essenburg, who attempted unsuccessfully to depose Hanna two years ago.

Essenburg agreed that the 4th Class Cities Act "stinks," but he said the council is obligated to abide by its provisions until something better comes along.

Julius Gilbert, another spectator, said that too much stress was being placed on personalities and not enough on qualifications.

Dave Fowler said he thought the city has been operating on a fairly even keel during the past two years, and had made significant progress in many directions. He said he was amazed to learn that Hansen wanted to get rid of Hanna.

Attorney Donald Berlage drew a round of applause when he pointed out how little attention the council pays to Hanna as a professional city administrator.

"I don't think the city administrator has enough influence, enough impact on the council. You never ask for his opinion," he told the council, urging them to "give a professional his due."

At one point during the meeting, Hansen said that he was surprised to learn that Hanna's secretary, Mrs. Bunny Goss, had tape recorded the previous council meeting when he had appointed Wexstaff in Hanna's place. He implied that taping of the proceedings without his or the council's knowledge was unethical.

Berlage pointed out that members of the press attend every meeting and take notes.

Mrs. Goss told the mayor she was also taping the present meeting and the discussion was discontinued.

In other business the council:

Hired the Ann Arbor engineering firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley as engineers on the May-st. sewer at a per diem cost not to exceed [illegible]. Alderman [illegible] Plumm and Gerald Selph dissented. Three weeks ago, Hansen vetoed a smiliar resolution because no dollar figure was included. Hansen favors hiring Greg Shadko of Charlevoix to do the engineering instead of an out-of-town firm. Before the vote, Hansen said he was sure Shadko would do the job for $3,000 to $4,000 but he didn't want to get him (Shadko) involved in a "bid situation."

Alchoholism Conference Set June 1 in Gaylord

The eighth in a series of nine labor-management conferences on alcoholism and drug abuse will be held in Gaylord on June 1 (1973) it was announced today by Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, Director, Michigan Department of Public Health.

Conferences have already been held in Kalamazoo, Lansing, Muskegon, Saginaw, Flint, Detroit and Marquette. The remaining conference is scheduled for Grand Rapids.

The Gaylord conference will be held in the Holiday Inn. It will be attended by leaders and administrators of labor, management, the community, local government, and business from twenty-five Northern Michigan counties: Isabella, Osceola, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac, Iosco, Ogemaw, Roseommon, Missaukee, Wexford, Alcona, Oscoda, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Crawford, Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Emmet, and Leelanau.

The purpose of the conference is to assist labor and management in developing occupational programs for combating alcoholism and drug abuse. State occupational program consultants will present the needs, potentials, techniques, mechanics, and resources for programming.

"If left uncontrolled, alcoholism and drug abuse can lead to on-the-job accidents, absenteeism, inferior performance, and ultimately loss of the employee," said Dr. Reizen. "We want to help both labor and management in coping with these costly problems."

The conferences are the first of their kind in the state's fight against alcoholism and drug abuse. They are sponsored jointly by the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Governor's Office of Drug Abuse and Alcoholism.

Ruppe Co-Sponsores Bill To Secure Gas and Oil

Cong. Philip E. Ruppe (R-Mich.) has joined other House members in co-sponsoring legislation which would insure gasoline and oil supplies for independent marketers and retailers.

Introduced last Thursday, H.R. 7902 would require major oil companies to distribute their available supplies equally to independents as well as the oil company's own dealers. Discussing his support for the bill, Ruppe commented, "If independent dealers are completely cut-off because of the current shortage, then they'll be forced to close and the chief source of competition in the retail gasoline market will be eliminated. The consumer would be forced to pay whatever price the major oil companies set." In addition, the legislation provides that oil companies cannot increase prices charged to the independents while continuing to sell to their own dealers at a lower rate.

Citing further reasons for sponsoring such legislation, Ruppe noted, "Independent dealers must be granted an allocation system which is equitable and gives them a reasonable chance of surviving. The Interior Department's current voluntary system of allocation must be made mandatory so that the independent market can be assured of a product in order to keep serving its customers.

As an example of this situation, Ruppe pointed to the Sun Oil Company which had announced in April that it would discontinue supplying independent oil dealers in Michigan. Through the efforts of the Northern Michigan Congressman and others, success was gained in moving Sun Oil's termination date up until the end of next winter. However Ruppe cautioned that this did not offer a permanent solution for the independent dealer.

Ruppe concluded by saying that because of the urgency of the situation, he hoped that Congressional action would begin without delay.

Yes! You Can Play 'Attorney General'

By Attorney General
Frank J. Kelley

This is a public service article explaining a recently [illegible] provision of Michigan law. [illegible] who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.

[illegible] Attorney General, Michigan law offers you a unique opportunity to act as one.

The Environmental Protection Act of 1970 provides for a "private attorney general" in environmental matters.

The act allows any person or association to bring a legal action in the appropriate circuit court of the state against the state, any political subdivision of the state, any person, partnership, corporation, association, organization or other legal entity "for the protection of the air, water and natural resources of the State of Michigan."

As a "private attorney general" you must initially make a showing to court that the conduct you are challenging "has or is likely to pollute, impair or destroy the air, water or other natural resources" of the State of Michigan.

The concept of a "private attorney general" was enacted by the Legislature, with my full support, to overcome the judicial doctrine of "standing to Sue." This doctrine, as applied to environmental cases, required that a person had to show that he himself had suffered or will suffer some personal economic or legal injury. Traditionally the courts would not hear cases from organizations or individuals who sought only to vindicate their own value preferences through the judicial process; [illegible] issues were [illegible].

[illegible] "Standing to Sue" [illegible] doctrine in the [illegible] by-product [illegible] as applied to environmental cases — was that a person or organization with an interest in environmental matters, no matter how long-standing the interest and no matter how qualified the person or organization was in evaluating the problem, did not have "Standing to Sue" merely because of that interest.

Besides bringing suit, under the Environmental Protection Act of 1970, a "private attorney general" may seek intervention in any administrative or licensing proceeding which involves the pollution, impairment or destruction of the environment.

As Attorney General, I should continue the investigation of citizen complaints and the institution of environmental litigation where appropriate. I also welcome the full participation and assistance of Michigan's "private attorneys general" -- all 8,875,083 of you!

FIVE YEAR PROBE INDICATES

Food Chain Is Immune From Radioactivity

The results of a five-year study of Lake Michigan and its aquatic life show that radioactive releases from nuclear power plants do not accumulate through the food chain.

The study disproves earlier contentions that radioactive materials concentrate in the food chain and that humans could be endangered by eating foods which have accumulated large amounts of radioactive isotopes.

A report on the third and final phase of the study concludes that fish in Lake Michigan do not concentrate any greater amounts of radioactive materials than do the organisms which are their principal source of food. These levels of radioactivity are not hazardous to man.

The report was issued by Environmental Research Group, Inc. (ERG), of Ann Arbor, an environmental consulting firm which conducted the last two phases of the survey.

Using conservative calculations and assuming the worst probable radioactive release conditions, a fish caught in the immediate vicinity of a nuclear power plant would contain less than half the amount of radioactivity allowed by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said the authors of the report.

Their conclusion is that radioactive discharges from existing and planned nuclear power plants into Lake Michigan will not constitute a radioactivity hazard.

The survey, begun in 1969, was funded by six electric utilities operating in the four states bordering Lake Michigan. It is the first of its kind conducted on the Great Lakes.

The first phase of the study, directed by Dr. John C. Ayers of the Great Lakes Research Division of the University of Michigan, measured background radioactivity in the lake and presented initial results of chemical analysis of lake water and aquatic organisms. Dr. Ayers' work provided a baseline for the next two parts of the study.

The second phase examined samples of water, sediment and small organisms such as algae, insect larvae and water fleas which constitute a major source of nutrition for fish. The samples were collected from 50 sampling stations on the lake.

Hundreds of samples were examined under what is believed to be the most advanced neutron activation system available in the United States. The researchers looked for 18 different elements, some of which might be discharged in radioactive form from a nuclear plant.

That portion of the study also took into account the worst possible nuclear plant operating conditions.

In the third phase of the study, ERG scientists examined 18 different species of fish ranging from alewives to coho salmon taken from nine sampling stations.

Their aim was to determine the amount of radioactivity which fish could accumulate. In planning the study, says Dr. Copeland, "the goal was to collect those species of fish which were direct objects of human consumption and or sport or those species which play a direct and major role in the aquatic food chain."

Dr. Copeland reports that "trace element chemistry of Lake Michigan fish is similar to that of fresh water fish throughout the world," including areas where no nuclear plants have been operating.

The major finding from a radiological standpoint, he says, "was that no (radioactive) isotope would build up in fish to a level greater than 45 percent of the (AEC) permissible levels, even assuming the worst conditions. The edible portions of most fish living in the immediate vicinity of a (nuclear plant) canal-type discharge would not exceed five percent of the permissible level for any isotope."

The original work by the University of Michigan and parts two and three by Environmental Research Group, Inc., were co-funded by Commonwealth Edison Company, Consumers Power Company, Indiana & Michigan Electric Company, Northern Indiana Public Service Company, Wisconsin Electric Power Company, and Wisconsin Public Service (for itself and as agent for Wisconsin Power and Light Company and Madison Gas and Electric Company).

N-Plants Won't Damage Fish Life, Study Shows

Fish life in Lake Michigan will not be damaged by radioactivity from nuclear power plants even assuming the maximum "allownble" radioactive releases permitted by the Atomic Energy Conunission.

This was the conclusion of an exhaustive study made by Environmental Research Group, Inc., of Ann Arbor, a firm of researchers, analysts, and consultants on environment problems, and made public by the organization's president, Dr. Richard A. Copeland.

The final phase of a five-year study of Lake Michigan that is considered to be the most extensive radiological analysis of any body of water in the United States, the Environmental Research Group, Inc. work was co-funded by six invester-owned electric companies with nuclear plants either in operation or under construction at Lake Michigan sites.

"Our analysis confirms findings of the first two phases of the study that there would be no danger to the lake and its organisms from anticipated radioactivity discharged by nuclear plants in operation or under construction around it," Dr. Copeland said.

He said the recently-completed third phase of the study concentrated on fish that were likely to be caught for eating or sport, or fish that played a direct and major role in the food chain of the lake.

The initial study, conducted by the Great Lakes Research Division of the University of Michigan, inventoried radioactive materials in the lake and measured present radioactivity levels. The Environment Research Group directed the second segment of the study which determined the distribution of 35 chemical elements in Lake Michigan water, sediment, and the three levels of organisms that are a major source of food for fish – phytoplankton, zooplankton and benthos.

"The chemical baseline study of Lake Michigan that we have just completed is a prototype of what is needed," Dr. Copeland emphasized. "Now, if another study of Lake Michigan is conducted in the future, we would be able to determine whether any deterioration had taken place and immediately institute steps in halting the deterioration."

Vocational education is designed for those lacking the means or motivation to attend college. Its status is on a par with any other academic subject. Full implementation hinges on three basic considerations.

FIRST: It must be a comprehensive long range program coordinated at administrative and budget levels. Its original concept at state and federal levels was to teach how to build homes--not picnic tables.

SECOND: Any planned additions or new construction must provide adequate area for separate metal and woodworking trades and provision for future expansion to teach electronics perhaps.

THIRD: Necessary equipment must be funded in sufficient quantity that students need not form a line to use a lone table saw.

Home building is not the purpose of the program; it is the program and the budget should reflect this fact. Vocational education is a career course of study and it cannot be turned on and off like a spigot.

Library Notes

With the summer season just around the corner and with the arrival of our resort patrons, we suggest that if any of the following new titles appeal to our readers, they request that a hold or reserve be placed on the book. This makes it possible for our patrons to receive the newest books in the shortest possible time.

"A Woman of Character," by Julian Gloag, is his first novel which does not deal exclusively with England. In the sedate and unaccustomed luxury of an old-fashioned transatlantic liner, Anne Mansard permits herself one indulgence too many for the world into which she has just set foot. It is the world of her fiance, recent heir to a major share in a large shipping line. We read of his forceful English father, his three-times-divorced mother and his even more forceful and well-heeled stepfather. Anne Mansfied is caught in the midst of all this. Shifted and pulled between the humdrum decenty of her father's scruples and her mother's religious faith, she struggles to survive. This is a new novel of swift, controlled force. Absorbing. Highly recommended.

"A Michner Miscellany - 1950-1970" is a collection of essays selected and edited by Ben Hibbs. None of these 25 essays have ever been presented in book form and they are a delightful surprise to all Michner readers.

"The Last of the Southern Girls" by Willie Morris, is a novel about a vital and fascinating woman and the place that is her home: The Washington of Capitol Hill, the embassies, Georgetown, of politicos, correspondents, socialities and hangers-on. It is a novel about the patterns of power written by the former editor of Harper's Magazine who has already pleased adult readers with "North Toward Home" and "Yazoo" and delighted children with "Good Old Boy."

Norah Lofts is an familiar to us as the meter man-and a lot more welcome. In her newest novel "Nethergate," we find ourselves in Jassy country. To Isabella de Sevigny, a penniless and aristocratic refugee from France's Reign of Terror, Nethergate is the beautiful old English country house that promised so much and gave so little. Isabella, exiled into a brutal marriage and freed by an undetected act of violence, leaves Nethergate. How she finds unexpected contentment in a world of half shadows, is only one element in this many-faceted story written in the best Norah Lofts tradition.

Hammond Inness never disappoints a reader. "The Golden Soak" contains more high adventure from the master story teller. The hero, Alec Falls, tough, ambitious, once a prosperous mining director, is now bankrupt and abandoned by his wife, with no true ties to anything or anyone, no chances, no hopes–except one final, ruthlessly inspired bid for fortune. Set in the Australian wilderness, the novel races toward its extraordinary climax leaving the reader breathless and wishing there were more new Innes Books to read.

Sister Ann Is Leaving For Post in Melvindale

likes the school and [illegible] would like to be closer to her relatives in Detroit.

Although she will be teaching, Sister Ann has been guaranteed a year [illegible] sabbatical from administration duties.

She anticipates she will have more time to pursue her myriad hobbies, which include guitar lessons.

She has studied guitar in Petoskey and has attempted to interest some of her students in the instrument.

She likes to guitar "because it keeps me young and it keeps me in touch with the young." Furthermore, she finds it an excellent means of relaxation.

In addition to introducing TV teaching, Sister Ann has attempted to upgrade school facilities. She has purchased [illegible] Title I funds for [illegible] and Title II funds for libraries.

Two years ago, Sister Ann instituted a program which attempts to augment her youngsters' spiritual and intellectual development by working through their parents.

The first step was to solicit couples to attend training sessions and become leaders in the program by means of workshop sessions. For seven weeks, parents attend two-hour sessions once each week, analyzing religious topics appropriate to a child's concept of faith. They also were exposed to various ways and methods by which they could express their concepts to their children, some outside speakers, films, educational pamphlets and group discussion.

She says some of the most productive give and take occurred during coffee breaks when parents had an opportunity to exchange ideas informally.

The climax of the workshop was reached during Holy Week at two vital services," Sister Ann says. "One was on Wednesday during a Communal Penance Service when the children renewed their baptism promises and received the Sacrament of Penance along with Mother and Dad. On the following day, Holy Thursday, the children received their First Holy Communion for the first time between Mother and Dad.

"Once this was accomplished the object of the workshop was achieved which was to give back to parents their rightful role in the spiritual development of their children," she says.

This year, the youngsters took part in their First Communion May 13 in the presence of the entire parish and their classmates.

Sister Ann says the purpose of the program is to emphasize family as well as Christian values.

Before assuming her new duties in Melvindale, Sister Ann will spend the summer in Grand Rapids attending an individualized classroom workshop program.

She will be succeeded in Charlevoix by Sister Josine, presently principal and teacher at Gaylord's parochial school.

Christian Science Talk Set May 31

Why the battle for enduring peace in the world must be won individually will be discussed in a public Christian Science lecture coming to Charlevoix, Thursday, May 31. Roy J. Linnig, C.S., of Chicago, Illinois will speak at 8 p.m. under the auspices of Christian Science Society, Charlevoix, at the church edifice, 205 Clinton St., Charlevoix.

Roy J. Linnig
CS Lecturer

Linnig was an executive with a national food supply company until a few years ago, when he resigned to devote all his time to the public ministry of Christian Science healing.

He is currently on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

OES Dinner

The Elk Rapids OES lodge No. 326 is sponsoring a Swiss steak dinner Sunday, May 28, at the Masonic Temple in Elk Rapids from 11:30 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. The menu includes homemade bread and pie, and there will be a bazaar table for browers.

C-E District Will Hold Open House on June 2

The Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District will host an Open House on Saturday, June 2, 1973 from 1 to 5 p.m. at its new office building on Mercer Blvd.

Staff reports were provided by the two school psychologists at the last meeting of the board May 21. Each school psychologist has a caseload of 75-80 children. The kindergarten roundup program was discussed. The results of the program are to be used to assess where the children are and help them individually.

The Police School Liaison people were introduced to the Board and outlined what they were doing in each school district and what they proposed to do in the future.

The Board suggested that at the next meeting recommendations of names of groups or individuals deserving the receiving of special commendation certificates for their contribution to Special Education be submitted.

Board Member Judith Jullieret of Harbor Springs was appointed to represent the Board on the Special Education Visitation of Facilities tour to Lansing, Grand Rapids, Newago, and Harrison on June 4 and 5.

A work session was set up to review the support staff salary schedule.

A committee composed of Board President Clayton Healey, William A. Parsons, and James Shepard was set up to review the bids for blacktopping the Intermediate School District Educational Service Center's parking lot and driveway area.

Alma Cites 2 From City For Scholarship

Two Alma College students from the Charlevoix area have been named to the college's Term Honors List for exceptional academic records during the recently-completed winter term.

They are: Steward E. Coleman, son of Mrs. Marge Coleman of 102 E. Hurlbut, Charlevoix; and Kraag C. Lieberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lieberman of 216 Park-ave.

CHARLEVOIX sports fans turned out in droves last Monday night for the annual Sports Awards Program. The banquet was omitted this year in favor of simple sports awards presentations by the various coaches.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

A Public Hearing will be held on June 7, 1973, at 7:30 p.m. in the Top O'Michigan Auditorium, 319 N. Lake Street, Boyne City, Michigan. Purpose of the hearing will be to hear public comment on two rezone requests. The proposals involve:

1. Property listed as being part of Melrose - 92.

2. Property listed as SW¼ of NE¼, Section 6, T33N R6W, all except the West 518.75 ft., Bay Township, Bay-39.

Proposed change from R-5, Residential to R-4, Residential to allow development of a multiple family condominium project.

Maps and relative information concerning these applications can be examined at the office of the Zoning Administrator, Planning Department, County Building, Charlevoix, Michigan.

Written comments concerning these applications may be filed on or before June 6, 1973 with Ed Rebman, Federal Building, Boyne City, Michigan.

Ed Rebman, Secretary
Charlevoix County Planning Commission

NOTICE

PENNDEL COMPANY and GEORGE P. BAKER, RICHARD C. BOND AND JERVIS LANGDON, JR., TRUSTEES OF THE PROPERTY OF PENN CENTRAL TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, DEBTOR, hereby gives notice that on the 21st day of March, 1973, they filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D.C., an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting abandonment of a portion of the GR&I Branch extending from MP 257.9 near Cedar Springs, Michigan in a northerly direction to MP 459.8 at Mackinaw City, Michigan, a distance of 201.9 miles, in Kent, Montcalm, Mecosta, Osceola, Wexford, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Antrim, Otsego, Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan Counties.

The line for which the abandonment application has been filed includes the stations of Sand Lake, Pierson, Howard City, Morley, Standwood, Big Rapids, Reed City, Leroy, Tustin, Cadillac, Missaukee Jct., Manton, Walton Jct., Fife Lake, South Boardman, Kalkaska, Antrim, Mancelona, Alba, Elmira, Boyne Falls, Petoskey, Kegomic, Alanson, Pellston, Levering and Mackinaw City, Michigan. This application has been assigned Docket No. AB-5 (Sub-No. 159). In the opinion of the Applicant, the requested Commission action will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment. The proceeding will be handled without public hearings unless protests are received which contain information indicating a need for such hearings. In accordance with the Commission's regulations (49CFR 1100.250) in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub-No. 4), Implementation - Nat'l Environmental Policy Act, 1969, 340 ICC 431 (1972), any protests may include a statement indicating the presence or absence of any effect of the requested Commission action on the quality of the human environment. If any such effect is alleged to be present, the statement shall include information relating to the relevant factors set forth in Ex Parte 55 (Sub-No. 4), supra, Part (B) (1)-(5), 340 ICC 431, 461. Any person opposed to this abandonment application should advise the Commission promptly, with an original and six copies, identifying the docket number, including sub number, and send a copy to Mr. Charles E. Mechem, 1138 Transportation Center, Six Penn Center Plaza, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 19104.

All protests submitted shall be filed with the Commission no later than June 30, 1973.

Ban on Wire-Tapping, Change In Campaign Financing Are 'Musts'

Two things have come out of the Senate's Watergate hearings to date.

First, we must outlaw the use of wire-tapping equipment and other electronic surveillance gimmicks once and for all in the United States.

Second, a new means must be found — now and certainly before the next national election — for the financing of political campaigns.

We believe that Americans by and large have been astounded by the wide-spread use of wire-tapping equipment in the nation's capital, as revealed by testimony in the Watergate "bugging" hearings.

Not only did Watergate itself result from an attempt by the Committee to Re-elect the President to "bug" the offices of the Democratic National headquarters, but testimony also has revealed that electronic eavesdropping practically has become a way of life in Washington.

It apparently has reached a point where federal employes are bugging the telephone lines of their friends and colleagues in the same branch of government, even without the slightest suspicion of double dealing or suspected threats to the national security.

James W. McCord, one of the convicted Watergate burglars, testified last Tuesday that he placed telephone calls to two foreign embassies — the Chilean Embassy and the Israeli Embassy — in an apparent effort to prove that wire-tapping is wide-spread and commonly used in diplomatic and political circles.

McCord said — and this is the frightening part — that the two embassies were "picked at random." Apparently all of our good friends abroad who maintain diplomatic missions in the United States are not immune from the listening ears of official Washington.

As valuable as wire-tap information may be in law enforcement, and we are assured that it supplies important "leads" in many instances, such wide-spread abuse of the wire-tap is sufficient grounds to outlaw such gadgetry altogether, with severe penalties for anyone found in possession of wore-tapping equipment.

Election financing is another matter. Voluntary contributions by the citizenry have worked well in the past. However it is becoming more apparent with every passing day that the leadership of one of our major parties is gravely infested with unscrupulous men who are all too willing to trade the sacred trust of public office for cold cash.

The buying of privilege has never been practiced as flagrantly as it is today. And the practice simply must be stopped if the government is to retain any measure of respect in the eyes of the public.

And it has all happened because we have allowed persons who have bought their way into public office to continue to put payoffs in front of principle.

Campaigns must be financed. That much is certain. But the financing must be arranged in a manner that will make it impossible for big business, big labor or big anything to buy special privileges in Washington.

Wanted: One Charter

Dear Mr. Fleck:

I had the misfortune to attend the council meeting of the City of Charlevoix on May 21, 1973, and was frankly appalled at the alleged accomplishments of that meeting.

The meeting lasted something over four hours, during which the mayor spoke for approximately three hours; the many visitors attempted to secure answers to questions over a period of approximately one hour, and the members of the council said little or nothing.

I find it unbelievable that the Mayor can attempt to remove the city administrator, who is really the chief executive officer of the city, without preferring specific complaints concerning alleged failings and shortcomings of the city administrator's work, and without even having previously submitted to the Council his reasons for insisting upon the removal of Mr. Hanna as city administrator. In fact, the Mayor indicated that Mr. Hanna's work record, had been good, that he was worth every cent that he was being paid, and could undoubtedly go elsewhere in the same capacity and earn considerably more, but he still wants to get rid of him.

I further find it unbelievable that the mayor can propose a replacement for Mr. Hanna, and attempt to fill the top administrative job in the city without even submitting the qualifications of his new appointment, and permitting the council to review and examine the same; but this is apparently what transpired.

Under the circumstances the council did not accept the Mayor's new appointment for the job of city administrator, and Mr. Hanna still continues to function in that office. In view of the mayor's demands that Mr. Hanna voluntarily submits his resignation, many people at the meeting felt that the council should have given a vote of confidence to Mr. Hanna, which was not accomplished.

Although many of the issues were not reviewed in depth at this council meeting, a great majority of those visitors present left with the realization that our type and form of government is certainly not what it should be, and that some drastic revisions and modifications are going to be required before a functioning, unpolitical form of government can be effected for the city.

Some of the existing failures and shortcomings of our present form of government under the Fourth Class Cities Act have been very obvious at recent council meetings, wherein the Mayor has attempted to expand five appointed positions to 12 appointed position, which any high school sophomore civics student recognizes as the height of folly. Such appointed positions become political footballs, which decrease the ability of the city to function as an organized governmental entity.

Another recent failure is illustrated by the Mayor's insistence on cutting the budget and saving as much money as possible, which no taxpayer can argue with. However, he proposes an increase in salary to both the council and to himself, which doesn't seem unreasonable at first, until calculations reflect that his proposed increase in salaries to the council, is in fact, an increase of 539 percent and the increase that he proposes for himself amounts to 265 percent. Furthermore, he proposes to create seven new appointive positions, all of the seven being supervisors and superintendents at somewhat greater salaries than these same employes are now receiving.

Another inadequacy of our present structure of government under the antiquated Fourth Class Cities Act is the Mayor's indication at a recent council meeting that he has the mandate of the people, as a result of being elected, and he therefore has the responsibility of effecting and making changes, which the six member council should go along with, simply because he is the Mayor. The Fourth Class Cities Act provides, basically for a strong council form of government, which unfortunately doesn't function as it should at the time, as evidenced by the demands for power by our local mayor. The Fourth Class Cities Act, under which the city is now governed, is a statute of the state and was drafted in approximately 1895 and has been subject to little change or modification since to reflect the changes of the times in the past 78 years.

The real problem lies in the fact that neither the citizens or the council of the city have it within their power to change or modify any of the provisions of this 78 year old Act, regardless of how outmoded they may be, or regardless of the ill effects such provisions may make upon the operation of the city. There are only a very few fourth class cities left in the State of Michigan, with the City of Charlevoix being the third largest in population. It is the opinion of this writer, as well as an ever-increasing number of people, in the city, that the present problems of the city government, such as we have been exposed to in the last three years and to which we are now exposed again, will not be corrected until such time as the people of the city make a determination as to the type and form of government under which they wish to be governed, such as strong city superintendent, strong council, etc. which can only be accomplished by the formation of a city charter, which charter would thereafter become subject to modification or change as desired by the government and or the people of the city, when the same became necessary, which advantage we do not enjoy now.

I would urge the responsible citizens of this community to express their feelings regarding abandonment of the Fourth Class Cities Act and the creation of our own charter, through their respective councilmen, so that this issue may be brought to the fore and hopefully all of the citizens of the community may be placed in a position where they can express their preferences by ballot at the next election.

NOTICE

Charlevoix Township

At the Charlevoix Township Meeting May 14, 1973, it was resolved that the following resolution be adopted. Motion by Bergmann supported by Glass.

Whereas the establishment of a public water system in Charlevoix Township is of utmost concern, we the Township Board do hereby budget the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for the first half of 1973 (estimated at $9930.) to be used entirely for construction of the water mains and distribution system.

Unanimous - Motion Carried.

Clerk

Please note that meetings for June, July, August and September will be held the second Monday of each month at the Charlevoix Township Hall on Norwood Road beginning at 8 P.M.

Insurance Bids

[illegible] that policies are normally bid on a three-year basis with payments each year. He added that it was package coverage with applicable credits guaranteed. He suggested that the board look at the manner in which other schools bid this type of insurance. Since the present policy was expiring May 31, the bid stood but the committee was asked to research this before another year was up. A spokesman for the insurance committee said that it was being done this way because of inflation.

The board approved a waiver for the construction of a business building 10 feet from the lot line instead of the required 25 feet. The issue will now be referred to the city for approval.

Robert Barnum of the Colwell Agency was present to give to the school a check that represented 50 percent of his commission on the sale of the Building Trades house to Dr. and Mrs. David Norton. Board members expressed their appreciation for the gift.

Vane H. Smith asked that the board establish a policy for students who wish to complete high school in three years. He said oftentimes students transferring here have as many as 14 credits at the end of their sophomore year and ask to complete high school in [illegible]. He was [illegible] to explore what other schools are doing in relation to this subject, will report at a future meeting.

Obituary

Bos

John Bos, 81, retired Atwood and East Jordan businessman and director of the Northwestern State Bank of East Jordan, died Saturday at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where he had been a patient for a month.

Funeral was held Tuesday at the Atwood Reformed Church with the Rev. Larry Brossett officiating. Burial was in the Atwood Cemetery.

Born in Chicago Oct. 16, 1891, Mr. Bos came to the Atwood area of Antrim County in 1905. On Sept. 9, 1913, he was married to the former Hattie Klooster. He operated a general store at Atwood for 31 years before selling to the Hans DeYoungs. He later operated a similar store in East Jordan for 20 years prior to his retirement. He had served as a director of the Northwestern State Bank of East Jordan for more than 35 years.

He was a member of the Atwood Reformed Church, had served as an elder in the consistory for 40 years, had taught Sunday School to high school age students, was a member of the choir and for many years was a member of a church quartet.

He had been a member of the board of directors of the Spartan Stores for 10 years and was a member of the East Jordan Rotary Club.

Surviving are his widow, three daughters, LaVern (Hildegarde) Scheerhorn of Grandville, Mrs. William (Freda) Coeling of Petoskey and Mrs. Ronald (Joan) Meyers of Grand Rapids; two sons, Henry of Pontiac and Adrian of Los Angeles; 18 grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Alice Boerman of Zeeland and a brother, Harry, of Atwood.

for the cemetery; $11,800 for the city hall and grounds; $82,800 for the police department; $47,500 for the fire department; $15,000 for street lighting; $15,800 for the airport; $22,800 for the golf course; $14,000 for marina operations; $35,900 for parks and recreation and $25,800 for local streets.

The sewer fund budget shows a deficit of $42,300. However Mayor Edward P. Hansen explained that because of a delay in the start-up of the waste water treatment plant is saving the city money in salaries and other operating expenses. He expects the deficit to be reduced greatly by year's end.

4 Candidates Seek 2 Seats on Board

Four candidates have filed for two vacancies on the Charlevoix Board of Education to be filled at the annual school election June 11.

Polls at Charlevoix High School will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. (Eastern Daylight Time)

Larry E. Warner, who has served on the board two years, is running for re-election. Also on the ballot are retiring Middle School Principal Max Novak, Geraldine Brady and Oscar Erickson.

Following is a brief resume of each of the candidates:

LARRY WARNER

Larry Warner, 30, was born in Charlevoix April, 26, 1943, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Warner.

He graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1961 and studied at the Humboldt Institute at Minneapolis, Minn.

He was married to the former Lorraine Heise of Charlevoix in 1962. They have three children, Michelle, 9; Kent, 6; and Matthew, 2.

Warner formerly worked for American Mold, assisted his father on the farm and ran his own restaurant in Dayton, Ohio, for three years.

For the past two years he has been employed by Giantway in Petoskey.

An Army veteran, Warner was stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for 18 months.

The Warners live at 226 Antrim-st., Charlevoix

GERALDINE BRADY

She took her R.N. training at St. Lukes Hospital in Grand Forks and received an associate degree in nursing from Wayne State University in Detroit.

The former Geraldine Viek was married to H. William Brady in Detroit May 7, 1949. They made their home in Detroit until moving back to Brady's hometown -- Charlevoix – in June of 1969.

Mrs. Brady is a past president of the Charlevoix Women's Club and has worked with the Venetian Festival Committee and the Charlevoix Yacht Club. She also runs Charlevoix's "Welcome Wagon."

Before moving north, she was active in Boy and Girl Scout work and was president of the Holy Cross Lutheran School PTA in Detroit.

The mother of teen and pre-teen children, Mrs. Brady says she is running for the school board because she is "interested in kids."

"I'd like Charlevoix to have the best school system in the whole state," she declares.

OSCAR ERICKSON

Oscar Erickson, 56, was born in Newberry in the Upper Peninsula and graduated from Newberry High School in 1936.

He worked for Robbin's Flooring Co. in Newberry until 1943, when he enlisted in the Coast Guard. He served until he retired in 1965 as a chief warrant officer, 3rd class.

Most of his time in service was spent on the West Coast, although he put in four years (1960-1964) as engineer on the Sundew and decided to make Charlevoix his retirement home.

Erickson and his wife, the former Marian Kauramaki, have two sons. Frans, 26, is with the Army in California and Mark, 20, is an industrial arts student at Marquette College.

Erickson says he looks upon the school board as a "civic responsibility, not a political office."

"I want to do something for my community," he asserts.

The Ericksons live at 221 Antrim-st., Charlevoix.

MAX NOVAK

Max Novak, 62, was born in Charlevoix April 30, 1911, and retires this month as principal at the Middle School.

He graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1929 and worked for the Pere Marquette Railroad for a year as an electrician's helper before entering Alma College. He received his B.A. degree four years later and was active in football, basketball, baseball and track during his college career.

Later, after he was established in the teaching profession, he returned to school, receiving his M.A. in school administration from the University of Michigan in 1942 and a certificate in counseling and guidance from Michigan State University in 1972.

Novak joined the Charlevoix school system 32 years ago after teaching in Alma, Ellsworth, Pellston and Remus. He taught government at Charlevoix High School until three years ago when he moved to the Middle School as principal.

He was married to the former Frances Boer in 1940. They have five children. Marilyn and Nancy are school teachers in Lansing and E. Grand Rapids, respectively, and Jeanette (Mrs. Cordell Fowler) is a restaurant manager in Washington, D.C. Twins Charles and Carl are juniors at Michigan State University.

The son of former Charlevoix County Sheriff Charles Novak, Novak and his family live at 208 Nicholls-st.

Voters in the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District also will elect board members next Monday.

Incumbent Mildred Lutz of Alanson is a candidate for a two-year term and Richard Dubin of Boyne City, William C. Germond of rural Petoskey and Judith Juilleret of Harbor Springs are candidates for two six-year terms.

Last Rites Held For Fire Victim

Services were held at the Winchester Funeral Home Tuesday morning for QM2 C Terence Lee Brasch, 29, stationed aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Sundew, who died of smoke inhalation early Sunday during a fire at his home at 404 Upright-st.

The body was to be taken to Riverside Cemetary in Stoughton, Wisc., for burial.

Brasch and his wife returned home in the early hours Sunday after spending the evening with friends and Mrs. Brasch had gone to pick up their youngster, 21-month-old Jeremy, who had been staying with the Jay Smiths at 520 Newman-st.

Brasch apparently went to bed with a cigarette in his hand, according to firemen. When he awoke and found the room in flames, he rushed into the baby's room where he was overcome by smoke.

Mrs. Brasch was chatting with Mrs. Smith and didn't return home with Jeremy until she heard the fire siren.

The blaze was discovered by the Glenn Pembertons next door who were awakened by the crackling of flames in the second story bedroom, according to Assistant Fire Chief Richard Wells.

The second story of the home was gutted and the family lost most of it's possessions.

Born Nov. 12, 1943, at Oaklawn, Ill., Brasch served in the Navy nine years and four months before enlisting in the Coast Guard at Oakland, Calif., last Nov. 9. He was assigned to the Sundew, arriving in Charlevoix last Dec. 3.

Surviving are his widow, the former Mary Kay O'Donnell, and three sons, Jeremy at home and Terence and Christopher Paul of Portland, Ore.; his mother, Mrs. Jean Brasch of LaSalle, Ill.; two brothers, Barry, with the U.S. Air Force, and Jerry, with the U.S. Air Force in Arizona; two sisters, Mrs. Anthony (Sharon) Jandrowski and Mrs. John (Karen) Scott, both of Kenosha, Wisc.

Council Told

Fast Vehicles Pose Hazard On Belvedere

Belvedere resident Robert Schleman asked the City Council Monday to do something before resorters arrive in force about traffic conditions on Belvedere-ave.

Schleman said drivers and motorists are using the street for a raceway and that heavy trucks are traveling the road although they are not supposed to.

He said he was particularly worried because of the great number of children who will be visiting the Belvedere Club this summer.

He added that Ferry-ave. is "definitely a racetrack."

Schleman suggested that Belvedere be made a one-way street, like Dixon-ave., or that temporary baffles be erected to slow down traffic.

He pointed out that residents of the Belvedere drop "between one-half million and a million dollars" in Charlevoix every year and "would like some consideration."

The council said it would present the problem to Police Chief Jack Mol for his recommendations.

Schleman said he has asked the city for three years to remove guy wires from his property on Cherry-ave. but that nothing has been done. City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna said: "It's on the list; we'll take care of it."

In other action the council:

--Passed the School Trespassing Ordinance governing the conduct of persons on parochial and public school property. The ordinance will become effective July 1.

--Tabled the bicycle ordinance for more discussion.

--Sent to the Public Relations Committee for further consideration a request by the Chamber of Commerce for $1,000 for revamping of the city float.

–Sent to th Finance Committee for further study the salary schedule for the fiscal year beginning March 1, 1973. The proposed salaries are: City Administrator, $16,000, unchanged from last year; Clerk, $8,200, up from $7,800; Treasurer, $7,640, up from $7,200; Chief of Police, $11,000, up from $10,000; Utilities Supervisor, $12,000, unchanged; Sewage Supervisor, $10,000, up from $9,000; Street Supervisor, $9,600, up from $8,600; Fire Chief, $8,280, up from $7,800; Administrative Assistant, $6,500, up from $6,100; Building Supervisor, $6,000, up from $5,500; Deputy Clerk, $6,000, up from $5,500; and City Assessor, $9,400. If approved, the pay hikes will be retroactive to March 1. The increases will average between 6-7 percent for most jobs.

--Passed a resolution commending Deano Davenport on his 18 years of service as city recreation director.

–Took no action on a request by Alderman Robert Timms that he repair pilings on a presently unusable 12 foot slip at the city dock in return for summer docking privileges and a nominal slip fee.

–Agreed to accept bids for a new 18,000 lb. TVW dump truck and 2¾ ton pick-ups.

–Heard Protests by Mrs. Sally McNamara and Mrs. Barbara Bump that persons owning vacant lots in the city are not having them mowed or properly maintained. Council took no formal action, but referred the matter to

2 Money Issues on Ballot

In addition to candidates, Charlevoix School District voters will decide on two money matters Monday.

Voters will be asked to approve six mills for three years for school operation.

They also will be asked to approve the borrowing of $2,150,000 and issue bonds for the erecting, furnishing and equipping of an addition to the high school; the remodeling and re-equipping of the present high school building; and the acquisition of a new school site.

The school district presently has 6.5 mills voted for school operation. The millage expires this year. The district also has one-half mill earmarked for the library, which expires in 1976.

110 Will Receive Diplomas June 6

One hundred and ten Charlevoix High School seniors will receive diplomas in ceremonies tonight (Wednesday) at the High School gymnasium.

The degrees will be conferred by Mrs. Jane Lieberman, Clement J. Wagner and Charles A. Elzinga, members of the Board of Education.

Speaker will be Tom F. Bartley, general manager of Market Training Services for Whirlpool Corp. The title of his address is "How to Manage Yourself."

The program will start with the professional "Pomp and Circumstance" by the High School Symphony Band. The Rev. Alan Mettler of the Church of the Nazarene will offer the invocation.

The Salutatory Address will be delivered by Wilson R. Boss and the Valedictory Address by Teresa Anne Phelps.

As an interlude, the Symphony Band will play the overture to the "Marriage of Figaro."

Bartley will be introduced by Robert L. Miller, superintendent of schools.

Following Bartley's address, Richard E. Donaldson, president of the Board of Education, will present awards and Principal Vane Smith will present the class for the conferring of degrees.

The CHS "Alma Mater" and the National Anthem conclude the program. The benediction will be offered by the Rev. Elmer Faust of the United Methodist Church.

MISS MARINA ANEGON, first year vocal music teacher at Charlevoix Elementary School, has been named an "Outstanding Elementary Teacher of America for 1973." The award recognizes teachers for exceptional service, achievements and leadership. Above Miss Anegon poses with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Anegon of Saginaw, whom she surprised at the spring concert recently by having 600 of her young students sing a Greek lullaby her parents had taught her when she was a child.

Charter Sought For City

A group of interested Charlevoix residents has drawn up a petition asking that the City Council take the necessary steps to change Charlevoix from a 4th Class city to a home-rule city operating under its own charter.

The petitions also ask that the council provide for the election of a commission to draw up a charter at the next general election, or at a special election if none is scheduled within 90 days.

The petitions will require about 425 signatures, or 20 percent of the registered voters in the city.

The pressure toward a change in Charlevoix's city government has been building for several years as the result of repeated examples of how the 4th Class Cities Act, which was adopted in 1895 by the State Legislature, fails to meet the needs of a growing community in the 1970's.

Although the Act has served Charlevoix well over the years, advocates of change point out that the act does not even require the appointment of a city manager or city administrator nor does it outline the duties of the functional head of city government.

Charter backers point out that under the 4th Class Cities Act, Charlevoix's only full-time executive officer actually has very little to say about the day-to-day operations of city government, although he is a paid, full-time professional.

The act also delegates powers to the mayor and council which could be better left in the hands of a city executive in the interests of speedier governmental action with a minimum of red tape.

Backers of the charter proposal expect to conduct open forums in the next few weeks at which representatives from the Michigan Municipal League will present the pro's and con's of home rule government as opposed to the Fourth Class Cities Act.

Persons interested in circulating city charter petitions may pick up their copies at the Courier office, 111 Bridge-st.

MRS. ISABELL Oliver is escorted from speaker's platform by her son, Jay Oliver, after being named Charlevoix's "Distinguished Citizen" in 1966 during the Venetian Festival. Funeral for Mrs. Oliver was held Monday at Greensky Hill Church.

City Bids Farewell To Mrs. Oliver, 95

Funeral for Mrs. Isabell Oliver, 95, Charlevoix's oldest resident, was held at the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church June 4, the Rev. Elmer Faust, Church pastor, officiating. Burial was in the new section of the Greensky Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Oliver died June 1 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for about two months. She broke her hip in March and was transferred to Grandvue after 23 days at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey.

A full-blooded Ottawa Indian, the former Isabell Willis was born on the east shore of Susan Lake July 6, 1877, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Willis.

Her birthplace was just across the lake from the Greensky Hill Church, built of hand-hewn logs about 20 years before Mrs. Oliver was born. Mrs. Oliver devoted herself to activities of the Greensky Hill Church during her long lifetime.

As a young woman she attended the Indian School at Carlisle, Pa., and became an excellent seamstress and furrier.

She later returned to Charlevoix and was married to the late Louis Francis. After his death, she was married to Joseph Oliver, who died in 1953.

Survivors include four sons, Elliott Francis of Elmira; Jay Oliver and Leonard Oliver of Charlevoix, Reuben Oliver of Grand Rapids, and a daughter, Mrs. Marian Olson and Sheboygan, Wisc.; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Oliver has been honored many times in recent years for her work with the church and her concern for family, community and Indian problems. In 1966, she was chosen as Charlevoix's "Distinguished Citizen" by the Venetian Festival Committee and received official recognition on the bandstand in East Park.

The family suggests that persons wishing to honor Mrs. Oliver's memory should make memorial contributions in her name to the Greensky Hill Church.

Jacqueline M. Warner, Michael E. Thorpe Wed

Miss Jacqueline Marie Warner became the bride of Michael Edward Thorp in ceremonies May 26 at the United Methodist Church of Charlevoix, the Rev. Elmer J. Faust officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland H. Warner of 317 Mason St., Charlevoix. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Thorp, U.S. 31 North, Charlevoix.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by candlelight before an altar decorated with baskets of spring flowers with apple blossoms, lavender iris and yellow tulips.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of soft crepe with a high Empire waist, falling in a natural train. The gown was trimmed with tiny seed pearls at the neckline and on the long, pointed sleeves. She wore a long mantilla trimmed with scalloped lace and lace appliques. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, babys breath and roses.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Michael Kelley, organist, who accompanied vocalist Miss Ruth M. Schreckengost of Cleveland who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "We Have Only Just Begun."

Maid of honor was Miss Cynthia Ager of Charlevoix who wore a lavender semi-fitted evening length gown of soft knit design with oval neckline, and short puff sleeves. The skirt gathered at a high waistline, with lace and ribbon trim.

Bridesmaids Miss Rachelle K. Warner, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph Thorp, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wore similar gowns only of printed material.

The attendants all carried cascade bouquets of daisies, babys breath and fern.

Best man was Terry Blisset of Charlevoix and groomsmen were Robert DeYoung and Joseph Thorp of Charlevoix, a brother of the bridegroom. David Plum and Robert Cram, both of Charlevoix, were ushers.

The bride's parents hosted a reception at the American Legion Hall. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Renshaw of Charlotte, Mrs. H. Eugene Thomure of Charlevoix, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sandow of Frankfort.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Imperial Beach, Calif. where the bridegroom is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Both the bride and bridegroom are 1971 graduates of Charlevoix High School. The new Mrs. Thorp also is a graduate of the Lansing Business College.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Warner wore a floor-length gown of green paisley with a sheer mint-green long-sleeved blouse. Mrs. Thorp wore an evening-length gown of red and blue print on white. They both wore orchid corsages.

Out-of-town guests attended from Dimondale, East Lansing, Dearborn, Detroit, Texas and Ohio. (Photo by Don Smith)

Mary Carol Dhaseleer Wed at St. Marys

Mary Carol Dhaseleer became the bride of Carl Joseph Romanik in ceremonies May [illegible] at St. Marys Church, Charlevoix, the Rev. [illegible] officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dhaseleer of R.1, Charlevoix. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Romanik of Boyne City.

Approximately 150 persons witnessed the double-ring nuptial mass performed before an altar decorated with spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza with a raised waist, A-line skirt and V-shaped bodice of lace ac[illegible] She carried a bouquet of white roses and babys breath interest with orchid satin bows and orchid and white streamers.

Organist Mrs. C. D. Gerken accompanied vocalist Mrs. Connie Dhaseleer who sang "The Wedding Song," "One Hand, One Heart," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Maid of honor was Miss Elaine Dhaseleer of Charlevoix, a sister of the [illegible] Miss Isabel [illegible] and Miss Beth Ann [illegible], all of Charlevoix.

Their gowns were styled [illegible] but were of different pastel colors, orchid, blue, green and pink. Fashioned of polyester crepe with scoop necklines and short puff sleeves, the gowns featured fitted bodices, panel fronts, floor-length skirts. They were trimmed with lace and contrasting pull-through velvet ribbon. The attendants all carried baskets of spring flowers and wore velvet ribbons in their hair.

Victor Malkowicz, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and Richard Pinkus, another cousin, Roy Hall and Thomas Rigles were groomsmen. They wore grey pin-striped tuxedos with white carnations in the lapels.

John and Allan Dhaseleer, brothers of the bride, and Frank Malkowicz, a cousin of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception followed at the St. Marys Church hall, hosted by the bride's parents. Assisting with arrangements were Miss Connie Smith, Miss Marilyn Mosher, Miss Jane Martz, Miss Gail Potter, Miss Diane Mosher and Mise Eileen Mosher.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will make their home at 53 Kirtland S.W., Grand Rapids.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, the bridegroom is an engineer with Lear Siegler in Grand Rapids. The bride is a senior at Central Michigan University, majoring in accounting.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dhaseleer wore a blue print ribbon knit with white accessories. Mrs. Romanik wore a blue bonded knit suit with beige accessories.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from the Detroit area, Grand Rapids, Benton Harbor, Cheboygan and other points. (Photo by Don Smith)

Family to Fete Arnolds On 35th Anniversary

The children of Lloyd and Metha Arnold of Charlevoix will honor their parents at a 35th wedding celebration Sunday, June 24 from 3 until 6 p.m. at the Barnard Grange Hall.

Arnold and the former Metha Fegetdine were married Dec. 1, 1938, in Hamilton, Mich., and have lived in Charlevoix most of their married life.

Arnold is a native of Charlevoix, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold. Mrs. Arnold is the former Metha Fegetdine, a native of Bassano, Alberta, Canada. She lived in Chicago before her marriage.

The Arnold's have four children, David of Charlevoix, Mrs. Darrel (Eileen) Smith of Oroville, Wash., Mrs. James Frances Parish Jr. of Fayetteville, Ark., and Gilbert, a student at Lake Superior State College. The Arnold's also have four grandchildren.

The whole family expects to be home for the 35th wedding anniversary celebration.

4-H Exploration Days Scheduled June 21-23

Michigan State University's 4-H Exploration Days, June 21-23, will feature everything from music to motorcycles.

According to Carrie Edson, Charlevoix County extension 4-H Program Assistant, the unique statewide event offers opportunities for members and leaders to select and explore from 116 different interest areas.

Included are television and radio production, sculpture, theatre arts, entomology, caring for kids, water survival, environmental conservation, personal appearance, photography and more. The "action-learning" options will be taught by MSU Extension specialists and professional resource personnel.

Those participating are expected to later transfer what they learn to other club members. "That's the purpose of Exploration Days," says Mrs. Edson. "To strengthen the local 4-H club."

She estimates that about twenty Charlevoix County 4-H members and two leaders will be attending the event.

In addition to the "action-learning" options, several leader seminars, "leisure-learning" options, and recreational activities are planned for the three-day event.

Options and seminars designed primarily for the leader include "focus on leadership," "family living - what's new," and "a bag of tricks," an option featuring approaches in programming for older youth.

"The diversity of this event is further evidence of the 4-H program expanding its realm," says Mrs. Edson. "Who would have once thought that 4-H members could someday enroll in such areas as motorcycling, ballet, sailing or weather?"

She adds that on Saturday, June 23, the public is invited to attend "Action Day" in MSU's Spartan Stadium Concourse. Action exhibits, demonstrations, workshops and live performances will depict several of the 116 Exploration Days' options.

Mrs. David W. Plum

David Plum Claims Bride in East

Rosemary Stryker of Freehold, N.J., became the bride of David W. Plum in ceremonies May 19 at the St. Rose of Lima Church in Freehold.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rosaline Stryker of Freehold and the late John R. Stryker. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plum of 212 W. Hurlbut-st., Charlevoix.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the presence of about 80 guests by the Rev. Fr. James Brady.

The bride selected a full-length, A-line Victorian gown with white Alencon lace trim, a Camelot headpiece and a fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, mums and yellow sweetheart roses.

Music was supplied by Mrs. Betty Kuson, organist.

Miss Peggy Rose of Old Bridge, N.J., was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Colleen Stryker, a sister of the bride, from Freehold and Miss Mary Roveda, also of Freehold.

They wore floral gowns with white picture hats and carried baskets of green, yellow and white carnations.

After a wedding trip to Michigan, the couple will reside at 7620 Victory-dr., Apt. 1, Norfolk, Va.

The new Mrs. Plum is a registered nurse and works at DePaul Hospital in Norfolk. Plum is in the U.S. Navy, stationed aboard the U.S.S. Saratoga at Norfolk.

Michigan in Running For Antenna Grid

Citing a meeting recently held with officials of the U.S. Navy, Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Mich.) today reported that he had been advised that Michigan is definitely being considered for a major portion of any Project Sanguine system which the Navy might build.

Project Sanguine, a proposed underground antenna grid, is designed to allow communication with the Navy's fleet of nuclear submarines during a national emergency. Geological data is presently being collected in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Congressman Ruppe emphasized two points that are relevant to any proposal to locate a portion of the Sanguine system in Michigan. First, a site in Texas is still under consideration. "While the Navy has determined that the Texas site is unsuitable for a full-blown Sanguine system," Ruppe said, "Texas remains the strongest contender, perhaps the prime contender, for the initial phase of construction of the communication network."

Secondly, Ruppe noted that "we are three years away from a firm decision to produce the Sanguine system. During this period of time, those of us who have reservations about the environmental, economic, and military implications of Project Sanguine as they might affect Michigan, will have an opportunity to carefully study the project."

HEAVY WEIGHT Phil Christ grapples Joe Aidif of Flint Hamady to a pin in 1:15 minutes during U.S. Wrestling Federation regionals Saturday in Alpena.

Christ, Linse Qualify For Owosso Tourneys

Heavyweight Phil Christ won another first Saturday at the United States Wrestling Federation regionals in Alpena.

Christ, a sophomore at Charlevoix High School, pinned Joe Aidif of Flint Hamady in 1:15; tied 1-1 with Dan Papinean of Alpena; won 2-1 over Bob Roberts from Grandville; and pinned Randy Schmidt of Bay City Handy in 3:56.

His performance qualifies him to participate in state finals at Owosso July 14. The top three qualifiers will then go on to the National Olympic meets at Iowa City, Iowa, July 26-28.

Also qualifying for the Owosso meets was Pat Linse, who placed 6th in the 145-pound class. Linse won a 5-2 decision over David Loafman of Kearsley, lost 3-5 to Dan Carstens of Alpena, won a 5-4 decision over Steve Mazurek of Alpena and lost a 4-0 decision to Bob Ames of VanDyke.

Sophomore Dan Mort missed a 5th place tie by one-half point and ended up with a 7th overall in the 155-pound class. He won a 6-4 decision to Mark Severn of Montrose, a 1-10 decision to Harry King of Greenville and was pinned by Ralph Roberts of Swartz Creek in 3:22.

Terry Drew, wrestling for his first time in Olympic freestyles, took an 8th place in the 130-pound class. He lost a 7-9 decision to Mike Dragiecewich of Hackett and was pinned in 2:15 by Shawn Conners of Milan.

GRADUATING seniors from Charlevoix High School attended a reception in their honor Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gilbert. Hostesses were members of the Charlevoix Women's Club.

Avery Wins Award for Alertness

Because of his alertness, Thomas Avery, an employee of Russell's Gulf Station on South Bride-st., has been presented the "Mystery Car Award" by the Gates Rubber Co. of Denver, Colo.

The award goes to a service station attendant who notices a defective fan belt, purposely installed on one of the company's "mystery cars", and offers to replace it.

Now in its 41st year, the nationwide contest is designed to reward service station personnel who provide exceptional customer service.

A fleet of "Gates Mystery Cars" regularly travels across the country stopping at service stations to see if anyone notices the badly worn fan belt.

The award consists of a plaque bearing Eisenhower and Liberty Head silver dollars, two Kennedy half-dollars and a specially minted commemorative coin set in an automotive engine design.

Business 'Mushrooms' For Area Metalsmith

By Janice O'Dell

A 16-year-old Charlevoix youth has turned an interest in art and nature into a profit-making venture for himself.

Gene Drost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drost, Route 1, said he started about five months ago making and mounting sculptured metal mushrooms. The idea, while not unique, Drost said, "is kind of original, because although I got the idea from others, my designs are my own."

EUGENE DROST, 16, displays some of the decorative mushrooms he has made of wrought metal. Below, in a natural setting, the mushrooms look like the real thing.

He has always liked art, he said, and got interested in metal craftsmanship while a student, in Robert Cook's metal shop class last year at Charlevoix High School. Soon he was able to duplicate the works of more professional metal craftsmen just by looking at them, he said.

Then one day, he said, his father suggested that he try to do something original. So Drost went down in his basement workshop and started hammering some copper into mushroom shapes.

While experimenting to produce something like the brightly colored enameled metal sculptures he had seen, he discovered his own unique finishing process, he said. The process gives the mushrooms a very rustic, natural appearance, which Drost said he likes even better than the enameled finishes. But he won't give out his methods for achieving the effect, after working so hard to perfect them. "I'd rather keep that a secret," he said.

Initially, he mounted his sculptures on driftwood which his mother had found at the beach, but his father again came up with a suggestion; this time, that a more interesting wood base might be nice.

Drost then tried using twisted cedar roots, which he found in the swampy area behind his house. He said he liked the more realistic appearance and distinct character that the roots gave each of his pieces. He was also able to vary the size of his prices more, making them anywhere from 3 to 15 inches in height and 4 to 8 inches in length.

Drost and a friend, Jim Sundberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sundberg, said they go out and find each piece of wood themselves. Sundberg got involved in the project one weekend when Drost invited him over to see what he had been working on. Thinking that they might "do their thing for ecology," as they put it, they tried to find a substitute material for making the mushrooms, instead of the copper sheeting Drost had been using. They experimented with scrap aluminum and the bottoms from old tin cans, but found they couldn't achieve the same effect as with the copper. Now, Drost said, they are using as much scrap copper and copper tubing as possible.

A recent development has been the addition of metal "weeds" and even occasional fauna (ceramic) to some of the sculptures. But, Drost said, "All the time we are trying to improve them ((the sculptures), not really change them. We don't want to make them gaudy, but more natural. And we don't try to duplicate – I'm against mass-production. Each one is unique."

When te recent Boyne City Mushroom Festival was on, Drost said he saw the art exhibit and sale there as a natural outlet and testing ground for his work. He bought space for a booth, and set up his display.

His hunch proved to be right. Besides selling some individual pieces, he got a request from a Harbor Springs boutique for 24 of his creations.

Encouraged, Drost said he now plans to enter the Hobby Fair this summer in East Park.

Meanwhile, he said he will be working on new pieces after school and on weekends. This summer he wants to work with his father laying carpeting during the day, and make his metal sculptures at night.

Horse Show Slated This Weekend

The Peninsula Saddle Horse Association announces its annual Michigan approved All-Breed Horse Show at its show grounds at Bowers Harbor Park on the Old Mission Peninsula, Traverse City, beginning Friday evening, June 8, at 7 and continuing through Sunday, June 10.

Starting time Saturday morning will be 8 a.m. and will continue through the evening. Special attraction Saturday evening will be a parade of horses in front of the grand stand with a fine variety of other performance classes. Arabian halter classes will be displayed Sunday, starting at 9 a.m.

There will be no admission and the public is cordially invited.

Bowers Harbor Park is located 12 miles north of Traverse City on the Old Mission Peninsula. If further information is desired, phone 223-4310 or 223-4418.

Davis Seeks Gas Taxes For Snowmobile Trails

Sen. Robert W. Davis (R-37th District) and State Rep. John M. Engler (R-89 District) are proposing the expenditure of a million and a half dollars – every year for at least five years – to provide for a greatly expanded program for snowmobiles in Michigan.

The $1½ million, as envisioned by Engler and Davis, would come from a proposed 50-50 split of the gas tax revenues raised by snowmobile use, and would be used to build many new miles of trails and improve existing trails.

Included in the proposal would be well-groomed, marked trails with parking lots and sanitary facilities. The northern Michigan Legislators are proposing that 250 miles of new trails be opened yearly so that 3,250 miles of snowmobile trails will be ready for use in Michigan by the fall of 1978. This would be an increase of 1,250 miles of trails over the next five years.

In addition, they are proposing 20 warning shelters at 20 trail beginnings, picnic tables, fire circles, toilets, and 7,000 trail signs, and trash receptacles to aid snowmobilers.

Prior to being introduced in the Legislature, the proposed program is being sent to 500 individuals and groups involved in the snowmobile sport. Their opinions and suggestions are being sought by Davis and Engler "in an effort to come up with the very best proposal we can draft in the best interests of both the snowmobiler and those who are not active in the sport."

The reason for the new proposal? Both Legislators have expressed a grave concern over the future of the snowmobile in Michigan. "We are deeply concerned that accidents, highway-involved facilities, public trespass and excess noise in population centers are continuing to spawn efforts to drastically curtail, if not totally ban, this wholesome, healthful form of family outdoor winter recreation in Michigan." Senator Davis said.

Engler agreed saying, "In the past, we have reacted to each crisis as it arose. It is time now to take positive steps to prevent future crises from developing, and remove obstacles to harmonious existence among snowmobile and non-snowmobile interests. We think this program will answer this need."

The program, as proposed, would not require additional revenues. The 50-50 split of gas tax revenues could provide the $1½ million required by the proposal. Michigan's 368,000 registered snowmobiles use an average of 100 gallons of fuel each snow season, Engler and Davis contend. At 9 cents tax per gallon, some $3,312,000 is funneled into the State Treasury from this source.

"If concerned enforcement authorities and various state agencies are sincere in their belief that snowmobiles must be removed from competition with the automobile, a 50-50 split of gas tax revenues is certainly a fair way to accomplish that toal," they said.

Both men say their solicitation of opinion from snowmobilers and snowmobile groups will be used as an aid to an ad hoc committee Governor Milliken is appointing to make a comprehensive review of snowmobile statutes. The overall goal of this committee is a program which will maximize freedom for the snowmobiler, while at the same time minimizing the disruption for the non-snowmobiling public.

The Legislators are asking that snowmobilers respond to their proposal with their own suggestions by June 15 of this year. "In that way, all opinions can be fed into the decisions to be made by the Governor's ad hoc committee."

'Tom Sawyer' Lives On In Mid-School Operetta

Charlevoix Middle School youngsters produced the operetta "Tom Sawyer" by Theodosia Paynter twice last week for their fellow students and once for parents on Friday night.

The musicale was directed by Miss Evelyn Peters, assisted by Miss Kathy Wagner. Miss Marina Anegon played the piano accompaniment.

Members of the cast included John Fiedorek, who did a superb job in the lead role of Tom Sawyer; Scott Morgan as Huck Finn, Debbie Tollas as Aunt Polly, Brenda Boss as Becky Thatcher, Robert Smith as Joe Harper, Tami Noirot as Amy Lawrence, Jerry Keie as Injun Joe, Janeen Boal as Widow Douglas, Rich Elder as Sid, Brook Stokes as Ben Rogers, Cindy Sandahl as Mary, Andy Brown as Muff Potter, Amy Elzinga as Jim and Mike Bourke as Rev. Walters.

Sunflower dancers were Wendi Wright, Lyddy Moore, Donna Campbell, Sue Herriman, Leslie Wood and Tracine Curtis. Skeletons were played by Danny Russell, Vince Brodin, Mark Miller and Brian Bennett.

Aaron Whitley was Dr. Robinson, Robert Russell was "Pard" and Lori Niswander, Becky Everts and Debbie Brodin played the girls and Mark Drenth, David Boal and Jeff Fassett played the boys.

Barry Pierce and Kathy Wagner were in charge of staging, Mike Shupert, lighting, and Jeanne Seymore and Sally McNamara, make-up.

Properties were handled by Roxy Carl, Sandra Hodge, Rita Wasoski, Jody Alger, Julie Wimmer and Gail Powell.

The cast was supported by a 30-voice chorus.

12 British Schoolboys Entertain

Twelve English schoolboy musicians, accompanied by their headmaster and band director, visited Charlevoix last week as guests of the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

The visit was arranged by Mrs. Robert Tollas of Charlevoix who learned of the group's visit to the United States from a friend in Muskegon, Larry Gray, choral director at Mona Shores High School.

Gray heard the boys play on a visit to England last year and invited them to Michigan if they could arrange financing.

The British government picked up the tab for round-trip air fare and the boys, all students at a government-sponsored school in north-central England, have been playing "club dates" for the past year to raise enough money for other expenses.

The youngsters are among 80 students who live and study at Great Moreton Hall, a medieval castle in Cheshire, near Manchester. The boys all come from low socio-economic backgrounds and many of them are wards of the court. Some have learning disabilities and functions better in the "monastic" atmosphere of Great Moreton Hall than they would under normal classroom conditions.

Eleven of the visitors staged a concert for Charlevoixans Tuesday evening at the new Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District office on Mercer-blvd. The following day, they presented a concert at the Charlevoix Elementary School.

The 12th member of the troupe, a 16-year-old senior, came along to help handle instruments and luggage.

The boys were accompanied by their headmaster, James McGlynn, and their band director and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Twigg. Also with the group were Twigg's sister, Mrs. Edna Rothwell, of Manchester and her son, Stephen.

The travelers arrived in the United States May 23 and will return home this week.

While in Charlevoix, members of the group were housed and boarded by Dr. and Mrs. Tollas, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Loper, Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Lundteigen, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Fassett, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lass, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Wiemer.

The group came to Charlevoix from the Davison area and departed for Traverse City. While in northern Michigan they spent a day on Mackinac Island.

A BRASS BAND composed of youngsters from a boy's school at Great Moreton Hall, Cheshire, England, performed at the Intermediate School office on Mercer-blvd. last Tuesday night. Wednesday the visitors gave a concert for youngsters at the Elementary School.

State to Auction Used Equipment

A 16-year-old horse-drawn plow, a pontoon boat, typewriters and pickup trucks are among hundreds of pieces of State-owned used equipment to be sold by the Michigan Department of Administration at public auction Saturday (June 9).

The location of the sale, which will begin at 10 a.m., has been changed from its usual site near Lansing, Department officials pointed out. The sale will be held at Camp Pontiac, 8120 Whitelake Road, Clarkston.

Camp Pontiac can be reached by turning north on Ormond Road, which lies about midway between Howell and Pontiac on Michigan State Highway M-59. Travel north on Ormond Road to Whitelake Road and turn right (east) to the Camp.

A large quantity of office furnishings, including desks, typewriters and adding machines, is a major feature in the items offered for sale. Also scheduled to be sold to the highest bidders are lathes, planers and other metal and woodworking machinery.

The equipment may be inspected at Camp Pontiac from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday (June 8) and during the morning of sale.

'Easiest Years Often Hardest:' Mrs. Oliver

By Oscar Erickson

The home pictured here would be a target for demolition in any metropolitan area, but thankfully Charlevoix is a community of people, not a metropolis of strangers. We are fellow humans who, while walking on pile carpeting, understand the meaning of the cheapest linoleum to one who has swept a dirt floor.

THE HOME of Mrs. Isabell Oliver stands at 406 W. Lincoln-st., Charlevoix.

A year ago I had the privilege of visiting this home at 408 W. Lincoln-st. There beneath the lofty maple, in a wooded rocker reinforced with wire sat my gracious hostess, Mrs. Isabell Oliver, her wrinkled features wreathed in a warm smile of welcome.

"The tree, the chair and I are the same age," she quipped as I approached. "I'm only 94 in case you came calling, as they used to say."

I patted the thin shoulder beneath the shawl, worn like a regal robe befitting the quiet dignity of this remarkable woman.

"I brought you a picture of the prettiest girl in Charlevoix," I whispered into her ear, feigning unawareness of her hearing aid. I laid the Courier in her lap, folded to show her picture with a write up of a dinner at Greensky Hill at which she was guest of honor.

"Newsprint should not be wasted on an old lady like me," she chided but her obvious pleasure lent little force to her scolding.

"I've already read it three times," she laughed. "Bring out a chair and visit awhile."

"This will do fine," I answered seating myself on the soft carpet of grass.

Speaking softly in low musical tones she began reliving her book of memories, turning each page with the reluctance of a lingering handshake between cherished friends silently saying farewell.

She was born July 6, 1877, with a blanket and a bed of grass for a crib, in the settlement of Behschan on the eastern shore of Susan Lake. She was christened Isabell She-Qua-Jah in a crude log cabin with a long window filtering in sunlight to warm the earth floor. Here she grew until the age of 11, when the government decreed she must be educated and that her name be changed.

She boarded a boat for Detroit and continued by rail to Carlisle, Pa., to register under her new name, Isabell Willis. Here a lonely frightened Indian girl began five years of learning, gaining an insight into the obstacles facing her illiterate race in the world of the white man.

Returning to Behschan she married Louis Francis while in her early 20's, bearing him five children. Poverty was no stranger in the Francis home, reliant as he was on menial labor. His status was not due to hostility, intolerance, or contempt on the part of others but to the indifference of the white man to the aspirations of the Indians for advancement through self improvement.

Three years after his death she married Joseph John Oliver, and four more children gathered at the table in the ensuing years. By word and example she impressed upon them that dignity and equality were the birthrights of their proud, law-abiding race.

This awareness was reflected in the changing attitude of the Federal government which in the 1920's granted the rights of American citizenship upon these people whole ancestors roamed the virgin forests before the birth of Columbus.

She finished the narrative of her uncomplaining struggles with a thought provoking remark.

"The easiest years of our lives are often the hardest."

"We older ones are saddened by mistakes being repeated by the headstrong young who ignore the counsel of experience. It was the wise counsel of the gray haired chiefs which made the Indian nations great."

Folding her thin, time worn hands into the lap of her faded dress she voiced gratitude and her philosophy with these simple words,

"Life has been good to me."

Mrs. Oliver died June 1, just five weeks short of her 96th birthday.

Magazine Features Charlevoix Area

Charlevoix and Beaver Island are cited as top state vacation destinations in Automobile Club of Michigan's May Motor News magazine.

In an article titled "What to See and Do in Michigan" Auto Club's 1,100,000 reader members are told that the scenic Charlevoix vacationland area is also the departure point for the Beaver Islander which takes visitors to Beaver Island daily, except Sunday at 12:30 p.m. with trips from the island to Charlevoix daily, except Sunday, at 8:30 a.m."

The Island offers fine fishing, swimming, good camping and comfortable lodge and hotel facilities, Motor News points out.

Also featured in the May issue of Motor News is the Boyne City Railroad which runs steam and diesel excursion trains from Boyne City to Boyne Falls and return during the summer months starting Memorial Day weekend.

A railroad museum is located adjacent to the Boyne City depot and a gift shop and lunchroom have been added this year.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Bob Clock read the following petition signed by 260 residents:

Petition to the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Charlevoix:

We, the undersigned, being residents of the City of Charlevoix hereby request that any further action regarding proposed appointments of Public officials in the City of Charlevoix as presented to the Council at the council meeting of May 7, 1973, be held in abeyance until such time as all the facts, details and circumstances pertaining to said appointments shall have been reviewed and discussed by the Common Council in public forum.

City Attorney - Robert Hoffman (at salary stipulated at $5500)

Council asked if the City has an ordinance or resolution outlining his duties. They were advised that the 4th Class City Act states his duties. Council asked for an ordinance to define his duties. The mayor withdrew the appointment.

Chief of Police - Jack Mol (one year) $11,000.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the Mayor's appointment of Jack Mol, Chief of Police be accepted. Motion carried by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Fire Chief - John Curtis (one year) $8280.

Moved by Alderman Plumm, supported by Alderman Supernaw that the Mayor's appointment of John Curtis, Fire Chief be accepted. Motion carried by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Street Superintendent - Leonard Dubey $9600.

The Mayor withdrew his appointment due to certain regulations established by the State of Michigan, Act 51.

City Surveyor - Mary Feindt (fee basis).

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Plumm that the Mayor's appointment of Mary Feindt, City Surveyor be accepted. Motion was carried by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, and Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

City Assessor - Robert Wexstatt

Council asked Mayor Hansen to hold for this appointment until after Mr. Wexstatt has taken his examination on June 25, 1973 for the assessor's certification.

Much discussion took place regarding the appointment of a City Administrator.

Mr. Eby asked to read a list of allegations made by a Council member against Mr. Hanna. Attorney Hoffman interrupted stating that it is long past time that the City settle down. These statements being made tonight are not good for this or any City. The City must have harmony and move ahead.

Correspondence was discussed from the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce requesting the City to donate to the cost of the Annual Venetian fireworks. No action was taken.

Notice was read from the Liquor Control Commission of the transfer of ownership of 1973 SDD SDM license from Robert Neff to Kenneth R. and Margaret M. Peterson, located at 330 Bridge Street. No action was required.

John Michael appeared before Council regarding Sand Castle building permit of October 2, 1972 for remodeling. He explained that the existing walls were not adequate. He asked that the terminology "remodeling" be stricken from the present permit, but that any action which would require anything in the nature of reasoning be opposed. The matter was put into committee for further consideration.

Tom Duke asked what the Mayor's plans were regarding the appointment of a City Administrator. Mayor Hansen stated he would try to re-establish harmony and find the facts.

Alderman Timms suggested that the City Council keep Tom Hanna as administrator until another appointment is made. His suggestions was withdrawn after Attorney Hoffman explained that the appointed official serves until a successor is appointed.

Mr. Hanna stated that the question is not Tom Hanna, but what kind of government do the people of Charlevoix want.

Mr. Clock explained that a change in city government can be initiated by a petition to the City Council by the citizens.

Alderman Fochtman offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix enter into an agreement with McNamee, Porter and Seeley, Engineers on the May Street Project on a per diem basis, not to exceed $9,350.

Th Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Wallace, Fochtman, Supernaw, and Timms. Nays: Aldermen Plumm and Selph. Absent: None.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $49,332.12 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm, supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for the amounts. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms. Nays: None. Absent: None.

On Motion the Council adjourned.

Ida A. Heise, City Clerk

District Court

The following cases were heard at Charlevoix last week by District Court Judge Arthur [illegible].

Lester Evan Hardy, 19, Boyne City, requested the services of a court-appointed attorney to represent him on a charge of possession of LSD, a controlled substance. Case was continued.

Clarence Frederick, 47, Boyne City, requested a court-appointed attorney on a charge of malicious destruction of property (over $100). Bond of $2,000 was not furnished and the case was continued.

Betty Freed, 35, Boyne City, requested a court-appointed attorney on a charge of malicious destruction of property (over $100). Bond of $2,000 was not furnished and the case was continued.

Richard M. Rebec, 18, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of entering a building without permission. He will be sentenced after an investigation by the court.

Ann Marie Berry, 18 East Jordan plead guilty to entering a building without permission. She will be sentenced after an investigation by the court.

Monroe Thomas Cutler, 48, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was assessed [illegible] and his driver's license was suspended for 90 days.

Fred Lee Murray, 30, East Jordan, was assessed $100 on a charge of impaired driving. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor on request of the prosecuting attorney.

Russell Thomas, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of assault and battery. He demanded a jury trial and was released on personal bond. Case was continued.

Lyndon Willis Wiser, 18, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He will be sentenced later. He requested the services of a court-appointed attorney on a charge of possession of marijuana. He was released on personal recognizance and the case was continued one week.

William Fortune, Walloon Lake, plead innocent to a charge of non-support. Case was continued.

Mark Kroll, 18, Ironton, requested the services of a court-appointed attorney on a charge of breaking and entering. Case was contined one week.

Can Man Win War Against Elm Disease?

It's a melodrama with a cliffhanger ending: Will the scientist be in time to save the Vanishing American from the sinister beetle and the menacing fungus?

He hasn't yet. But this time he may succeed. Within a few years he may discover a way to thwart the villains and save the victim, the majestic American elm.

Scientists and experimenting tree-lovers have tried numerous toxic sprays, insecticides, injections, and garden-variety remedies.

But Ulmus American has handsomely shaded the summertime streets of countless small towns and city neighborhoods and is still defenseless before Dutch elm disease, the National Geographic Society says.

"CURE" AT HAND?

A cure for sick elms may be within public reach. A systemic fungicide, Benomyl, injected under pressure about four places into the trunk of a mature tree, appears to stop the disease.

"By the end of the summer we'll know whether an injected tree is able to put on new growth, new wood," say Dr. Charles L. Wilson, a research pathologist at the United States Department of Agriculture's Shade Tree and Ornamental Plant Laboratory at Delaware, Ohio.

If it warks, helping the tree and allowing it ta keep growing, the injection technique will be passed on to trained tree men.

A cure may come too late for many cammunities, especially in New England where towering elms several hundred years old once turned Main Street into a leafy tunnel. Today, only huge stumps and sidewalks pushed up by long-dead roots recall such picture postcard scenes.

Since the disease came to the United States about 1930 – among a shipment of elm veneer logs from Holland, or, some say, in an elmwood packing crate of dishes – it has spread across the land. It has now afflicted more than 30 states and three Canadian provinces.

SHADOWY PROMISE

About 400,000 trees die every year, costing $100,000 to remove. Half of the 25 million once planted by Americans are gone.

Colonists of the Massachusetts Bay Company started planting shade trees in 1639, using the American elm that grew vase-like to 100 feet in nearby forests.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who once wrote about "the spreading chestnut tree" before the chestnut blight disastrously swept the Nation, also rhapsodized about "...the great elms overhead / Dark shadows wove on their aerial looms / Shot through with golden thread."

TREES REMOVED

Spray now is used less often in trying to kill the bark beetle, which carries the disease fungus, especially since many city trees can transfer infected sap by their habit of intertwining roots. Killed trees must be cut down and wood piles destroyed.

Hardy hybrids have been developed by crossing elms from Holland, where the disease was first discovered and named in 1919, and Asia, where many think it came from. Some American elms also have proved resistant.

In desperation, many have tried unsuccessfully their own "cures", such as pounding trees full of zinc nails, scattering lime, mothballs, and fertilizer, painting with turpentine, or carefully arranging among the roots a basketful of goose eggs.

QUESTION: NOW that bicycle weather is here again, my neighborhood club is planning some night trips around the area. We've all got lights of one sort or the other, but we're wondering if we need special lights. T.K.R., Nashville

ANSWER: you and your night riders must have your bikes equipped with a front light that is white (as opposed to red or some other color) and that can be seen from a distance of at least 500 feet. You didn't mention reflectors and this is a must, too. Have one on the rear of your bike that can reflect the upper beam of a car's lights from 50 to 300 feet. Don't stop here though ... wear reflective clothing if possible and stay alert!

+++

QUESTION: I guess I know what 'yielding the right of way' means after 20 years as a licensed driver, but I'm still confused when I come up to one of those four-way stop intersections. Who goes first? R. S., Fliat

ANSWER: Abbot & Costello notwithstanding, it doesn't make any difference "who's on first?" It's still a matter of the left yielding to the right. Take it two roads at a time – when two vehicles enter this sort of intersection from different raadways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left yields to the driver on the right. Don't ever insist on the right of way, however - you might end up DEAD right.

QUESTION: THIS really bugs me! I'm in a car pool and about three times a week our whole gaag is held up at a certain railroad crossing while a lumbering freight blocks the roadway. How long ena these (beep!) trains block the road? P.A.H., Okemos

ANSWER: When they're that big - as long as they want. Seriously, though, the law says it's unlawful for the railroad company to allow its trains to obstruct traffic on public streets and highways for longer than five minutes at a time. If they do they can be fined, but for all that's involved the companies many times accept the fines as small penalty for doing it the way they see fit. Not much satisfaction, but true.

Solons Hope to Save State Meat Standards

We wish U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin and State Sen. Robert W. Davis well in their fight to maintain Michigan's rigid standards relative to communited meat products.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently refused to hear an appeal of a Sixth Circuit Federal Appeals Court decision that lower federal standards, rather than Michigan's standards, should apply in the making of such products as hot dogs, sausages and luncheon meats.

Michigan's law permits only skeletal meat; federal law permits the use of animal organs, snouts, lips and cereal.

"I am sickened by the United States Supreme Court decision to knuckle under to the legal demands of companies anxious to force lower-quality meat down the throats of Michigan consumers," Sen. Davis said.

"I just hope that our citizens will join concerned state officials to continue the fight against adulterating our meat quality standards. If we can't win this fight in the federal courtrooms, we can win it in the grocery store," he said.

Sen. Griffin is seeking legislative relief.

"In the closing days o the 92nd Congress, at the urging of Michigan officials and consumer protection representatives, the House Agriculture Committee amended a meat inspection bill to make clear that states such as Michigan, with high standards, would not be penalized. Unfortunately, the hill as so amended did not become law," Sen. Griffin reported in a press release.

"Until the Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal from the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, there had been hope that legislation might not be necessary. But now it is clear that there is no alternative.

"When a new federal law setting minimum standards operates to wipe out higher state standards that have been in effect protecting consumers for a long period of time -- without so much as a price benefit to consumers -- it is time for Congress to take a closer look at its handiwork," Sen. Griffin said.

House 'Shield Bill' Protects News Sources

Recent exposes by the press of questionable activities in different levels of government as well as other institutions make it all the more critical that some safeguards are established to protect the free flow of information.

On a 75 to 27 vote recently House members supported a measure that they hope will provide the necessary safeguards while at the same time ensuring that no private citizen or public official be unjustly convicted because of a lack of information.

The bill is referred to as the "newsman's shield bill" and because of the sensitive legal ground which it covers was one of the most controversial which will come before the House this year. Most everyone shares the belief that newsmen must be provided some protection of their sources if we are to continue to have a "free press," including Governor Milliken who in a special message earlier this spring called for passage of a shield law to ensure that "newsmen are watchdogs over government, not watchdogs for government."

The controversy, however, arises when one attempts to define just what constitutes a "free press" and whether newsmen should have unlimited and unbounded freedom from any responsibility ever to divulge a source. The Supreme Court decided in a case last year that under the present contitutional language reporters do not have an absolute right to protect sources. That decision opened a Pandora's box in some states with prosecutors, defense lawyers, police agencies and judges attempting to obtain all types of informaton from reporters including anything ranging from the names of informants to unused notes and tape recordings. Obviously this created an untenable situation for many reporters covering sensitive areas and many found themselves jailed for refusing to disclose sources and other material.

Hoping to act before a situation like that arose in this state, Michigan lawmakers set to work attempting the difficult task of defining "freedom of the press" in such a way as to give the greatest possible latitude to newsmen while at the same time protecting the innocent individual citizen from unjust defamation or prosecution. Hopefully the bill adopted by the House last week meets the criteria set although it has its critics as well as supporters both in and out of the press. The stated intention of the bill is to guarantee the free flow of public information through the protection of those persons engaged in the collection or dissemination of information and the sources of that information. The bill indicates those persons protected including newspaper editors as well as reporters, employees of magazines, radio and television stations, news services, feature syndicates, free-lance authors and photographers and pamphleteers. Two major exceptions to this protection are written into the bill to protect the innocent individual. The source of confidential news information could be forced to be disclosed:

When a court determines that there is clear and convincing evidence of willful or reckless publication in a libel or slander suit involving a public official; and in a case involving a private individual disclosure could be forced without meeting the "clear and convincing" criteria.

Secondly, if a defendant in a felony case, where apparently conclusive evidence of guilt has been presented in court, persuades the judge that justice requires disclosure of privileged information unavailable from any other source.

Opponents of the bill believe it is undesirable in that any law politicians write they can rewrite later and are also concerned that courts may misinterpret the law, no matter how clearly it is written.

Firemen Thanked By Firm

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
Fire Department
Charlevoix, Mi 49720

Gentlemen:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to all those in your department who came so rapidly to assist us with the two fires we recently experienced in our Executive Offices. Our calls were answered with efficiency and haste.

Your firemen were exceedingly careful with their equipment so as to not to cause extensive water damage and took preventive measures to eliminate a large amount of smoke damage to the building.

We were most impressed by your department and feel very fortunate to be part of a community with such outstanding public service available to us.

Thank you once again – we are most grateful.

Sincerely,

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

"What on earth did you do before the tube was invented?" today's youth asks incredulously. Forgive the indulgent smile on one who recalls the radio was hailed by the ultimate in entertainment. Judging by some of the TV fare today, it undoubtedly was!

Vacation time was divided between leisure and work, which was of two types. Filling the woodshed and tending the garden was volunteer labor and odd jobs provided our allowance. Odd is the word for it! Imagine pitching a three-cord load of mill wood into someone's basement and piling it. After cleaning the yard and floor area involved we received a dollar for the ten hours of energy burned up.

Once a week we patronized the local cinema which charged a nickle to live through "The Perils of Pauline" to the strains of the piano up front. A visiting film tycoon conceived talking pictures when he heard Alex, a local institution who followed the carnivals, reading the script aloud to his illiterate mother.

The landscape, uncluttered by power lines, invited a polka dotted umbrella of home-made kites tugging lazily on a reel of accumulated 'storestring'. In this era before "No Trespass" signs, towheaded urchins expropriated any wooded parcel for a clubhouse with the architecture and quality reflecting the ingenuity of the scavengers.

A well worn path led through a half mile of tag alders to the old swimming hole. Here, in defiance of tradition and equal rights, we daily enjoyed what today is termed skinny dipping.

Rather than 'save' daylight we let darkness approach of its own accord and viewed the comfort of bed as a blessing rather than a last resort. To liven this routine we hatched up a few capers such as forcing a Spring vacation from reluctant school officials by allowing them no choice in the matter.

By a fortunate quirk of nature, wild leeks sprouted just as the trout began biting. The after effects of the wild onions defied any mouth wash. After eating them, we were isolated from society, including the immediate family, so we pitched a tent on Silver Creek.

A song has even been composed to honor those days.

"Those Were the Days, My Friend."

Clockwise

Manpower

By BOB CLOCK

I don't want it to be said that I am not doing my part to conserve gasoline during the present fuel crisis. Instead of using my power mower to cut the grass this summer, I am doing the job instead with a rusty man-driven antique that should have been donated to Greenfield Village years ago.

And it gives me a warm feeling all over, knowing that I am helping my country face up to its present emergency. Sometimes I get so warm I start perspiring, even with the temperature standing in the mid-40's.

I figure that during a lush growing season, I burn maybe three or four gallons of gasoline in my power mower from May through October. That may not seem like a lot of gasoline over an entire summer, but then again I never was one to worry the dickens out of my lawn. I only cut the grass when I can't see what's going on in that alley.

Although there are some vehicles in town which burns three or four gallons of gasoline backing out of a driveway, I still figure my little sacrifice will mean vital industries will have just that much fuel to carry on than if I had elected to take the easy way out.

What I'm really trying to say is that my power mower is on the fritz. But good. And wouldn't you know it would happen just when the grass starts growing like a rumor at a tea-party. You never hear of a power mower breaking down in January or February, do you? It's always in the spring or summer that they get balky and refuse to run.

I can't understand what happened to old faithful. I bought it in 1966 and it has cut literally hundreds of miles of grass over the past seven years in the Clock's back forty.

I will have to admit that I haven't really given it the best of care. The instructions said that the oil should be drained every fall, but I never did find out how to drain it without tipping the whole machine upside-down. So I just check the oil once a year and add a little if I think it needs it. Usually I can't tell because the dip stick is so dirty.

Bert Lehman across the alley, who is a mechanic of sorts and keeps all of his power equipment in tip-top shape, considers it is a minor miracles that my mower ran as long as it did.

"It has had a lot of rough use," he commented the other day he caught me laboring over the starter cord.

"Bert, I'm going to throw the blasted thing out," I said. "There's no point contaminating the fresh air with noxious gasoline fumes and deafening the neighborhood in the bargain when I could do the job just as easily with that old hand mower out in the shed."

Furthermore, one of the wheels on the power mower fell off last fall and it's no easy job trundling it around like a lop-sided tricycle. (In all fairness to Bert, I'll have to tell you he made a wooden wheel to replace the missing metal wheel, but it won't stay on either.)

So out came the old man-driven mower, looking for all the world like a museum piece. A few drops of oil had it clickety-clacking like a coffee mill when I tried it on the sidewalk. Then I eased it over on the grass and I couldn't believe that people in years gone by actually had to use such brute strength to keep their lawns trim.

The first cutting, of course, was the hardest. The grass was too long and the lawn was littered with sticks and stones that the power mower, with its higher blade, used to skim over without any trouble. But I'm working at it every day, and I hope that by Labor Day I'll have it trimmed right back to the alley. But by then I won't be able to see the house.

However, I'll still have that warm feeling that comes from knowing I am doing something for my country in time of need.

Ford Never Had A Better Idea

By JIM FITZGERALD

The 1st resignation and 3rd wedding of swinging John DeLorean was the most exciting news to come out of the automotive industry since Henry Ford fired Bunkie Knudson.

Which should tell you something about the ho-hum products rolling out of Michigan these days. You need a degree in automotive engineering to distinguish a Cadillac from a Chevrolet at 30 paces. The hucksters say you can split diamonds in the back seat without smashing your thumb. Or so you can drive down the railroad tracks without spilling your glass of nitroglycerin all over your tie.

There's even a car you should buy so The Flying Wallendas can do their high-wire act on your hardtop while you speed down the freeway.

In the warranties, it says if the car is recalled the owner is allowed to retain custody of the Wallendas and the diamond cutter.)

In view of such nonsense, it is not surprising that the newspapers are eager to do a complete job of in-depth reporting when the auto men finally do something significant – such as quit or get fired.

You probably remember the marvelous job done by the media when Bunkie Knudson got the heave-ho as Ford president. Reporters even interviewed the Knudson garbage man to see if there had been any fall-off in the quality of the Knudson trash since Bunkie's income had been cut from $10 million a week to only $8 million.

The most revealing moment came when Knudson had to admit he was so distraught he couldn't answer a reporter's penetrating question concerning his personal cars. Bunkie couldn't remember whether he had seven Fords and 10 Lincolns or 10 Fords and 7 Lincolns. Thanks to compassionate and thorough reporting such as this, the world was able to weep along with Bunkie.

Now comes handsome John DeLorean's resignation as vice president of General Motors. Why would he do it? Everyone knew he would some day have become president and then chairman of the board and then secretary of defense. Why would a men walk out on such a glittering future?

It is a puzzlement. You might as well ask why a man would give up being Ricky Nelson's brother-in-law? Or why would a man stop being the son-in-law of Tom Harmon, the football hero who became a war hero who became a sports announcer who became an eater of Kellogg's Product 19 on TV?

John DeLorean lost all these marvelous things as once recently when he was divorced from the gorgeous Kelly Harmon.

But he also gained some things. At age 48, for instance, he just married a 22-year-old Hollywood starlet named Cristina Ferrare.

Some newsmen have suggested DeLorean may have been eased out of GM because his life style doesn't fit the image of the president of the world's largest corporation. I don't believe it. All the world loves a lover and this includes GM board members who could doubtless see that a man of DeLorean's talents could open grand new horizons for all of them (his old address books might become corporate property. old address books might become corporate property).

I saw Cristina Ferrare in a TV movie the other night. Wow. As far as I'm concerned, DeLorean quit GM simply so he could stay home every day.

Ford never had a better idea.

Jim's Journal

Times Change

I would often reminisce of days in high school, and especially of days spent in high school athletics: of toughened, strong young men who, wearing proudly their school colors, would strive to bring victory back to their hometown.

Those were the days of thick-necked coaches--rigid disciplinarians--who shouted commands until pulses of blood throbbed through their jugulars and their faces flushed red. They were stern men who demanded much from the players. I well remember the oft-repeated lines to many an athlete "Get a haircut or don't bother coming to practice tomorrow."

I was given to reminiscing as such after a long day at the books. As a small town WASP attending one of the reputedly most liberal campuses in the nation, I suffered from culture shock, and reminiscing was a defense mechanism against the daily barrage from the counter culture. It was with great anticipation, then, that I awaited the end of my academic sojourn. I could then return to the quiet, slow-paced life among the lakes and rolling hills of northern Michigan.

Well Balonga! Such illusions were dispelled quickly one evening of late when I attended a local track meet; the first high school athletic event I had seen in four years. Fred Lovelace from the News-Review was there, and I stood conversing with him at the moment of my disillusionment.

Out on to the field walked the coaches, those same disciplinarians I had once known. Each was supporting long wavy locks, which fell down onto their foreheads.

"Mr. Lovelace," I said, "look at the coaches!"

"Yes?" he replied.

"Well look at them!" I repeated. He looked at me again as if something was wrong with me. I thought a quick explanation was in order. "Why, back in my day, they'd be given the boot for that hair. Do you think I ought to tell them to get a haircut or not to bother coaching tomorrow?"

Mr. Lovelace just smiled. Well, I thought I was taking shock pretty well; I had even made a joke out of it.

But as if things weren't bad enough, a thinclad came up to one of the coaches and the coach gave him a right on handshake–the Bobby Seale type. I turned to Mr. Lovelace in disbelief.

"Quite frankly," I said, "I'm worried about this older generation. Adults these days just seem to catch hold of every fad that comes out. It seems they've lost their sense of respect."

I went on to express my worries about the older generation to Mr. Lovelace, who was kind enough to stand and listen. I hod just about settled down when Mr. Lovelace asked if I was going to get pictures of the girl's track meet.

"Girl's track meet?" I questioned, though what was really on my mind was what in the world had they done with their pom-poms.

"Oh yea, girls' track is just as big as boys' these days," Mr. Lovelace said.

Well that was enough. Give me Ann Arbor any day. At least there freaks are freaks and straights are straights. With this older generation up north these days, you don't know what's what. I can see it all know. I can see it all now. If I was to sit in a sports locker room today, the coach, that stern disciplinarian of yore, would probably yell.

"Reuss, either you grow your hair longer and stop getting haircuts, or don't bother coming to practice tomorrow."

Litter Barrel Idea Wins Courier Prize

Winner of this week's Community Improvement Award, sponsored by the Courier, is Mrs. Eleanor Ratignn, 223 Park-ave.

"Colorfully designed and painted litter barrels, to replace the drab green ones now used by the City, would have eye-catching appeal and serve a very useful purpose in East Park.

"The project could be a contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for our teenagers with modest prizes given for the most attractive, the most original, etc. The barrels could be wildly modern, artistic or humorous and fun to look at.

"The contestants could enter as individuals, in groups or turn the litter barrel project into a class assignment. This was carried out on the University campus at Houghton with delightful results. Everywhere one looked, there were bright flower-splashed barrels crying out for scraps of paper, bottles and cans."

Council

Hanna Hanna said persons who own the lots will be contacted by the city. He said the city is willing to mow the lots and bill the owners, if the city receives the owner's permission.

--Was unable to give a specific date for either the initiation or completion of construction of the May-st. Sewer, which was requested by Ormiston Bergeon. Alderman Sam Supernaw indicated that the project was moving along as fast as possible and that construction should begin sometime this summer.

Hanna advised the council that the new tennis courts were very near completion, and should be completed within the next few days. He also advised the council that the concession stand for the softball games should be organized, since the season is about to begin.

Attorney John Michael advised council that developers of the 900 unit condominium complex at Camp Charlevoix would like to know as soon as possible at what rate the city intends to charge them for sewage treatment. The developers plan to tie the complex's sewage lines into the city sewage system.

In final action, the council moved that bills totaling $105,136.85 be paid.

FLANKED BY city and township officials, employes, contractors and well-wishers, Karl and Tom Erber (hands on shovel) break ground for new Ford dealership building at the corner of U.S. 31 South and Barnard-rd. Tom Erber says the company has purchased eight acres of land from Mrs. Emma Wells and will have a 16,240 square-foot building completed by Oct. 1. Contractor is Peninsula Construction of Traverse City.

New Supt. Changes Mind

Last Wednesday the Courier announced that Richard R. Fonger had accepted the position as Charlevoix superintendent of schools, succeeding Robert L. Miller.

However on Thursday, Richard Donaldson, school board president, received a telephone call from Fonger saying he has changed his mind.

Donaldson said Monday that five of the 10 candidates considered by the Charlevoix board are still available and four of them will be interviewed next Friday and Saturday.

Fleamarket Saturday

There is still time to stake your claim to a booth at Charlevoix's annual spring Fleamarket, according to Thomas Merta, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce.

Merta said that a number of slots in East Park are still available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Fleamarket, which is held twice a year, attracts all kinds of sidewalk merchants to the park to hawk their wares old-world fashion to hordes of shoppers.

Used clothing, sporting equipment, housewares – you name it – all will be available at prices you won't believe.

TO THE STUDENTS AND PARENTS OF CHARLEVOIX

During a twenty-three year service career I was directly involved with people from every walk of life, numbering at least the population of our community. I judged every issue on its merits without becoming involved in personalities. I believe in authority, discipline, and responsibility as they relate to each other, for in a society of government with consent of the governed we discipline ourselves and each other without violence or police in the corridors.

I will hear the problems of any student in strict confidence and pursue any just grievance to the utmost with complete anonominity to the student. I believe in enforced discipline and punishment for those who refuse to abide by the voluntary code of conduct observed by the majority.

Candidate

Soup to Nuts

CHARLEVOIX'S fourth financial institution will soon be in business in the 200 block of Bridge-st., next door to Shop of the Gulls. Saginaw Savings and Loan is busy remodeling quarters formerly occupied by the Democratic party and the Charlevoix Deli. Fourth financial institution? You bet. There's the Charlevoix County State Bank, the First State Bank of Charlevoix and the Charlevoix Federal Credit Union.

HOW DO YOU get rid of porcupines – short of killing them? That's the problem facing J. O. Crawford who has built a home just north of Charlevoix. The prickly critters are practically eating him out of house and home. Seems they have an affinity for the exterior paneling on his house and have one corner fairly well chewed away. We have heard of porkies going after the salt on ax handles and shovel handles – but never a whole house. Crawford is a senior engineer with American Mutual Insurance Companies, headquartered in Grand Rapids.

FOR SOME REASON, mama ducks think the carefully manicured grounds at the Lodge Motel make an ideal nesting site, despite the traffic on U.S. 31 which passes the front door. Last year one Mama Mallard insisted on parading her brood back and forth across the highway. Last week, an even more intrepid mother took her 12 ducklings downtown, but ran afoul of the bridge. She went into a tizzy when two of the little ones fell through the grating. A passing woman motorist noticed her predicament, stopped her car, picked up the mother duck, smoothed her ruffled feathers and carried her under the bridge to her lost young ones. Then she went back to the bridge and used her boat to shoo the 10 remaining ducklings back to their mother and their siblings under the bridge. We don't know her name, but somebody upstairs keeps track of such kind deeds.

SPEAKING of birds, the Rex Davises of E. Dixon-ave. had an unusual experience with a pair of robins this spring. They insisted on building a nest on a light pole just outside the Davis' door. The Davises tried to discourage them be removing their handiwork, but to no avail. A windstorm removed the nest, but it was soon rebuilt. A few weekends ago, the Davises were out-of-town. When they returned, the nest had three eggs in it – along with a celephane-wrapped cigar with a band reading: "It's a Girl."

DID YOU KNOW the "red light" at the end of the pierheads isn't red at all? It's a 150-watt clear bulb. The red effect comes from panels of red plexiglas in the windows of the lighthouse. The reflector which houses the light bulb was hand-made in France in the 1870's. The beautifully cut glass and brass fittings are a work-of-art.

YOU HAVE TO see it to believe it. The water is so high that the dock at the Ferry-ave. bathing beach is under water. Even the diving platform at the end is awash in a moderate wind. At the Ferry Beach boat launching ramp, the water is only a few inches below the level of the parking lot. Many of the docks at the Irish Boat Works nearby also are awash. Further along the shore, stately cedars have toppled into Lake Charlevoix because of the high water.

LAKE TROUT fishermen continue to report astounding success. Jim Doherty, head scribe at the Petoskey News-Review, came back with 80 pounds of trout in two days of fishing off Five Mile Creek. But they didn't average eight pounds, they averaged 10. He only caught four fish each day – one under the limit.

FAYS OF CHARLEVOIX has completed its move from the 400 block on Bridge-st. to the old Pastry Shop building in the 200 block. Not quite so much room as before, but it's cosy and attractive. You'll even find merchandise and dressing rooms in the old cake-decorating alcove at the rear.

Donaldson Plans Laundromat Here

The City Council, acting as the Board of Review, Monday night gave Richard Donaldson the go-ahead to erect a laundromat on the former Shearer property at 1200 and 1202 S. Bridge-st.

The board waived a 25-foot rear yard requirement which will permit Donaldson to build to within 10 feet of the alley.

The laundromat, with 133 feet of frontage of Bridge-st., will offer 25 parking spaces, with entrance both from Bridge and Wood-st.

Next year Donaldson said he may open a small "sight and sound" boutique in the same building, offering TV's, stereos, radios and related merchandise. Donaldson is owner of Puff's Appliance in Petoskey.

The board also:

--Granted a rear yard waiver to Thomas G. Hanna to permit him to construct a small utility building behind his home at 707 Dixon-ave.

--Withheld action on side yard waiver requested by William Marme who wants to build an extension on his garage at 218 Carpenter-st. The board needs more information.

--Withheld action on a request by Holiday Service Stores to continue to use it's 42-square-foot sign, which is larger than the 36 square feet allowed by the city. Stevens Oil Co., which owns a Texaco station next door, has complained that the Holiday sign blocks the view of its sign from the south. The board indicated that it may approve the larger sign, if it is relocated.

Cement Truck Strikes Tree

A Charlevoix Redi-Mix Co. truck loaded with eight and one-half yards of wet cement went out of control on Petoskey-rd Saturday morning after blowing a tire and struck a tree in the 300 block.

The driver, Dennis Boss, 22, of Charlevoix was uninjured, but the truck, a 1968 GMC, was badly damaged on the front end.

The vehicle was traveling east about 9 a.m. when the tire blew.

Warner and Novak Elected

Operation Mills OK'd, Bonds Fail

Incumbent Larry Warner and retiring Middle School Principal Max Novak were elected to four-year terms on the Charlevoix Board of Education in school district balloting Monday.

Warner tallied 460 votes and Novak, who will leave his post at the Middle School June 30, received 614 votes.

Of the two other contenders, Mrs. William (Geraldine) Brady polled 303 votes and Oscar Erickson polled 219 votes.

Warner, 26, was born in Charlevoix April 26, 1943, and graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1961.

He assisted his father on the farm, worked for American Mold and ran his own restaurant in Dayton, Ohio, for three years. For the past two years he has been employed by Giantway at Petoskey.

An Army veteran, he was married to the former Lorraine Heise in 1962. They have three children, Michelle, 9; Kent, 6; and Matthew, 2.

Novak, 62, was born in Charlevoix April 30, 1911, and graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1929. He received his B.A. degree from Alma College and his M.A. in school administraion from the University of Michigan. He also has a certificate in counseling and guidance from Michigan State University.

He joined the Charlevoix school system 32 years ago after teaching at Alma, Ellsworth, Pellston and Remus.

Novak taught government at Charlevoix High until he became Middle School principal three years ago.

He and his wife, the former Frances Boer, have five children, Marilyn teaches in Lansing, Nancy teaches in E. Grand Rapids, Jeanette (Mrs. Cordell Fowler) is a restaurant manager in Washington, D.C. and twins Charles and Carl are juniors at Michigan State University.

6 Mills Pass, Bonds Lose

Charlevoix School District voters Monday approved a six-mill levy for three years for school operation but turned down a proposed $2.15 bond issue for high school remodeling, refurnishing and re-equipping.

The vote on the operational millage was 492 for and 366 against.

The vote on the bond issue was 590 against and 271 for. In addition to the proposed high school work, the issue would have provided money for acquisition of a new school site and improvement of existing sites.

A total of 868 votes were cast in the election, including 26 absent voter ballots.

School Will Borrow To Meet Expenses

At its regular meeting Monday night, the Charlevoix Board of Education voted to borrow against anticipated State Aid monies, to make payments on two debt retirement bonds, accepted the resignation of a teacher, approved spring coaching assignments and heard reports on several issues by Robert Bogart, business manager.

The major action by the board was the approval to borrow $150,000 in anticipation of State Aid to meet operational costs until monies are forthcoming from the state.

At the same time the board approved the bid of the First State Bank to loan the money at an interest rate of 3.875 percent.

The notes will be dated July 6, 1973, and will be payable Sept. 1, 1974.

Resolutions to transfer $54,335.70 from the Old Debt Retirement Fund (for the high school building) to City National Bank, Detroit, to pay principle, interest and fees falling due July 1 and $86,219.22 from the New Debt Retirement fund (for the K-4 school) to the National Bank of Detroit to pay principle, interest and fees also due July 1 were approved.

The resignation of Albert Shindorf was accepted and the secretary directed to write a letter thanking Shindorf for his services. He taught eighth grade math and social studies and was an assistant coach during the four years he was with the school.

Mrs. Toni Felter was named assistant athletic director for the 1973-74 school year; Mrs. Marie Osterberg was named girls' track coach and Jerry Puhl and David Moyer were named assistant track coaches for the 1974 track season.

The board approved a set back of 10 feet instead of the usual 20 feet at the rear of the American Legion property after the request was presented by Robert Bogart, business manager.

He also presented information on an offer made by Lake Construction Co. for removal of skylights from the high school building. He was advised by the board to inventory the lights and obtain an estimate of their value before making an commitment to Lake Construction.

After making a survey of how other school district bid multi-peril insurance, the board voted to accept the bid submitted earlier by the Charlevoix Agency for a three-year period at a cost of $4,908, to be paid in annual installments. Earlier the board had voted to bid the policy for one year.

The board voted against sending delegates to the M.A.S.B. special meeting in Lansing July 13 to vote on a resolution authorizing the M.A.S.B. board of directors to borrow monies to build and equip a new office building in Lansing.

Don Brown of the Recreation Committee reported that the new recreation director was here and would attend the June 25 meeting.

On the agenda for that meeting will be the hiring of a Middle School principal, tax anticipation notes, skylights, early graduation and the appearance of Curt Kipke, recreation director.

Match Record of Kinfolk, CHS Graduates Urged

"If you can do as much as your parents and grandparents have done, you will solve many of the world's remaining problems," Tom F. Bartley, general manager of Market Training Services for Whirlpool Corp., told Charlevoix's 1973 graduating class last Wednesday night.

One hundred and ten seniors received their diplomas in exercises at the High School.

For once, the weatherman cooperated, coming up with a perfect June evening, just breezy enough to keep collars from wilting in the crowded gymnasium.

Bartley, who has seen two sons of his own through high school and college, told the graduates that their parents and grandparents, many of whom were in the audience, have done more to ease the plight of suffering mankind than any two generations in history.

"They lived through the Depression and know what it means to be poor, hungry and cold," he told the class. "They fought history's grisliest war, and then turned around and helped their enemies rebuild. They started the United Nations. They fought racial discrimination. They built high schools and trained teachers and made higher education possible for the many instead of the few."

And in more recent years, he said, they have turned their attentions toward improving the environment.

"Because of them," he asserted, "you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, best-looking generation ever to inhabit this land."

Bartley said it is up to the present generation to solve two of the world's great remaining problems:

"We have not found alternatives to war and racial hatred," he said.

Bartley's address was entitled "How to Manage Yourself." He suggested that the graduates adopt a set of habits–"tools of life" he called them–to achieve their goals.

1. Think and act according to plan. Don't be too sure of everything you see or hear.

2. Read. Be a reader and be a leader. He pointed out that every graduate in the class was born since the coming of television, "which was trash when it started and is still trash. TV has made idiots out of a lot of intelligent people." He added however, that the graduates should avail themselves of "good" television programs when they come along.

3. Play. A healthy body is as important as a healthy mind.

4. Love and be loved. Be friendly. Improve your relationships with everyone you know.

5. Laugh. "Laughter is the music of the soul."

6. Give. Every day is too short to be selfish.

7. Work. Do the things you don't have to do and you'll rise above the crowd.

8. Pray. "Not just morning prayers or evening prayers as prescribed by the church, but little prayers once in a while, twice in a while or three times in a while. This is the greatest habit of all."

In closing, Bartley urged the graduates to re-establish the responsibilities of freedom. "Let's mow down the myth of the common man. You have a right to become uncommon men and women."

The Whirlpool executive pointed out that the sum total of human knowledge at the time of Christ's birth took 1,750 years to double. It doubled again in the next 150 years. And again in the next 50 years. From 1950 to 1960 it doubled again, and has been doubling every three years since.

"This is what you are walking out into, the greatest country in the world." he said.

The program opened with an invocation by Rev. Alan Mettler of the Church of the Nazarene and closed with a benediction by Rev. Elmer Faust of the United Methodist Church.

In between were the salutatory address by Wilson R. Boss, the valedictory address by Teresa Anne Phelps, presentation of awards by Richard E. Donaldson, president of the Board of Education; presentation of the class by Principal Vane Smith; conferring of degrees by school board members Mrs. Jane Lieberman, Clement J. Wagner and Charles A. Elzinga, and the playing of the "Figaro" overture, the Alma Mater and the National Anthem by the High School Symphony Band.

Standing ovations were given retiring Middle School Principal Max Novak and Supt Robert L. Miller, who leaves at the end of the month to assume the superintendency at Grand Ledge.

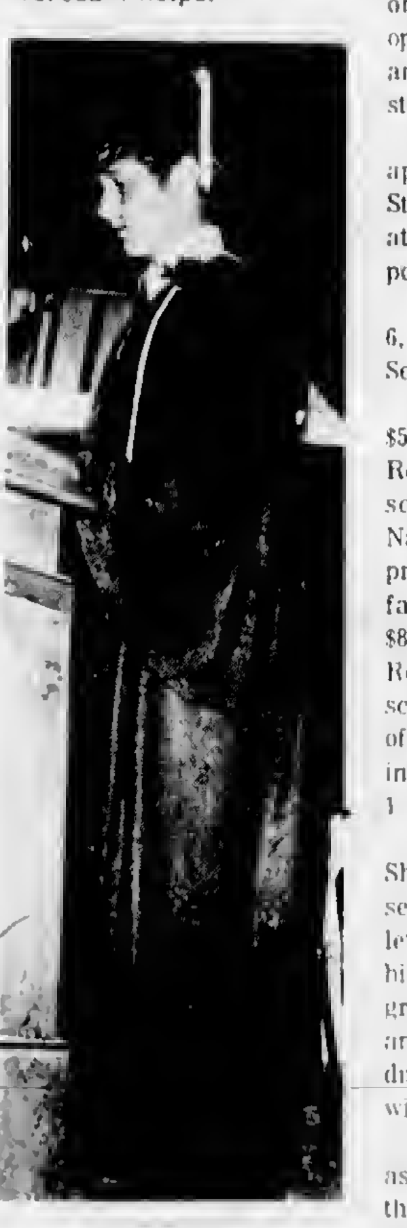
CHS Valedictorian was Teresa Phelps.



CHS Salutatorian was Wilson R. Boss.

MRS. GAYLE (Arlene) Spencer of Charlevoix poses with card she received from the State Lottery Commission bearing the number 497 – making her eligible for the million dollar drawing in Ypsilanti June 21.

She Could Be $1 Million Richer Next Thursday

Mrs. Gayle (Arlene) Spencer of 238 E. Carpenter-st. isn't as excited as her friends and neighbors over the fact that she may become a millionaire next week.

It all started April 12 when Mrs. Spencer won $25 in the Michigan Lottery with number 982.

Mrs. Spencer collected her $25 and was given a second number by the state – 479 – for the million dollar sweepstakes.

In the preliminary draw last Thursday, 497 popped up, making Mrs. Spencer and 124 other Michigan residents eligible for the big drawing in Ypsilanti next Thursday, June 21.

In addition to the big prize, awards of $100,000, $50,000 will be made, along with seven $5,000 prizes and 110 $1,000 prizes.

The least Mrs. Spencer could win is $1,000, the most $1 million.

When she found out she was in the running, Mrs. Spencer called her brother, Russell Lee, in Belding who said he would take her to the drawing.

Mrs. Spencer says she buys four lottery tickets a week. Her winning ticket (No. 982) was purchased from Central Drug Store.

The Spencers moved to Charlevoix in 1960 from Belding. Her husband, Gayle, is shop superintendent for the Willflow Corp. They have two sons, Gary of Charlevoix and Lee of Belding.

Mrs. Juilleret, Germond Win

In balloting to fill vacancies on the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate Board of Education Monday, Charlevoix School District voters gave Judith M. Juilleret of Harbor Springs 549 votes, William C. Germond of Petoskey 327 votes and Richard Dubin of Boyne City 288 votes for two six-year terms.

Mildred Lutz of Alanson, running unopposed for two-year term, received 535 votes.

At press time it appeared that Mrs. Juilleret had won one of the six-year terms in the district as a whole, with Germond trailing Dubin by about 900 votes.

Gum, Ball-Point Pens, Scarce Items in Russia

Hottest black market item in Russia today is chewing gum, according to Dr. Gilbert Saltonstall who returned from a trip to Leningrad last week.

He says there is also a booming market for ball-point pens, particularly among young people.

Dr. Saltonstall was accompanied on the trip to Russia, Finland, Sweden and Denmark by Mrs. Saltonstall and Dr. and Mrs. John Lignell, also of Charlevoix.

In the company of dozens of other doctors and their wives, the Saltonstalls and Lignells visited medical facilities and attended seminars in countries with socialized medical plans.

About 80 members of the group went to Leningrad, the Russian city that was under siege by Hitler's forces for 900 days during World War II.

Dr. Saltonstall said the borsch was excellent and the food generally good. Although the group was accompanied by an Intourist guide, visitors were free to go their own ways during their leisure time.

He noted that tourists can walk the streets of all the European cities they visited after dark without fear of mugging.

"They just don't allow it," he said.

Dr. Saltonstall noted that there are very few privately-owned automobiles in Leningrad, and that everyone aside from high government officials and other VIP's use public transportation. He saw only one taxicab during his visit.

He also noted that the people in Leningrad don't appear very happy – no laughter and very few smiles.

He said a cup of coffee costs the equivalent of $1.50 and American soft drinks as Coca-Cola are not available. The most popular drink – aside from Vodka – is a sugary sweet concoction called "fruit water."

Leningrad, he said, has many parks and they are put to good use by the residents. The parks make up for the absence of lawns and other greenery in the city's residential areas.

Alderman Fochtman offered Ordinance No. 332 and moved its adoption effective July 1, 1973, supported by Alderman Timms. ORDINANCE NO. 332, a "Trespass Ordinance" was adopted by the City Council of the City of Charlevoix this 4th day of June, 1973 by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Timms, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: Alderwoman Wallace.

Alderman Fochtman of the Ordinance Committee reported that the bicycle ordinance has been reviewed with the Chief of Police and the City Attorney with changes recommended. It was put into Committee for further consideration.

The Mayor reported a request by the Chamber of Commerce asking the City to repair the parade float. The request was put into Committee.

Alderman Fochtman read a salary schedule for elected and appointed officials and urged the Finance Committee to adopt the raises suggested. It was put into Committee for further study.

Alderman Supernaw reported that Curtis Kipke, Recreational Director started work June 4, 1973. The City Administrator was asked to invite him to the next Council meeting, June 18.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Fochtman. BE IT RESOLVED that Charlevoix Council convey to Dean Davenport their expression of commendation and gratefully acknowledge his valued services during the past eighteen summers rendered in the public interest, as director of the Summer Recreation Program, for the City of Charlevoix. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Timms, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: Alderwoman Wallace.

Alderman Timms asked Council if it is receptive to his plans for dockage at the foot of Clinton Street. The matter was put into Committee for further study.

Attorney John Michael asked Council to give attention to setting a sewage rate for the Condominium Project at the former Charlevoix Boy's Camp on the Boyne City Road.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $105,136.85 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Timms, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: Alderwoman Wallace.

Moved by Alderman Fochtman and supported by Alderman Supernaw that Council adjourn.

Ida A. Heise, City Clerk.

BOARD OF APPEALS

JUNE 4, 1973
8:30 p.m.

The Board of Appeals met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Present: Aldermen Timms, Fochtman, Plumm, Selph, Supernaw. Absent: Alderwoman Wallace.

The request of William Marme to waiver the side yard set-back from 10 feet to 5 feet for construction of a garage at 218 E. Carpenter was tabled for more information.

Motion was made by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Timms that the City waiver the rear year requirement of 25 feet to 5 feet to allow Thomas Hanna to construct an accessory building at 707 E. Messing Around Schools Will Get You in Trouble

Beginning July 1 the City of Charlevoix will have a new ordinance on the books.

Called the School Trespass Ordinance No. 332, it is designed to curb almost every kind of disruption that can occur to a Charlevoix school.

Passed unanimously by the city council at the June 4 meeting, the law will apply to all schools, both public and parochial. Violations of its sections will be punishable by an $100 fine and or 90 days in [illegible]

[illegible]

Willfully disrupt the orderly proceedings of schools.

Be under the influence of any alcoholic beverage or narcotic drug at any time while on school ground.

Enter a school during its regular session without first going to the principal's office and identifying him or herself.

[illegible]

Loiter on school property.

The formal ordinance is composed of 12 different subsections. Each subsection is distinct from the others.

Heads VFW Ladies

Mrs. Denver Jackson is assuming her duties as president of the VFW Auxiliary Post 1153, succeeding Mrs. Estalla Meredith.

Members thanked Mrs. Meredith for the effort she has put into the forthcoming "Celebrity Auction" July 26.

Gifts donated by movie stars, TV personalities and other will be auctioned by Jim Brannan. Many raised will be used for community projects.

You were born smart. Make it pay off in The New Navy.

The Navy Needs Nuclear Technicians And Advanced Electronics Specialists.

Meet the qualifications and the Navy will offer you up to $20,000 worth of advanced technical training. The academic schedule in both fields will be tough. Calling for concentration and honest effort. But they don't call for a super-brain. More important will be a super-desire on your part to want to learn and to achieve.

If you perform well, by the time your first hitch is up you'll be a second-class petty officer, making over $700 a month (along with Navy benefits like medical and dental care). And, if benefits remain the same, there'll be a cash bonus of $10,000 offered to you by the Navy as a re-enlistment incentive. Of course, if you should choose to leave us at that time, you take with you six years of invaluable training and experience to assure your future on the outside. 0073

To get all the details on the Nuclear or the Advanced Electronics Field Program, send in the coupon. Or see your local Navy recruiter. Or, call the Navy toll free at 800-841-8000 24 hours a day, seven days a week. (In Georgia, 800-342-5855.)

Linda Rose Klooster, Everett Ingalls Wed

Linda Rose Klooster became the bride of Everett Ingalls in ceremonies June 1 at the Community Reformed Church, the Rev. Albert Mansen officiating.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the presence of 200 guests before an altar decorated with baskets of spring flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Klooster of Norwood. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ingalls of Ellsworth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of sheer nylon organza with a high Empire-style waist. Her veil was secured by a Camelot cap of organza, with simulated pearls at the crown. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Mrs. Robert Klooster sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Maid of honor was Miss Beth Ann Boss of Charlevoix and bridesmaid was Darlene Proctor of Fremont. They wore Nile green dresses with long sleeves.

Shelly Klooster, a sister of the bride, was flower girl and Brian VanderArk, a nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Jack Ingalls was best man and Allen Ingalls was groomsman. Both are brothers of the bridegroom. Jerry Cox, Keith VanderArk and Mike and Gerald Klooster were ushers.

The couple will live at R 1 Ellsworth.

Out-of-town guests attended from Muskegon, Gladstone, Fremont, Grand Rapids, Sand Lake, Saginaw and Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsheve have returned home after taking their son, Richard, to Detroit where he left the plane to visit his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Olsheve and family, in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The church choir will resume its regular weekly practice Thursday after a two-week vacation. Anyone interested in joining is welcome.

Mrs. Betty Walker is a medical patient at Charlevoix Hospital.

Local graduates were honored at a reception after the morning service Sunday. They were presented Bibles by Rev. Harmon. High school graduates are Scott Cooper, Susan Saunders and Diane Alexander. Virginia Saunders was graduate by North Central College in Petoskey and will continue her education at Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant. Susan Saunders will attend NCMC and live at home. Miss Alexander will attend Grand Valley State College at Allendale. The girls have been active in the church, serving as choir members, organists and Sunday school teachers. We extend best wishes for the future to all our graduates.

Replacement tires should be put on the rear wheels for better traction, rather than the front, according to the Tire Industry Safety Council.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix District Court last week by Judge [illegible].

Gerald Lee Meyer, 41, Charlevoix, was assessed $100 on a charge of impaired driving. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

A charge that Fred Zullich, 36, Northville, failed to heed the signals of a traffic officer was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Virgil Amos Williams, 27, Charlevoix, was ordered to make restitution to the city of $1,197 for his role in totaling one of the city's police cars last winter. The car was demolished during a chase with Williams on U.S. 31 South.

Thomas J. Fettig, 20, Petoskey, was assessed $35 for driving while his license was revoked.

A charge that Everett McPherson, 22, Boyne city, was a disorderly person was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Lester I. Hardy, Boyne City, requested a court-appointed attorney to represent him on a charge of possession of LSD. The request was denied. Case was continued until June 14.

A charge of larceny lodged against David Carson, 17, Boyne Falls, was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney. Carson has entered military service.

Fred Edward Cihak, 59, East Jordan, appeared on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The case was continued to enable him to secure the services of an attorney.

Mark Kroll, 18, Charlevoix, requested the services of a court-appointed attorney on a charge of breaking and entering, a felony. He was released on $500 bond and the case was continued.

Clarence Fredrick, 47, Boyne City, requested a court appointed attorney on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Case was continued.

Betty Freed, 35, Boyne City, requested a court-appointed attorney on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Case was continued.

Clarence Fredrick, 47, Boyne City, requested a court appointed attorney on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Case was continued.

Kathleen Poirier, 24, Boyne Valley Township, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child. Case was continued to allow her to secure the services of an attorney.

A Wildflower Garden Saves Doomed Species

By Hilda Alexander

Members of the Garden Club met May 29 at the home of Mrs. Virginia MacLean in Norwood, with Mrs. Ruth Francis as co-hostess.

Several items of business were taken care of, including the appointment of judges for the "Garden of the Month" contest and planning for the annual meeting of the State Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan at Shanty Creek June 5 to.

Members also discussed care of the club's existing flower beds and the Nature Trail.

A lesson on "Beginning a Wildflower Garden" was given by Mrs. Elsie Bennett.

Have you ever given thought to the fact that your grandchildren may never see wildflowers growing in the woods, or that they may never know the pleasure of gathering mayflowers, trillium, spring beauties, Dutchmen's breeches or wild violets? As the country becomes more thickly populated, wild plants must yield to road builders, developers and farmers.

The only way to save people wildflowers is to alert people to their possible loss and develop interest in preserving them in wildflower gardens, Mrs. Bennett said.

Garden Clubs the country over attempt to guard against ruthless picking and encourage the growing of native plants from seeds, cuttings and transplants. The state also has passed laws protecting certain species, including trillium.

Did you ever stop to think of what a beautiful country this must have been when the white man arrived, with great deciduous forests filled with wildflowers and magnificent stands of pine and evergreens? It must have been enchanting.

In making our own wildflower gardens we must create a spot for them similar to their natural habitat. It must be on the east side of the house, with protection from cold north winds. It should be moist and not too sunny, with a neutral soil neither acid or alkaline.

Do not water too freely, but take care not to let the soil become too dry. Ferns will help retain moisture and will provide an attractive groundcover long after the blooms are gone.

The next meeting of the Garden Club will be Tuesday, June 12, with Mrs. Ida Edwards on Wickersham-rd. Mrs. Mildred Campbell will be co-hostess and Mrs. Dorothy Lewand will give the lesson on "Gardening Without Poisons."

More Garden Club Winners

Winners of the garden club awards for the weeks June 3-June 16 on the north and south sides of town have been announced.

The south side plaque was awarded to Mr. E.D. Mathews, 1032 May Street. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson Baker of 509 Mason received an honorable mention.

The winner of the Garden Club Plaque on the north side was Rex Davis of 708 E. Dixon.

DR. JAMES Cunningham (right) points to pinpoint on map of Alberta, Canada, that he and his family will soon call home. Dr. Cunningham has sold his dental practice to Dr. Robert Davis of Atlanta. The Cunninghams plan to leave Charlevoix by Aug. 1--or as soon as housing is available in Jasper, Alberta.

Another 'Bob' Davis Is Coming to Town

Charlevoixans are going to need a directory to keep their "Bob Davises" straight.

Dr. Davis is a native of Detroit and a graduate of Cass Technical High School. He attended Wayne State University for four years and received his degree in pharmacy. Then he went to the University of Detroit four more years for his degree in dentistry, graduating in 1968.

For the past four years he has practiced in Atlanta, but is looking forward to his move to Charlevoix.

He, his wife Anna, son Christopher, 2, and daughter Mary Ann, 10 weeks, will live at 208 Burns-st.

Mrs. Davis graduated from Cass Tech and attended Wayne University and Great Lakes College. She is a medical laboratory technician.

Dr. Cunningham, his wife Josephine and family plan to move before Aug. 1 to Jasper, Alberta, Canada, where he is purchasing a dental practice. Jasper is located in the towering Canadian Rockies in Jasper National Park.

The Cunninghams moved to Charlevoix from Flint five years ago.

For the time being, both Dr. Davis and Dr. Cunningham will share Dr. Cunningham's quarters on the second floor of the Pine River Building. A second chair is being installed in the back room Dr. Cunningham used as a laboratory.

Mrs. Gertrude Schmidt will continue to serve as receptionist and assistant after Dr. Cunningham leaves.

Debra White, 18, Charlevoix was assessed $20 for speeding.

ORDINANCE NO 332

The City of Charlevoix ordains:

SECTION 1: Short Title. This ordinance may be cited as the "School Tresspass Ordinance" of the City of Charlevoix.

SECTION 2: Definitions. The term "public place" as used in this ordinance shall mean any street, alley, park, public building, public, private or parochial school, any place of business or of any assembly open to or frequented by the public, and any other place which is open to the public view or to which the public has access.

SECTION 3: Acts Prohibited. No person shall:

(1) willfully or maliciously make or assist in making any noises, disturbance or improper diversions by which the peace, quietude or good order of any public, private or parochial school is disturbed;

(2) use profain, indecent or immoral language or indulge in indecent or immoral conduct in any building or on any property adjacent to any building in the City occupied as a public, private or parochial school;

(3) create a disturbance in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or on the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities while such recreational areas or other activities are in progress and any person found to be doing same shall leave immediately when so directed by the principal or by any other person designated by the principal;

(4) be drunk or under the influence of any narcotic drug or alcoholic beverage or indulge in or use any narcotic drug or any alcoholic beverage in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or on the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities;

(5) enter and remain in any public, private or parochial school building between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on days such school is in session who is not a regularly enrolled student, teacher, or other employee of such school, unless he shall have first immediately proceeded to the administrator's offices and identified himself to the principal or the principal's designees;

(6) enter and remain in any public, private or parochial school, or on surrounding school grounds within three hundred (300) feet of the school building, after being requested to leave by the principal or his designee or within three hundred (300) feet of any surrounding school grounds or fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities.

(7) willfully destroy, remove, damage, alter or in any manner deface any property not his own, in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or on the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities.

(8) borrow or attempt to borrow any money or thing of value from any student in any public, private or parochial school or on any public, private or parochial school property in the City or during any time when any such student is going to or returning from any regularly scheduled session of any such school without first obtaining the written approval of the principal of such school or other persons designated by the principal of such school to issue such written approval.

(9) be on any school grounds after dark unless he is actively engaged in school sponsored functions, supervised recreational activities, or is participating in an athletic event or is a spectator of such event.

(10) insult, accost, molest or otherwise annoy, either by word of mouth, sign, or motion, any person in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or on the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities.

(11) collect or stand in crowds, or arrange, encourage, or abet the collection of persons in crowds for illegal or mischievous purposes in any private, public or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or on the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities.

(12) obstruct, resist, hinder or oppose any member, employee, teacher or principal of any public, private or parochial school or school board in the discharge of his duties as such in any public, private or parochial school or on the surrounding school grounds or the fields or grounds lawfully used for school activities.

Severability. The Acts prohibited by the preceding subparagraphs of this section 3 are declared to be severable, and under the finding of any court of competent jurisdiction that any portion of this ordinance or any subparagraphs hereunder shall be for any reason void or unenforceable, shall not effect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance.

SECTION 4: Penalties. Any person who on conviction of any of the acts of disorderly conduct as in this ordinance specified shall be punished by fine not to exceed $100.00 or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety days (90) or by both fine and imprisonment at the descretion of the trial court, upon each count or offense of which such person shall be convicted.

SECTION 5: Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect July 1, 1973 days following its enactment.

Adopted by the City Council of the City of Charlevoix, this 4th day of June, 1973.

Elementary Staff Bids Farewell to 2 Teachers

Teachers at the Elementary School held a farewell party last Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Charles (Esther) Bleha and Mrs. James (Josephine) Cunningham who are leaving the school system.

Mrs. Bleha is retiring after 18 years as a teacher at the Elementary School. Mrs. Cunningham is moving with her family to Jasper, Alberta, Canada, this summer.

A native of Oberlin, Ohio, Mrs. Bleha attended Oberlin public schools and graduated from Oberlin College.

She was married to Charles Bleha in Charlevoix in October, 1933.

Mrs. Bleha didn't start teaching until after her two sons were grown. Thomas is with the State Department in Washington, D.C., and John is with Proctor and Gamble in Cheboygan.

She taught first grade for 11 years before she became the remedial reading teacher in 1966. For the past year she has taught second grade.

Mrs. Bleha's retirement plans are indefinite, although they are sure to include plenty of travel. She and her husband are planning a trip to the Far East, possibly around the world, in 1975.

Bleha, who used to own his own grocery business in the 300 block of Bridge-st. and later joined the Kroger Co., has been retired for the past two years.

A native of Flint and a resident of Charlevoix since 1968, Mrs. Cunningham has been an aide in the Elementary School Learning Center for the past year.

Charlevoixans Attend Lions' Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fochtman of Charlevoix attended the state Lions Convention at Grand Rapids civic auditorium over the weekend.

Wood is president of the Charlevoix Lions for the current year. Fochtman was president last year.

Co-Workers Fete Mrs. Murray, R.N.

Mrs. Murray has retired after more than 18 years in the field of nursing, including five years at Charlevoix Hospital, five years at Little Traverse Hospital and more than eight years as a nurse for Dr. William L. McCullough.

Cake and punch were served at the reception and Mrs. Murray received a white gold watch and Petoskey stone earrings from her co-workers.

Ebenezer School Holds Graduation

By Anne Osterhaan

Commencement exercises were held June 1 at the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church for 10 students of the Atwood-Ellsworth Ebenezer Christian School.

Rev. M. VanderVliet, local pastor, gave the commencement address.

The class song was "Try a Little Kindness," class colors were the rainbow, and the class Bible verse was Proverbs 16, verse 24.

The "Trumpet" is the school newspaper and is published by the Eighth Grade every two weeks. It contains news from all the classes, as well as contributions by teachers, parents and former students.

Principal Krause, Miss Postma and Mrs. T. VanderSlik all have signed contracts to return next year. (Photo by Don Smith)

NAVY Seaman Recruit William K. Moore son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Moore of Route 1, and husband of the former Miss Celeste T. Murdick of 406 W. Hurlbut, all of Charlevoix, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center here. He is a former student of Charlevoix High School.

No Secrecy, Please, In Watergate Probe

Based on his performance last week, we're not looking for much more than whitewash, or the appearance of whitewash, from Archibald Cox, the special prosecutor investigating the Watergate bugging incident.

On Monday, Cox asked Sen. Sam Ervin to call off his Senate investigation for four months because he thought Ervin might be jeopardizing his case. The senator, of course, refused.

On Wednesday, Cox asked U.S. District Judge John Sirica to order the Senate Watergate committee to hear potentially incriminating testimony in closed session, or at least without radio and television coverage.

Cox's appeal was in connection with a motion from the committee asking Judge Sirica to grant immunity to ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III and Jeb Stuart Magruder, former deputy director of the Nixon campaign committee.

"The most appropriate order would be one requiring the testimony to be taken in executive session without subsequent public disclosure," Cox said.

But he added: "Bearing in mind the decision of the Senate Select committee to push forward with public hearings, the most appropriate condition would seem to be the exclusion, during the giving of compelled self-incriminating testimony, of live or recorded radio, television and other coverage not permitted at a criminal trial."

For our money, it is just the type of secrecy proposed by Cox that led to the Watergate bugging in the first place.

Neither are we particularly concerned about seeing any of the principals in the case lodged behind bars.

If immunity is required for either Dean or Magruder to get at the facts of the case, let there be immunity.

Public disclosure of exactly what happened at Watergate is the prime concern today -- almost one year after the terrible blunder by The Committee to Re-Elect the President.

Unless the public is convinced of absolute candor in the handling of the Watergate investigation, confidence in the government's ability to police itself certainly will continue to wane.

Although Sen. Ervin's televised hearing are sometimes tedious, the impression comes through loud and clear that there are still a few able, moral men in the nation's capital. To silence Sen. Ervin now would do the nation a great disservice.

Should Out-of-Towners Use Our Sewage Plant?

Members of Council
City of Charlevoix
Charlevoix, Mich. 49720.

Dear Council Members:

This note is coming your way because I noticed in this weeks Courier a request by Attorney John Michael for a fast decision on your part regarding the cost of extending the waste disposal facilities to the former Camp Charlevoix property. Furthermore I understand there is little or no doubt but that it will be extended, with the aid of Federal funds.

It is my understanding that the new facilities are now adequate to handle the growth within the City as will as that now being planned in Hayes Township. My question is, if this project is to keep any one else within a reasonable distance from Charlevoix to ask for and get the same treatment, and if they do, how long will our system be adequate.

All of this disturbs me greatly because I (and I am only one of many) have lived within the limits of the City of Charlevoix for 26 years, and still do not have the advantages of city sewer, but I am assessed on my taxes to pay my share for the construction and operation of this new facility, and even in the latest planning for extension of the system, it will not reach my property, and many others.

Since Federal funds seem to be available to extend this service five miles from Charlevoix, why is it not available for completing the system within the City itself, and if this is not a possibility, it appears to me that those of us who will never enjoy this service are being unjustly, perhaps even illegally, forced through taxes to pay for something we may never get.

In an effort not to become, or even sound like an old grouch, it would be nice if we could hear what some of you other residents feel on this subject.

Sincerely yours

Arthur R. Hellig.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Heilig is not alone in wondering about the use of Charlevoix's waste water treatment plant by non-Charlevoix residents.

City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna sees no way that the developers of Camp Charlevoix will receive federal funds to bring their sewer line into Charlevoix.

Furthermore, he says that when the sewage rates for the development are established, they will take into account that the residents of Charlevoix are paying approximately 36 percent of the cost of the new sewage plant with a $700,000 bond issue.

Rates paid by the out-of-town users will reflect their share of the new plant.

Federal law does require that municipalities which receive financial assistance from the government for their waste water treatment plants must allow persons living outside the corporate limits to tie into the system.

Hanna says that persons living inside the city who do not have access to a sewer line may petition the city for extention of existing sewer lines, just as the residents of May-st. have done. But like everyone else in town, they will be subject to a special assessment to pay for the line which serves them.

Hanna admits that there is no limit to the distance that a developer may run his lines to tie in with the city system. However, he feels that distance and costs will be determining factors.

The city superintendent says the new plant is designed to meet the needs of Charlevoix and environs for the next 17 years (1990). When the plant opens in the next few days, it will be running at about one-fourth capacity. In 1990, addition of two more sludge tanks and two more final settling tanks will almost double the plant's capacity.

Hanna believes that it is good economies and proper use of the expensive equipment to keep the plant operating on a 24-hour basis.

The developers of Camp Charlevoix are talking about installing a holding tank on their property which will serve as a collection point for all sewage during daylight hours. In the evening, when flow from the city diminishes, accumulated waste at Camp Charlevoix will be pumped in for processing.

Our Schools Are Doing Great Job

Charlevoix, Mich
June 8, 1973

The Charlevoix Courier
Bridge St
Charlevoix, Mich

Dear Mr. Clock:

As one who attended last Wednesday evening's graduation exercises I would like to commend all who had a part in it. I was proud of our school system which had done its part in giving this fine class such a good foundation for further education either in institutions of higher learning or from the school of life itself.

Who can be worried about any future Watergates when we hear support for honesty and integrity from our salutatorian? Look at the list of those receiving awards or scholarships to colleges and universities. I can share the pride their parents must feel in these students. Where else but in Charlevoix can you hear such wonderful music as "The Marriage of Figaro" played by our A-1 high school band under the able direction of Mr. Clarence (Odie) Odmark? The speaker, Mr. Tom F. Bartley, gave us all much needed advice in his 10-point program on "How to Manage Yourself." And so I say thank you to the parents, the school officials and the teachers for keeping the faith with our young people.

Yours truly,
A taxpayer

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my congratulations to the 1973 Graduating Class of Charlevoix.

Eight years ago I was privileged to have some of you in my Fourth Grade Class. I was a first year teacher then and you were very special to me. Each of you will always be a part of my fondest memories.

My very warmest and best wishes to each of you in all the years to come.

Sincerely,

Campbell Designed Statue Base

June 11, 1973

Dear Bob Clock,

We would like to thank John Campbell, landscape architect, for the handsome design he submitted for the base of the statue presented by Nathan Cummings to the Art Committee of the Friends of the Library.

The statue by Abbot Pattison has been placed at the entrance of the Charlevoix Hospital at the request of Mr. Cummings and with the Hospital Board's approval.

Mr. Campbell's attractive brick design not only enhances the appearance of the figure but it conforms to the overall appearance of the building very nicely. In addition, Mr. Campbell has incorporated a bench around the base of the statue which is a great convenience for hospital visitors.

We thank Mr. Campbell for donating his professional talents to the community of Charlevoix.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Julius Gilbert
Chairman, Art Committee
Friends of the Library.

Clockwise

They Ask Us!

By BOB CLOCK

I like the way the Department of Agriculture does business.

Unlike other governmental agencies which inundate us with press releases about what they are doing or what they intend to do, Department of Agriculture people ask us what we think they should do.

It's a refreshing change from the dictatorial, unilateral decisions that seem to be the hallmark of big government.

A case in point is a press release which appears in this week's Courier on the school milk program, which is subsidized by the Agriculture Department. The department wants to know if something besides "fluid whole milk" shouldn't be introduced in the schools.

The agriculture people are thinking of broadening the definition of milk to include lowfat, skimmed or cultured buttermilk, flavored or unflavored, in addition to whole milk.

I, for one, intend to put in my bid for skimmed milk and I'm sure Judy will do the same as soon as she sees the paper.

We are in the process of raising four kids. The first two started out on homogenized milk -- with plenty of butterfat globules in suspension. Our kids were forever spitting up all over themselves and us. We thought that was what babies were supposed to do.

The second two are skimmed milk babies. They have never tasted whole milk and I can honestly say they have never had a decent stomach upset between them. And they drink skimmed milk by the gallon.

Today, the whole family drinks skimmed milk at home although the two older children have nothing but whole homogenized milk in school. Some days they find it is just too rich for them so they bring it home and Judy uses it in cooking.

If you would like to voice your opinion on whether schools should offer skimmed milk, drop a line to Herbert D. Rorex, director, Child Nutrition Division, Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C, 20250. And do it before July 5 because that's when the Ag people are going to make up their minds.

It is strange the changes that have taken place in our thinking about milk over the years. When I was a kid, my father thought that "raw milk" right from the cow was the answer to the world's ills. Although we drank pasteurized milk in the city, summer vacations were something else. There was always a farmer just down the road or across the lake who had his own dairy. And that's where we bought our milk.

It came right from the cow, to the pail, to the bottle to us. And it wasn't exactly refrigerated before you bought it. If we were lucky, the farmer would have a fieldstone milk house with a flowing stream swirling through it to cool his dairy products. If he didn't you drank milk still warm from the cow.

None of us ever came down with undulant fever, however, but dairymen tell me today that we were just plain lucky.

In those days, milk and cream came in the same bottle, with the cream on top and the milk on the bottom. You had to shake it up if you wanted whole milk. If you wanted just cream, you'd pour it off the top, leaving you with what must have been skimmed milk.

If you weren't sure where the cream stopped and the milk started, you could buy a little siphon at the dime store that would draw off the cream only.

The homogenizing process ended the separation problems but apparently some kids, including mine, just can't stomach such rich milk. Maybe they won't have to by next fall.

Terrible Jeanie, The Tennis Meanie

By JIM FITZGERALD

You could have knocked me over with a weak backhand.

Fifty-five-year-old Bobby Riggs whipped Margaret Court, a young Amazon, at tennis. And she promptly alibied that he had played a sneaky game.

Female tennis players must be all alike. The same thing happened to me, 35 years ago, when I would beat another Amazon, Terrible Jean, on the tennis courts of Pine Grove Park.

You remember Terrible Jean. She was my big sister. Well, she still is, for that matter. But today I call her "big sister" only in reference to the fact that she is much older than I. Likewise it is also for age reasons only that I call my three younger sisters "little sisters". The "littlest" one, for instance, could pound me into the floor without raising her fists above her hips. And, the next time she sees me, she probably will, Lord have mercy.

But that's another battle named Linda. You'll have to excuse my emotional rambling when the subject is sisters. I grew up with four of them, no brothers, a father who traveled a lot, and a mother who volunteered me for the draft when I was 16. The experience left scars on my psyche which still throb today when the right trauma is touched.

Before I became hysterical, I was recalling the bigness of Terrible Jean about 1938, when I was still a puny little boy and she was the tallest thing in town without an elevator. We used to play tennis. She would stand at the net with both arms raised and dare me to hit the ball by her. When the sun was behind her, my side of the court was in darkness. I was trying to hit the ball out of a tunnel with the exit blocked by a giant redwood that snarled.

The first summer we played, Terrible Jean was unbeatable. Her strategy was to smash the ball into my mouth. I was too skinny to swallow it and too weak to spit it back over the net. The pure in heart lost. Might won out.

Terrible Jean was a marvelous winner. To celebrate each victory she'd do something exciting such as throw me in the St. Clair River. I couldn't swim but the tennis ball stuck in my mouth kept me afloat.

The 2nd summer I got cute. I learned how to lob the ball over her head (the ball didn't come down for five minutes). I also learned how to put English on the ball so it took weird bounces. Terrible Jean would run and swing and miss. It was glorious. Suddenly I was winning, winning, winning.

But the glory was short-lived. Terrible Jean took the exaltation out of my triumphs by accusing me of being a dirty player. She said it was illegal to make the ball bounce funny. She said it wasn't good for the tennis balls. She threatened to report me to the playground supervisor and she said she'd tell Daddy when he got home.

Everytime I beat Terrible Jean, for gosh sakes, she made me feel like a crook. I used to run hide when the park policeman drove by.

So can it be any wonder my psyche quivered when big Margaret Court made unfair accusations against little Bobby Riggs? He's lucky she didn't throw him in the river.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

For more than 21 years the bets on local elections by village citizens were based on the candidates potential for firing T.J. Barber, the duly appointed engineer, a capable individual both professionally and politically. Bi-annually he became the focus of ouster efforts by a newly elected mayor and a realigned council reinforced by a vocal, often misinformed gallery of partisans. TJ's forces, complacent from years of victories, became genuinely alarmed in the summer of 1927 when their favorite was hailed into chambers to answer certain incriminating charges, to wit:

1. Appropriation without records of 16 lengths of clay sewer tile and four lengths of $^3/_4$-inch water pipe.
2. Use of municipal employes and equipment for private purpose.
3. No approved permits and no top-in fees paid.
4. Cover up on an illegal act.

The "waterpipe scandal," as it came to be known brought an army of ecstatic anti-TJ forces to the arena accompanied by an equal number of apprehensive, but nevertheless, voluble enemy forces. With a bang of the gavel the inquisition commenced to probe the free utilities installation provided Widow McCutcheon. As the indictment unravelled with increasing violence and diminishing logic, the opposing factions manipulated their bets according to the emerging facts sprinkled sparsely into the expanding web of long standing animosities and the inflexible technical opinions of the layman crusaders.

Battle was joined after a few preliminary skirmishes with the following questions and answers.

Q. Did you not provide Mrs. M. with a free sewer and water installation?

A. How many present know Mrs. M. by sight?

Q. Will you just answer questions? You are the one on trial.

A. My question is most relevant. I demand a fair hearing!

After a whispered conference, the elected officials awakened learned counsel to decide this point of law. He ruled for the defendant and returned to slumber as the assemblage answered with a negative shake of the head. TJ spoke something into the ear of a trusted aide who nodded and left the meeting.

Q. Did you not cover up the evidence?

A. I did not cover it in the sense you imply. I buried it five feet deep. I always comply with the code.

Q. Can you produce vouchers, approved permits and the fees paid?

A. The missus laundered the papers with my overalls. I have sent someone to pick up the fees.

Eager to return to more familiar parliamentary practice the meeting erupted in a barrage of charges and countercharges, delivered with more rhetoric then accuracy. Hostilities ceased upon the entrance of a small fragile woman in her 60's clutching a worn hand bag protectively against a cheap cloth coat.

"I'm very sorry to get you into all this trouble, Mr. Barber," she quavered tucking a stray wisp of grey hair under her outdated hat. She approached the governing dignitaries, her left leg dragging as from stroke.

"The permits cost $20," she acknowledged, peering through steel rimmed spectacles at the officials suddenly preoccupied with papers lying before them.

"I can pay $2 now and a dollar a month," she offered hesitantly.

At the door, she turned to smile gratefully at TJ.

"Thank those wonderful men of yours who dug the ditch on my property during their lunch hour."

The closing door triggered an embarrassed scuffling of feet and averted glances as TJ scanned the audience with compassionate eloquence.

"Why not charge it to experience?" TJ replied in measured tones and the august body nodded its concurrence.

"That was pretty sound political advice – charging if off to experience," TJ mused later over a glass of dandelion wine.

"The very best," agreed his visiting sister-in-law, a diminutive, grey haired dramatic teacher from downstate.

The real Mrs. M., a buxom matron in her 40's, never knew her benefactor had been called on the carpet.

Safety Valve

QUESTION: I want to buy a good used motorcycle for myself for transportation to and from work this summer. I found one that looks to be in good condition, but how can I find out if the mileage reading is accurate – or has been tampered with? G.H., Traverse City

ANSWER: The legislature sought to protect the buyer by passing the following Act in 1970.

"Any person who alters the mileage registered on the odometer of a motor vehicle offered for sale or lease other than by setting it at zero, or who offers for sale or lease any vehicle with knowledge that the mileage registered on the odometer thereof has been altered without disclosing the facts to the prospective purchaser other than by setting it at zero, or any person who modifies the odometer by tampering, or by the elimination, substitution or addition of components designed to increase, delete or prevent the registering of mileage, is guilty of a misdemeanor. It is not a violation of this act to delete or change odometer mileage registered in the course of predelivery testing of any motor vehicle by its manufacturer prior to its delivery to a dealer."

NOTICE

PENNDEL COMPANY and GEORGE P. BAKER, RICHARD C. BOND AND JERVIS LANGDON, JR., TRUSTEES OF THE PROPERTY OF PENN CENTRAL TRANSPORTATION COMPANY, DEBTOR, hereby gives notice that on the 21st day of March, 1973, they filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D.C., an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting abandonment of a portion of the GR&I Branch extending from MP 257.9 near Cedar Springs, Michigan in a northerly direction to MP 459.8 at Mackinaw City, Michigan, a distance of 201.9 miles, in Kent, Montcalm, Mecosta, Osceola, Wexford, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Antrim, Otsego, Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan Counties.

The line for which the abandonment application has been filed includes the stations of Sand Lake, Pierson, Howard City, Morley, Standwood, Big Rapids, Reed City, Leroy, Tustin, Cadillac, Missaukee Jct., Manton, Walton Jct., Fife Lake, South Boardman, Kalkaska, Antrim, Mancelona, Alba, Elmira, Boyne Falls, Petoskey, Kegomic, Alanson, Pellston, Levering and Mackinaw City, Michigan. This application has been assigned Docket No. AB-5 (Sub-No. 159). In the opinion of the Applicant, the requested Commission action will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment. The proceeding will be handled without public hearings unless protests are received which contain information indicating a need for such hearings. In accordance with the Commission's regulations (49CFR 1100.250) in Ex Parte No. 55 (Sub-No. 4), Implementation - Nat'l Environmental Policy Act, 1969, 340 ICC 431 (1972), any protests may include a statement indicating the presence or absence of any effect of the requested Commission action on the quality of the human environment. If any such effect is alleged to be present, the statement shall include information relating to the relevant factors set forth in Ex Parte 55 (Sub-No. 4), supra, Part (B) (1)-(5), 340 ICC 431, 461. Any person opposed to this abandonment application should advise the Commission promptly, with an original and six copies, identifying the docket number, including sub number, and send a copy to Mr. Charles E. Meehem, 1138 Transportation Center, Six Penn Center Plaza, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 19104.

All protests submitted shall be filed with the Commission no later than June 30, 1973.

24 Ellsworth Seniors Feted at Commencement

Twenty-four seniors received diplomas from Ellsworth Community School in commencement exercises June 6.

The processional was played by Miss Pat Drenth, followed by the invocation by Rev. M. VanderVliet.

Joe Drenth delivered the salutatory address and Timothy Wynsma the valedictory address.

Mrs. JoAnn Best sang "We've Only Just Begun", which was the class motto, and the seniors sang the class song, "We'd Like to Teach the World to Sing."

Awards were presented by Robert Gaunt, superintendent, who also presented the class. Diplomas were presented by John Best, a member of the board of education.

Rev. VanderVliet delivered the benediction and Miss Drenth played the processional.

Shelly Batten and Fred Vail served as honor guards and Ann Evans, Kay Harthorn, Joni Peterson, Steve Essenberg, Hank Kulhawick and Allen McConnell were ushers.

Members of the class of '73 are:

Darla R. Best, Maxwell J. Bolser, Brenda E. Brooks, John L. Danbert, Sonia F. DeVries, Joy A. Drenth, Darlene L. Groesser, Joan L. Hizelberger, Lou Ann Jerome, Leonard G. Kirby, Debrah L. LaWay, Kerry E. Leight, Kathleen C. Mathews, Cesar Orozco, Sheryl K. Penfold, Duane A. Reidel, Loretta K. Richardson, Paul A. Stanfield, Barbara J. Vanderberg, Richard J. VanStedum, Sally L. Wattle, Michael J. Walleck, Landon J. Wieland and Timothy J. Wynsma.

A severe thunderstorm broke just before the ceremony began, and police urged school officials to proceed with all possible haste since a tornado warning had been posted for the area.

Obituary

Kanoff

Funeral for Peter Kanoff, 56, a former resident of Charlevoix, was held June 12, at Lorenzen Mortuary, Reseda, Calif., with burial at Reseda.

Mr. Kanoff died unexpectedly Sunday at Woodland Hills, Calif.

The Kanoff's moved to Charlevoix from Detroit in the late 1940's and Mr. Kanoff operated a shoe repair shop, was employed by the Charlevoix Police Department and later worked for Courter Electric in Boyne City.

The family moved west in 1966.

A Marine veteran of World War II, he is survived by his widow, Lois; two sons, Gary Kanoff of Canoga Park, Calif., and Donald of Los Angeles; two step children, Mrs. Carol Beeman of Los Angeles and Douglas Burgess of Chatsworth, Calif., and six grandchildren.

Marchers Needed For Parade

More help is needed to make the 1973 Venetian Festival the biggest and best ever, according to Tom Merta, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce.

This year's festival will be held July 27 through July 29, with the street and boat parades scheduled July 28.

Merta is particularly interested in securing more entries for the street parade and asks all organizations to consider a parade entry.

He is looking in particular for marching bands, riding bands, color guards, horse troupes, floats, drill teams and floats.

He also would like to have a large and colorful contingent of decorated bicycles in the parade, which starts at noon.

If you or your group would like to enter, contact Merta at the chamber office, 547-2102.

Obituary

Stanek

Funeral services for William J. Stanek, 75, prominent retired businessman who died at his home Monday, will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic church at 9 a.m. Wednesday, the Rev. Tom Hanna Wins Vote of Confidence

The City Council Monday evening gave City Administrator Thomas Hanna a "vote of confidence" by a 4-2 vote.

The resolution, sponsored by Alderman Sam Supernaw, was supported by Alderwoman Jeannine Wallace and Aldermen Robert Timms and Richard Fochtman. Aldermen Richard Plumm and Gerald Selph voted against the resolution.

The vote of confidence thwarted the second attempt within the last five weeks by Mayor Edward P. Hansen to remove Hanna from office. The council stated that the mayor must submit the name of a successor to Hanna before it will act to remove Hanna from office.

Hanna now remains as City Administrator, pending a list of possible replacements that the Mayor may submit to the council if he so chooses.

In other action, the council heard a request by Lee Moerland that the property directly east of the Sand Castle reconstruction be rezoned. Presently zoned as R2, Moerland wanted the council's assurance that the property would be reclassified as commercial. The 90-ft. strip of land is owned by Charles Taylor of Little Rock, Ark.

The council was also unable to give Moerland a current cost estimate or a projected date for initiation of construction on the May Street sewer.

Tom Duke then presented council with a proposal for construction of an airplane hangar at the airport.

Duke said the group he represented would do all work necessary for the building of the hangar. They would then give the hangars to the city. In return, they want an option of leasing the hangars from the city, with the right to sublet, for 20 years at $1 per year.

The proposed hangar would measure 52 x 225 feet. Plans would be subject to approval by the state.

Council will hold a special meeting on Monday, June 25 to discuss the proposal.

Norman Ance asked the council that he be advised of all committee meetings concerning a new zoning ordinance. He also reminded the council to publish the proposed new zoning ordinance before the final public hearing.

Ivan Whitley and Thomas LaBlance advised council that the city was in need of a building inspector. Both men complained that presently there is no person to insure that building permits are followed by builders.

The council also:

--Moved to have bids for the dump truck and two ¾ ton pick-ups resubmitted. Specification 10, calling for an eight cylinder engine with 275 lb. torque, was deemed excessive by the council.

Bids will be opened at the next council meeting.

--Approved a contract for the mutual maintenance of roads with the Michigan State Highway Commission.

--Passed the salary schedule as recommended by the finance committee.

--Contracted Newman Display Service to repair the city's street parade float at a cost not to exceed $800.

--Allocated $550 to purchase fireworks for the Venetian Festival.

--Sent to the Docks and Harbor Committee a request by Alderman Timms that he replace pilings in the city harbor. Timms would refurbish an unusable 12 strip at the city dock in return for summer docking privileges and a nominal fee.

--Referred to City Attorney Robert Hoffman for drafting a bicycle ordinance. The ordinance would require registration of all bicycles within the city with a fee of 25 cents per year.

--Heard a report from Alderman Fochtman on the new radar equipment the City Police Department is considering for purchase to crack down on speeders.

--Approved a letter to the Camp Charlevoix development detailing the cost of sewage disposal. The development of 900 condominiums will tie into the city's sewage system.

--Approved the city's sponsoring of tennis lessons at the new city tennis courts through the summer. Cost of the lessons will be 6 lessons for $5.

--Approved the payment of bills totalling $62,910.97.

Station Operators Feel Fuel Shortage

By JIM REUS

Service stations in the Charlevoix area are beginning to feel the effects of the national fuel shortage, according to a recent spot check with station managers.

Many stations have been on a quota since the first of the year. But most stations are just now feeling the pinch caused by heavy resort traffic. The shortage should reach a peak during July and August, when tourist motoring is highest.

Quotas range from 90 percent of the volume sold last year to the same allotment as last summer.

Demand is up, however, due to an increased number of cars on the road. Anti-pollution devices required by the federal government are also taking their toll in reduced gas mileage.

"I was promised a 50 percent increase over last year," said Tim McArt of McArt's Total in Bayshore, "but was cut back 1,000 gallons for the month of June."

Thomas Carey, Total Leonard distributor in Boyne City, says all Total service stations in northern Michigan are experiencing cutbacks in supply. To counteract the shortage, Total stations have shortened their hours.

But even with reduced hours consumption is ahead of last year. The Clark Station, on U.S. 31 south of Charlevoix, cut its 24-hr. service six hours and is now open only from 6 a.m. until midnight. But even with the cut the station has gone over its quota in sales the last two months.

Muma's Sunoco Station, 100 Belvedere, is still operating at wintertime hours in an effort to cope with the shortage. But demand is still high because motorists remember to fill up during the station's hours.

Earl Muma sees as the solution removal of the new anti-pollution equipment required by the federal government. He doubts the effectiveness of limited hours or rationing the number of gallons per customer.

"Motorists will drive from station to station until they are filled up. Even with customer rationing, stations will still run dry."

But some stations are considering customer rationing for the peak months of July and August. The action is a last-ditch effort against the shortage.

James Keller from Jim's Standard Service, U.S. 31 north of town, predicts that if demand continues to rise, he will begin customer rationing.

He has already shortened his station's hours. But demand is still running even with last year.

"I'm not going to have enough," Keller said about anticipated consumption in July and August. "Unless motorists take note of the shortage and drive less, I'm going to have to ration fill-ups."

Though the shortage of gasoline should peak out during the summer, it won't subside with the end of the tourist season.

William Fotchman from Charlevoix Oil said the demand should switch from gasoline at the end of the summer to fuel oil. Charlevoix Oil has been on a quota since Jan. 1 and will remain on one through the year.

"Gas is in short supply this summer, and fuel oil will be short supply in the fall," Fotchman said.

CHIEF Norm Ramsdale of Charlevoix (left) and Chief Reginald Eiseman of Sault Ste. Marie installed a new "oscillating air" fog horn at the Charlevoix lighthouse last week. The old air horn gear, including compressors and air tanks, will be removed. The new horn won't have quite the range of the old (two miles compared to two and one-half), but the pitch is considerably higher. The change is being made at ports around the Great Lakes because of batteries and will continue to function even during power shortages. It is located on the northwest corner of the top deck of the light.

James McKimmy New Superintendent

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at a special meeting held Monday night, announced the appointment of James A. McKimmy as superintendent of the Charlevoix Public Schools.

McKimmy is presently serving as assistant superintendent of the Alma Public Schools.

At the same meeting the board offered a contract to Linda K. Liebold of Harper Woods as Middle School English and French teacher and read a communication from Cedar Point Amusement Land regarding the recent senior trip to the park at Sundusky, Ohio.

James McKimmy

McKimmy has served as a classroom teacher, football and wrestling coach and junior and senior high principal prior to being appointed assistant superintendent at Alma. He taught junior high mathematics and science and coached football at Battle Creek Springfield from 1960-62; taught mathematics and science while coaching freshman football and varsity wrestling at Alma from 1962-64; was a teacher-principal at Deerfield High School in Lenawee county 1964-65; was high school principal at Shelby high school from 1965 to 1969 and spent the 1969-70 school year at Cadillac as principal at the Cadillac Junior High School while doing research on the middle school / junior high school concepts in education. In 1970 he returned to Alma as assistant superintendent of schools.

McKimmy is a member of the Phi Delta Kappa professional Education Fraternity, the Michigan and American Association of School Administrators and the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. He has served as the president of the West Michigan Principal's Roundtable and Region Co-Chairman MASCD Drive-in conference for 1973.

Backyard Bible Classes Starting

A series of "Backyard Bible Schools" will be sponsored by the Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix starting Monday, June 25, and lasting through Friday, June 29.

The sessions start at 10 a.m. and last until 11:30 a.m.

Boys and girls ages five through 12 are welcome to take part.

Backyard Bible classes will be held at the home of Mrs. Marian Heeres, 303 Sheridan, phone 547-6688; Mrs. Mary Brock, Ferry-rd., 547-9774; Mrs. Dorothy Withers, Pine Point, 547-6862; Mrs. Elsie Redeker, 303 Central, 547-9492; Mrs. Margaret Martin, 309 W. Upright-st., 547-2455; Mrs. Jackie Klooster, Clipper View, 547-2070; Mrs. Elaine Westenbroek, 601 E. Dixon, 547-2227; and Mrs. Maxine Drenth, Marion Center, 547-2105.

Capt. Jack Begrow Wins Sailboat Race

At the tiller of a Pearson 36 called "Third Escape," Jack Begrow won the Charlevoix, Ironton, Horton Bay sailboat race Sunday with a corrected time of two hours, 43 minutes and 30 seconds.

Moderately strong east winds and considerable rain served to hold down the number of starters, but failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the participants, according to Rod Stebbins of the Charlevoix Yacht Club, sponsor of the event.

R. Pew, with an Apache 37, placed second with a time of 2-58-29, and L. Carsten with a Pearson Ensign placed third with a time of 3-05-15.

Following were Bill Kenifeck (Ericson 27), 3-06-02; Josh Barnes (Pearson Triton), 3-07-24; P. Hoadley (Pearson 30), 3-14-24; and Jim Miller (Pearson 26), 3-37-42. R. Elliott (HR-25) did not finish.

The next event scheduled by the Sailing Committee is a race July 1 from Charlevoix to Boyne City. Starting time is 9 a.m.

On July 4, the sailboaters will hold an "around the buoys" race at the Charlevoix end of Lake Charlevoix, followed by a beach picnic at Pine Point.

All skippers of boats 22-feet and over who are paid-up members of the Charlevoix Yacht Club are welcome to participate. Race fee is $15.

Swim Lesson Sign-up Slated

The Charlevoix Recreation Department is again sponsoring Red Cross Swimming Lessons this summer. The program is open to all persons above the age of five.

Courses will be offered for beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, junior and senior life savers and adult beginners.

Classes usually meet for 45 minutes three times each week. Sign up deadline is June 29, with classes scheduled to begin on Thursday, July 5. All classes will be held at the Depot Beach.

A qualified Water Front Swimming Instructor will be in charge of instruction. Fee for the lessons is $2.00 per person or $5.00 per family.

Registration may be secured at the City Hall in Charlevoix. For further information call the recreation department at 547-4272.

Mayor Hansen's Charges, Hanna's Response

The latest confrontation between Mayor Edward P. Hansen and City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna started at the tag end of a Finance Committee meeting June 11.

The meeting was attended by Aldermen Gerald Selph, George Plumm, Richard Fochtman, Jeannine Wallace, Mayor Hansen and Hanna.

Fochtman reportedly left the meeting shortly before midnight. After he left, the mayor presented a letter to the remaining council members asking for his resignation on grounds of malfeasance and misfeasance of duty.

"Mr. Thomas Hanna is hereby ordered to vacate the office of City Administrator and turn over to the Mayor or to a person appointed by the Mayor and/or the clerk of the City of Charlevoix all records, files, maps, plans, machines, vehicles, including all property of the City of Charlevoix heretofore intrusted (sic) to his care. Such vacation and severance will be made upon the presentation of this order forthwith," the letter concluded.

The mayor said he was making the move "in the name of the people of the City of Charlevoix" and "in the best interest of the City of Charlevoix."

Hanna said he told the mayor he was willing to resign, but volunteered to stay on until a replacement could be found and trained.

Following is the complete text of the mayor's letter, followed by Hanna's response to the specific charges.

To: The Common Council for the City of Charlevoix

Subject: Requested resignation of Thomas Hanna, Administrator

Gentlemen:

Mr. Hanna has asked for reasons why he should resign and some of the reasons are herein set forth for your information:

At the 1972 budget hearing, Alderman Timms asked Mr. Hanna: "Are there tens or hundreds of thousands of dollars in the electric fund?" Mr. Hanna answered "No!" Moments later the Mayor said: "Mr. Hanna, tell Mr. Timms how much money is in the electric fund." Mr. Hanna answered: "There is $240,000.00 in time Certificates, but $190,000.000 of it is pledged to the Sewage Treatment Plant project." It was further established that there was $90,000.00 in depository. The records show that there was actually $255,000.00 in time certificates, making a total of $345,000.00 in electric funds. We can excuse the error on amount, however, we cannot condone the deliberate attempt to deceive Mr. Timms, and the others present, as to whether or not there was over a third of a million dollars in the electric fund.

In June of 1972 it was expressly agreed between the Mayor and Mr. Hanna that Mr. Hutchinson would work up a report on the feasibility and aspects of improving north side electrical distribution with particular emphasis on the proposed supply to Charlevoix Township. Three times I have asked for this report. Now, after a year's delay, Mr. Hanna asks for an outside study saying that the study is beyond the capacity of the City organization with the cost of his proposed study being $7,000.00.

A similar situation exists regarding the up-dating of the airport plan in order to eliminate a non-compliance situation. Mr. Hanna told the Mayor that he would bring the plan up to date, put his stamp on it and indicated this would be done. Now six months later, Mr. Hanna asks for a $7,000.00 outside study.

Another project expected to be accomplished last year is the water loop in Boulder Park. No meaningful progress.

Another project expected to

Mr. and Mrs. Veli Binkert

O'Dell-Binkert Rites Have European Flavor

Janice O'Dell of East Lansing became the bride of Veli Binkert of Switzerland in ceremonies June 9 at the Bethany Lutheran Church, Charlevoix, the Rev. Duane Imig officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sundberg of 1306 Bridge-st., Charlevoix. The bridegroom is the son of Alfred Binkert of Regensdorf, Switzerland, and the late Liselotte Binkert.

The couple repeated their vows in the presence of their immediate families before an altar decorated with spring flowers.

Led to the altar by the Best Man Peter Binkert, the bridegroom's brother of Regensberg, Switzerland, the bride wore a floor-length, straw-colored dress with a square neckline and long Juliet sleeves. The gown was accented by embroidered ribbon trim and hem ruffles. She wore a garland of spring flowers in her hair and carried a matching bouquet.

Matron of Honor was Sandra Kiefer of Hopkins, Mich., who escorted the bridegroom to the altar, European-style. Mrs. Kiefer is a sister of the bride. She wore a full-length pink dress with a square neckline, white collar and short sleeves. She wore a white straw hat trimmed with a garland of flowers.

Barry Kiefer, a brother-in-law of the bride, and James Sundberg, the bride's brother, were ushers.

After honeymooning in the Charlevoix area, the couple will make their home at 1401-J, Spartan Village, East Lansing.

The new Mrs. Binkert is a senior at Michigan State University, majoring in journalism. The bridegroom attended Abendtechnikum in Zurich, Switzerland, and is a civil engineer.

Virginia Saunders is a patient in Little Traverse Hospital.

Mrs. J. Lambdon of Clinton, Tenn., was a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lambdon, at their local summer home recently.

Former local friends and neighbors extend their sincere sympathy to Mrs. Pete Kanoff and family on the sudden death of Mr. Pete Kanoff at his home in Woodland Hills, Calif. The family spent several years in Ironton and the children attended our local school. They will be remembered as former owners of the Neil Woodbury home.

The Ladies Fellowship met Tuesday evening and made plans for their annual bazaar in August. They are asking the church members and friends for donations of handmade articles which will be deeply appreciated.

Guests of Mrs. Lorena Beene Monday were an old friend, Mrs. Grace Dowling, and her friend, Mrs. Marian Finger of Barton City, Mich.

Mrs. Marie White of Paris, Ky., came Saturday to spend the summer in her cottage.

Mrs. Lorena Beene and Mrs. Sarah Staley of Petoskey attended the annual meeting Sunday of the Retired Association of Detroit Policemen held at the Bagley Township Hall in Gaylord. Twenty-year members were honored from the Detroit Police Department. They and several others were the honored guests.

Mrs. Wren Chellis of Ellsworth Mrs. Blanche Kuhn and Mrs. Ira Olney of Charlevoix and Mrs. Pearl Sinclair of East Jordan were guests at the home of Mrs. Walter Kemp this Wednesday.

Mrs. William Harrison of Middleton, Ohio, is spending several days in her summer local home.

DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

To showering. To dishwashing. To laundering. Anything that calls for hot water gets it—whenever it's needed. Because the McDermotts replaced their old water heater with a new, efficient Gas water heater. And it even operates for less than one third the cost of a comparable electric unit.

Whether your water heater needs replacing or not, you can save Natural Gas (and money, too) if you'll fix leaky hot water faucets promptly, operate your washing machine with capacity loads or use the water level control; use your dishwasher only when it is fully loaded; remember to lower the water heating setting if you used a higher temperature when laundering; and drain a pail of water from the water heater once a month to remove sediment from the tank and increase heating efficiency.

And if your water heater does need replacing, see the new efficient, Gas-saving, money-saving models at dealers, plumbers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company business offices.

Ward Pillsburys Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ward Pillsbury were honored Monday at a surprise family gathering on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The event was held at the couple's home on Eveline Orchard-Dr. on the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix.

Joining them for the occasion will be their daughters, Mrs. Gerald (Nancy) Mahoney of Grosse Pointe Farms and Mrs. Charles (June) Hastings of Boyne City, eight of their nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Their ninth grandson, Jon, is studying in Germany since his discharge from the U.S. Air Force and cannot be present.

Pillsbury and the former Marion Hallett were married in Detroit June 18, 1923, following their graduation in Wayne State University's first graduating class.

Pillsbury was a newspaper photographer with the Daily Mirror and later the Detroit Free Press; was "Picture Editor" from 1946 to 1951 and retired in 1965. Following his retirement, he built his present home. Prior to making their permanent home in rural East Jordan, they had spent their summers on Lake Charlevoix for 40 years. In his earlier years he navigated fishing trips during the summer to Lake Michigan and Lake Superior aboard his boat the 'Puritana'. He is presently a member of the Power Squadron. He enjoys sailing, photography, hunting, fishing, gardening and house remodeling.

Mrs. Pillsbury was employed by the Brown Art Corp. in Detroit during the years of World War II and attended art school at night while raising two daughters. Her interests include restoring antiques, hunting, fishing, gardening, and interior decorating.

Ski & Shore Opening Three New Offices

SKI & SHORE Properties officials (from left) C. Grant Rowe, vice president; Mrs. Jean Rowe and Jim McKinney, public relations director, participated in ground-breaking ceremonies for the new office which is stated to be open at the junction of US 131 and M-75 in Boyne Falls July 2. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will be managers. In the background is the famed Boyne Mountain ski slope.

New VP Appointed — In Expansion Move

Ski & Shore Properties, Inc. with five offices in Northern Michigan has announced the opening of three new offices. The Petoskey office opened June 15. The Indian River office will open June 22, and in Boyne Falls office July 2.

"These offices will better serve the sellers and buyers in Northern Michigan's finest residential-recreational region, and the fastest growing area in the nation," Richard E. Georgi, Ski & Shore president explains.

The Petoskey office is at 555 W. Mitchell-st. in the Kilwin's Candy kitchen building which was purchased recently through Ski & Shore.

Besides remodeling its own offices, the real estate company will convert the building for additional leased office space within 90 days.

The Ski & Shore Petoskey office will be managed by Don Snizik, 39, who sold his own company, Colonial Investment and Real Estate, Inc., in Howell and Williamston to join Ski & Shore as vice president in charge of the new office.

A native of Detroit, Snizik graduated from Albion College with a B.S. degree in 1960, prior to which he served as a Navy lieutenant in the Far East and San Diego, Calif.

Snizik, his wife, Carolyn, their two sons, aged 14 and 12, and two daughters aged 11 and 7, are taking up permanent residence in the Petoskey area.

The newly erected Ski & Shore Indian River office will open at the intersection of Highways M68 and old M27.

It is to be managed by Steven Shuman, 25, who is moving from Charlevoix to Conway.

A graduate of Ferris State College, where he received a business administration B.S. degree in 1970, Shuman has worked as a salesman in the Bellaire and Charlevoix offices of Ski & Shore since June 1971.

His wife "Marsey" is employed in the Closing Department at Ski & Shore's Charlevoix office.

One of the founders of Ski & Shore and a vice president of the corporation, H. Grant Rowe, 30, will take over the management of the Boyne Falls office, scheduled to open July 2, at the intersection of Highways US 131 and M75.

The Boyne Falls office building will be the proto-type for all future limited market Ski & Shore real estate offices.

A graduate of Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, Rowe has served as manager of the Bellaire and Charlevoix Ski & Shore offices.

A native of Troy, Ohio, he has summered in the Torch Lake area since childhood. Rowe and his wife, Jean, have known each other since they were seven years old and, coincidentally, are the children of the presidents of two different Ohio insurance companies.

The Rowe's have a six-month old son.

RECENT ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Ski & Shore Properties office in Indian River were attended by (from left) Mrs. Steven "Marsey" Shuman, of the Charlevoix office, Steven Shuman, and Don Hoffman and Dale J. Smith, co-managers of the Gaylord office. Shuman will manage the Indian River office, which is located in M-68 between I-75 and the junction of M-68 and old U.S. 27.

Mayor Hansen's Charges, Hanna's Response

On November 20, 1972, the Charlevoix City Council specifically instructed the City Administrator to take the necessary steps to secure the North bank of the channel to protect the City's utility crossing connections. On December 16, 1972 at 12:30 p.m. Mr. John Haggard called the Mayor and stated: "The sewer manhole on the North bank of the channel is in danger. You should take a look at it." The City Administrator had failed to secure the channel bank and the manhole was about to fall into the channel.

It took four hours on a Saturday afternoon to protect the tilting sewer connection. The administrator was not able to get it done in twenty-six days.

In February Mr. Hanna expressly recommended to the City Council that they hire the firm of McNamee, Porter & Seeley to do the plans and specifications for the May Street sewer project. He urged the Council to hire the firm at 8 percent of the project cost, which is estimated to be $250,000.00, or a fee of $20,000.00. Mr. Hanna presented that this would be a low price, and mentioned no options of taking of bids for the work. The Mayor was able to stop this effort to channel funds with no chance of anyone else having an opportunity to be considered for the work which in all probability would be illegal. Subsequent developments resulted in the Council now having hired the same firm for the same job at a price of $9,350.00 or an amount of $10,650.00 less than Mr. Hanna's individual attempt to represent the firm. This is a gross neglect by Mr. Hanna of his duty to look after the best interest of the City of Charlevoix.

In view of the gross neglect of his duty, the mounting impasse resulting from that neglect of duty, it becomes necessary that he be discharged from employment of the City of Charlevoix.

Therefore in the name of the people of the City of Charlevoix, and it being in the best interest of the City of Charlevoix, Mr. Thomas Hanna is hereby ordered to vacate the office of City Administrator and turn over to the Mayor or to a person appointed by the Mayor and or the Clerk of the City of Charlevoix, all records, files, maps, plans, machines, vehicles, including all property of the City of Charlevoix heretofore intrusted to his care. Such vacation and severance will be made upon the presentation of this order forthwith.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
By: Its Mayor
Edward P. Hansen

June 13, 1973

To: Common Council of the City of Charlevoix

Subject: Administrator's comments on the Mayor's letter to the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix regarding requested resignation of Thomas Hanna, City Administrator.

This matter has been discussed with Mr. Timms and while I have no recollection of such a conversation, there was evidently a misunderstanding of questions. It has never been my intent to deceive or mislead anyone. I fail to see what purpose such action would serve, especially in light of the fact that a cash summary is presented with the bills at each Council Meeting, and that the audit is not only a matter of public record, but a copy is given to each Council member.

Item 2. Agreement between the Mayor and Mr. Hanna that Mr. Hutchison would work up a report on the feasibility and aspects of improving the north side electrical distribution system.

There appears to have been some misunderstanding as to the function of our Utilities' Superintendent, Mr. Hutchison. It is true that the Mayor and I discussed the electric system in general and that I agreed to discuss the matter further with Mr. Hutchison. At no time have I indicated that Mr. Hutchison would conduct a feasibility study of the system or any part thereof. On the contrary, I presented to the Mayor, during some of our early discussions regarding the Utilities Superintendent's position, a copy of the job description as prepared at the time the Council directed me to hire a Utility Superintendent. It is stated clearly in this job description that outside engineers and consultants will be provided where necessary.

I would point out further that my concern over the development of long-range plans for our distribution system is nothing new, having been discussed with the Council in 1970 and a proposal was made to them in writing on two occasions in 1971.

Item 3. Airport master plan.

My only comment here is that the M.A.C. and F.A.A. requirements were changed from the updating of two existing drawings to the development of a set of ten or twelve drawings. This change, which created more work than I could handle, came about during a trip to Lansing, at which time Mr. Fochtman and I met with the Aeronautics people.

Item 4. Water-loop at Boulder Park.

Contrary to the statement in the Mayor's letter, "No meaningful progress", a considerable amount of progress has been made in resolving this problem. Rather than go into the long length efforts put forth by the City, I would only offer for the review of any elected official or private citizen, the Boulder Park Water file, which clearly documents the City's efforts to accomplish this water main improvement. My instructions from the Utility Committee some year-and-a-half ago, was not to proceed with this project until the City was assured that all benefiting property owners would bear the entire cost. When you consider the fact that this project involves eight property owners, six of whom do not live in this area, it is easy to understand why reaching the required agreements was no easy matter. If my unwillingness to proceed in the absence of assurances against undue cost to the City is neglect of duty, then I was neglectful.

This work is presently under construction.

Item 5. Grant Street paving.

This project is basically the same as the Boulder Park Water situation. Proceeding with the paving in the absence of the agreement of the benefiting property owners to pay their share would have put the City in a rather awkward position. A check of the files, which again will be gladly made available to not only elected officials, but to the public, will also verify the effort put forth by my office in obtaining the necessary agreements from property-owners. Because this could not be accomplished prior to the end of the paving season, this project was postponed until first thing this Spring.

Once again, I would ask, is the Administrator's unwillingness to allow the expenditure of money prior to protecting the City against incurring unnecessary costs is neglect of duty.

Item 6. Channel erosion and subsequent sewer manhole failure.

All steps authorized by the Council to protect the North Channel bank, were taken. To indicate that the channel erosion and eventual collapse of the manhole is a result of neglect of duty of the City Administrator is ridiculous and absurd in view of the fact that the Corps of Engineers expended approximately $50,000 to properly accomplish the project. Nowhere in the Council records can I find any authorization for the City Administrator to initiate a project of this scope. In regard to the events of December 16, 1972, I would only indicate that Mr. John Haggard's call at 12:30 p.m. was somewhat tardy and rather uninformative as the sewer manhole could hardly have been considered in danger since it had failed sometime during the night and that by the time Mr. Haggard called the Mayor, this matter was well in hand as is evidenced by the attached copy of memo to the file, dated December 19, 1972, outlining the events that took place.

Item 7. Engineering for the May Street sewer.

This matter has been, I feel, thoroughly thrashed out and resolved by the Council. But once again I would state that while I am being accused of promoting a particular engineer, this was not my intent the night I presented the proposed contract from McNamee, Porter and Seeley. Since they had done the initial May Street sewer work and some of the sewer and water studies authorized during the past years, it was obvious to assume, I felt, that the Council would continue with their services. I certainly neither had then, nor do I have now, any qualms about considering other engineers. My interest at the time was to get the project moving, a goal which the Mayor has indicated was his top priority.

I think the most interesting thing to note in this particular allegation is that if the Mayor wanted to consider other engineers, why did he go about this in such a secretive manner? Point in Case:

1. The appearance of a representative from Granger Engineering to make what I feel was a rather embarrassing presentation to a Council who appeared totally unaware of my prior conversations with that particular engineering firm, and the Mayor.

2. The offer of Mr. Greg Shadko's services at a 5 percent rate without any contract proposal as to what type, magnitude and extent of services to be rendered. Personally, I feel it would be irresponsible for the Council to authorize work of this magnitude without some contractual document. It is unfortunate that the Mayor did not see fit to make his wishes known to the Council so that you, as a group could go about the orderly task of interviewing engineers for this project.

This is a shining example, I feel, of the sickness which has prevailed in our City Government for the past several years. In summary, I have two observations:

1. Upon the analysis of the allegations, it would appear that they are a result of a deliberate attempt to create confrontation, rather than the product of an objective and honest evaluation of my performance.

2. In serving the City for the past three-and-one-half years, I have endeavored to act honestly, fairly, and in the best interest of the City, because of this, I have no qualms or fears about answering any allegations or explaining the reasons for my behavior as City Administrator. With this in mind, I would draw your attention to the first paragraph of the Mayor's letter in which he states, "some of the reasons". Let's discuss all of the reasons.

Respectfully submitted,
Thomas G. Hanna

MR. AND MRS. Clarence H. Smith of Charlevoix announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara June Smith, to Ronald James Winter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Winter of Kalkaska. The wedding will be Aug. 18 at the United Methodist Church in Charlevoix. The bride-elect is a 1969 graduate of Charlevoix High School and was Miss Charlevoix the same year. She graduated in April, 1973 from Western Michigan University where she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi education honorary. Her fiance is a graduate of Michigan State University and is on the faculty of WMU serving as director in intramural and recreational activities.

Witnesses Plan Detroit Convention

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has revealed completion of plans for a series of international conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses in 1973. Edward Thompson of Charlevoix will be among northern Michigan residents who plan to attend.

Spokesman Ronald Morgenthaler, presiding minister of the East Jordan congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said local members would attend the convention scheduled for Tiger Stadium in Detroit, June 20 to 24.

The theme of the conventions world wide is "Divine Victory" and will stress the Witnesses' belief in the certainty of Divine intervention in human affairs in order for man's problems to reach an ultimate and permanent solution.

"Tens of thousands of delegates will attend these conventions all over the world," Morgenthaler continued, "and regardless of national origin, race and cultural background they will meet unitedly to build their faith and appreciation in God and his Word, the Bible."

"This can only be accomplished through God's kingdom by Jesus Christ," Morgenthaler said.

Nelsons Cited For Nice Yard

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nelson, 204 Cherry-st., won the Garden Club plaque for the last two weeks in June.

The Nelsons were cited for their hard work and neatness. There isn't a weed in sight.

Second place winners were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford, 300 Meech-st., who have an interesting arrangement of driftwood, white pebbles and plants across the front of their yard, with a blaze of roses on the fence. A vegetable garden is doing nicely in the backyard.

North side judges were Mrs. Irene Graham and Mrs. Hilda Alexander.

Three-Ring Circus Slated

The King Brothers three-ring circus is slated to come to Charlevoix for the first week of August this summer.

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, the show (under the Big Top) will feature wild and domestic animals, acrobats, tumblers, jugglers, wire walkers, aerialists and clowns.

A special feature of the show will be the act of the famed King Brothers performing elephants. The show promises all the excitement and sounds of a traditional American circus.

The chamber will conduct an advance ticket sale. Proceeds from the circus will help finance Chamber of Commerce activities for the coming year, according to Tom Mertz, Executive Secretary of the chamber.

Engaged

MR. AND MRS. James Elliott, summer residents of Charlevoix, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Lee, to Charles Paul DiFrancesca of Deerfield, Ill. The engagement was revealed at a party at the Elliott's Sterling, Ill., home June 9. The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Sterling High School and has attended Colorado State University at Ft. Collins the past two years. Her fiance is a 1969 graduate of Waukesha High School, Waukesha, Wisc., and is a 1973 graduate of Colorado State University with a BS degree in psychology. A late autumn wedding is planned.

Educator Buys Villa Moderne

Holger Andersen recently returned deputy principal of Owosso High School, has purchased the Villa Moderne Motel on U.S. 31 South and has moved to Charlevoix with his family.

Andersen purchased the motel from Al Smith.

Andersen purchased the motel May 28 and assumed ownership June 10.

He and his wife, Maxine, have four sons. Pat is a school teacher at Perry and his wife, Linda, teaches at Hazlett. Steve is a student in the College of Education at Michigan State University. His wife, Shirley, teaches in Owosso. Dirk is a student at Lansing Community College, studying hotel and motel administration. And Mike will enter 7th grade in Charlevoix this fall.

A native of Edmore, Anderson first came to northern Michigan in 1938 when he was hired as a biology teacher at Boyne City High School. After five years, he left for a four-year hitch in the Navy.

After his discharge, he was with the Corunna school system 11 years, including five years as principal.

For the past 15 years he has been deputy principal at Owosso.

Always Mention..

IRV DROST (center), former manager of Colwell & Co.'s Charlevoix office, congratulates his successor, Donald Fuller of Ironton, as Ed Colwell looks on. Irv and Anne Drost have purchased the Indian River Inn and will be operating Colwell's Indian River office.

Fuller Colwell Manager

Edward Colwell has named Don Fuller of Ironton as manager of the Charlevoix office of Colwell & Co. Realtors.

Fuller, who has been with the firm since October, 1972, will replace Irving Drost, manager of the office since 1967.

Irving and Anne Drost are in the process of completing the purchase of the Indian River Inn and will be moving to that area in the next few weeks.

In conjunction with operating the Inn, the Drost's will open an Indian River Branch of Colwell & Co. with a full line of real estate services. Eric Drost will also be a partner in the Indian River operation.

In his announcement, Colwell expressed appreciation for the confidence that has been placed in the Colwell & Co. operation by Charlevoix area residents under Drost's leadership.

"I am confident that Mr. Fuller will be able to continue and expand the services offered by our office in Charlevoix," he said. "Don has demonstrated a sound working knowledge of the real estate business and has a real sensitivity to the needs of both buyer and seller in completing real estate transactions."

Fuller says the office will continue at its present location on South US 31 until such time as negotiation for a new office is completed. Additional sales staff for the business will be added in the near future.

The Charlevoix office is part of a network of Colwell & Co. offices with locations in Petoskey, East Jordan, Boyne City, and Walloon Lake. Additional offices will soon open in Harbor Springs, Indian River, and Gaylord.

Library notes

By Eleanor Rotigan

It is scarcely necessary to introduce anyone to the famous Fodor travel books. Forty-four titles have been published, 29 of which are thoroughly revised annually.

The Library is extremely proud to tell our readers that we now have a large selection of the 1973 editions, and the chances are that, no matter where you plant to go, we have a Fodor book to fil your needs. The books cover South America, the Scandinavian countries, Yugoslavia, Mexico, Spain, Hawaii, Britain, Italy, France, Germany and Greece.

Each volume contains the most up-to-date information for the traveler when to go, what to take, entrance requirements, student travel and study information, hotel rates, the cost of a typical tourist day, tipping, shopping and money matters. There is a tourist vocabulary and maps and marvelous color illustrations.

Even for the stay-at home, a Fodor travel book makes delightful reading and they are an invaluable reference source for students working on foreign country projects.

Also in our collection of new travel books are two Rand McNally Guides. One covers the Mountains and Plaines, and the other covers the Midwest. Each book is filled with maps and facts and unusual black and white photographs. In addition, there are special sections listing accommodations and restaurants, their locations and current information except for prices.

And we have the most current Rand McNally Road Atlas covering the United States, Canada and Mexico, completely revised and updates with U.S. census figures, radio station and mileage tables.

Slow-Pitch Season Starting

Charlevoix's Men's Slow Pitch League is again in action for the summer. Eleven teams are participating in games which began on Monday. All games are played at the West Diamond.

Games are played on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday through the summer. Three or four games are played each night, scheduled at 6:00, 7:15, 8:30 and 9:45 p.m.

Schedule for the week beginning June 20 includes:

WED., JUNE 20

Topside vs. Jim's Standard, 7:15; Freedman vs. Andy's, 8:30; and Portside vs. Woodshed, 9:45.

FRI., JUNE 22

American Mold vs. Coast Guard, 7:15; Airport vs. Townshouse, 8:30; and Jim's Standard vs. Medusa, 9:45.

MON., JUNE 25

CHARLEVOIX TOWNSHIP

ORDINANCE NO. 11

An ordinance for the purpose of supplying water to the Township of Charlevoix; for the administration of same; charges and rates; and enforcement.

Section 1. Administration. 1). The Township Supervisor shall be the administrator of the Water System, directly responsible for construction, alteration, repair and management. The Township Board may make rules and regulations as it deems necessary to assure efficient management and operation of the System. b.). Actual costs of the construction on the water system shall be transferred to a separate bookkeeping account and a separate bank account shall be established.

Section 2. Charges and rates. 1). Residents requesting connection to an existing water line will be charged a fee of $600.00 per unit. This service includes ¾" pipe to property line and meter. Cost of installation of the meter will be at the property owner's expense, with the approval of the Water Administrator. Fees for larger size line, or commercial or industrial connections to be negotiated by the Administrator. This fee is to be for the calendar year of 1973, with the Township Board setting the fees annually in subsequent years. b). The monthly rates for water supply shall be established: First 2,000 gallons at $4.00, which will be the monthly minimum bill; all above 2,000 at the rate of 80 cents per 1,000 gallons. c). Billing: All bills shall be rendered on a monthly basis and said bills shall show the amount due and, if not paid within fifteen (15) days after the date rendered, five percent (5 percent) of the bill shall be added thereto as a penalty for failure to make prompt payment.

Section 3. Enforcement. a). Charges for water shall constitute a lien on the property served. On or before October 1st of each year the Township Treasurer shall deliver to the Supervisor a certified statement of all water charges six months past due and unpaid. The Supervisor shall then place such charges on the next general tax roll and they shall be collected as part of the general Township taxes. b). The Township shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of water service charges and rates thereof, when due, and said water shall not be turned back on until such charges are paid in full and a turn-on charge of $2.00 is paid.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Judge Arthur [illegible]

Ray Gene Pittman, 29, Charlevoix, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and demanded a jury trial. He furnished $100 bond.

Kathleen Porter, 23, was allowed time to secure the services of counsel on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Case was continued.

Del Antoine, 52, Chicago, forefeited $25 bond on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Frank W. Gibbard, 17, Charlevoix; Ann Marie Berry, 18; East Jordan; and Richard M. Rebec, 18, East Jordan, plead guilty to entering a dwelling without permission. They were fined [illegible] each, placed on a midnight curfew and ordered to work 20 hours each for the City of East Jordan without pay.

William T. Hardy, 22, Boyne City, was assessed $50 for careless driving.

Donald King, 21, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of careless driving. He was released on personal recognizance. Trial will be held later.

Lester I. Hardy, Boyne City, was given additional time to secure counsel on a charge of possession of marijuana.

Betty Freed, 35, Boyne City, was given additional time to secure counsel on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Bond of $2,000 was furnished.

Lindon W. Wiser, 17, East Jordan, was given additional time to secure counsel on a charge of possession of marijuana. He was released on personal recognizance.

Gregory Bowden, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of non-support. He was released on personal recognizance.

Alan Noirot, 21, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed $50.

Andy Speigl, 20, Horton Bay, was assessed $50 and sentenced to three Sundays in jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended. He plead guilty.

Dorothy G. Kent, 48, East Jordan, was assessed $25 on a charge of simple larceny. She plead guilty.

Beaver Island

Mrs. Kathryn Dunbar is back at her home. She spent the winter in California and Colorado.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Johnny A. Gallagher are their son A.J. and his wife and children from the Soo. A. J. will return, but she will remain here for a few days. A. J. is with the Coast Guard at the Sault.

Frank Solle has returned home after attending North Central Michigan College in Petoskey. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Christie.

Jimmy Wojan and Tony Connaghon are home for the summer months from Ferris.

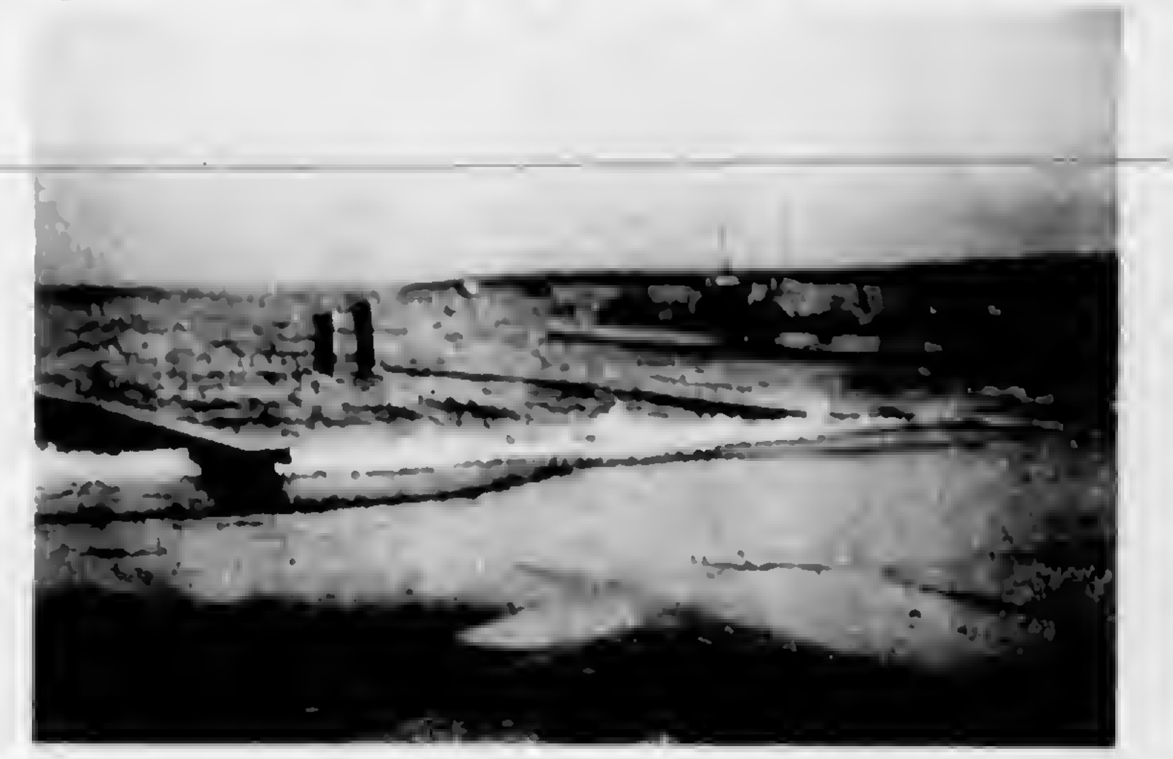
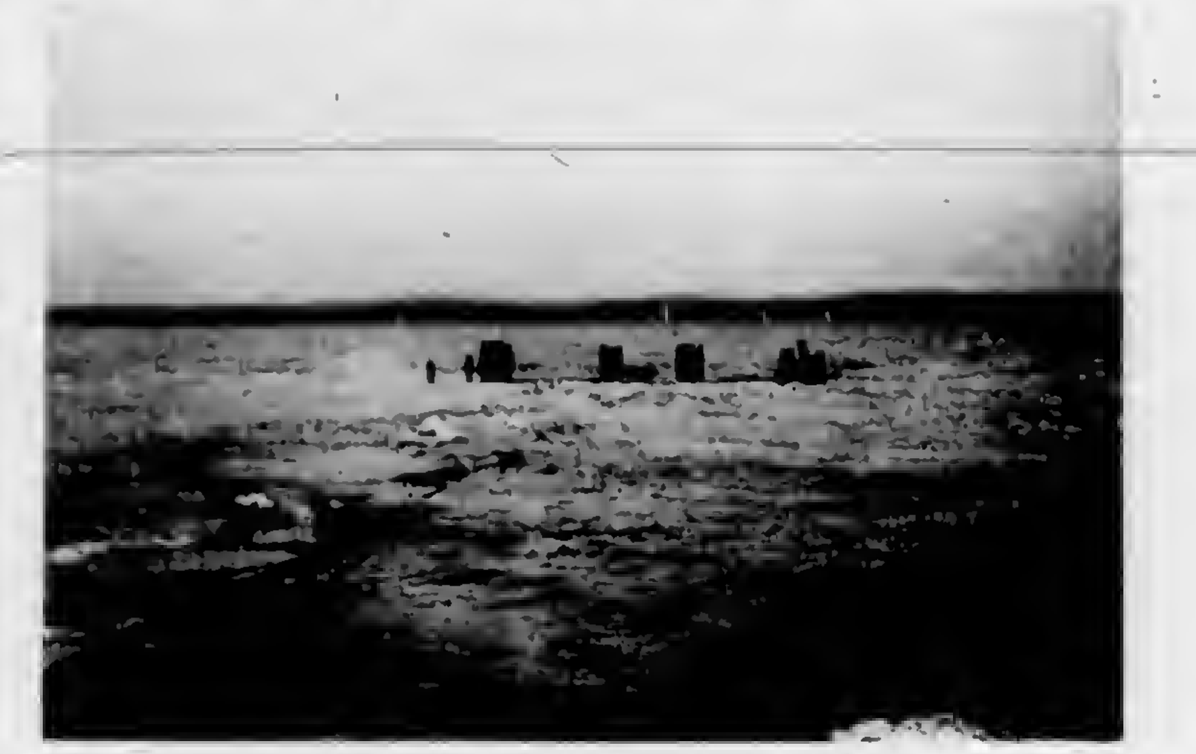
High Water at Ferry Beach



RAIN OVER the weekend didn't do anything to relieve Charlevoix's high water problems. At the city boat launching ramp above, easterly winds drove waves right into the parking lot.



THERE WON'T be much high diving at the Ferry Beach swimming area this summer. The concrete dock is under water and the diving platform is awash. Even seagulls got their feet wet Sunday.

Area 4-H'ers to Attend Project Show at MSU

More than 5,000 young people from across the state will be involved in Michigan State University's 4-H "Youth Action Day" this Saturday, June 23.

According to Carrie Edson, Charlevoix County extension 4-H Program Assistant, the event is open to the public from 9 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. and will feature demonstrations, workshops, live performances and "action exhibits."

"We hope to show the public what kinds of activities are available through the 4-H program," says Mrs. Edson. "More than 100 different youth interest areas will be represented."

Included will be continuous demonstrations on dog care and training, pinning insects, making puppets, first aid techniques, mod crafts, generating electricity, sewing, personal appearance, photography, shooting sports and fly and bait casting.

Activities designed to involve the public include sending up weather balloons, arranging flowers, milking a cow, and using computers. There will be several other opportunities for the public to actually "do" something, says Mrs. Edson.

In addition to the 4-H exhibits and demonstrations, General Motors will present a live science show entitled "Preview of Progress."

The event will be held rain or shine in MSU's Spartan Stadium Concourse.

TB Tests Set June 26

A TB testing clinic for food handlers will be held at the Charlevoix County Courthouse Annex Tuesday, June 26, from 9 a.m. until noon.

The clinic is sponsored by the Charlevoix office District Health Department No. 3.

Anyone who has a job where food is handled or anticipates such a job should have a tuberculin skin test.

Corps to Build Seawall Around Water Sump

City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna says the Corps has approved a project costing about $2,000 to protect the city's water sump on the Lake Michigan beach from possible contamination.

He said the Corps is presently negotiating with area contractors on the work.

The project includes sealing the present sump, covering it with a pre-cast concrete lid and constructing a permanent sand, gravel and rip-rap seawall around it.

Hopefully, the work will prevent Lake Michigan water from seeping into the sump in the event that lake levels rise any higher.

Other Lake Michigan, communities receiving assistance, totaling $342,000, are Montague, Laketon Township, Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Muskegon Township, Norton Shores, Spring Lake Township, Grand Haven, Ferrysburg, Spring Lake, Park Township, Holland, Saugatuck, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

"Operation Foresight" was launched Jan. 3, 1973, to offer temporary protection against flooding in the face of unusually high water.

Most of the communities receiving are located on Lake Erie, the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and Saginaw Bay — where high water coupled with high seas have resulted in disasterous flooding this past winter and spring.

Four contracts have completed and five have July completion dates, for a total cost to date of $7 million.

Charlevoix is the northernmost community in Michigan to receive assistance under "Operation Foresight."

This winter, the Corps kicked in $50,000 to rebuild the northeast bank of Pine River Channel.

Some of Us Worried About Radiation Effects

Mr. Bob Clock
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Dear Bob:

Your Clockwise editorial entitled, "What? Me Worry?" was well done.

There are some of us, living close to the Big Rock Nuclear Plant, who are worried about its potential effects on the environment and human health in particular.

The Northern Michigan Medical Society, a group made up of the M.D. physicians in Charlevoix, Antrim, Emmet and Cheboygan counties has appointed a committee to review as much of the current information as possible. This committee is expected to report to the group, within the next few months for whatever action seems appropriate.

The effects of low level irradiation, safety measures against a "meltdown" accident, and suitable methods for the disposal of nuclear wastes are all questions which are unsettled and argued by our best scientists in this field. Until more satisfactory solutions are worked out, some authorities feel that a moratorium should be called on the production of nuclear energy. They reason that it would be much better to stop the operation of nuclear plants at this point, with only one or two percent of the nation's electricity produced in this manner, than to wait another ten years when possibly over thrity or forty percent of the energy is produced by this means. Economic disruption now would be minimal. In ten years, it could be serious.

I would also like to comment on the letter by Ronnie Wheeler, Vice-President for Public Relations, Consumers Power, appearing in the Courier on May 2, 1973. In the letter, he stated that solar energy is neither easy nor practical. He quoted a report from the Wall Street Journal dated April 16, 1973 which pointed up some of the difficulties. Granted, more research is needed to develop solar energy. It is still a very real and safe possibility. This year fourteen million dollars has been allotted for solar energy research. Eight hundred million dollars has been spent on the development of nuclear power plants not to mention the billions spent on nuclear bombs. Solar energy, given the promotion that nuclear energy has had, could probably be practical and certainly much safer.

I would also like to call attention to another article which appeared in the Wall Street Journal, on May 3, 1973. The headline is "Atomic Lemons." This is followed by, "Breakdowns, Errors Plague Many Nuclear Power Plants." "Utilities find the facilities costlier, less efficient than they had expected." "Blown valves and faulty fuel." A certain number of errors and malfunctions can be expected in the development of any complicated system. However, when we are dealing with tons of one of the most toxic substances known to man, plutonium-239, we can't risk many errors and breakdowns.

The lethal dose of plutonium-239, for man, is a few 1 / 1,000,000ths of a gram. According to one authority, one pound, efficiently administered, is more than enough to wipe out the human race. It has a half-life of 24,400 years. It is man-made.

Sincerely yours,
Gerald A. Drake, M.D.

'Unique' Individuals Not So Unique Here

May 30, 1973

Mr. Bob Clock, Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, MI

Dear Bob:

The people of Charlevoix have long been blessed with the unique individual. The individuals I speak of are those who have devoted many years and often lifetimes to the betterment of fellow man. These people seem to be found in more abundance in Charlevoix than in most any other community. I know because I have lived in eight different towns and cities in my lifetime.

I really hesitate to mention any of them by name because I am sure I will overlook several. However, I do know that a few of them have been in the news lately.. Mr. Gordon Freedman has been devoting long determined hours to our hospital in an effort to make it a better place in which to serve Charlevoix citizens. This has been in addition to the many other countless contributions he has made to individuals and groups of people in many and varied ways. I know he helped me in a trying time in my life.

Rev. Harold Kohn has been recovering from another operation. He too has a long record of involvement in helping people with personal problems and in inspiring them to overcome obstacles. He has long been a positive factor in many peoples lives in our town.

Now I understand that Max Novak is retiring from his lifelong work as an educator in the Charlevoix school system. He has long been a steady and much needed influence on many young people that have come in contact with him during their school days. I know that practically every graduating class that later holds a class reunion always asks that Max be invited to their festivities. I believe this testifies to the impact he made on them as students. It would be both gratifying and fitting if every former student whose life he has touched took the time to drop Max a short note, congratulating him on his contribution made in educating the youth of Charlevoix.

In closing I urge all of us to thank all and any of these three for their unique service. They are three of several who truly make our community, Charlevoix the Beautiful.

Warmest regards,
Deano Davenport

Q. IS there aaything we can do about the hotdog and sausage controversy? J.D., Rogers City

A. If Michigan housewives want protection against finding parts of snouts, eyes, ears, stomachs, glands and esophagus in their hotdogs, sausage and lunch meats, they are going to have to provide it themselves.

It is obvious that the U.S. Supreme Court and the U.S. Department of Agriculture aren't going to help them by permitting Michigan to legally outlaw use of such questionable material in such meat.

That became apparent a few days ago when the U.S. Supreme Court refused even to consider a lower court ruling that said Michigan could not prevent three major meat packers from shipping such material into Michigan food markets.

The Supreme Court even refused to hear Michigan's appeal from a ruling by the sixth circuit court of appeals last fall, which ruled that the weaker federal regulations governing the content of comminuted meat took precedence over Michigan's tougher law, which has been in effect for 21 years.

U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin of Michigan has introduced a bill that would exempt any state that passes meat ingredient laws that are stricter than federal requirements. He has been backed by most of Michigan's congressmen.

A Smashing Good Time

By JIM REUS

At times it seems that young children can be more destructive than a full blown hurricane. I don't know why it is, but they always seem to zero in on the most expensive breakable object in sight and it ends up in pieces on the floor.

Now most kids are really bad about this, but I have a young sister who is absolutely terrible about breaking things. Kathleen Reus (alias Josie, Hoset, Ho, or Whiffer), aged eight, suffers from chronic tendencies to smash glass.

It got to be so bad around the house, in fact, that the rest of the family would sit around in the evening placing bets as to which piece of glassware would go next. Everything in the house was listed, starting with wine glasses at 3-1 and moving right on down the living room picture window at 100-1 odds.

And the betting was always interesting. Hoset always kept us on our toes. She was like an artist experimenting in new techniques and mediums; she always found new and exciting ways to break things. Nothing was ever repeated. No sir.

Everything broken around our house was done in a unique fashion. Hoset's a true artist who really lets her creativity go.

I don't know how an eight year old does it. At times I thought she stayed up late in her room each night planning her technique for the next day's smashing exercise.

For her very best smashings, I'd even type up certificates of merit. Everyone would gather around the dinner table, Mom would bring in a cake, and the whole family would congratulate her as I gave out the award.

She won her best certificate one evening when she decided to put some dishes away on her own initiative. That night she used a dining room chair to put away two of mom's best wine glasses.

The citation I gave her read, "for simultaneously smashing a dining room chair and two irreplaceable glasses, Hoset has demonstrated exquisite taste in furniture and glasswork."

It went on to read, "and for falling amid the rubble without incurring bodily damage, Hoset has shown exceptional agility and co-ordination."

Well, it's not that the rest of the family is a bunch of social boors, but we just couldn't afford to keep supporting such a talented artist.

So last summer my mother enrolled Hoset in dance lessons. "It will teach her some grace," she said, "and maybe she won't break so many things."

But Hoset, not to be outdone, fixed Mom's wagon. She took up baton twirling. That baton was soon flying through windows in some of the most creative paths you've ever seen. But I didn't mind; I had always wanted to learn how to fix picture windows anyway.

After a year of expensive lessons, however, it looked as if some progress had been made. We were sitting at the dinner table the evening after Hoset's year-end dance recital.

"Hoset's come a long way since she started the lessons," Mom said. "She twirls the baton really quite well and she hasn't broken anything in a long time,"

"I don't know," I said, "do you realize it cost us over a dollar for each second she was on the stage last night."

"Yes, but it was worth it, Jim," Mom said.

Hoset was busy working in the kitchen. We heard the sound of glass smashing and both looked quickly into the kitchen. With one quick flick of the hand Hoset had finished off the last of Mom's irreplaceable wine glasses. I looked over to Mom.

"You're right," I said. "She has made a lot of progress. Now she breaks things gracefully."

15-Ounce Pound

By BOB CLOCK

Nothing in this run-away economy of ours has me more upset than the 15 oz pound.

The other day I had occasion to purchase what I thought was a pound of potato chips.

They came in a handsome yellow bag of yellow waxed paper and bore a very handsome price, 79 cents. That, in itself should have set my teeth on edge, because it represents a mark-up of about 800 percent, more or less, over the cost of raw potatoes.

It wasn't until I got the bag home that I noticed that I had not purchased a pound of potato chips. Nosiree. My bag was plainly marked 15 ounces.

So you see, the packager wasn't really trying to gyp me, was he? He assumed I had eyes in my head and knew what I was buying. And he is right.

But why is he selling 15 ounces of potato chips in a one-pound bag? Is one lousy ounce of potato chips that important to him that he has to start tampering with our accepted, standard units of measurement? I doubt it.

But I do know that he has incurred my unending wrath. We have a new standard order at our house that we will have nothing to do with food processors who are so devious as to sell 15-ounce bags of potato chips or 14-ounce packages of cookies — commodities which were sold in standard 1-pound (or 16-ounce) packages only a few short months ago.

I think I know what the food processors are trying to do. Their costs are moving up and they are afraid that Mr. and Mrs. Consumer are not going to like it one bit when they pass the higher prices on to them.

So instead, they sell you a smaller quantity of whatever it is they are selling in the same size package, hoping you won't notice the difference.

In my book, this practice is dirty merchandising. Perhaps the packager is not being dishonest, but he is not being entirely honest, either. And he is not going to get any more of my hard-earned money until he mends his ways.

Of course, the makers of candy bars have been pulling the same trick for years. The package remains the same size, but the bar itself gets smaller and smaller until it reaches the point where you can hardly find it in all that ping paper.

Then, and only then, does the candy man double the price of his product and come out with a slightly larger bar. And the process starts all over again, smaller candy bars in standard wrappers. Of course, the wrapper records the reduced weight, but when was the last time you checked the weight of a candy bar?

Part of the problem is that the human body is not built like a government scale. You can't tell just by lifting a bag of potato chips or a package of cookies whether it weighs 14 or 15 ounces or a full pound. Most of us, I believe, rely on package size more than anything else and it is disconcerting to arrive home from the store and find you have bought a lot of dead air.

Not only the prepared food processors are guilty of this devious practice. Onions, which have been sold in three-pound bags for as long as I can remember, have suddenly appeared in two-pound bags.

Potatoes traditionally have been sold in five, ten, 20 or 50 pound bags. Now, believe it or not, you can buy them in eight-pound bags. You may think you're buying ten pounds, but you aren't.

It's hard enough trying to cope with inflation, without having to deal with wily food processors at the same time.

Poor Richard's Abplanalp

By JIM FITZGERALD

President Nixon, who shaves in the dark, still has two friends he can trust, Bebe Rebozo and Robert Abplanalp. One of them should advise His Majesty that it is poor politics to describe women as dogs.

Abplanalp, who is not a typographical error, has obviously earned Nixon's favor. He's the millionaire who loaned Nixon $625,000 to buy a California home and, a few months later, bought the surrounding property — but not the home — from Nixon for $1.2 million. With friends like that, Nixon doesn't need the golden touch.

Everyone knows Rebozo. He's the Nixon buddy who took pity on a homeless sportswriter and his wife, an out-of-work school teacher. Rebozo bought a $127,000 home in Maryland and rented it to the young couple at a special rate simply because David Eisenhower is a Prince of fellow (and his wife is a Princess and her father is King)

As an ex-sports writer, I am delighted at David's overnight success. Newly discharged from the Navy, he was hired off the street, with no experience, and started right off writing a weekly column for the Philadelphia Bulletin. This is unusual. Most sports writers don't get a personal column until after they have done some straight reporting for a week or two. And it is almost always a year before they are able to move into $127,000 homes.

George R. Packard, managing editor of the Bulletin, explained how David advanced so swiftly. The explanation came in response to a complaint from two students at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. These guys, obviously Democrats, claimed the Bulletin had told them there were no job openings — just a few days before David was hired. How come?

Packard's answer: "The first thing we teach new reporters is to get the name right. You flunked on mine. David did better."

In their letter to Packard, those stupid students got his middle initial wrong. David Eisenhower made no such mistake. His Pulitzer prize will be announced next month.

Of course, there are those skeptics who think guys like Packard, Rebozo and Abplanalp are simply buying better seats in the throne room. That is a foul charge, made by the same sort of nonbelievers who think Nixon was the outside lookout at the Watergate burglary. Our President has nothing to fear from such small men.

But he'd better watch out for the women. The other day, within hearing of newspaper reporters, Nixon advised a former prisoner of war to attend lots of Washington dinner parties. "But watch out for some of those dogs they have you sit by," he added.

Washington hostesses yelped in anger. A typical reaction came from a congressman's wife. "In some cases there are many more male dogs than female dogs," she snapped.

There goes the bitch vote. Leaving the sons?

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Names are confusing, especially when several generations reside in the same locality. We add Junior or Roman numerals, but this lacks the clarity of the former practice of bestowing nicknames.

"Gaspy" who wheezed when he spoke was known by no other name until he ceased gasping and appeared in the obituary as Einar 'Gaspy' Hendrickson.

Of the Walker's six boys the best remembered was "Slippery", a barrel-chested wrestler who would squirm out of any hold purely for kicks but preferrably for cash. In his 70's he was still hailed as Slippery.

"Moonlight" Smith logged from sunrise to moonset, fetching the camp groceries at night so he could be on the job at daybreak. He hauled the last of the Norway pine from Luce county to St. Ignace as 70-foot piling with seven to the load. For two months around the clock he drove the hairpin turns on the fire lanes standing half out of the cab eyeing the rear wheels, chained 50 feet aft, through a cloud of suffocating dust. Disdaining to cut cordwood, he moved to Oregon to continue his nocturnal operations.

Walter Hakala became 'Flydope' while playing bush league hard ball. In the pasture-stadiums it behooved the players to pursue fly balls with careful footwork in the well fertilized outfield which attracted hordes of flies and mosquitoes. "Flydope" counter-attacked by smearing his face and neck generously with repellant ointment.

"Banjo" Bill achieved everlasting fame by auditioning in a church program to the consternation of the elders. Banjo retaliated for the cool reception by pouring soapsuds into the saxophone of the deacon's son which further enriched a memorable, if not spiritual, occasion.

"Two-Saw" Mikelson would place a log on the sawhorse and with a cedar saw in each fist he would work his arms alternately to cut two chunks instead of the paltry single block of lesser men.

"Slugger" achieved fame in the theatre, in a manner of speaking. After properly slaking his thirst in Murphy's Saloon, Alex, as he was properly known, decided on a bit of culture and hied himself to the local movie house where his running commentary on the fare resulted in a stern reprimand by the owner. Alex responded with a looping misguided haymaker resulting in minor damage to the hat of a lady patron. Alex chose to defend himself in court against the resulting charges.

"How could I be guilty of assault?" he questioned the judge, "when all I hit was a hat. I will pay the usual five dollars for public disturbance."

"Not so fast," admonished his honor. "I'll set the fines here! Add twenty dollars for assault and pay the clerk."

As the plaintiff smirked in triumph, Alex counted out the money refusing the proffered receipt. Turning to the Judge he asked,

"How much would it have cost if I'd connected?"

"Forty dollars," snapped the judge irritably.

Pow!! Alec stepped around the prostrate form of his accuser, rubbing his knuckles.

"Make it out for forty," he advised the startled clerk while counting out his last fifteen dollars.

Alec came into court pretty well heeled. Slugger departed stone broke.

The Lowly Housefly Is Not All Bad

Few creatures in the world are swatted, sprayed, and pursued as often as the ubiquitous fly.

Yet from the first warm days of spring to the heavy frosts of autumn, some species of flies ceaselessly help their human tormentors by attacking other insects that are harmful to crops and forests, the National Geographic Society says.

The robber fly preys on wood-boring beetles and destructive moths. A powerful predator, it grabs victims with six strong legs, and jabs them with its proboscis. An observer once saw a robber fly pursue, capture, and eat eight moths in 20 minutes.

NIGHTTIME ENEMIES

The thin, delicate looking dance fly also packs a powerful 'pick. The creature's long, stilettolike proboscis skewers midges, mosquitoes, gnats, and other troublesome creatures that plague the air on summer evenings.

In their larval state, flower flies prey on destructive aphids. As soon as the grubs hatch, they search out their favorite snacks. The hunt sometimes continues until an entire colony of the plant lice is wiped out.

Not all flies are helpful. From 60,000 to 80,000 species buzz around the world from the tropics to cold regions.

In size, they range from three-inch-long robber flies to tiny midges about one millimeter long.

Flies belong to the order Diptera, insects with only one pair of wings. The order includes houseflies, horseflies, mosquitoes, midges, fruit flies, crane flies and many others. Butterflies, dragonflies, and mayflies are not true flies.

ATTRACTED BY LITTER

The housefly, Musca domestica, thrives in the kind of litter that man produces, and has been an unwelcome domestic animal for ages. It is extremely prolific. A female lays from 500 to 2,000 eggs, which hatch and go through the larval and pupal states in 10 to 12 days if the weather is warm enough.

Two scientists may have come up with the ultimate weapon to control the housefly. They have developed an artifical scent which supposedly makes the creatures too excited to mate.

Experts adopted a different method to contain the screworm fly, the scourge of farm animals. In the 1930's, an entomologist studying the fly's life cycle suggested that if the female could be mated with a sterile male, her eggs would be infertile.

Obituary

Shooks

Funeral for Sylvester J. (Vet) Shooks, 87, who died Sunday at Meadowbrook Medical Care Facility where he had been a patient for six years, was held at the Atwood Reformed Church Tuesday, the Rev. Larry Brossiet officiating. Burial was in the Atwood Cemetery.

Born in Jamestown, Mich., Oct. 17, 1885, Mr. Shooks came to Central Lake Township at the age of 12 years. On Feb. 22, 1911, he was married to Katherine Aardema who preceded him in death in 1957. He continued to reside on the family farm until 1962 when he married Mrs. Rena VanderArk and came to Ellsworth to live. He was a member of the Atwood Reformed Church and served as elder and deacon; director of the Traverse Bay Telephone Co. and a former trustee at the Bay View School prior to consolidation.

Surviving are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Julius (Margaret) Essenberg of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Robert (Winifred) Green of Charlevoix; three sons, Walter of Ellsworth and Versal and Marvin of Central Lake; 20 grandchildren and 29 great grandchildren.

Arrangements were handled by the Hastings Funeral Home.

O'Neill

Funeral for Robert E. O'Neill, 74, who died Saturday at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where he had been a patient since November, was held Monday at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. John Cail and the Rev. Gordon Mitchinson officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix July 14, 1898, Mr. O'Neill was a graduate of Charlevoix High School and the University of Michigan. A chemist by profession he taught at Daytona Beach for six years, was associated with the Dow Chemical Co. for 12 years and was with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration in Atlanta, Ga., until his retirement.

He returned here in 1970 to make his home. He was a veteran of World War I. He attended the First Congregational Church. He never married and has no immediate survivors.

Marshall

Henry D. (Dick) Marshall, 64, of Grandville, former Charlevoix resident, died Saturday at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where he was taken after being stricken while on a fishing trip to Paradise Lake in Emmet County.

Born in Charlevoix June 17, 1908, he was a graduate of Charlevoix High School where he was an outstanding athlete. In 1930 he was married to the former Mamie Clark at Grandville where they have always made their home. He was a member of the United Methodist church in Grandville and the Masonic Lodge.

He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Roy (Susan) Woodworth of Adrian; four grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Russell Duffy of Barryton and Mrs. John VonZon of Mt. Lake Terrace, Wash., and one brother, J.C. Marshall of Mt. Pleasant.

The body was returned to Grandville for funeral services and burial.

Jinsky

Graveside services were held for Shari Kay Jinsky, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jinsky, were held at St. Mary's Cemetery June 13, the Rev. E. Francis Denay officiating.

The baby died June 12 at Little Traverse Hospital shortly after birth.

Besides the parents, she is survived by a sister, Lori Lynn; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jinsky of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc., and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Farkas of Charlevoix.

Wilson

Funeral was held in Lake Forest, Ill., June 19 for Mrs. Romayne Warren Wilson, 67, a long-time resident of the Chicago Club who died June 16 at Lake Forest Hospital.

A native of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., Mrs. Wilson was a member of the Women's Club of the University of Chicago, the board of directors of the Field Museum and the board of directors of Children's Memorial Hospital.

She is survived by her widower, John P. Wilson jr., two sons, Gordon and Warren Wilson; one daughter, Mrs. Romayne Dixon; and nine grandchildren.

Also surviving is a brother, Benjamine S. Warren of Grosse Pointe and a sister, Mrs. W. Randall Compton.

Services were held at the Church of th Holy Spirit in Lake Forest.

PATROLMAN John Martin (left) and Fire Volunteer Doug Bergmann display rescue equipment the city purchased recently with a $600 gift from an anonymous donor. Martin is holding a "cardiobeeper" which lets ambulance personnel know when emergency steps are necessary when transporting heart patients. Sensors placed under each arm record heart action by means of a flashing red light and a "beep" signal. The beeper cost $300. The rest of the money went for acetylene equipment to help remove victims from damaged vehicles.

He has been active in civic affairs as a member of the Board of Directors of the Alma Kiwanis club, President of the Alma Big Brothers, Inc., and a member of the Highland Festival Committee.

McKimmy is a graduate of Beaverton high school, Manchester College, Central Michigan University and Michigan State University. His graduate studies focuses on general school administration and curriculum.

He was involved in athletics throughout high school and as a varsity football player at Manchester College.

He is married to the former LouAnn Winger of Mt. Pleasant. They have three children, Karen, 11, Kathy, 10, and Paul, five. They are summer residents at Kewadin and are looking forward to making their home in northern Michigan.

McKimmy will replace Robert L. Miller who is leaving to accept an appointment as superintendent of the Grand Ledge Public Schools. He will begin his duties here July 1.

Miss Liebold, who is being offered a contract as middle school English and French teacher, is a graduate of Grosse Pointe high school and Michigan State University with a major in English and a minor in French. She also attended the University of Paris during the summer of 1971. She did both her extern and intern teaching assignments at Traverse City Junior High School, Okemos High School and Lansing public School system. She is presently enrolled in the English Masters II program at Michigan State University where she is taking courses in reading, composition and adolescent literature.

In the only other business at the meeting, copies of a letter from the Cedar Point Amusement Land at Sandusky, Ohio, where the Charlevoix high school seniors had gone on their class trip May 24 and 25, were distributed to board members. It read in part: "Our records indicate they (Charlevoix high school students) were housed without incident in Main Section of this establishment and well chaperoned throughout. The Hotel Breakers front desk informs me rooms assigned were left in satisfactory condition and no damage of any sort was reported....A check of the security reports for the days involved indicates no unusual incidents occurred....The name of Charlevoix High School appears on no park reports either in the amusement area or at the dances held for students at the Coliseum.

As far as Cedar Point is concerned, we feel your students conducted themselves as ladies and gentlemen during their visit here and are not only welcome, but encouraged to return." The letter was signed Joseph von der Weis, Director, Accommodations, Cedar Point, Inc.

Committee Hikes City Hall Salaries

The City Council met as a committee-of-the-whole last Thursday night to discuss city hall salaries and improvements to the Beaver Islander ticket office and freight shed at the city dock.

No mention was made of Mayor Edward P. Hansen's most recent firing of City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna.

Following a Finance Committee meeting Monday night, Hansen gave members of the council a letter in which he fired Hanna for "gross neglect of his duty," and demanded that he vacate his city hall office and turn over all city property "to the Mayor or to a person appointed by the Mayor and or the Clerk of the City of Charlevoix."

It was the second time the mayor has fired Hanna in the past five weeks. However neither dismissal has stuck and Hanna was still at his desk Thursday.

At the conclusion of Monday's meeting, Hanna said he told Hansen that he would resign, but that he would prefer to wait until a successor was appointed to permit an orderly transfer of responsibilities. The mayor wants Hanna to leave immediately, but the administrator has the backing of most council members.

Hanna did not attend the meeting Thursday.

In the salary action, the committee agreed to raise the salary of the city clerk from $7,800 to $8,500, the city treasurer from $7,200 to $7,800, the deputy clerk and the billing clerk from $5,500 to $6,100. The increases will be retroactive to March 1.

Mayor Hansen suggested that instead of having the Beaver Island Boat Co. make improvements to the dock building, the city should assume the responsibility, financing the work with rental money paid in advance.

The company had suggested that it do the work in exchange for a 20-year lease, but the council does not favor long term leases.

Alderman Jeannine Wallace suggested the parks committee look into sprucing up East Park. She said electric light globes are broken and missing and that unsightly electric wiring detracts from the beauty of the park.

Sub Vets to Unveil Park Monument Saturday

CHARLEVOIX COURIER
Vol 78 No 32   14 Pages   Charlevoix Courier, Wednesday June 27, 1973

BENJAMIN S. Gill, general chairman of a convention of the Michigan Chapter of U.S. Submarine Veterans, poses with two plaques which will be mounted on monument in East Park. Monument will be dedicated at 2 p.m. Saturday during state convention.

Submariners Plan Convention in City

A fieldstone monument will be dedicated in East Park Saturday at 2 p.m. in memory of all submariners who have given their lives in the service of their country.

The ceremony will be held in conjunction of the annual convention of the Michigan Chapter of the U.S. Submarine Veterans of World War II, scheduled to be held in Charlevoix June 29 and 30.

Located near the bandstand, the monument will bear two plaques. The first will list the names of submarines lost during World War II with quotations by Fleet Admiral C. W. Nimitz and Vice Admiral C. A. Lockwood, U.S.N., commander of the submarine force from 1943 to 1946.

The second plaque will commemorate the sub Escolar SS294, lost Oct. 17, 1944, in the North China Sea as the result of enemy action. The Escolar has been designated as Michigan's submarine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Grand Rapids, the only known Gold Star parents of a crewman aboard the Escolar, will unveil the monument. Their son, James G. Johnson, lost his life aboard the Escolar.

In all, 52 submarines were lost during World War II, claiming the lives of 3,131 enlisted men and 374 officers.

The first flag to fly over the memorial has been given by the family of the late Harold Hoover of Battle Creek, a member of the state chapter who was killed in an automobile accident earlier this year.

The dedicatory address will be given by Capt. David H. McClintock, U.S.N. (Ret.) of Marquette, a submarine skipper during World War II.

Others taking part will be Maurice Grant of Flint, president of the Michigan Chapter; Mayor Edward P. Hansen; Warren Nelson of Flint, chaplain of the state chapter; and the Rev. John Cail of Charlevoix's First Baptist Church.

The convention will open with a social gathering at the American Legion post home at 6 p.m. Friday, according to chairman Benjamin S. Gill of Charlevoix.

Business sessions will be held at the post home Saturday morning, followed by the dedication in the afternoon and a banquet at the post home Saturday evening, at which Capt. McClintock will be guest speaker.

The public is invited to attend the dedication.

Little Bay Shore Planning Big 4th

Bay Shore — the tiny crossroads community between Charlevoix and Petoskey — is planning big Independence Day celebration Wednesday, July 4.

The day will start with a parade through the village at 11 a.m. Among the marchers will be Darrel Somerville of Bay Shore, one of the few bagpipers in northern Michigan.

After the parade, there will be games for kids, followed by

Board Borrows Against Taxes

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its last meeting of the fiscal year, adopted a resolution to borrow $200,000 against anticipated taxes and, after obtaining permission from the Municipal Finance Commission, to advertise for bids on this amount.

Bids will be accepted until 12 noon Aug. 10, 1973. The notes will mature March 1, 1974.

In other action, the board voted to employ Judy Potter as bookkeeper in the Central office; to engage a new custodian; discussed plans for capital outlay and replacement of equipment; heard reports from Robert Bogart, business manager, on school bus specifications for 1974, a figure on the cost of air conditioning for the public library and the sale of skylites; heard a report from Curt Kipke, recreation director and previewed the agenda for the July 9 meeting of the board.

Judy Potter was employed as bookkeeper in the Central Office to succeed Mrs. Jacqueline Phelps who has served in this capacity for several years. Miss Potter, a graduate of the Charlevoix High School, has completed two years of accounting at Davenport College in Grand Rapids.

Lists of requests for equipment for the three schools were studied at length. The board was advised that approximately $15,000 would be available for capital outlay and $5,000 for replacement of equipment. Priorities were listed and numerous items trimmed from the list in order to meet the maximum available. The same was done with the list of replacements. Bogart warned that some thought be given to allowing for emergencies.

The hiring of Michael Beinhart as custodian at the elementary school was approved. This will bring the custodial staff to 11 plus one maintenance man.

In making his report on bus specifications for 1974, Bogart said seat belts would not be mandatory in 1974; that there would be changes in fire extinguishers; a monitoring system for exterior lights and more frequent bus inspection. He said the minimum standards would be available Jan. 1, 1974.

Air conditioning for the public library could cost anywhere from $3,600 to $8,000, depending on the type desired, Bogart told the board after obtaining figures from local dealers.

Bogart reported 75 skylights being stored at Southgate. Lake Construction Co. had offered $250 for those on hand. He was advised to offer half the number to Lake Construction for $250 and all for $400. If the offer is not accepted or if the company takes only half the skylights, they will be offered for sale to the public. The skylites were removed from the "A" building at the high school.

Curt Kipke, who assumed his duties as Charlevoix's first full-time recreation director earlier this month, spoke briefly, outlining his philosophy regarding the position and the summer program already underway.

He said he felt recreation should be for everyone from the pre-schooler to the senior citizen; that it should not be limited to sports but other interests that people might

CURTIS A. Kipke, Charlevoix's first full-time recreation director, discussed plans for the Recreation Department at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night. He will meet with the City Council next Monday.

5 Students Taking Close Look at Medical Practice

Charlevoix Area Hospital is cooperating in an unusual off-campus community orientation program for medical students this summer, according to Richard Krueger, hospital administrator.

Under the program, five medical students from Michigan State University and Wayne University will spend 10 weeks observing medical practices at three area hospitals and in the offices of hospital staff physicians.

Taking part in the program are Erin and Ellen Arvilla of Charlevoix, students at Michigan State University; Herbert Hamel jr. of St. Ignace, Michigan State; Douglas Komes of East Lansing, Wayne State; and Michael Stasnik, Cheboygan, Michigan State.

Other hospitals cooperating in the program are Lockwood-MacDonald Hospital and Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey.

The project is called SAMA-MECO, which is short for Student American Medical Association Project for Medical Education and Community Orientation.

Chief goal of the program is to acquaint medical students with community health care activities, with an eye toward more equitable distribution of health manpower in the U.S. in future years.

Krueger said participation in the project would be impossible without the cooperation of area doctors who will take the students into their own offices to observe community medical practice first-hand.

Dr. Rudolfo Lorenzo is coordinator of the project.

19-Year-Old Putts Way To State Amateur Title

Nineteen-year-old Bob Chapman of Farmington showed older and wiser heads how it's done Saturday afternoon winning the 62nd Michigan Amateur Golf Championship, 5 and 3, at Charlevoix's Belvedere Golf Course.

The Stanford University junior bowled over six opponents in the five-day tournament, including Flint dentist Wayne Kramer, 32, who made it all the way to the finals but couldn't compete with Chapman's putting.

The match ended on the 15th hole when Kramer conceded defeat.

"I didn't play the way I should have," Kramer explained simply back at the clubhouse before the trophies were awarded.

Chapman is tied with Chuck Kocsis as the youngest player ever to win the Michigan Amateur. Kocsis defeated James D. Standish jr. in 1930 for the championship when he was the same age as Chapman — 19.

Kocsis then went on to win the cup five more times, in 1933, 1934, 1937, 1948 and 1951.

It was Chapman's game from the start. Kramer found himself in trouble on the first hole when his tee shot landed in the rough. He lost the hole to Chapman's par.

They split the next two holes, and Chapman ran a 24-footer on the fourth to take it with a par. They both bogied on the 5th, but Chapman came through with a 28-foot birdie on the 6th.

By the end of the 9th, the blond-haired youngster was four-up on the Flint dentist.

"I just went for pars on the back side waiting for his chances to run out," Chapman explained later.

Kramer's chances ran out on the 15th hole.

In the first round, Chapman defeated Jerry Bush of Petoskey 5 and 4. In the second he slid past Stan Thompson of Franklin 3 and 2.

In Nos. 3 and 4 he defeated former champion Peter Green of Franklin and Bert Cooper of Kalamazoo both by scores of 2 and 1.

Kramer reached the top by defeating Ed Lauer of Orchard Lake, 6 and 5; Ed Muir of Dearborn, 1-up; Mark Engelman of Flint, 2 and 1; and John French of Lathrup Village 1-up on the 20th hole.

Kramer is an old hand at playing the Belvedere. He has entered 10 Michigan Amateur tourneys and has qualified in eight of them. Furthermore, he played the Belvedere the

Tennis Anyone? Lessons Offered

The Charlevoix Recreation Department will offer tennis lessons beginning July 9, 1973 at the Charlevoix tennis courts located on the corner of Elm Avenue and Central Avenue.

Classes for interested persons 8 years of age through 16 years of age will be held from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. for beginners; 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. for intermediates; and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. for advanced players. Classes will meet one hour per week for six weeks. Enrollment for these classes will be July 2 and July 5 at 3 p.m. at the tennis courts.

Classes for adults (16 years of age and older) will be held from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. for beginners; 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. for intermediates; and 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. for advanced players. These classes will also meet one our per week for six weeks. Registration for adult classes will be July 2 and July 5 at 6 p.m. at the tennis courts.

Individuals may enroll in a Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday class. A registration fee of $5 for each student will be required when registering for a class.

There's Still Plenty of Gas for Holiday Trips

Michiganians scheduling summer automobile vacations trips should proceed with their plans and not worry about possible gasoline shortages in this state or elsewhere, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"We are not advising motorists to cancel any automobile travel plans because of the grim warnings of impending summer fuel shortages," explains Joseph L. Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

"While the Midwest is supposed to be one of the tightest gasoline supply areas in the nation, we have yet to hear from the first motorist stranded because he could not purchase fuel," Ratke states. "The most severe conditions we have heard about is the self-imposed rationing system that some stations are using to stretch allocated gas."

Auto Club — which is cooperating in a nation-wide weekly AAA "fuel gauge" survey — points out there are spot shortages developing across the nation, but motorists still are able to buy all the gasoline necessary for travel.

AAA "fuel gauge" reports throughout the country tend to confirm a current broad availability of gasoline for motorists. The reports are being made available by AAA on a weekly basis to let motorists know those travel destinations where tight or short supplies of gasoline may develop.

The most recent AAA "fuel gauge" survey of 1,400 gas stations across the nation showed 75 percent operating normally, 24 percent limiting hours of operation, including some in the Charlevoix area, and only one percent closed because of tight fuel conditions.

Auto Club's survey recently noted the first spot shortages of gasoline at major brand dealers in some areas of Michigan — most noticeably the Southeast, where 50 percent of the stations checked are curtailing hours of operation somewhat in June.

"So far, the scare of a potential gasoline shortage has not kept motorists at home," says Ratke. "Requests for all auto routings at Auto Club travel counters are up five percent, with a 12 percent rise in Michigan routings.

"April has been one of the busiest months ever prior to the summer vacation season, with travel requests for routings to U.S., Canadian and Mexican destinations up 15 percent as compared with last year at that time," he adds.

Gasoline seems to be more plentiful in resort areas like Mackinaw City, Oscoda and Traverse City than in metropolitan areas like Detroit, according to Ratke. Even the Upper Peninsula has adequate gasoline, and checks at Marquette, Ironwood, St. Ignace and Sault Ste. Marie show most major brand stations are remaining open with normal operations.

The Michigan gas survey shows four out of five major brand stations are continuing with normal operations, with the remainder taking minor steps to conserve fuel such as closing earlier than normal during the week and on Sunday.

Auto Club's survey does point out that many stations are now having the amount of gasoline they are able to sell allocated to them by distributors. Most of the stations on an allocation system are able to obtain the amount of gas delivered to them each month during the previous year.

Last year, Michigan motorists traveled 57.5 billion miles, with the average car burning 838 gallons of gas.

"With travel up five percent, new cars burning more fuel because of pollution control equipment and added accessories such as air conditioning, the demand for fuel across the state has risen seven percent this year over last," states Ratke.

"The most seriously affected stations in the state are the independent dealers," says Ratke. "They are the ones that purchase excess gasoline from the bulk dealers and sell it under off-brand names at a discount price."

Major brand distributors claim they are unable to supply their own dealers with all the gas necessary to meet needs so now they are unable to supply independents.

"The total number of gasoline stations now closed in the United States because of the fuel shortages is not great enough to cause major concern," states Rake.

Auto Club states that regardless of where a person travels in the U.S. this summer, unless conditions change drastically, gasoline should not be a problem if three basic rules are followed:

- Stop for gasoline when the tank is half empty.
- Fill tanks during daylight to avoid searching for an open station at night.
- Fill tanks Saturday, since most stations electing to close one day a week to conserve supplies have chosen Sunday.

To help motorists get the most out of their gasoline this season, Auto Club has developed these guidelines to conserve fuel:

- Keep auto engines tuned with special attention to fuel and air filters, plugs, points plus emission control devices.
- Avoid jack-rabbit starts by accelerating gradually and traveling at steady speeds whenever possible.
- Avoid panic stops, which waste energy.
- Avoid long engine warm-up periods after starting a cold engine. Instead, drive slowly for a mile or so before reaching cruising speed.
- Cut down on the use of auto air conditioners which can penalize the motorist by up to three miles per gallon.
- Keep tires properly inflated. Tires underinflated by four pounds lower gas mileage by one-half mile per gallon.
- Travel lighter than normal. Excess weight puts added strain on the engine and results in fewer miles per gallon of gas.
- Shut off the ignition to save gas when parked.
- When possible, form car pools for office commuting.
- Combine short trips such as shopping and taking children to and from school.

Donald Heilig Gets New School Post

Donald E. Heilig of Grand Haven has been named director of Community Education for the Grand Haven Schools.

Heilig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heilig of Charlevoix.

He has been at Grand Haven since 1966 serving as cooperative and business education coordinator. He also was adult education supervisor.

A native of Charlevoix, Heilig received his B.S. degree from Ferris State College and his M.A. degrees in business and distributive education at Michigan State University.

He is a member of St. Patrick's Church where he serves as president of the Parish Council. He also is scholarship chairman of the Grand Haven Elks Lodge and belongs to other civic and professional organizations.

Heilig and his wife, the former Mary Gallagher of Beaver Island, have three daughters.

Robert Cook Is Cited by Vo-Educators

Robert J. Cook of Charlevoix, retiring director of vocational education at Charlevoix High School, was honored June 20 by the Michigan Vocational Coordinators Association in conference at Boyne Mountain.

Cook was cited for "eight years of meritorious service rendered as a coordinator of a local cooperative occupational training program, meeting the standards of the Michigan State Plan for Vocational Education.

The certificate was signed by Lyle Monette, president of the organization, and Betty J. Roberts, secretary. Mrs. Roberts is the former Betty McBride of Charlevoix.

Degree Won By Neil Cross

Neil S. Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cross, of 700 Park-Ave., Charlevoix, received a Juris Doctor degree from Northwestern University in commencement exercises held June 16.

More than 3,500 degrees, diplomas and certificates were conferred by Northwestern Chancellor J. Roscoe Miller at the 115th annual commencement, held at McGaw Memorial Hall in Evanston, Ill.

HAROLD A. Dahlborg of Brockton, Mass., announces the engagement of his daughter, Sullen Ann, to Hal M. Hill jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hal M. Hill sr. of Charlevoix. The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Michigan State University. Her fiance also attended Michigan State and is presently employed by the Bolis Cornelius Shipping Co. aboard the S. S. McKieson. A July wedding is planned.

Cancer Unit Only $65 Short

The American Cancer Society's Crusade in Charlevoix County has fallen just $65.40 short of its goal of $9,700, according to Mrs. Albert Seger, Charlevoix city chairman.

Mrs. Seger says area residents contributed $9,634.60, including $4,942.45 from Charlevoix, $2,647.45 from Boyne City and $2,053.63 from East Jordan.

She added that contributions are still being accepted to bring the county up to its goal.

Contributions should be sent to the American Cancer Society in care of either Mrs. Seger or Mrs. Dorothy Dixon at the First State Bank.

East Jordan contributions should be sent to Mrs. Ann Hite and Boyne City contributions should be sent to Mrs. Harvey Varnum.

Mrs. Seger said Beaver Island residents maintained their reputation for generosity during the recent drive, contributing a total of $267.75.

"All volunteers are to be commended for doing such a terrific job," she said. "I am proud of the effort put forth by all volunteers."

Library notes

In "The Primal Scream", a world best-seller, Arthur Janov shattered the traditional ideas of therapy by presenting a revolutionary method for curing neurosis. Now in "The Primal Revolution," Dr. Janov explores the way in which Primal Therapy solves neurotic problems far faster and more effectively and far more permanently than other therapies. This is an important book that challenges some of the basic assumptions of our society and its institutions. More important, it gives some answers to how we can produce an inner revolution in ourselves and in our children and ultimately create a world that is a real and living place.

TV viewers may have seen Barbara Howar on one of the current talk shows. Attractive, witty and an extraordinary conversationalist, she is peddling her book, and after reading it, we think she has a smashing success. It is an autobiography written by a young woman who knows the inside of Washington, D. C., better than just about anyone else, and she doesn't hesitate to tell what she knows. She lived in the White House during President Johnson's administration and was Mrs. Johnson's advisor on all matters pertaining to entertaining, what to wear and who to invite. There is not a dull page in the book and many of the situations she describes are incredibly funny. Red "Laughing All the Way!"

"A God Within" was written by Rene Dubos, eminent microbiologist, experimental pathologist and professor emeritus at the Rockerfeller University in New York City. The important title and eloquent statement reflects the powerful thinking of a world-famous scientist and offers a rational hope in a time which tends toward despair. If we continue to make choices for our future only in relation to negative issues such as pollution and overpopulation, says Dr. Dubos, our civilization will become increasingly dreary and meaningless. Instead, we must learn to cultivate the positive values that exist in man's nature and in the external world. For all those looking for a sign of hope in these days when so many people fear we are going to have to live with the harmful by-products of technology for the rest of our lives and that there is nothing we can do about it, "A God Within" will provide an optimistic philosophy.

Dorcas Ladies Aid Is 50 Years Old

By Anne Osterhaan

The Dorcas Ladies Aid of the Ellsworth Christian Reformed Church celebrated its 50th anniversary June 15.

Helping mark the occasion at a banquet and program were the local Junior Aid, associate members and members of the Atwood Christian Reformed Church.

Special guests included former pastor Rev. J. T. Holwerda and Mrs. Holwerda of Hudsonville and Mrs. Henry Zwaanstra and Mrs. Gerrit Lyzinga, widows of former pastors, from Grand Rapids.

Two charter members are Mrs. John Van Straten of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Bill Coeling sr. The Coelings attended the celebration.

The group was organized in 1923 when the late Rev. H. Beute was pastor. The church was then located two miles south of Ellsworth.

The Yacht Comet

is seriously for sale!

This lovely 52-ft. Sparkman and Stephens auxiliary yawl has long been the flagship of the sailing fleet at Charlevoix Harbor.

A documented vessel of 13 net tons, she has just been put in service with a modern masthead rig designed by Olin Stephens.

New aluminum mast, roller reefing, the finest Barient winches and a complete set of Hood sails.

Club Awards Scholarship

The Garden Club is again sponsoring a scholarship for one of our local teachers to attends the Ralph A. MacMullen Conservation School at Higgins Lake.

Kathy Wagner, our Fifth grade teacher, has accepted the scholarship and will attend the school session July 8 through July 13.

We are all pleased to be able to do this as we feel it is a most interesting and an instructive short course in conservation to be used in our schools in teaching nature to the pupils.

Area Democrats to Meet With State Party Chief

Morley Winograd, Michigan Democratic State Chairman, will meet with area Democrats July 3, at 7:30 p.m. at the State Bank and Trust Co. in Petoskey to discuss organization problems and ways in which the State Central Committee can assist outstate communities.

The meeting was arranged by Bill Grant, Emmet County Democratic chairman.

Charlevoix County Democrats who would like to meet and talk with the state chairman are invited to attend.

Winograd also will attend a noon luncheon meeting at the Chalet restaurant in Bellaire on July 5. Antrim County Chairman Mrs. Phyllis Starkey has invited Charlevoix County Democrats to attend.

Martin Paul, Charlevoix County Democratic chairman, has expressed the hope that all Charlevoix County Democrats will avail themselves of this opportunity to attend one or both of these meetings. "The need for closer communication between northern Michigan Democrats and the State Central Committee has long been a problem. This is our chance to discuss our needs with the state chairman."

A number of Charlevoix County Democrats attended a regional conference in Traverse City on June 23. The conference was one of a series of regional hearings on Economic Progress, Human Rights and Social Welfare, arranged by the Policy Committee of the Michigan Democratic Party. The program included a public hearing in the morning to help determine the direction the party should take on social and economic issues. Afternoon workshops dealt with organizational problems. There also was a meeting for county chairmen in the 11th district, with District Chairman Tom Baldini.

Attending from Charlevoix County were Martin Paul, Janis Dietrich, Jeanine Keeney, Margaret Duerr and Charles "Tony" Duerr.

Wins Degree

Jack E. Stockwell of Charlevoix was among 1,647 students to win degrees from the University of Montana at Missoula during the 1972-73 academic year.

Stockwell received a BS degree in wildlife biology.

Ernest Pauls Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Paul of Charlevoix celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, Sunday, June 17, with an open house at their home at Pine Point.

Hosts at the event were their seven children and families, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Lois) Weir of Lansing; Mrs. Merrill (Joyce) Brown of Cheney, Washington, whose husband and children were unable to attend; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paul of Concord; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Paul of Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold (Carol) McPherson of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Connie) Dawson of Eastport; and Mr. and Mrs. William (Cora) Falls of Linden.

Ernest Paul and the former Blanche Voorheis were married June 12, 1923, in Saginaw. They have resided in Charlevoix since 1946.

Paul is a retired contractor and Mrs. Paul taught school in Charlevoix County and in the Charlevoix Public Schools, retiring in 1967.

They have 32 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Guests were present from Flint, Farwell, Saginaw, Harrietta, Mesick, Cadillac, Eastport, Linden, Concord, Roscommon, Traverse City, Cheney, and Charlevoix.

Mrs. James F. Teets

Lisa Gae Wagner Wed at St. Marys

Lisa Gae Wagner became the bride of James Frederick Teets in ceremonies June 16 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Charlevoix, the Rev. Fr. Frank Krodek, OFM, of Petoskey officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement J. Wagner of 303 E. Dixon-ave. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Teets, 18260 Grayfield, Detroit.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire-style dress of white dotted swiss trimmed with blue eyelet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of blue Shasta daisies, with a nosegay of daisies affixed to her headpiece with a blue ribbon.

The bride was attended by her sister, Denice Wagner, as maid of honor. She wore a blue dotted swiss dress and carried a basket of blue and white daisies tied with blue and white ribbons.

Best man was Donald Teets of Detroit, brother of the bridegroom. Another brother, John Teets, also of Detroit, seated the guests.

The double-ring ceremony was followed by brunch at Grey Gables. In the afternoon, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rolta, a sister and brother-in-law, of the bride from Manitowoc, Wisc., assisting.

After a wedding trip through the Upper Peninsula, the couple will make their home in Ypsilanti. The bridegroom is employed by Ja-Nan Contracting Co. of Detroit.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wagner wore a floor-length brown and white dress with a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Teets wore a blue floor-length dress with a corsage of white roses.

Kristin Jane Lieberman Repeats Vows Saturday

Kristin Jane Lieberman became the bride of Thomas John Schaperkotter in ceremonies June 23 at the First Congregational Church, the Rev. Gordon Mitchinson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lieberman, 216 Park-ave., Charlevoix. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schaperkotter, 16 White Hills, Grand Rapids.

Approximately 175 guests witnessed the double-ring ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with candlelabra and white wicker baskets of pink daisies and sweet william. The pews were marked with greens and daisies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white cotton lace gown with a high neckline. The yoke was trimmed with seed pearls and the long sleeves had ruffled cuffs with pearl trim.

Her Juliet cap of matching lace and pearls secured a short veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, white stephanotis and babys-breath with white streamers.

Organist Mrs. Charles Bellinger accompanied soloist Vincent Chew who sang "One Hand, One Heart", "Sunrise-Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Kit Lieberman, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Jan Nickless of Bay City, Mrs. Rudy Bahnsen of Grand Rapids and Miss Vondi Moore of Muskegon were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore pink, green and white plaid seersucker gowns with white cotton lace trim and pink helts and streamers. Their white picture hats were trimmed with matching fabric and they carried colonial bouquets of pink daisies and babys-breath.

Larry Stalsonburg of Grand Rapids was best man and Larry Paul, Wayne Walcott and Dave Decker, all of Grand Rapids, were groomsmen.

The bride's brothers, Kraag, Kirk and Karl Lieberman, served as ushers.

The reception was held at Stafford's Bay View Inn, hosted by the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wallace of Charlevoix were master and mistress of ceremonies. Also assisting were Mrs. L. R. Kohler, Miss Janet Kohler, Mrs. John Michael and Miss Murphy Wallace.

Following a wedding trip to Canada the couple will live at 1449 Genessee-st. in Grand Rapids.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Grand Valley State College.

Out-of-town guests attended the ceremony from Ohio, Wisconsin and New York.

She Turned a Back Ache Into 'Rub-My-Back' Business

By Jim Reus

One snowy day in Charlevoix two winters ago, Ethel Wiesinger of 201 Petoskey-ave., was shopping in Oleson's Food Store. While there, she slipped in the aisle and fell on her right shoulder.

At the time, what surprised her most was that her left shoulder, not her right, was hurt.

"My right shoulder hit the ground, but my left arm flew out like a rocket," Mrs. Wiesinger says of the incident. The fall laid her up for months. During that time she couldn't do much of anything.

But Mrs. Wiesinger was able to turn misfortune into profit. For that unfortunate fall, through a series of events, led to the invention of a device called "Rub My Back."

While Mrs. Wiesinger was sidelined she did a lot of reading. One of the books she read was entitled "Move Ahead With Possibility Thinking" by Rober H. Schuller, a minister from California.

A passage for the book read, "Look for problems, almost every problem is an opportunity. When you get mad enough to swear, it's time to invent something." Mrs. Wiesinger took those words seriously, and began thinking of something to make. Since she was having trouble washing her back because of her shoulder, she thought it would be nice to invent something to help her wash.

That was the beginning of the first, primitive "Rub My Back."

The "Rub My Back" was made from two feet of terry cloth about six inches wide, and two loops of cork on either end. With it Mrs. Wiesinger was able to "rub her back" with ease, despite her injured shoulder.

Things would have stopped there, and "Rub My Back" would never have gone into production, had not the invention also fulfilled a unique need for Mrs. Wiesinger.

She had long been trying to think of a gift to take to parties – something to serve as a "thank you" gift for her hosts. "Rub My Back" seemed like the ideal thing; it was a unique and personal gift, yet very practical.

The gift was very popular indeed. Soon friends were calling her and asking for a "Rub My Back" even though she hadn't been to a party at their homes.

A good friend of Mrs. Wiesinger's, Mrs. James Wineman of Detroit and Michigan-ave., Charlevoix, thought "Rub My Back" should be marketed. To prove her point, she took the "Rub My Back" Mrs. Wiesinger had given her to an exclusive linen shop in Detroit.

Not long afterwards Mrs. Wiesinger received an order in the mail from Detroit for a dozen "Rub My Backs." With that order the "Rub My Back" industry began.

Since her first order Mrs. Wiesinger has sold her invention to several local shops, including Haggard's Bath & Bed in Charlevoix, Ballard's in Petoskey and The Apron Shop in Harbor Springs.

She has other orders going to hospital gift shops, including Charlevoix Hospital, the Highland Park Hospital in Highland Park, Ill. and the UCLA university hospital in California.

Saks Fifth Avenue and the Hannacher-Schlemman mail order house of New York also have orders in for "Rub My Backs."

"I have a lady now who does the machine sewing, but I still do all the embroidering and printwork myself," Mrs. Wiesinger says. She estimates her total output to date at about 500.

"I realize I haven't exactly set the world on fire yet, but I enjoy making them," Mrs. Wiesinger says of her creation.

Another of the pleasures she has from "Rub My Back" is reading the many letters she receives from satisfied customers. People with physical ailments, particularly those with arthritis, have found "Rub My Back" extremely helpful.

As for the future, Mrs. Wiesinger has no illusions of developing a giant industry. But if demand for her creation continues to increase, she hopes to step up production by hiring some high school students during the winter.

"It will keep them busy and give them a chance to earn some extra money," she says.

It will also keep her busy with an enjoyable business-hobby.

MRS. ETHEL Wiesinger, 201 Petoskey-ave., displays one of her "Rub My Backs". Already patented in Charlevoix County, Mrs. Wiesinger has applied for a U.S. Patent for her creation.

Having sold her home in Detroit, Mrs. J. A. Zinn will be a yearly resident in her local home. We welcome her as one of our community.

Mr. and Mrs. John Faculak of Lansing were guests Thursday at the home of the latter's (Deborah Friend) grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Alexander. Debbie has graduated from Michigan State, with high honors having been on the Dean's honorary list, and with a BA degree in Interior Design. She also is a member of Alpha Chapter of Omicron Nu of the National Honor Society. They have been spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Friend in Petoskey.

Due to very high water, the ferrymen have been having difficulty operating the approaches on both sides of the lake, but are still making their regular trips across.

David Orvis of Boulder, Colo., is spending the summer with his grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Orvis.

Nancies' Fancies, the antique and gift shop, is open for the season across from the ferry on M-66.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kroll and family are enjoying a camping trip this weekend at Barnes Park in Eastport.

A group of local children have been attending Bible School at the church under the leadership of Mrs. Betty Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vanderwall spent the past weekend in Ann Arbor and Lansing.

Magistrate's Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Court Magistrate John Connolly:

Vicki Murray, 19, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for speeding.

Howard Murdello, 18, Detroit, was assessed $15 for disregarding a stop sign.

Glenn Snider, 58, Charlevoix, was assessed $20 for speeding.

Lawrence Boss, 55, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for a stop sign violation.

Dennis Mousseau, 20, Charleovix, was assessed $15 for violation of the basic speed law.

Donald J. Willis, 23, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for making an improper start.

Dennis Alpeter, 24, Detroit, was assessed $25 for careless driving.

Raymond Weisler, Marion Township, was assessed $5 for not having a license for his dog.

David Ettiger, 63, Southfield, was assessed $20 for speeding.

Edward Gibbard, 19, East Jordan, was assessed $75 and ordered to spend three days in jail on a charge of driving while her operator's license was suspended.

William Gengle, 24, Charlevoix, was assessed $10 for a vehicle equipment violation.

Steven Stark, 19, Petoskey, was assessed $20 for speedning.

Joan Stokes, 43, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for disregarding a stop sign and $10 for driving a vehicle without proof of registration on her person.

Everett Roof, jr., 18, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for disregarding a stop sign.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix District Court last week by visiting Judge Richard Benedict of Traverse City:

A charge of contempt of court lodged against Charlevoix attorney John Michael by District Jodge Arthur Reibel was dismissed "without prejudice." This means that Reibel and his attorney Stephen Graham may reopen the case with the submission of affadavits if they choose. Michael was cited after he failed to appear in the courtroom on a civil suit as ordered by the judge.

Evart T. Mason, 33, Charlevoix, was found guilty at trial of resisting a police officer in the discharge of his duties. He was assessed $500 and ordered to spend 30 days in the county jail. Charges that Mason drove under the influence of intoxicating liquor and drove while his license was suspended were dismissed at the request of the prosecutor.

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Judge Arthur Reibel:

Mildred R. Richards, 51, East Jordan, plead guilty to a reduced charge of impaired driving. She was assessed $200 and her driver's license was restricted for six months. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the request of the prosecutor.

A charge that Thelma Chanda, East Jordan, violated the city's nuisance ordinance was dismissed.

Vern Raymond Brushman, 53, Custer, Mich., was assessed $50 on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Clarence Goldstick, 53, Charlevoix, was assessed $10 for disregarding a stop sign.

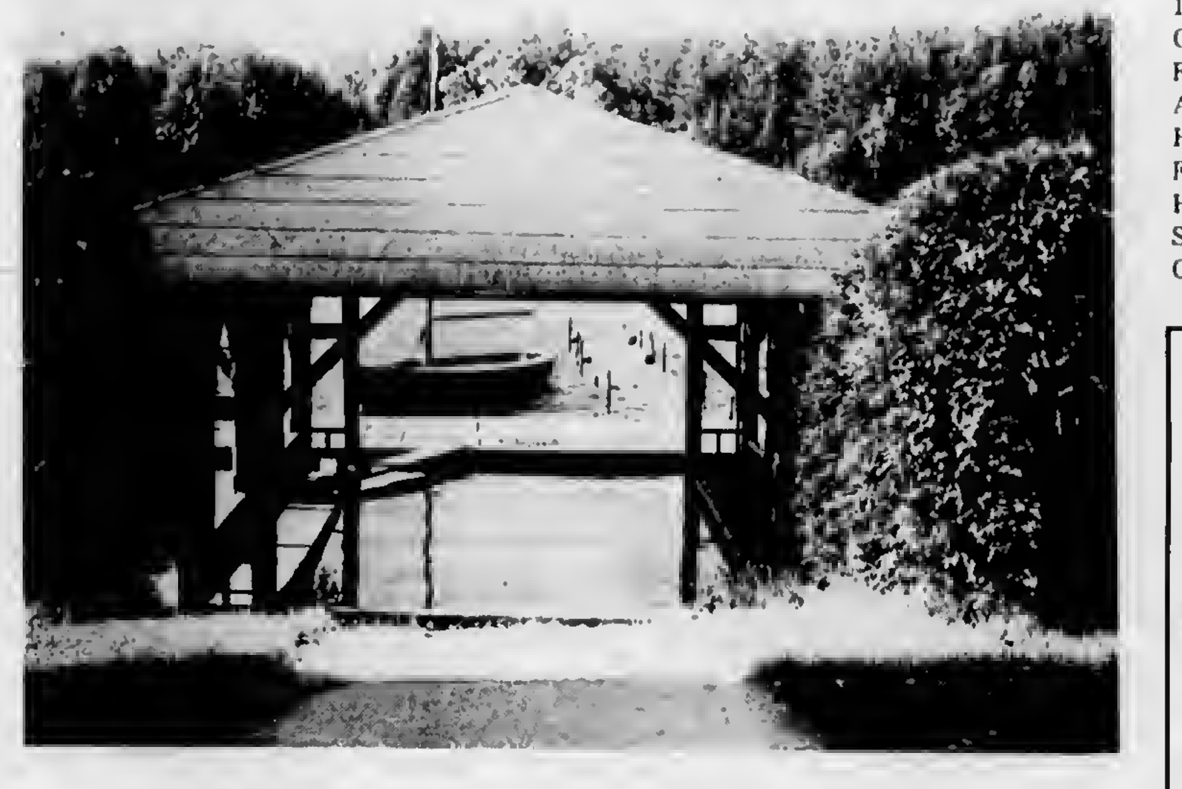
HIGH WATER has created an "island" of the Belvedere Boat House on Round Lake. Sidewalk approaches to the building are about one foot under water.



THE GAZEBO at the Belvedere Club's Round Lake waterfront won't accomodate many visitors this summer. High water has flooded the concrete floor and boaters must walk on the benches and cross a plank to reach the dock.

Softball Leagues Need Umpires

The Charlevoix Recreation Department needs qualified umpires to work the Men's and Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Leagues. Umpires are also needed for the Boys' and Girls' Softball Leagues.

Games are scheduled for every evening of the week. Interested persons may obtain more information at the Charlevoix Recreation Department, 210 State St., or by calling 547-4272.

PUBLIC NOTICE - PLAT STANDARD

Commissioner Korthase introduced the following resolution and moved that it be adopted. Supported by Commissioner Graham.

WHEREAS, Act 288 of the Public Acts of 1967, and Subdivision Control Act, refers to the adopted and published rules of a county road commission, and

WHEREAS, We, the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, deem it necessary to adopt standards and specifications relative to the construction and adoption of highways and appurtenant structures coming under our jurisdiction, and

WHEREAS, such standards and specifications function to provide rules, regulations and assistance to land developers and others to assure that public highways are constructed with sufficient approved materials and by appropriate methods.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction as filed with us this date, be and the same are hereby adopted as administrative rules and regulations governing private ways and platted roads and the same shall be known and cited as our Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any section, clause or portion of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction be declared invalid by the Court, the validity of the balance of same shall remain and in effect, except for the part declared invalid.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all prior standards and specifications for plats are hereby rescinded.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the effective date of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction shall be July 11, 1973.

All Commissioners voting in favor, the Resolution was declared adopted this 11th day of June, 1973.

CHARLEVOIX TOWNSHIP

ORDINANCE NO. 11

An ordinance for the purpose of supplying water to the Township of Charlevoix; for the administration of same; charges and rates; and enforcement.

Section 1. Administration. 1). The Township Supervisor shall be the administrator of the Water System, directly responsible for construction, alteration, repair and management of the System. The Township Board may make rules and regulations as it deems necessary to assure efficient management and operation of the System. b). Actual costs of the construction on the water system shall be charged to a separate bookkeeping account and a separate bank account shall be established.

Section 2. Charges and rates. 1). Residents requesting connection to an existing water line will be charged a fee of $600.00 per unit. This service includes ¾" pipe to property line and meter. Cost of installation of the meter will be at the property owner's expense, with the approval of the Water Administrator. Fees for larger size line, or commercial or industrial connections to be negotiated by the Administrator. This fee is to be for the calendar year of 1973, with the Township Board setting the fees annually in subsequent years. b). The following rates for water supply shall be established: First 2,000 gallons at $4.00, which will be the minimum monthly bill; all above 2,000 at the rate of 80 cents per 1,000 gallons. c). Billing: All bills shall be rendered on a monthly basis and said bills shall show the amount due and, if not paid within fifteen (15) days after the date rendered, five percent (5 percent) of the bill shall be added thereto as a penalty for failure to make prompt payment.

Section 3. Enforcement. a). Charges for water shall constitute a lien on the property served. On or before October 1st of each year the Township Treasurer shall deliver to the Supervisor a certified statement of all water charges six months past due and unpaid. The Supervisor shall then place such charges on the next general tax roll and they shall be collected as part of the general Township taxes. b). The Township shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of water service charges and rates thereof, when due, and said water shall not be turned back on until such charges are paid in full and a turn-on charge of $2.00 is paid. This Ordinance shall take effect August 3rd, 1973.

Spunky Bank Employe Overcomes Hearing Loss

Miss Elaine Dhaseleer, 18, is proving every day that handicaps are handicaps only if you let them stand in your way.

Miss Dhaseleer, a graduate of the Michigan School for the Deaf at Flint, has been working in the accounting and central filing departments at the Charlevoix County State Bank since March 1.

Bank President E. D. (Pat) Hawley and her co-workers are enthusiastic about the way Miss Dhaseleer's handles her duties despite her severe hearing loss.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dhaseleer of R-1, Charlevoix, Miss Dhaseleer was graduated from the Michigan School for the Deaf June 13, receiving a savings bond from the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf in recognition of her outstanding scholastic success.

The Dhaseleers attended the ceremony, which was highlighted by a speech by Lt. Gov. James H. Brickly.

In addition to academic work, Miss Dhaseleer was active in basketball, bowling, drama, pep club, art club, and was a member of the yearbook staff. She also did silk screening and lapidary work.

She received training in the operation of business machines, supplemented by on-the-job training at McLaren Hospital.

This summer, she is playing softball in the women's slow-pitch league.

ELAINE DHASELEER, a graduate of the Michigan School for the Deaf, was hired recently by County State Bank in the accounting and central filing departments. Here President Patrick Hawley observes Miss Dhaseleer's work at a business machine.

Births

Charlevoix Hospital reports the following births:

A son was born Tuesday, June 5, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Smith of Charlevoix.

A daughter was born Wednesday, June 6, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Richards jr. of Mancelona.

Atwood

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Reinders of Iowa spent a few days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tjapkes. On Friday they left for Grand Rapids where they will spend a month while Evan externs at Butterworth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Tjapkes and three children Cindy, Greg and Sue were supper guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tjapkes, on Monday evening enroute to the UP to camp at Indian Lake. On Saturday they stopped and were lunch guests with their parents enroute to their home at Spring Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Art DeVries and children, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Holecheck and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Houtman and children, Mrs. Gordon De Ruiter and six children, Mr. and Mrs. Bernic De Vries and two sons and Mrs. Mary DeVries enjoyed a potluck dinner at Antrim County Park in Eastport on Friday evening. This was a farewell dinner in honor of their daughter, sister and granddaughter, Mrs. Freda De Ruiter and family who spent the past week visiting her folks, sisters and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. De Vries took their daughter Freda and family to Grand Rapids on Saturday and also visited Freda's father-in-law Henry Houtman who recently had major surgery at Butterworth Hospital and is now recuperating at the Brookside Nursing Home in Grandville. Mr. and Mrs. Art De Vries returned home on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Flora Burns received word that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis (Jessie) Veenstra, passed away at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. The funeral was June 14 at the Van't Hof Chapel. Surviving are her husband Louis and two daughters Mrs. Gerrit (Margaret) Meekhof and Mrs. Nelson (Wilma) Wierenga and five son Paul, Ralph, John, Louis jr., and August; 28 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. Several relatives from Atwood attended the funeral.

John Essenberg is a medical patient at Charlevoix Hospital.

Mrs. Mary De Vries entered Charlevoix Hospital on Monday as a medical patient. She has pneumonia, but is getting along nicely. Relatives from Madison Heights have visited her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Essenberg, and friends Mr. and Mrs. Si Vanden Berg and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knott of Grand Rapids spent a week at the Antrim County Park at Eastport.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Essenberg spent the weekend at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Essenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Vries and family and his father, John De Vries spent the Father's Day weekend in Coopersville, Grand Rapids and Waylong. John De Vries remained to visit his daughter in Coopersville and Wayland.

Dr. and Mrs. F. Olert of Walloon Lake and Mrs. Sidebotham of East Jordan were Wednesday afternoon callers at the home of the former's sister-Mrs. John Bos.

There is just one week left for amateur and professional photographers to enter the first annual photographic contest sponsored by the Crooked Tree Arts Council.

Deadline for receiving entries at the Charlevoix Library on Clinton-st. and the Petoskey Library on E. Mitchell-st. is July 2, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Tsaloff of Petoskey, chairman of the contest committee.

Entries may come from anyplace in the world, but the subject matter must be confined to Charlevoix and Emmet counties, the area served by the council.

"Ecology" is the general theme of the contest, with emphasis on outdoor life in northern Michigan. Each photo should contain a figure or figures, to add the human touch.

Pictures may be either color or black and white and must bear the photographer's name, address and telephone number with the picture's title on the back.

The judging panel will be headed by Prof. Michael Church of the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Photos will be shown for the first time July 17 at Petoskey's Historical Museum on the waterfront. The occasion will be the second annual dinner-meeting of the council.

Each photographer will be charged a $2 entry fee.

Photographers will compete in four categories: Amateur color, amateur black and white, professional color and profession black and white. Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded in each category.

Winners will be honored guests at the annual dinner meeting.

Area's Freight Service Subject of New Survey

Transportation planning for Northwest Michigan is underway, and as an early step industries throughout the 10-county Region will be surveyed on their past, present and future freight service needs.

Bill G. Rowden, Executive Director of the Northwest Michigan Economic Development District and Regional Planning Commission, announced today that the agency is sending questionnaires this week to over 200 industries employing 10 or more persons.

The questionnaires ask industries about their transportation needs, experiences with various modes of shipping and receiving, projected future use of transportation services and suggestions for improving and expanding service.

Rowden said all replies will be kept confidential and will be used only in stastical summaries.

He urged cooperation with the survey because of its importance in efforts to assess and upgrade freight transportation service to the Region, particularly on the highways, railways and airways.

The director noted that transportation has been an important concern of the Commission for the past year. The Regional agency has been working closely with the Michigan Department of State Highways, the State Aeronautics Commission and the Railroad Division of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

"The staff, on behalf of Regional interests, has actively participated in recent and pending rail service abandonment proceedings," Rowden said, "and has generally been coordinating study efforts with the Citizens Regional Transportation Advisory Committee, which is composed of one member from each of the 10 county planning commissions."

He said the "check off" questionnaire has been designed to be easily answered by the user and analyzed by computer.

"A good return ratio will increase the credibility of the whole effort," Rowden said.

Persons with questions should call the regional office in Traverse City at 946-5922.

No! No! No! No! Cost of Fishing Tags Must Not Rise Now

We were stunned to learn last week that Sen. Robert W. Davis is seeking an increase in the cost of fishing licenses from the present $6.50, including trout stamp, to $15.

If there is one expense which must not go up in these inflationary days it is the price of fishing licenses.

We know there are many families in northern Michigan who are able to keep body and soul together this year only because they are supplementing the protein in their diets with fish caught during their leisure hours.

To increase the cost of licenses now would only invite widespread contempt for the licensing program generally, increase costs of enforcement and pose a hardship on those fishing families which want to obey the law.

Sen. Davis appeared before the 36th annual convention of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in Alpena last week in an attempt to secure the organization's help in erasing an estimated $2.2 million deficit in the 1973-'74 budget.

He said as the current appropriation bill now stands, $15.5 million has been allocated from the Fish and Game Protection Fund, while estimated revenues, based on current license fees, are only $13.3 million.

Sen. Davis is supporting Senate Bill 161 which would increase fishing license fees.

"I believe this bill will serve to erase the deficit faced by the Department of Natural Resources and at the same time will reach a compromise between what the Michigan United Conservation Clubs believes the increase should be and what the DNR has proposed," Sen. Davis said.

Under the Senate bill, fishing licenses for both husbands and wives would cost $4.25 each. Trout and salmon stamps, which would also be required by each, would remain at $3.25.

This means it would cost a man and wife $15 for fishing licenses which now can be purchased for $6.50 – an increase of 130 percent. Under the present system, if a man purchases a license, his wife isn't required to.

Surely the DNR needs more money, as does every other branch of government.

But it is an insult of the first order to attempt to take the money out of the hides of fishermen and wives, who already are hard-pressed to make ends meet under today's sorry economic conditions.

How about making up the deficit out of legislative salaries?

The lawmakers must be in a better position to absorb the increase than their thousands of fishermen-constituents, or they wouldn't have even considered such an asronomical jump in the cost of fishing licenses this year.

The MUCC took no action on Sen. Davis' request. We hope that the senator and his colleagues take the hint and let the issue die aborning.

Let's All Ride Bikes To Work on Friday

We take off our editorial hat to the good merchants of Alma, Mich., who have taken the bull by the handlebars, so to speak, in facing up to the fuel crisis.

Last Tuesday, a goodly number of Alma businessmen and their employes showed up for work riding bicycles at the behest of the Chamber of Commerce, which hopes the Tuesday bike-a-thon will last the rest of the summer.

The bike-in was proposed by furniture merchant Leon Currie who thought it was a good way to meet the nation's fuel crisis head-on.

And so did a sizeable number of thrifty Alma merchants and their hired hands who are proud of their Scotish heritage. The City of Alma bills itself as "Scotland, U.S.A."

Of course there were still plenty of gasoline and diesel powered vehicles on Superior-st. in downtown Alma during the bike-in, but the missing cars were noticeable by their absence.

We'd like to propose that Charlevoix merchants and their employes–at least those within easy pedaling distance of town–follow Alma's lead.

We would not only be doing our bit to conserve gasoline, which is needed by tourists to reach and leave our lovely shores, but we also would be doing something to relieve the goshawful parking problem which visits downtown Charlevoix every summer.

We might also follow Alma's lead in trying to accommodate the bicycle as an alternate means of transportation to the automobile. As in other cities, Alma's civic leaders are attempting to have "bicycle lanes" marked on certain streets and are endeavoring to have restrictions on bicycle riding lifted on selected sidewalks.

So with the endorsement of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, we'd like to propose a Charlevoix bike-in this Friday, June 29. If you work downtown, or have an occasion to visit downtown, come on your bike. It will be fun to see how many empty parking spaces we can create along Bridge-st for our cash customers.

Furthermore, we'll be getting your legs in shape for the big Lake Charlevoix bike tour in September.

Belvedere Deserves Protection

Editor Bob Clock
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Mich. 49720

My Respected Editor:

I always read your fine paper carefully and especially the front page item (June 6, 1973) by Mr. Bob Schleman...The Belvedere Race Track.

I remember well the 90-year-old Belvedere. I have spent a bit over 75 years of my life there...have watched the generous contribution by the Belvedere over the years:

–Generous contributions to the hospital and other causes.

–About $1 million spent yearly with tradespeople and merchants.

–Many thousands of dollars in school taxes, with only one or two children in school.

The Belvedere was founded with the original idea – first and foremost – for little folks. So why should not the City of Charlevoix supply Blevedere with ample day and night police patrol, arrests and high fines.

Trust you will agree and endorse.

Sincerely,
G.E. Hollingsworth

Stumping the Woods
...With Ollie O. Stump Jr.

Computers can land a man on the moon or in prison but could never have performed one simple chore for Uncle Charlie – order a barrel of hardtack from Sears. It took a bit of brains and ingenuity for this accomplishment which, with all due respect, would stump Cape Kennedy.

Each fall, Charlie ordered a barrel of hardtack to chomp on with his stew. This sounds a bit uncouth in a society nibbling daintily on rye-krisp but it was the crunching of this vitamin rich staple, with the density of particle board, which permitted Charlie lifelong use of his endowed dentures without benefit of fluoridation.

For want of a Finnish interpreting computer, Charlie and all concerned devised a unique ordering system. Charlie would clip out a picture of the hardtack out of the catalogue and send it along with a money order. Lo and behold, the merchandise arrived in less time then now required for the mailed order to reach the office proving that mail had zip before it was ever coded.

At the local level every purchase was a cultural exchange between the Americanized merchant and the newly arrived immigrant, each picking up a smattering of the other tongue until both became quite proficient. The most successful shopkeeper spoke three languages fluently.

Due to more complicated merchandising the general store was not adaptable to computer operation. If the buyer could not point out what he desired, and if his fragramentary English did not suffice, he would resort to pantomime which became quite entertaining at times. Requests for shovels, axes, and hoes were easily deciphered but along came Mrs. Heikkila in need of a hand sickle. She kept swinging her arm and repeating 'grass hook' while adding remarks in her native tongue relating to the stupidity of anyone unable to interpret something so obvious.

Without mentioning the episode of the lady desirous of a chamber pot, let us enter the electronic age with Toivo. He was a bachelor carpenter much in demand on both credentials. During his leisure time he visited all the spinsters and widows who hopefully set a groaning table which the wily Toivo chalked off his grocery bill while deftly diverting conversation of a matrimonial nature.

Later on Toivo fell on hard times and did odd jobs which included errands and chores for a blind widow in her late 80's, who was unaware of his deterioration and overlooked his overindulgence when finances permitted. She ordered fuel oil from the dealer who spoke Finnish and all went well until an answering service was installed on the office phone. Completely at a loss, she asked Toivo what he made of it.

"I fix," he said, taking the phone.

After listening to the recording Toivo advised the unseen human robot, "Now you listen. Toivo talks!"

This dialogue was repeated over and over with Toivo's voice and temper rising in unison until he gave up in disgust with this new fangled technology. He summed up his feelings by shouting into the instrument before hanging up,

"Aw p—sit."

Aren't You Glad?

Mrs. C. D. Geiken noticed the following item in one of the daily newspapers and called it to our attention so we could share it with you:

"I can remember last year when we were told that if McGovern were elected we'd have wild inflation, a devalued dollar, a stock market on the brink of a crash, no respect elsewhere in the world, a governmental credibility gap. Good thing we elected Nixon, right?"

A Canadian Looks At Watergate

By BOB CLOCK

I like to think of Canadian columnist Bill Smiley as a friend.

I used to stop in to see him occasionally when he was editor of the Wiarton, Ont., Echo, a job my grandfather used to hold back around the turn of the century.

I even attended a "dry" New Year's Eve party with Smiley and his wife one cold winter night on the second floor of the Wiarton municipal building. The party was technically "dry", but there was a brown paper bag under every table containing you-know what.

Several years ago Smiley left the newspaper business and is now a high school English teacher at Midland, Ont. But he continues to write his column, "Sugar and Spice", for the Argyle Syndicate. It appears weekly in literally hundreds of Canadian newspapers and Smiley is probably the widest-read writer in Canada today.

A recent column dealt with the Watergate affair, and it was interesting to learn how our good neighbors to the north view the latest calumny in Washington. Smiley, for one, thinks the American people have the guts to survive the Watergate just as we have the McCarthy era and the Bay of Pigs fiasco.

I'd like you to read his column entitled "It Takes a Watergate to Clear the Air." I think it will make you feel better.

By Bill Smiley

As I write, the Watergate hearings are in progress and that word is entering the language as a synonym for scandal and skullduggery.

Canadians are having a whale of a time doing what they like very much, – looking down their spotless noses at the Yanks.

I guess we've forgotten our great home-grown scandals involving Canadian governments, both provincial and federal. Some of the fantastic rip-offs made by such outfits as our railways and the Hudson Bay Company make the Watergate look like peanuts.

And then there was the Beauharnois affair, a piece of piracy that made many a Canadian politician feel like looking for a hole to crawl into.

And let's not forget the Duplessis era in Quebec, where votes were bought and sold like potatoes, ballot boxes stuffed, and strong-arm tactics used at election time.

Nope. We can't afford to look down our noses at anybody. All we can or should do is shake our heads and remember, "There, but for the grace of God..."

Of course, Watergate is somewhat different in that it's involved the use of police state tactics in pursuit of unbridled political power. That distinguishes it from traditional political corruption which has usually been motivated by a love of "booze, broads and bucks".

Perhaps the saddest aspect of the Watergate affair is that nobody is spilling the beans because of conscience or lofty principles.

They are telling all because they are on the hot seat. It's every man for himself as those involved try to save their own necks. A bunch of finks scrambling for safety.

At the same time, one must admire the U.S. process of probing for the truth, regardless of who gets hurt. I wouldn't want to be up in front of those tough senators for anything more serious than spitting on the sidewalk.

How would Canada handle such a situation? Well, first the government would appoint a Royal Commission, which would investigate in near-secrecy. The Commission would require three years to complete its job, by which time nobody would be interested. It would then publish its report, which would be almost unreadable.

A few weary editorials would be written, a few professors who could wade through the Commission Report would make speeches and the whole thing would then be buried.

As a good many observers have pointed out, the Watergate airing of soiled linen may be the best thing that has happened to the U.S. democratic system in generations.

When you are constipated, you take a purge. When you've swallowed poison and want to throw up, you take an emetic. Perhaps the Watergate will serve as both.

Regardless of how many heads will get the chop, and to whom those heads belong, it is comforting to know that our great neighbour will heal itself, spew out the poison or cut out the cancer, and get back to work.

And it will. It has survived Senator Joe McCarthy's witch-hunts, the lying about spying on Russia, the Bay of Pigs fiasco, and many another, not to mention a disgusting and disastrous war in Asia.

It is also comforting to know that there are still countries in the world where powerful public figures can be brought to account. It couldn't happen in Russia or China. And it wouldn't happen in many a so-called democracy.

On the other hand, the average Joe in the States must be becoming a little skeptical, to say the least. He has been lied to and lied to. He must be wondering whether he can believe anybody any more. I know I would be.

There's nothing new in powerful leaders lying to the people they are leading. Hitler lied to the Germans, Mussolini to the Italians, Stalin to the Russians.

Unfortunately, their lies were not discovered by their peoples until the damage had been done and the world was staggering back from the holocaust they unleashed.

This time the truth is coming out, haltingly, so that the damage to a nation and a nation's pride may be halted before it becomes irreparable. Let's hope so.

And let's hope the Americans come out of the sordid little mess, smelling of violets and ready to get back to the real problems they must solve: inflation, pollution, integration. They're great solvers of problems, and they have great problems to solve.

In the meantime, it behooves us in Canada not to sneer and point the finger.

Let's pretend our neighbours are having a domestic quarrel which is none of our business. Let's cultivate our own garden. It needs it.

How I Lost 20 Pounds

By JIM FITZGERALD

My family has declared me the most obnoxious puncher in captivity. They reached their decision midway through the candlelight ceremony in which I punched another hole in my belt.

What I mean is, in the last 2 months I have lost 20 pounds but no humility.

All you fatties are wondering how I did it. It was easy. All you need is steel willpower, a flair for dramatics, and gall enough to kiss your wonderful self 150 times a day.

Forget the tricky diets and the wonder pills. Just cut the size of your meals about 50 percent. Eat absolutely nothing between meals, not even giant Hershey bars with almonds (be still, my heating heart).

When the agony of hunger hits you, don't keep it a secret. Let the whole world know how you are suffering. Scream and sob and writhe on the floor. The other day I fainted face-first into my skinny son's ice cream. Another day, when my wife filled the house with the smell of baking bread, I banged my head against the oven until I was overcome by blessed unconsciousness.

(Incidental intelligence: during the oven flagellation I accidentally broke the oven timer, thereby discovering that my family functions by the buzzing of that timer, something like a Pavlov reflex. They set it to remind themselves to do all sorts of important things, such as wash their hair, eat a biscuit, feed the cat, make a phone call, and touch their toes. Once I spied a daughter talking into the oven and I was going to call the men in white coats. But she was simply timing an oration for speech class. During the week the timer was busted, it was pure chaos at hour house. People stumbled around with dazed looks, wondering what they were supposed to be doing, and the cats moved into the neighbor's garbage can.)

But let's see, where was I? Oh yes, coming to the most important part of how to lose weight. After you have quit eating, and suffered loudly, your pants will get too big and your necktie will appear from beneath your chins. The scales will tell you what a splendid thing you have accomplished with your marvelous willpower. Now you tell the world, I mean, brag about it.

For instance, I invite strangers in off the street to bear awed witness while I plunge an icepick into my belt. If the high school band can't make it, I play Sousa records and hire my daughter to turn cartwheels and lead cheers ("Let's hear it for Slim Jim").

I dazzle guests with a startling exhibition in which I prove there is now room in a pair of my old pants for me and the living room couch.

When I visit relatives for the first time in months, I am visibly enraged if they do not immediately express admiration for my lithe figure and the magnificent willpower that made it possible. I tell them how I did it, just as I am telling you, even if I have to chase them around the block.

I am not hurt when people call me an obnoxious bore. I realize they are simply jealous. And if they are truly tired of hearing how I lost weight, I will change the subject. I'll tell them how I quit smoking.

Misery loves company. You may quote that, and perhaps embroider it on your bib.

Jim's Journal
Play Ball

By JIM REUS

What can you say about a women's softball team that lost? That they loved the game. That they tried hard. That they were true sportsmen, or sportswomen, as the case may be.

I am writing in the abandoned bleachers at the ballpark. The crowd, long silent and departed, is asleep by now no doubt, and I am left alone with my thoughts and the fresh memory of a crushing defeat.

Ski & Shore Properties, Inc., my noble team once so full of pep and desire, was ruthlessly humiliated by the team from A & W – a team, I might add, which is hardly out of dinpers compared to my experienced vets.

It's not that the girls I coach are old. But let's just say they've seen enough of the world to be much more knowledgeable of its workings than myself.

And so, how are we to compete against a bunch of young opportunists such as those from A & W?

I, for one, will never buy another mug of A & W rootbeer again. That once mellow, thirst-quenching brew no doubt would turn bitter in my mouth. And perhaps the lost revenue would force Jim Withers to discontinue the sponsorship of his merciless marauders.

But even so, I have still lost twice. Not only was the team beaten 16-2, but more importantly, I will nver again be able to enjoy A & W rootbeer with a clear conscience.

So, where do I begin to tell the story of this tragic loss of mine – to tell the world about the emptiness inside? (You see, I'm quite thirsty and the A & W is just a few blocks away.)

Let's begin with the first inning when A & W scored four runs. Right from the start I could see it was going to be one of those nights. And it was then that I recognized for the first time one of my team's more subtle problems – fielding.

After all, what can you say about infielders who bend down to pick up a grounder and can't straighten up again?

In the second inning I noticed a second problem – even more subtle than the first. That was hitting. Mind you, it wasn't as bad as the fielding. Much to the chagrin of an A & W outfielder, one batter actually hit one out of the infield and the A & W fielder had to catch it.

Finally, down 8-0, in the third inning Ski & Shore started a rally. We got two walks in a row and it looked like a score. A Ski & Shore batter then got a hit – one of the two for the night – and we had two runs.

But it was then that I noticed our third and very subtle problem – baserunning.

The problem is perhaps best exemplified by our first baseman, high stepping Pat "Stretch" Bloom. Every time she runs the bases I'm afraid she is going to hit her chin with kneecap and it will be all over – for her and us.

But somehow, I still have faith in Ski & Shore Properties, Inc. Surely wisdom that comes from experience will win over the capricious youth. And then perhaps the merciless marauders from A & W will be humbled by Ski & Shore.

I certainly hope so, because right now I'm awfully thirsty.

ARNOLD LINE
EMERALD ISLE

IT WAS old home week at the Charlevoix city dock Friday when the Arnold Line motor launch Emerald Isle arrived from the Straits to pinch hit for the Beaver Islander, sidelined by a clutch ailment. The Emerald Isle, which formerly made the Charlevoix-St. James run, will carry freight and automobiles until the Beaver Islander is back in service, hopefully by Wednesday.

19 Year-Old Putts Way To State Amateur Title

week before the tourney with the Michigan Dental Assn.

Kramer said he played "as well as I could. It's quite an accomplishment for me to win five matches. I came up expecting to win, but that's a once-in-a-lifetime thing."

He added that he enjoys competing "against guys who are the best players in the state. All in all, it's been a pretty enjoyable week."

Chapman is a graduate of Farmington High School where he holds the basketball scoring record for a single game – 46 points.

He also holds the school's low-nine record in golf.

He entered the Michigan Amateur when he was 15 and 16 but failed to qualify.

Last year, at 18, he qualified, but lost on the first round.

"The weather was terrible," he recalled.

He attributes his victory this year to his improved putting – and a new "Ping" putter.

"I was as surprised as anyone at the way I putted," he laughed after it was over.

Chapman, who has been playing golf since he was 10 years old, says his hardest match this year was against Pete Green, "just because he's a great player."

Green won the Michigan Amateur in 1969.

Chapman won the Michigan Jaycee title when he was 13 and was medalist in the Mational Junior Qualifying tourney when he was 17.

This week, he had expected to join his Stanford teammates in the NCAA tournament, but his swing left him this spring and his putting turned blah. He took an early summer vacation instead and came to Charlevoix.

He conceded that "lots of luck" is involved in match play.

"You have to play the right person at the right time," he said.

At the close of the tourney, officials of the Golf Association of Michigan had high praise for the way the Belvedere Golf Course is maintained and the warm reception Michigan Amateur players always receive in Charlevoix.

The tourney has been held in Charlevoix for the past 23 years, and the GAM executives promised to return next June.

Jordan Valley Fete On Tap Next Week

Plans for East Jordan's big Jordan Valley Festival are shaping up, according to Thomas Merta, executive director of the EJ Chamber.

Held annually over the 4th of July, the festival will feature a big street parade in downtown East Jordan starting at 2:30 p.m.

The chamber also is planning a Fleamarket on the 4th in Memorial Park, starting at 9 a.m. and continuing until dusk. Persons interested in setting up shop at the fleamarket should contact Betty Rison at 536-2702.

The festival will start July 1 and continue through July 4, Merta said. A complete schedule of events will appear in next week's Courier.

Hawaiian Evangelist Scheduled

Joe Kuheana, a singing evangelist from Hawaii, will be at the Charlevoix United Methodist Church Sunday, July 1, for the 10:45 a.m. service.

Kuheana, who accompanies himself on the guitar, will be accompanied by his wife, Judy, and two children, Kimo, 6, and Keoki, 3.

have and that as director he would be in charge of recreation, guiding programs and getting people interested in recreation. He said that the softball program is underway, that the lifeguards will be on the beaches this weekend and that swimming classes will begin July 5; that plans are completed for tennis lessons utilizing the new tennis courts on the north side; that shuffleboard is about ready to get underway and that there will be two track and field meets later in the summer.

He also touched briefly on other programs that could be initiated after the summer season.

He concluded by saying there was always a need for volunteers in the program and asked that anyone interested in assisting get in touch with him.

As the meeting neared its close Supt. Robert L. Miller, who is leaving as superintendent after three years, spoke briefly as did Maureen 'Murphy' Wallace who has represented the student body on the board for the past year.

Robert Donaldson who is completing a four year term on the board, the last year as president, outlined his thoughts about the board's accomplishments during this period, made a number of suggestions to those members remaining on the board and expressed his appreciation to the board for its support.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Donaldson offered the house at 1202 Bridge st. to the school for $2,500. He suggested the house be moved to a lot, remodeled by the Building Trades class and sold. Payment of the $2500 would not have to be made until the house was sold. He has purchased the property at this site and plans to build a commercial building on the property.

The board was also advised that Colwell Realty had turned over 50 percent of its commission to the school after selling another Building Trades house.

On the agenda for the July 9 meeting will be the reorganization of the board, designation of depositories and signatories and the naming of a Middle School principal.

Summer Band Sked Starts

The summer band program for seventh graders started June 19, according to Gary Stutzman, director. director.

Stutzman said about 200 students are expected to take part in the six-week program. He will be assisted by Miss Evelyn Peters.

Beginning flute and clarinet players will meet Tuesdays at 11 a.m. and saxophone and French horn players will meet Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m.

Beginning cornet players will meet at 11 a.m. Wednesdays and trombone, baritone and percussion players will meet Wednesdays at 12:30 p.m.

Full band rehearsal will be held every Thursday at 11 a.m.

Michigan Tech Graduates 2

In commencement exercises held at Michigan Technological University on Saturday, June 16, two students from Charlevoix County received degrees.

Charles R. Paterka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Paterka, Route 3, Charlevoix, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering.

James A. Cihak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Cihak of 210 East Esterly, East Jordan, earned a Master of Science in mathematics.

Walter J. Hickel, former U.S. Secretary of the Interior, delivered the commencement address. He was awarded an honorary doctor of engineering degree from the college.

Obituary

Carey

Funeral for T. Leo Carey, 80, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Monday, the Rev. Hewitt V. Johnston vicar of Christ Episcopal Church officiating. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery with graveside services under the auspices of Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F&AM.

Mr. Carey died June 22 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where he had been a patient less than one day. He had been in failing health for several years.

He was born in Charlevoix June 15, 1893, and was married to the former Marion Emrey at Traverse City in 1913. She died in June, 1953.

Mr. Carey was a painting contractor all his life.

He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church and was past master of Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F & AM.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. S. E. (Marjorie) Coleman of Charlevoix, and six sons, Keith of Midland, William of East Jordan, Robert of Cincinnati, and Charles, Thomas and Donald of Charlevoix.

Also surviving are 26 grandchildren; nine great grandchildren; a brother, Lafayette, of Riveria Beach, Fla.; and three sisters, Mrs. George Papineau of Dearborn, Mrs. Ned Durance of Flushing and Mrs. Guy Weller of Ithaca.

The family suggests that anyone wishing to honor the memory of Mr. Carey may contribute in his name to the Intensive Care Unit at Charlevoix Area Hospital.

Lengfelder

Funeral for John P. Lengfelder, 79, who died Saturday at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where he had been a patient for three weeks, was held at Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Petoskey at 2 p.m. Tuesday. The Rev. John R. Kirkman officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery in Charlevoix where graveside services were conducted by Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F and AM.

Born in Los Angeles Nov. 2, 1893, he was married to the former Ruth Butterfield at Jamestown, N.Y., in 1918. They resided in Birmingham for 22 years prior to his retirement when they moved to their home on Lake Charlevoix in Hayes Township.

He had been associated with the Danley Machine Co. of Detroit as an engineer prior to his retirement and before that had been with the Curtiss and the Chaunce-Vought Aircraft Companies.

He was a member of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Petoskey, the Petoskey Kiwanis Club, a life member of Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. & A.M., the Consistory at Jamaica, Long Island, and the Moslem Shrine of Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth.

It is suggested that anyone wishing to honor Mr. Lengfelder's memory do so by contributing to the Kiwanis Foundation Fund or the Emmanuel Episcopal Church memorial fund or organ fund.

City Gets Break In Power Contract

The City of Charlevoix stands to save about $450 a month – or $5,000 a year – under a new contract with Consumers Power Co. approved by the council Monday night.

The new contract calls for a reduction in the kilowatt-amphere "demand charge" of from $2 to $1.90 because the city no longer is supplying portion of its power at the Bellaire Hydro Electric Plant.

City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna said operations at Bellaire would cease at noon July 3, the day the new contract goes into effect.

Customers receive a reduced rate under the terms of "total purchase contracts", Hanna explained.

In a companion action, the council authorized Mayor Edward P. Hansen and Clerk Ida Heise to sign a sales agreement transferring ownership of the Bellaire Hydro property to Antrim County at a cost of $1.

The power dam and adjoining overflow structures are in a bad state of repair and the city accepted an offer by the Antrim County Board of Commissioners to purchase the property several months ago.

In other action the council:

Heard a report by Hanna that the city of Charlevoix is not receiving a "free ride" by supplying fire protection to adjoining townships. There has been some dissatisfaction, particularly in Charlevoix Township, over the fact that the city bills townships .5 of a mill for fire protection. For several years prior to 1973 the rate was .6 of a mill.

Hanna said that the city is paying the lion's share of fire department operation costs, ranging from a low of .47 of a mill in 1970-71 to a high of 3.95 mills in 1967-68. Operation of the Fire Department cost the city .95 of a mill in 1966-67; 3.95 in 1967-68; 1.31 in 1968-69; .82 in 1969-70; .47 in 1970-71; 1.06 in 1971-72; 1.17 in 1972-73; and (projected 1.42 in 1973-74.

The council also:

--Heard a report on Recreation Department activities by Curtis Kipke, the city's first full-time director. Mayor Hansen declared July as "Recreation Month" in Charlevoix at Kipke's request.

David Norton Opens Veterinary Practice

David Norton, DVM, a native of Charlevoix, will open a Small Animal Veterinary Practice in Charlevoix on Monday, July 9. His practice will be located in the Charlevoix Veterinary Hospital on US-31.

Dr. Norton is the son of Mr. John Norton of 313 Prospect.

A 1965 graduate of Charlevoix High School, Dr. Norton attended Michigan State University. He earned his Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degrees from MSU, graduating in 1970.

During his senior year in the School of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Norton lived as a student resident intern in the University's Veterinary Clinic. That year the faculty voted him second in his class in Small Animal Clinics.

After graduation Dr. Norton was associated with the Grand Traverse Veterinary Hospital in Traverse City as a member of the staff. He has been there for the past 2½ years.

Dr. Norton is married to the former Mary Lu Bombyk from southern Michigan.

A "Fleamarket" will be in progress in East Jordan's Memorial Park throughout the day.

Also on the agenda is a "Slightly Used" sale sponsored by the Rotary Club at the Community Building and a Rotary barbecue at the Garden Club Mall.

Wednesday night, a fireworks display is planned over the South Arm.

Vets Dedicate Monument

By JIM REUS

Dressed in bright blue vests and "Digger" hats topped with white plumes, the Michigan Chapter of the U.S. Submarine Veterans of World War II gathered in East Park Saturday afternoon to dedicate memorial plaques to men and submarines lost during World War II.

The sun broke through overcast skies just in time for the ceremony.

One plaque is a special memorial to the USS Escolar, one of 52 subs lost in the war. The Escolar has been designated as Michigan's vessel.

Mayor Edward P. Hansen welcomed the submariners. He presented the key to the city to Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of Grand Rapids, who were the honored guests at the dedication. The Johnsons' son James was a member of the crew on board the Escolar. Mrs. Johnson is the only known living "gold star" mother from the Escolar's crew.

Capt. McClintock, USN, retired, a former submarine skipper gave the dedication address, saying:

"Let this (the plauqe) always be a reminder of what these men gave that we may know freedom. The price they paid is high and in view of things that are happening in our country today we sometimes wonder if it was too high. Remember that it is up to you to do your "thing": to vote; to be of service to your fellowmen; to do your part to keep this country strong and free. Only in this way can we keep faith with those still on patrol."

After Capt. McClintock's speech, a ship's bell was rung as each of the names of the submarines lost in the war was called out. Maurice Grant of Flint, State Commander of Michigan Chapter of submarine veterans, placed a red carnation in a vase at the base of the memorial with the sounding of each name.

When the name of the Escolar was read, Mrs. Johnson placed one white carnation in the vase.

A firing squad composed of US Coast Guard men from the cutter Sundew then saluted the lost crewmen and submarines. Chaplain Nelson read a prayer and Rev. John Cail of Charlevoix closed the service with a benediction.

On Saturday evening, the submarine veterans held a banquet at the American Legion post home. At the banquet State Commander Grant, serving as master of ceremonies, thanked Benjamin Gill of Charlevoix for his work as convention and memorial chairman.

THOMAS G. Wieland (left) Charlevoix dairyman, accepts a certificate of recognition from G.S. McIntyre, East Lansing, director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service. The presentation was made last week during an extension staff training school at Mancelona, Mich., honoring Wieland and other members of the Michigan Extension Advisory Council. Membership on the statewide council is recommended by county extension directors. Wieland, who farms 500 acres in partnership with his brother, Dick, represents 15 north-eastern counties on the council, which advises the Extension Service on program and budget priorities.

Historical Society Plans Election at July Meeting

The Charlevoix Historical Society will elect new officers at its annual meeting, scheduled July 12 at the Courthouse Annex at 8 p.m.

The election was one of the items of business discussed at the June 14 meeting.

Also discussed were a regular meeting place and selection of a site for the proposed Charlevoix Museum.

Pictures and items of interest were displayed, including the Charlevoix Township poll book for a primary election held Sept. 1, 1908.

Only 10 persons voted, eight Republicans, one Democrat and one Prohibition Party member.

Among GOP electors were Hiram O. Ross, Alexander M. Ross, George W. Dennis, William McLain, Elmer W. Coulter, Wesley Howard, William Cook, J.A. Cameron, Albert Reynolds and George Durance. Reynolds belonged to the Prohibition Party and Durance to the Democratic Party.

It is interesting to note that no women voted, since they didn't have the franchise until several years later.

Lions Take Cruise

By Oscar Erickson

LCDR Phillip J. Bull, captain of the cutter Sundew was guest speaker at the Lions meeting on June 18. A film, The Eighth Mission, was shown which vividly portrayed the latest equipment used in promoting safety at sea.

At the 'Skippers' invitation the club members enjoyed a short cruise on Lake Michigan where they observed the routine aboard ship and gained an insight into the lives of Charlevoix's seagoing citizens.

The impact of the Coast Guard, the lights, station and Sundew could be felt in the greetings of the boaters on the lake. The Coast Guard played a significant role in the ever increasing popularity of Charlevoix with the boating public.

THESE youngsters and adults from Indiana spent three days at the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church on Old US-31 last week to assist the mission with needed improvements. Trip expenses were raised by the kids themselves, under auspices of the Wesley Foundation of the Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church.

Hoosier Kids Pitch In To Help Indian Mission

By Oscar Erickson

Last Wednesday, a bus lettered "Gods Children" turned off Old US-31 and disgorged five stiff jointed adults, 21 bouncing teenagers and one obviously well-fed cocker spaniel named Ginger in the parking lot of the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church.

These tourists from Mishawaka and LaPorte, Ind., volunteer free labor for a mission of their choice under the auspices of the Wesley Foundation of the Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church.

All expenses, approximately $600, were raised by this group of eight to twelfth graders with car washes, bake sales and related activities.

Their combination working, educational and recreational holiday began with a three-day seminar on Indian culture at CMU in Mt. Pleasant. This is but one of many similar participations in Project BRIDGE (Becoming Re-educated to Indians by Doing, Going and Experiencing).

During their three-day stay they laid and covered an underground cable in a trench which they dug two feet deep and 125 feet long. They also sided the front porch, painted the kitchen and cleaned the extensive premises.

Regrettably, rain interfered with their night ball game and campfire. They literally 'hit the sack' by crawling into sleeping bags on the bare wooden floors of the church and dining hall. As Jane or Tommie from down the block in Anywhere, USA, they represented the inherent initiative of all youth given encouragement, motivation, and guidance.

Group recognition overshadowed individual identity except for irrepressible Ginger, traditionally known as man's best friend. Most definitely, these young people share that distinction with her.

Air Quality Board Reviews Medusa Report

Charlevoix Township Air Quality Control Board, (Chairman Oscar Stroud, C. Gould and E. Kaiser), reviewed the report of Dr. Sweeney covering his inspection of the Medusa Plant on May 16th.

Dr. Sweeney notes that there are three major areas of potential air pollution at the plant. They are as follows: – The kiln stack. – The clinker cooler stack. – Nuisance dust from unpaved roads and material piles.

His examination of kiln stack dust emission monitor records indicate that dust emission levels are satisfactory and typically effluent levels were less than one-third of that allowed by the Township code. He recommended periodic recalibration of the monitor device by stack tests.

There are visible emissions of dust from the clinker cooler. At the present time, this system is equipped with mechanical cyclone collectors.

Medusa has completed engineering on a bag collector for this source with construction to start in the fall. The collector design has been approved by the State of Michigan. With the completion of this installation, dust problems from this source should be eliminated.

The nuisance dust potential from unpaved roads, unearth spoil areas and the like at the plant site is large. There is no quick and easy solution to this dust problem. It is a matter that will require continual attention of Medusa and the Board.

Since the inspection, Medusa has already undertaken a program of road oiling and water with calcium chloride solution on in-plant roads, and fertilizer and seed have been ordered for planting on the spoil piles in the vicinity of the airport and that this work will be completed within 30 days.

The Board will contact the State Health Department to determine if they will undertake the stack tests for calibration of the monitoring device.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix District Court last week by Judge Arthur Reibel.

Olie Ulmand had the charge of violation of an East Jordan City Ordinance dismissed.

Mary Bereberke was charged with the violation of an East Jordan City Ordinance. Case was continued to a later date.

William Russell, East Jordan, plead not guilty to the charge of violating an East Jordan City Ordinance. The case was continued for trial.

Eugene Kerr, 51, Boyne City, was assessed $50 in fines and court costs for reckless driving.

Debbe Faller, 24, East Jordan, upon trial was found guilty of passing a stopped school bus in the process of loading or unloading. The fine and court costs were suspended.

Russell Thomas, East Jordan, upon trial was found not guilty of an assault and battery charge. The case was dismissed.

John Martin, Boyne City, upon trial was found not guilty of an assault and battery charge. Case dismissed.

Ronny Godsey, 23, from Mont Pelier, Ohio, plead not guilty to a charge of possession of stolen property. Case was continued to a later date.

Jeffrey Shepler, Edgerton, Ohio, plead not guilty to a charge of possession of stolen property. Case was continued.

Paul Antoine, 22, East Jordan, plead not guilty to the charge of being a disorderly person. The case was continued to a later date.

Emil Benz, 62, Boyne City, plead not guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Bond was continued to a later date.

Walter Carson, 19, East Jordan, was found guilty of being a disorderly person. He was assessed $75 for fines and court costs.

Jury Hears Three Cases

The following jury cases were heard by District Judge Arthur Reibel in Charlevoix last week:

Thurlo Minhinneck, 40, Charlevoix, was found guilty by a jury of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was assessed $250 and his license was suspended for 90 days.

Miles Hutchinson, 58, Detroit, was found guilty by a jury of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was assessed $250 and his license was suspended for 90 days.

A jury began hearing the civil suit of Arthur R. Butler vs. Peter Culver, but agreement was reached between the two parties before the jury began its deliberations. Culver, represented by attorney John Michael, will repay Butler, represented by Nathaniel Stroup and Paul Brown, $500 plus $25 attorneys fees. The $500 represents a deposit Butler made to Culver for construction of a building.

Dick Georgi Elected President of MLDA

Richard E. Georgi of Charlevoix, president and chairman of Ski and Shore Properties, Inc., has been elected president of the Michigan Land Development Association. (MLDA).

Georgi was elected to the post in meeting held in Lansing last week.

The executive offices of Ski & Shore Properties on Michigan-ave. will become the site of a new office of the MLDA, Georgi announced. Another new office for the MLDA will be located in Lansing.

Georgi's major concern as president of the MLDA will be to stimulate the purchase of recreational property. The new president said the land development industry's survival is threatened "paradoxically, by the very tough consumer protection law MLDA helped to enact."

"Through an accident in timing," he told the MLDA annual meeting in Lansing, "Michigan residents are simply not buying recreational property until they get the protection of the Land Sales Act, which becomes effective October 1. Meanwhile, we have, in conjunction with the State and the news media, done an excellent educational job as to the protection offered by the Act.

"Unless we can develop a marketing strategy to revive the market soon," he continues, "Much of the industry may well not be around in October when we expect a sales bonanza as effectiveness of the Land Sales Act reinforces the confidence of buyers."

He said MLDA will explore the feasibility of voluntary conformance with consumer protection requirements of the Act in advance of the effective data as one means of reviving the "dormant" market.

Georgi also announced the MLDA will conduct a one-day marketing seminar at Michaywe, a leisure-home development between Grayling and Gaylord, July 21 to help land developers and the real estate industry adjust to the Land Sales Act.

Elected vice-president along with Georgi was Carl C. Wilde, P.E., project engineer at the Sugar Springs resort community of N.E. Isaacson & Associates, INC., of Michigan, near Gladwin.,

Other new officers include, as treasurer, Robert G. Elliott, president of Bradford-Scott Corporation, developer of Guthrie Lakes Enchanted Forest; and, as secretary, Ms. Harriet Chase, vice president of Clearwater, Development Co., Howard City, developer of Indian Lake recreational community.

The membership also reconfirmed Ms. Polly Dobson, Torch Lake, as executive director.

North Side Garden Club Awards

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford of 300 Meech-st were awarded the Garden Club Plaque for the first two weeks in July.

The Cliffords were given the award for the neatness, good order and simplicity of their gardens.

Pink and red floribunda ramblers border one fence line at the Clifford's residence. These flowers were grouped for the best showing, with room for growth and care.

The center garden is of hybrid roses and borders a pansy garden. Two tall cedar trees lend privacy to the family. A garden table and chairs are set in position to overlook a vegetable garden of tomatoes, string beans, carrots, radishes and lettuce. The garden is one of quiet enjoyment.

Honorable mention went to Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder of 710 E. Dixon. The Schroeders have hanging baskets of colorful begonias to charm their entrance.

NMU Names Honor Students

Jeanne Belfy of Route 1 72 Clipperview, Charlevoix, was among 224 students at Northern Michigan University to earn a perfect 4.0 average during the spring semester.

Chemical War on Bugs Lowers Vitality of Soil

A report was given by Mrs. Virginia MacLean and Mrs. Dorothy Lewand on the annual meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan which they attended at Shanty Creek Lodge.

Each member responded at roll call by giving a natural method used to combat pests and diseases. Did you know that garlic and chives and marigolds planted with roses will keep aphids away, as will plant nasturiums with vegetables? A good homemade spray to use is one crushed garlic bulb and three tablespoons of red pepper in one half gallon of water. This will make any bug keep its distance. Ordinary flour places around cabbage will subdue cabbage worms. Small dishes of beer placed ground level among flower plants will get slugs, as they love it.

A most interesting lesson on "Gardening without Poisons" was given by Mrs. Dorothy Lewand.

She said dependence on artificial stimulation and strong poisons to counter the many plant diseases and insects pests has spiraled us into a dilemma that grows worse each year.

These practices, she explained, are producing soils with lowered vitality. Plants grown in this soil have less vigor, less natural resistance and reduced nutritive value.

Garden pests thrive in these unbalanced situations. Continuous assaults with newer and stronger poisons in turn encourages the development of more increasingly resistant pests.

Most people have become to beleive that the "only good bug is a dead one," Mrs. Lewand said.

Any winged creature that lights for a minute is pounced upon as a mortal enemy which must be destroyed.

Any crawling insect is regarded as malicious and immediately crushed underfoot. This is the age of the Aerosol Bomb.

"We need to readjust our attitudes toward insects. We must understand their importance to other living things and educate ourselves to their work. We must find natural ways to outwit them in our work that will not be harmful to man and not rely entirely upon chemical warfare," Mrs. Lewand concluded.

The next meeting will be Tuesday afternoon, July 10, with Mrs. Esther Ringler on Wedder-Fisher-dr. on the east side of the Ferry. Jan Glass will give a lesson on the "Art of Drying Flowers."

Corbin, VanTreese Win Certificates

Two Charlevoix real estate agents were among 172 men and women who received certificates in real estate from the University of Michigan June 22 at annual recognition exercises.

They are James H. Corbin of Corbin Realty and Jack M. VanTreese II, manager of Scheid Northern Realty.

They received their certificates after completing at least five required courses and three elective courses.

The program is sponsored by the U-M Extension Service and Graduate School of Business Administration, in cooperation with the Michigan Real Estate Assn., its locally affiliated boards of realtors and the Division of Vocational Education of the Michigan Department of Education.

Speaker at exercises in the Rackham Building was Ronald A. Ormsby, executive vice president of the Real Estate Securities and Syndication Institute, National Association of Realtors.

Petoskey's Gaslight District, composed of fine resort shops, is one of those rare shopping areas where the customer is overwhelmed with kindness. Each Gaslight shop is unique, and each brings to Northern Michigan the finest quality gifts available anywhere. While the shops contain plenty of gifts to take home to Aunt Minnie, merchants have scoured the globe to find the rare and unique in exclusive cashmere fabrics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and the kind of toys and games which make browsing as much fun as buying.
A trip to Northern Michigan is not complete until you've visited the Gaslight Shops:
Howard, Lake and Bay Streets in Petoskey.

LSS College Cites Four

Four students from the Charlevoix area made the dean's list at Lake Superior State College during the semester just ended. To make the list a student must maintain a B-average or better.

Cited for the semester were Robert M. Crain, R-2, Charlevoix, and Gail L. Potter of R-1, Barnard-rd., Charlevoix, both juniors in the School of Science and Technology, and Jake R. Drenth, 199 Resort-dr., Ellsworth, a freshman in the School of Arts and Social Sciences, and Patricia A. Ruis, Ellsworth, a sophomore in the School of Arts and Social Sciences.

Circlin' the Bases

Action at the diamond was cut short last week by rainy weather on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

On Monday night, June 25, the men played a full slate of games. In the evening's opener, Portside Sports defeated Andy's Tire World 9 to 1. Fritz Allard was the winning pitcher while Bill Supernaw took the loss. Home runs were hit by Don Blalock of Andy's and Bruce Meggison of Portside.

The Shed topped Jim's Standard 9-7 on the pitching of Gary Balch. Tom Pence took the loss. Homeruns were hit by O.J. Faust and Pete Spieles from the Shed.

In the nightcap, Freedman's edged Coast Guard 6-5. Glen Cunningham was credited with the victory while Tony Warchol was the losing pitcher.

In Wednesday's games, Portside defeated the Coast Guard 9-6 in the opener. Fritz Allard was the winning pitcher while Jim Bowman was tagged with the loss.

Jim's Standard bested Andy's in the second game 11-6. Tom Pence was the winning pitcher for Jim's while Don Smith took the loss for Andy's. Larry Skippergosh bagged a round-tripper for the winners and Don Blalock had one for the losers.

Topside defeated Medusa 11-6 in the third game of the night. Tim Doan was the winning pitcher on a five hitter. Stan Johnston gave up 10 hits in a losing effort. Tim Carcy and Al Currey each hit a homerun for the winners.

In a Saturday make-up match, Airport Bar edged American Mold 13-12. Don Wells was winning pitcher while Jack Niswander took the loss.

Little League action is also getting underway for the summer. There will be three divisions for youngsters aged 9-10, 11-12 and 13-14 yrs. old.

Two girl's divisions will be in action this summer for girls aged 10-12 and 13-16 years old.

Ellsworth Names Honor Students

There were 14 students named to the honor roll at Ellsworth High School in the 7th and 8th grades, according to Superintendent Grant.

Seventh grade honor students included Janie Grose, Nadine Heeres, Wendy Kowalk, Joseph Kulhawick, Mary Macquarrie, Teddy Mathews and Donald Ruis.

In the eighth grade Coleen Elzinga, Ernest Evans, Richard Friske, Frederick Grose, Sharon Heeres, Geraldine Ritchie and Larry Taylor were named to the honor roll.

Students were named to the honor roll on the basis of their performance during the second semester of the school year.

Students enrolled in driver education classes at the school have completed their classroom work. While in class John Best spoke to the group on Auto Insurance. Sgt. Girard of the Traverse City Police Post also spoke to the students on law enforcement, safety, and the securing and holding of driver's licenses.

James Jensen of Charlevoix, Mrs. May Lou Ingalls of Advance and Mr. Grant will instruct road training through the summer.

The reading improvement class has an enrollment of 38 students for the summer. Dwight Boss, Mary Fuller Mary Ann Maher and Elena Meconi are teaching the course.

Swimming lessons for persons over 5 years old are in session for the summer. Miss Liz Colyer is the water safety director, with classes scheduled at the Wooden Shoe Park Beach. Persons still wishing to enroll may contact Miss Colyer.

Jerry Van Stedum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Stedum and Allen McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McConnell were selected from Ellsworth High School to travel to Lansing for meetings sponsored by the American Legion Post.

Order to Answer
File No. 317-3

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF CHARLEVOIX

SOPHIE ANN ANDERSON, Plaintiff, Vs. WILLIAM MILFRED ANDERSON, Defendant,

On the 5th day of June, 1973, an action was filed by Sophie Ann Anderson, plaintiff, against William Milfred Anderson, defendant, in this court to obtain a Judgment of Divorce.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the defendant, William Milfred Anderson, shall answer or take such other action as may be permitted by law on or before the 5th day of August, 1973. Failure to comply with this order will result in a Judgment by default against such defendant for the relief demanded in the complaint filed in this court.

CHARLEVOIX TOWNSHIP

ORDINANCE NO. 11

An ordinance for the purpose of supplying water to the Township of Charlevoix, for the administration of same, charges and rates; and enforcement.

Section 1. Administration. 1) The Township Supervisor shall be the administrator of the Water System, directly responsible for construction, alteration, repair and management. The Township Board may make rules and regulations as it deems necessary to assure efficient management and operation of the System. b.). Actual costs of the construction on the water system shall be transferred to a separate bookkeeping account and a separate bank account shall be established.

Section 2. Charges and rates. 1). Residents requesting connection to an existing water line will be charged a fee of $600.00 per unit. This service includes ¾" pipe to property line and meter. Cost of installation of the meter will be at the property owner's expense, with the approval of the Water Administrator. Fees for larger size line, or commercial or industrial connections to be negotiated by the Administrator. This fee is to be for the calendar year of 1973, with the Township Board setting the fees annually in subsequent years. b). The monthly rates for water supply shall be established: First 2,000 gallons at $4.00, which will be the monthly minimum bill; all above 2,000 at the rate of 80 cents per 1,000 gallons. c). Billing: All bills shall be rendered on a monthly basis and said bills shall show the amount due and, if not paid within fifteen (15) days after the date rendered, five percent (5 percent) of the bill shall be added thereto as a penalty for failure to make prompt payment.

Section 3. Enforcement. a). Charges for water shall constitute a lien on the property served. On or before October 1st of each year the Township Treasurer shall deliver to the Supervisor a certified statement of all water charges six months past due and unpaid. The Supervisor shall then place such charges on the next general tax roll and they shall be collected as part of the general Township taxes. b). The Township shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of water service charges and rates thereof, when due, and said water shall not be turned back on until such charges are paid in full and a turn-on charge of $2.00 is paid. This Ordinance shall take effect August 3rd, 1973.

Ch-I-C-O Needs Books For Sale

Used books are urgently needed for the Charlevoix Woman's Club Book Sale. The sale is held annually during the second week in August, on the lawn in front of the Public Library, to benefit Project Ch-I-C-O, (Charlevoix Indian Children's Opportunities).

The object of this project is to combat the high drop-out rate among Indian students by providing whatever type of assistance is needed to help an Indian child stay in school. Often the point at which help is needed is in the early elementary grades.

These needs can best be met by having a fund readily available, on a private local basis. The fund is administered by a local committee, with Mrs. Hewitt Johnston acting as treasurer for the fund.

Weather permitting, the books will be displayed on outdoor tables, where sidewalk shoppers can browse and book collectors can search for rare or unusual old books, priced from .10 to $1.00. In case of rain the sale will be downstairs in the library.

The urgent need now is for donations of books. This is the perfect opportunity to weed out the books that are gathering dust on your shelves, pass them along so that someone else can enjoy them, and benefit a worthy project, at the same time.

Books of all kinds, ancient or recent, hard cover or paperback are welcome. Children's books are especially needed.

To allow plenty of time for sorting and pricing the committee would appreciate getting books now rather than at the last minute before sale time. If you have books to give, call Mrs. Charles Duerr, 547-2603 or take the books to the library in cartons or sacks marked "Book Sale". Let the Woman's Club "recycle" your old books to new readers, and help Project Ch-I-C-O!

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY
ROAD COMMISION
BOYNE CITY, MICHIGAN

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of County Road Commissioners for the County of Charlevoix, 1051 E. Division Street, Boyne City, Michigan 49712 until 10:00 A.M. (Eastern Daylight Time), Monday, July 23, 1973 at which time the proposals will be publicly opened and read for the project listed below. No bid may be withdrawn after scheduled closing time for at least 90 days.

Contract for approaches and docks for the Ironton Cable Ferry in the south arm of Lake Charlevoix in Eveline Township 5 miles east of Charlevoix.

Bids must be made upon the Proposal Forms and sealed in an envelope plainly marked on the outside with the name of the bidder. Proposal information for Bidders, Specifications, Plans and other Contract Documents can be examined at the Charlevoix County Road Commission Office, Boyne City.

The bidding documents may be examined at the offices of:

Charlevoix County Road Commission, Boyne City, Michigan.
Williams & Works, Grand Rapids, Michigan.
Builders Exchange, Grand Rapids and Detroit, Michigan.
Tri-City Builders & Traders Exchange, Saginaw, Michigan.

Williams & Works
250 Michigan Street, N.E.
Grand Rapids, Michigan 49503

Deposit for each set of bidding documents will be $20.00.

The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents and one-half the deposit for any additional sets of documents will be refunded to any bidder who returns the bidding documents in good condition and submits a bona fide bid.

Contractors who do not submit bids, subcontractors, equipment manufacturers and others who return the bidding documents within ten (10) days after the opening of bids will be refunded one-half of their deposit.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check on a solvent bank in the State of Michigan, payable to the Charlevoix County Road Commission in the amount of five percent (5) of the bid as a guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into a contract.

Bidders on this work will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246.

A preletting briefing will be held Monday, July 16, 1973 at 1:00 P.M. at the Road Commission Office.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all proposals, waive irregularities in any bids and make award in any manner deemed to the interest of the County.

COMMON COUNCIL

JUNE 18, 1973
8:05 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Absent: None.

The minutes of the June 4, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Lee Moerland appeared before Council to inquire if Council planned to change the zoning of the property on Park Avenue, Lot 4 of Block 1 of the Original Village of Charlevoix, now City of Charlevoix, Michigan from R-2 to C-1. He mentioned the overhangs and questioned if the builder of Sand Castle had permission for set-backs. He stated no objection if the adjoining Lot 3 (joining on the East), can be rezoned commercial. He asked that the matter be resolved soon for the owner, Mr. Charles Taylor, and hoped for an answer in two weeks.

Tom Duke appeared on behalf of a group of airplane owners to request approval to allow the building of hangars at the airport. They desire to erect a steel building of ten units 52' x 225' at a cost of $50,000. They propose to pay for the building and when completed give the hangars to the City in return for a 20 year lease. The matter was put into Committee for further study and a meeting date set for 8:30 p.m. June 25, 1973 at which time the interested parties were invited to attend.

Before the bids were opened, Alderman Fochtman explained that he felt the specs unreasonable in that the 275 torque is high for engines being built today.

Alderman Fochtman offered a motion, supported by Alderman Selph that all bids be returned to the senders, asking them to resubmit their bids on the truck and pick-ups with the elimination of the 275 torque. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered a Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Fochtman.

MUNICIPAL RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED that the Municipal Maintenance Contract between the MICHIGAN STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION and the City of Charlevoix for the period July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974, is hereby accepted and Thomas G. Hanna is designated as Maintenance Superintendent on sections of State Trunk Line Highways as shown on the Municipal Maintenance Map and Budget Sheets.

The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay votes. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Correspondence was reviewed from Consumers Power Company regarding rates for electricity. This matter was put into Committee for a meeting with Consumers' representatives on Monday, May 25, 1973 at 6:00 p.m.

Correspondence was reviewed regarding sewers from Art Heilig.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Supernaw. BE IT RESOLVED that the salaries of the appointed and elected officials be raised, retroactive to March 1, 1973. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix will engage with the firm of Newman Display Service of Traverse City, Michigan, to repair the under structure and a general restoration of the outside portion of the City of Charlevoix's float, not to exceed $800.00. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms. BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix will spend $550.00 for the City's 1973 fireworks display for the Venetian Festival week-end. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Fochtman asked the City Attorney to draft a Bicycle Ordinance for the Council to consider for adoption.

Alderman Timms read a proposed ordinance creating the office of City Administrator and moved its adoption. Attorney Hoffman advised that the ordinance was illegal and contrary to the 4th Class City Act. Alderman Timms withdrew his motion.

Attorney Hoffman again advised the Mayor and Council that they should follow Council procedures and work together.

Alderman Supernaw suggested that Alderman Timms have someone else act in his place on the Dock and Harbor Committee to decide if his request for summer dockage should be granted. The Mayor appointed Alderwoman Wallace to serve on the Committee to fill Alderman Timms' place. The Committee will meet June 20, 1973

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms. BE IT RESOLVED that a vote of confidence be given Thomas Hanna, for his day to day administration of the City of Charlevoix. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: Aldermen Plumm and Selph. Absent: None.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the Mayor's appointment of Richard Fochtman for a one-year term and Kenneth Wojan for a four-year term to the Charlevoix Planning Commission be accepted. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Plumm, and Selph. Alderman Fochtman abstained.

Attorney Hoffman reported that he had sent a Proposed Agreement to the Prosecuting Attorney in Bellaire regarding the Hydro Plant.

The vacating of the Alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by West, Upright, Sherman, West Lincoln and Grant Streets was published for a Public Hearing June 4, 1973. There being no objections to vacating the alley, it was discussed and granted.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $62,910.97 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph.

On Motion the Council adjourned.

PUBLIC NOTICE - PLAT STANDARD

Commissioner Korthase introduced the following resolution and moved that it be adopted. Supported by Commissioner Graham.

WHEREAS, Act 288 of the Public Acts of 1967, and Subdivision Control Act, refers to the adopted and published rules of a county road commission, and

WHEREAS, We, the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, deem it necessary to adopt standards and specifications relative to the construction and adoption of highways and appurtenant structures coming under our jurisdiction, and

WHEREAS, such standards and specifications function to provide rules, regulations and assistance to land developers and others to assure that public highways are constructed with sufficient approved materials and by appropriate methods.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction as filed with us this date, be and the same are hereby adopted as administrative rules and regulations governing private ways and platted roads and the same shall be known and cited as our Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any section, clause or portion of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction be declared invalid by the Court, the validity of the balance of same shall remain and in effect, except for the part declared invalid.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all prior standards and specifications for plats are hereby rescinded.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the effective date of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction shall be July 11, 1973.

All Commissioners voting in favor, the Resolution was declared adopted this 11th day of June, 1973.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

In accordance with the provisions of Act 150 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1970, the Charlevoix County Road Commission will conduct a public hearing to consider designating as a natural beauty road in Peaine Township, all that part of the county local road known as West Side Road described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Section 17, T38N, R10W, Peaine Township, thence southerly along the existing traveled roadway through Sections 17, 20, 29, 30 and 31, T38N, R10W, and Sections 6, 7, 18, 19 and 20, T37N, R10W and ending in the vicinity of the south ¼-corner of Section 20, T38N, R10W, Peaine Township, at the entrance driveway of the Beaver Island Lighthouse, and being in length, approximately 9.7 miles.

The hearing will be held at the Peaine Township Building, Peaine Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan on July 9, 1973 at 1:00 PM (EDT).

All interested persons are invited to present their views at the hearing or to write beforehand to the Charlevoix County Road Commission, P. O. Box 39, Boyne City, Michigan 49712.

CHARLEVOIX TOWNSHIP

ORDINANCE NO. 11

An ordinance for the purpose of supplying water to the Township of Charlevoix; for the administration of same; charges and rates; and enforcement.

Section 1. Administration. 1) The Township Supervisor shall be the administrator of the Water System, directly responsible for construction, alteration, repair and management. The Township Board may make rules and regulations as it deems necessary to assure efficient management and operation of the System. b.). Actual costs of the construction on the water system shall be transferred to a separate bookkeeping account and a separate bank account shall be established.

Section 2. Charges and rates. 1). Residents requesting connection to an existing water line will be charged a fee of $600.00 per unit. This service includes ¾" pipe to property line and meter. Cost of installation of the meter will be at the property owner's expense, with the approval of the Water Administrator. Fees for larger size line, or commercial or industrial connections to be negotiated by the Administrator. This fee is to be for the calendar year of 1973, with the Township Board setting the fees annually in subsequent years. b). The monthly rates for water supply shall be established: First 2,000 gallons at $4.00, which will be the monthly minimum bill; all above 2,000 at the rate of 80 cents per 1,000 gallons. c). Billing: All bills shall be rendered on a monthly basis and said bills shall show the amount due and, if not paid within fifteen (15) days after the date rendered, five percent (5 percent) of the bill shall be added thereto as a penalty for failure to make prompt payment.

Section 3. Enforcement. a). Charges for water shall constitute a lien on the property served. On or before October 1st of each year the Township Treasurer shall deliver to the Supervisor a certified statement of all water charges six months past due and unpaid. The Supervisor shall then place such charges on the next general tax roll and they shall be collected as part of the general Township taxes. b). The Township shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of water service charges and rates thereof, when due, and said water shall not be turned back on until such charges are paid in full and a turn-on charge of $2.00 is paid. This Ordinance shall take effect August 3rd, 1973.

COMMON COUNCIL

JUNE 18, 1973
8:05 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Absent: None.

The minutes of the June 4, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Lee Moerland appeared before Council to inquire if Council planned to change the zoning of the property on Park Avenue, Lot 4 of Block 1 of the Original Village of Charlevoix, now City of Charlevoix, Michigan from R-2 to C-1. He mentioned the overhangs and questioned if the builder of Sand Castle had permission for set-backs. He stated no objection if the adjoining Lot 3 (joining on the East), can be rezoned commercial. He asked that the matter be resolved soon for the owner, Mr. Charles Taylor, and hoped for an answer in two weeks.

Tom Duke appeared on behalf of a group of airplane owners to request approval to allow the building of hangars at the airport. They desire to erect a steel building of ten units 52' x 225' at a cost of $50,000. They propose to pay for the building and when completed give the hangars to the City in return for a 20 year lease. The matter was put into Committee for further study and a meeting date set for 8:30 p.m. June 25, 1973 at which time the interested parties were invited to attend.

Before the bids were opened, Alderman Fochtman explained that he felt the specs unreasonable in that the 275 torque is high for engines being built today.

Alderman Fochtman offered a motion, supported by Alderman Selph that all bids be returned to the senders, asking them to resubmit their bids on the truck and pick-ups with the elimination of the 275 torque. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered a Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Fochtman.

MUNICIPAL RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED that the Municipal Maintenance Contract between the MICHIGAN STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION and the City of Charlevoix for the period July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974, is hereby accepted and Thomas G. Hanna is designated as Maintenance Superintendent on sections of State Trunk Line Highways as shown on the Municipal Maintenance Map and Budget Sheets.

The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay votes. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Correspondence was reviewed from Consumers Power Company regarding rates for electricity. This matter was put into Committee for a meeting with Consumers' representatives on Monday, May 25, 1973 at 6:00 p.m.

Correspondence was reviewed regarding sewers from Art Heilig.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Supernaw. BE IT RESOLVED that the salaries of the appointed and elected officials be raised, retroactive to March 1, 1973. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix will engage with the firm of Newman Display Service of Traverse City, Michigan, to repair the under structure and a general restoration of the outside portion of the City of Charlevoix's float, not to exceed $800.00. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Plumm offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms. BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix will spend $550.00 for the City's 1973 fireworks display for the Venetian Festival week-end. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Fochtman asked the City Attorney to draft a Bicycle Ordinance for the Council to consider for adoption.

Alderman Timms read a proposed ordinance creating the office of City Administrator and moved its adoption. Attorney Hoffman advised that the ordinance was illegal and contrary to the 4th Class City Act. Alderman Timms withdrew his motion.

Attorney Hoffman again advised the Mayor and Council that they should follow Council procedures and work together.

Alderman Supernaw suggested that Alderman Timms have someone else act in his place on the Dock and Harbor Committee to decide if his request for summer dockage should be granted. The Mayor appointed Alderwoman Wallace to serve on the Committee to fill Alderman Timms' place. The Committee will meet June 20, 1973

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms. BE IT RESOLVED that a vote of confidence be given Thomas Hanna, for his day to day administration of the City of Charlevoix. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: Aldermen Plumm and Selph. Absent: None.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the Mayor's appointment of Richard Fochtman for a one-year term and Kenneth Wojan for a four-year term to the Charlevoix Planning Commission be accepted. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Plumm, and Selph. Alderman Fochtman abstained.

Attorney Hoffman reported that he had sent a Proposed Agreement to the Prosecuting Attorney in Bellaire regarding the Hydro Plant.

The vacating of the Alley in the block in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, bounded by West Upright, Sherman, West Lincoln and Grant Streets was published for a Public Hearing June 4, 1973. There being no objections to vacating the alley, it was discussed and granted.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $62,910.97 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Fochtman, Plumm, and Selph.

On Motion the Council adjourned.

Ch-I-C-O Needs Books For Sale

Used books are urgently needed for the Charlevoix Woman's Club Book Sale. The sale is held annually during the second week in August, on the lawn in front of the Public Library, to benefit Project Ch-I-C-O, (Charlevoix Indian Children's Opportunities).

The object of this project is to combat the high drop-out rate among Indian students by providing whatever type of assistance is needed to help an Indian child stay in school. Often the point at which help is needed is in the early elementary grades.

These needs can best be met by having a fund readily available, on a private local basis. The fund is administered by a local committee, with Mrs. Hewitt Johnston acting as treasurer for the fund.

Weather permitting, the books will be displayed on outdoor tables, where sidewalk shoppers can browse and book collectors can search for rare or unusual old books, priced from .10 to $1.00. In case of rain the sale will be downstairs in the library.

The urgent need now is for donations of books. This is the perfect opportunity to weed out the books that are gathering dust on your shelves, pass them along so that someone else can enjoy them, and benefit a worthy project, at the same time.

Books of all kinds, ancient or recent, hard cover or paperback are welcome. Children's books are especially needed.

To allow plenty of time for sorting and pricing the committee would appreciate getting books now rather than at the last minute before sale time. If you have books to give, call Mrs. Charles Durre, 547-2683 or take the books to the library in cartons or sacks marked "Book Sale". Let the Woman's Club "recycle" your old books to new readers, and help Project Ch-I-C-O!

PUBLIC NOTICE - PLAT STANDARD

Commissioner Korthase introduced the following resolution and moved that it be adopted. Supported by Commissioner Graham.

WHEREAS, Act 200 of the Public Acts of 1967, and Subdivision Control Act, refers to the adopted and published rules of a county road commission, and

WHEREAS, We, the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Charlevoix, Michigan, deem it necessary to adopt standards and specifications relative to the construction and adoption of highways and appurtenant structures coming under our jurisdiction, and

WHEREAS, such standards and specifications function to provide rules, regulations and assistance to land developers and others to assure that public highways are constructed with sufficient approved materials and by appropriate methods.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction as filed with us this date, be and the same are hereby adopted as administrative rules and regulations governing private ways and platted roads and the same shall be known and cited as our Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if any section, clause or portion of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction be declared invalid by the Court, the validity of the balance of same shall remain and in effect, except for the part declared invalid.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all prior standards and specifications for plats are hereby rescinded.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the effective date of the aforesaid Requirements and Specifications for Plat Development and Road Construction shall be July 11, 1973.

All Commissioners voting in favor, the Resolution was declared adopted this 11th day of June, 1973.

Church Combo to Sing At United Methodist

On Thursday, July 12, the Extensions '73 from Vennard College, located in University Park, Iowa, will present a sacred concert at the Charlevoix United Methodist Church at 8:00 p.m. according to Pastor Elmer Faust.

The Extensions are nine enthusiastic students of Vennard College who have brought a new dimension to sacred music for thousands of people across the United States.

Coming from a wide variety of backgrounds (six states and four denominations) they represent well the students of Vennard. The Extensions are currently on a ten-week tour of various sections of the United States.

The music which they sing is representative of the new sounds of the younger generation, and although contemporary in style, has proven to be as enjoyable for the old as for the young.

Vennard College is an interdenominational, four-year, professional college specializing in Christian vocational preparation. Chartered for many years as Chicago Evangelistic Institute in Chicago, Illinois, the College was moved to their present location on a 75-acre campus near Oskaloosa, Iowa, in 1951 and renamed Vennard College in honor of the founder. The Vennard student body represents 26 states, 9 foreign countries, and 29 denominations, indicating their international influence within religious circles.

The public is invited to hear this group of nine happy, enthusiastic young people as they share their joy of living with the people of Charlevoix area.

THE EXTENSIONS '73, a group of Christian singers from Vennard College in Iowa, will present a concert at 8:00 p.m. in the United Methodist Church on Thursday, July 12. The public is invited to the concert, which is part of a ten-week summer tour for the students.

C of C Names New Directors

James Buller of Bartlett and Buller Decorator Center and John Michael, Attorney at Law, have been named to the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce of Directors.

The two will fill vacancies left by Jeanine Wallace and Richard Oestrike.

Kit Lieberman In NMU Band

Kathryn (Kit) Lieberman has been accepted into the Northern Michigan "Wildcat" Marching Band as a trumpet player, according to Tim Lautzenheiser, director.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lieberman, Miss Lieberman is a former member of the Charlevoix High School Band.

The NMU band, which dubs itself "The Pride of the North," presented five half-time spectaculars and hosted 11 bands at the Annual Band Day festivities last year. The 160-piece band is noted for it precise marching style and unusual half-time presentations.

We Deserve Interest On Late Tax Refunds

Every year the state income tax people have a different excuse for not getting returns in the mail promptly.

As of last week, about 360,000 Michigan residents were still waiting for their refunds and another 150,000 residents were waiting for their returns to be audited.

The problem this year seems to be a check-writing computer.

Kurt Gemalsky, administrator of individual income tax for the Department of the Treasury, said the writing of refund checks is eight days behind schedule because the state has switched to a new check-writing computer.

We suspect that if the state were forced to pay interest on funds held beyond a reasonable length of time, the bugaboos in check writing equipment and other reasons for delay would evaporate overnight.

Say you are expecting a return in the neighborhood of $200. At a nominal interest rate of six percent, the state would be required to tack on an extra $1 for every month it holds your money beyond a reasonable time after filing, say three weeks.

The state certainly isn't playing fair with Michigan taxpayers when it holds their money month after month, regardless of the reason.

The taxpayers we know already have their refunds earmarked for one special purpose or another --- a vacation trip, a major purchase, medical expenses, or the clearing up of nagging little bills.

It is downright silly to have the money languishing in the State Treasury when it is so sorely needed in the general economy.

You can bet your sweet life that the state is drawing interest on every penny of delayed refunds. Why shouldn't the taxpayer, who is already inconvenienced by the delay, be allowed to collect interest at the same rate?

Common Cause Cited For Anti-Bomb Vote

Common Cause is credited with marshalling support for Congress to vote to cut off funds for the continued bombing of Cambodia. Common Cause membership and other concerned citizens in Michigan's Eleventh District members of Common Cause reportedly were instrumental in Cong. Philip Ruppe's decision to vote against the administration. Common Cause is a national citizens lobby.

Congressman Ruppe's Washington office said the mail was too voluminous to count, but the Congressman's vote to end the bombing was definitely in response to his contituents' wishes.

Common Cause was given major credit for its successful campaign by House Majority Leader, Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neal (D-Mass). Without the massive citizen action it is improbable that the House would have passed the strongly worded anti-war measure.

The first anti-bombing effort – an amendment to the House Defense Supplemental Appropriations Bill – was later vetoed by President Nixon.

A variety of new efforts and further anti-war amendments are being attached to other Congressional appropriations bills.

Common Cause, which is strictly non-partisan and has a growing membership in this district, continues to work for passage of these measures through its professional lobbyists, whose salaries are paid by the membership dues.

Common Cause coordinator for the district, Sara Gay Dammann, of Charlevoix, said that ending the Indochina war is the chosen priority of Common Cause members in the district and the country.

When issues of importance to Common Cause members come before the legislature, members are alerted to write or telegraph their representatives in support.

Congressman Ruppe has been increasingly responsive to his constituents as anti-war sentiment has gained strength in the district, Mrs. Dammann said.

"Common Cause," Mrs. Dammann said, "is the only organization that effectively lobbies for the people. Large organizations -- industry, unions, special interest groups – have their professionals working full time on Capital Hill. For the first time, the individual American can join a group which lobbies for the people."

People interested in Common Cause may call Mrs. Dammann in Charlevoix at 547-2760.

U.S. Needs Another McCarthy

Editor

"What the world needs now" is not what the song suggests, "love, sweet love", but rather a patriot such as the late Senator from Wisconsin, Joseph McCarthy. His "methods", which have been so maliciously maligned by the "liberals" since his death, are just what this country needs today. A few discords from a Joe McCarthy might awaken Americans from their long sleep that has been induced by the orchestration of criminal conspirators and harmonized by their underlings in government and the media.

Their melody is so deadly that Americans seem to care not when their president is murdered; their government is riddled with scandal; their money is debauched and made worthless; their business and properties taken over by the central government; and that they are slowly, but surely, being imprisoned in a world slave state.

Many understand the intent of the music, but wring their (collective) hands and bleat, "There is nothing we can do to stop it". I beg to differ. Senator McCarthy knew what to do and he did it. He sounded the alarm! He did not just point his torch of truth toward the sacrificial flunkies that the conspirators were offering up. No, he turned his energies and his inquiring light toward the conspirators themselves who were trying (and were successful) to shut him up. He wondered quite rightly why high ranking government officials such as Sherman Adams, William Rogers, Henry Cabot Lodge and even Richard Nixon and Dwight David Eisenhower wanted him silenced. Of course, his refusal to keep time with the rest of the music makers cost him his life. You, dear Reader, should ask yourself the same questions today. Don't be appeased with a John Dean, or a John Mitchell, or Ehrlichman and Haldeman. These are bit part players in the cast. And for goodness sake, don't buy David Brinkley's tripe about changing our system of our form of government. Our constitutional Republic is still the finest political system yet devised by man. What we need is a maestro who will lead us to the tune of "America The Beautiful" and the "Battle Hymn Of The Republic".

What can you do? Put a little backbone in your Congressman. Write him and tell him to use the $250,000.00 we put at his disposal each year to uphold his oath of office. Lord knows, he breaks that oath about 80 percent of the time when voting on Bills. If enough of us will do this, he will respond. He likes it down in Washington and would like to stay. Even though he is wealthy, being a Congressman appeals more to him than working for a living or living off the family fortune. Let's all get together and make a man of him or failing that, replace him with a man next year. A few men stood on the bridge at Concord and gave us our freedom. Can we do less today to preserve it?

Clockwise

Clockdog Dan

By BOB CLOCK

The late Robert Benchley once wrote a piece about the wonderful things boys can learn from dogs — honesty, integrity, fidelity, humility and to turn around three times before lying down.

He didn't say a word about barking, but I suppose it never occurred to him that dogs have attributes other than personality traits that their masters might like to acquire.

Like barking.

Yes, I said barking.

We have a boy at our house, 16-month-old Danny, who speaks only one word of the Queen's English — "mama."

But he barks like a spaniel at every opportunity, thanks to the constant companionship and excellent tutoring of our two dogs, a yappy terrier and an equally yappy Keeshond.

Danny apparently has found it much easier to bark than to talk, and bark he does to the growing consternation of the rest of the family.

He started simply by mimicking the dogs. A stranger would step on the porch and both dogs would high-tail it to the front door, barking up a storm. Danny would happily join the festivities with a series of little "woofs" and "ruffs" of his own.

Lately, however, he has started initiating some of the barking himself. Let a strange kid pedal past the house on his bicycle, and, more likely than not, it will be Danny who launches the ensuing uproar, with the dogs following his lead.

Unfortunately, he barks at all the things dogs normally bark at, which makes us a little concerned about his lineage — and ours. The egg man and the paper boy rate a couple of friendly "woofs." Repairmen, meter readers and others who actually enter the house get a barrage of worried "ruffs." Passersby outside also merit a salute, the volume and duration of which seems to be governed by their degree of acquaintance with the pack.

Squirrels and other wild creatures who venture upon the premises are not immune, of course. They get the full treatment.

Sometimes a few tentative barks from Danny will start a chain reaction among all the dogs in the neighborhood. But fortunately he hasn't joined the chorus of howls all over town that accompanies the fire siren and the curfew whistle.

"What will we do?" I asked Judy the other night. "He can't bark his way through life and expect to make anything of himself–except a drill sergeant."

"Maybe he'll become a veterinarian," she suggested helpfully. "Vets make good money."

Probably the most unnerving thing about having a barking boy in the house is that he and the dogs seem to have developed a warm rapport with one another. I hate to think that their growls, yips and yaps actually mean anything when all three are playing together on the living room rug, but there certainly doesn't seem to be much of a communication gap between them.

Nine-year-old Katie is the only other member of our brood who has ever affiliated herself in any way with the canine world. When she was still a toddler, Katie developed a taste for dog food and would wolf down whole handfuls of pellets and nuggets right from the bag.

I will have to admit, however, that it never did her any real harm. Today she has very strong teeth and a beautiful coat.

Judy and I only hope that little Dan decides to rejoin the human race before too long. We have lived with a watchdog underfoot for almost nine years now. But getting used to a Clockdog in the house is another matter.

If it Fitz

Suffer the Little Children

In your heart, you know he's right.

Barry Goldwater, of all the stubborn people, threw in the towel on national TV the other day. After 35 years of doing his bit for this country, he said, he doesn't see much use in getting out of bed. He admitted saying to himself:

"Oh well, what the h— can you do?"

I know the feeling. I think more and more Americans are knowing the feeling. What the h— CAN you do?

Goldwater is mostly ticked off by Watergate. He sees the scandal doing terrible damage to his beloved Republican party. He feels betrayed by people he trusted. He's like a devoted Boy Scout who has suddenly learned his scoutmaster is a pervert.

There's a lot more than Watergate bugging me (excuse that, please). The world is jammed with terrible problems that defy solution. There's ecology and inflation and bombing and unemployment and racism.

But more of all, there are hungry children.

A few hours before writing this, I saw the NBC TV show called "Sins of the Fathers." It was about the thousands of fatherless children left behind when U.S. soldiers finally escaped Vietnam.

After looking at the incredibly sad faces of those kids, I couldn't write a funny column if Bob Hope loaned me his battalion of joke writers. And I couldn't write anything indignant about the Watergate mess, either.

After all, if this nation can allow its youngsters to starve, why should anyone be shocked that many of our law-and-order politicians are lousy crooks?

And those poor kinds in Vietnam ARE our responsibility. They were fathered - and deserted - by U.S. soldiers. The soldiers were there, lonely and hungry for sex, because they were drafted to fight an unjust, immoral war that was none of their business.

Now the war scene has changed. The battle is in Combodia and our warriors are strictly airborne. Their bombs don't impregnate peasants, just kill them. So, as the TV announcer said, there will be no more American-Vietnamese children born to misery. Isn't that marvelous?

But what about the 25,000 half-American kids born before the killing became completely push-button? I hope you saw them on TV. They are living under unbelievably horrible conditions, packed into orphanages or abononed in alleys. They are bloated and they have running sores and they sleep a lot because they have no energy. Their eyes are sad and bewildered.

There is no love for these children. The Vietnamese are racists and they scorn racially-mixed youngsters, particularly if the father was a Negro. Long before they are old enough to learn why, the children experience the cruelty of bigotry.

These children are doomed. Things will get no better for them, the man on TV said, because not enough people really care.

In your heart, you know he's right. What the h— can you do?

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

The CCC program of depression days had its advocates and opponents as does any new form of social legislation. We who joined the corps wore two hats. We were pro the dollar a day with room and board included, but con to the grubbing of stumps with an axe and the loading of trucks by hand to build roads across the dismal windswept swamps of northern Michigan.

Twenty-five dollars a month went home for family support and our five dollar monthly bonanza often evaporated overnight in the canteen making financial survival dependent on our credit rating with more frugal comrades or a stroke of luck at blackjack or craps.

The barracks were clapboard sheds with cast iron heaters which the night patrol stoked with wet tamarack, shattering the fitful slumbers of those snoring visibly in the gigantic deep freeze. The slightly cooler outside temperature hovered in the thirties (below that is) and we abandoned road construction except for one day in the month of February, 1935, by decree of the camp doctor.

The 'elite' leaders who received $45.00 a month for being able to distinguish a birch tree from a utility pole, believed in no such pampering so we cut firewood with GI crosscut saws, five foot long breadknives, in the crackling frost of the camp area. Our leader, like a vigilant tower guard, monitored our enforced exercise in futility with a gimlet eye from his observation post in the mess hall near the coffee pot.

The chef's specialty was frozen dishes. The rinsed implements and dishes were set up on the wooden table tops to which they became welded with ice and every table was gouged with scars of slivers which bonded to them and were torn loose by the prying action.

Periodically we cupped our hands and exhaled warmth into our numbed fingers. Many left the table with boxes of cereal concealed beneath their shirts, which were later sent home to supplement the meager family fare.

In summer we moved into tents pitched near a lake or stream which served as laundry, bath, lavatory, and kitchen sink. Aluminum mess kits were scoured with sand till they glistened like the polished metal hand mirror issued each recruit.

This ingenious grooming necessity was the size of a playing card and in deference to the faint hearted revealed only the skin area under attack like the folding sections of a road map thus obscuring facial damage as the scraping torture progressed. Any who objected to this enforced daily cold water shaving invariably returned to the fold after an off hours education in latrine maintenance.

Some critics insisted military training was being imposed on us. In retrospect, they may have had a point for we were indoctrinated into the gospel of everyone who has donned a uniform. There is the right way, the wrong way and the government way.

Right or wrong, the government way produced roads to scenic spots which have become highways that bring in millions of tourist dollars to nearby communities. This seems like a fair return on an investment intended primarily to give a measure of pride and dignity to a generation of citizens in desperate circumstances.

Candidates Should Be Told Salary

Mr. Bob Clock, Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Bridge Street
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Dear Bob:

I think that Judge Reibel should sue the citizens of Charlevoix and Emmet counties for misinformation.

We allowed this poor man to run for public office and apparently kept him in the dark as to what his salary would be. Now that he has been elected, he finds that the pay is a neasly $21,500 a year. Everyone knows that this is below the poverty level for people in northern Michigan. So I guess that we should add an additional $10,000 more per year than he is asking.

I think in the future that we should make it very clear to candidates for public office what various jobs pay. By doing this we could save many hours of anguish for these poor public service minded individuals.

Sincerely,
Fred Richman

Questions & Answers On Zoning

Q. What is the difference between the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Commission? H.L.

A. The Planning Commission is the appointed body responsible for recommending to the County Board of Commissioners appropriate action on particular items. In the case of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission initiated the program, and then recommended passage to the Board of Commissioners.

In the period following the effective date of the Zoning Ordinance, the Planning Commission hears requests for changes in the Ordinance. Following a public hearing (or hearings), the Planning Commission makes a recommendation to the County Board of Commissioners for final action.

The Zoning Board of Appeals, on the other hand, sets apart from the creation and amendment portion of the Zoning Program, and acts as the autonomous board responsible for hearing the appeals of property owners. These appeals may come in the form of requests for different sideyard dimensions, lot area sizes, or other similar questions. The Zoning Board of Appeals has nothing to do with changing the Ordinance.

Ask the Governor

Question: Summer is a busy time on Michigan highways and safety is a problem. Do you think we are doing better in Michigan regarding traffic safety?

Governor: There is both good and bad news regarding traffic safety for Michigan drivers. Because more people are driving more miles each year, the total number of people seriously injured or killed is generally increasing and this is bad. We cannot allow so many people to die each year in accidents. However, fewer people are involved in accidents in relation to the number of miles being driven so the mileage death rate is declining. The best guarantee for any of us is to do our very best to see that we do not become a statistic, that we exercise caution every second we are on the road.

Question: There seems to be a strong interest in cycling now. Do you ride a bike and if so, is it something you have only recently begun?

Governor: Both my wife and I have ridden bicycles for a long time, mostly I think because we enjoy the fresh air, exercise and the fact that you can see and enjoy so many sights. Of course, many people are bicycling today, realizing that there is great pleasure and satisfaction in riding, feeling afterwards that you have accomplished something really worthwhile.

Could you tell me what it was you recently said about the energy crisis we are experiencing?

Governor: Basically I said we, as a nation, are too wasteful, that while we have six percent of the world's population, we consume 35 percent of the world's energy, and it is increasing. I hope we can begin practicing energy conservation, driving slower, cutting out unnecessary use of lights and moving toward an improved mass transit system.

Question; You have been talking quite a bit about Michigan's economy lately. With so many national issues involving finances, do you see any bright spots in this state's economy?

Governor: There are several good indicators. Let me mention just a few. About 3.6 million people have jobs in Michigan now, more than 30 percent above the number of full-time job holders just 10 years ago.

Per-person income has increased nearly 35 percent in that 10 years and during 1972, the amount of money spent for new manufacturing plant and equipment increased 56 percent over the previous year.

We often look at the problems rather than the positive points and in the case of Michigan's economy, there are definitely many encouraging sings.

Question: Would you please tell me something about the Governor's house on Mackinac Island, such as how big it is?

Governor: Michigan Governors since 1945 have used the three-story Victorian residence. The 24-room house overlooks the Straits of Mackinac with an excellent view of the entire area, including the bridge. It was built by the Young family from Illinois in 1909.

Obituary

Johnson

Funeral for O. Earl Johnson, 76, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home June 30, the Rev. Frederick Stewart of the Bachelor Evangelical Covenant Church in Fountain officiating. Burial was in Barnard Cemetery, under auspices of Lodge 282, F & AM.

Mr Johnson died June 28 at Beverly Manor in Petoskey.

Born June 24, 1897, at Kinde, Mr. Johnson moved to the Boyne City area with his parents as a child.

He was married in June 1928, at Ludington to the former Verna Block. She died in 1968.

Mr. Johnson was in the grocery business, working for the Jacob and Martin Block Grocery in Charlevoix and later co-owning the Dutcher-Johnson Grocery Store.

He was a member of Masonic Lodge 282, F&AM, and was a former member of the Kiwanis Club.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Leslie (Phyllis) Anderson of Fountain; four sons, Oliver H. of Charlevoix, Nuel L. of Fountain, Paul A. of Ludington and Martin S. of Imlay City; and 13 grandchildren. Arrangements were handled by Winchester Funeral Home.

Stengel

Word has been received of the death of George Stengel, 73, at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iron Mountain June 27.

Mr. Stengel was a summer resident of Charlevoix, serving as chauffeur for the Joseph King family and later Mrs. John Stuart of the Chicago Club.

He lived in Chicago before moving to Iron Mountain to make his home.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Stengel is survived by his widow, Ida, a daughter and three grandchildren. Funeral and burial were held in Iron Mountain.

Geurtler

Funeral for Max B. Geurtler, 84, who died Saturday at Meadowbrook Medical Care Facility where he had been a patient for four days, will be held at the Hastings Funeral Home at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Past Master John Seiler of East Jordan will be in charge of the Masonic rites. Burial will be in Woodmere Cemetery in Detroit Tuesday.

Born in Detroit April 28, 1889, Mr. Geurtler was married to the former Selma Barth in Detroit in 1911. They made their home there until 1932 when they moved to Ellsworth. He was a pattern maker in the automotive industry and continued in the trade until his retirement.

He was a life member of Accacia lodge No. 477 F & AM in Detroit and the Pattern Makers Association.

Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Jay (Marion) Cole of Detroit; a son, Charles, also of Detroit and a brother, Bernard F. of Harper Woods.

Henlry

Cecil E. Henlry, 60, of Van Nuys, Calif., died unexpectedly June 20 while on a business trip to Salisbury, N.C.

He was the husband of the former Bonita Higman of Charlevoix and Petoskey.

Funeral will be July 5 in Tucson, Ariz., with burial in a Tucson Cemetery, according to Mrs. Henlry's sister, Mrs. Alfred Gill of Charlevoix.

A native of Mississippi, he had grown up in Tucson before going to Van Nuys to make his home.

Besides his widow, he is survived by his mother, two brothers and a sister.

--Sent to committee a request by Wayne Carter to lease or buy an old storage tank presently located by the old power plant.

–Sent to committee truck bids submitted by Bryce Barnes or Eastport and Charlevoix Oil Co. Barnes was low on the ¾ ton pickup truck with a quotation of $2,784.21 – or two for $5,568.42. Charlevoix Oil was low on the dump truck with a quotation of $5,677.

–Took no action on a request by the Bay City Council which objects to House Bill 4377. The bill would require owners of private and public marinas to install pump-out facilities for boaters.

–Referred to the Board of Appeals a request by the Holiday Service Center to permit a sign larger than the ordinance allows, providing it is moved to a new location.

–Turned down a request by Alderman Robert Timms and Hal Forbrig to lease city dock space for a nominal fee in exchange for improvements. The docks and harbors committee said the barge they intend to dock at the facility would interfere with access to the pump-out station, there would be no room for loading or unloading and the vessel would not satisfy aesthetic demands.

–Agreed to lease former Coast Guard property (the CG garage) on Pine River Channel to the Department of Natural Resources for 94 years. The DNR will pay $1 for the lease, plus $3,000 for the building.

–Renewed a five-year lease with the Coast Guard for dock space for the Cutter Sundew.

–Referred to the Planning Commission a request that Newman-st. be declared an alley, rather than a street.

CANDIDATES for Venetian Queen were Announced over the weekend by the Chamber of Commerce. From left are Candy Klooster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Klooster; Carole Pence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pence; Maurine Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wallace; Judy Hamilton, daughter of Mrs. Donna Hamilton; Patti Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Warner; Cathy Dubey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dubey; Cathy Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morris; Tori Alger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Alger; and Darcy McCandless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCandless. One of the girls will be selected as Venetian Queen after a talent contest prior to the Venetian Festival July 27-29.

Soup To Nuts

WHEN Julius Gilbert of the Lodge found local contributions to the Michigan Amateur Golf Tourney disappointingly low, he decided to solicit contributions from local businesses which benefit by having the tournament held in Charlevoix. A $1 contribution came from Billy Beckman, 15, a summer employee at the Lodge. Said Billy: "I want to keep the Michigan Amateur in Charlevoix, because I intend to play in it someday." Billy's contribution helped boost the ante to about $500. Gilbert points out that Michigan Amateur golfers sweeten Charlevoix's June economy by some $70,000 to $80,000.

A LITTLE paint makes a big difference. The 400-block of Bridge-st. has taken on an entirely new appearance now that a fresh coat of white paint has been added to the red bricks of The Market arcade, formerly K & A Dodge. Combined with the attractive wood and shingle facade, the building is rapidly acquiring a "new look" which brightens up the whole south end of town. The building has been purchased by Ken Peterson Associates of Petoskey.

+++

AND SPEAKING of "new looks", take a gander at the Palace Theater, which has been renamed Cinema III. The new white front and the new French-style marquee will make a world of difference. The proposed tower at the south end also sounds intriguing. For years the "Palace" looked like a theater. Now that the name has been changed, the theater is going to look like a palace.

Colwell & Co. Buys Cigar Store as Office

Williams Cigar Store – a landmark on Bridge-st. for many years – is going out of business this month.

The property has been purchased by Colwell & Co. Realtors, according to Don Fuller, manager of Colwell's Charlevoix office.

Fuller said the real estate company will take occupancy on or before Aug. 1 and will remodel the building to house its sales and rental offices.

Mrs. Richard (Alexandra) Lyons, who has operated the store for the last four years, is in the process of liquidating the business. (See ad in this week's Courier.)

"Purchase of the downtown location is part of an over-all expansion of the company's Charlevoix operation," Fuller said. "In addition to our regular sales program, we have recently developed a complete property management service for seasonal and year-'round rentals and are expanding into the commercial sales field."

He added that several additional sales representatives will be added by Colwell in the near future.

Headquartered in Petoskey, Colwell & Co. is one of the largest real estate firms in northern Michigan, with offices in Petoskey, Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Walloon Lake.

New offices will open shortly in Harbor Springs, Gaylord and Indian River.

The building that will house Colwell's Charlevoix office is one of the oldest in town. It was constructed in 1885 by the late E. H. Green, an officer in the Civil War who moved to Charlevoix to make his home.

An attorney, Green lived next door where the Charlevoix Agency is now located and planted the apple and cherry trees that are still growing on the premises.

Over the years, the building has housed a number of businesses, including VanAllsburg's grocery, a clothing store and Murdick's Fudge.

Joe Williams' Cigar Store moved into the building in September, 1965, after Mr. Williams sold the original cigar store property and a gift shop across the street to the Charlevoix County State Bank for expansion.

Mr. Williams sold the store to Mrs. Lyons (formerly Mrs Sikorski) in November, 1968. He died June 10, 1969, after

Mrs. Lieberman New School Board Prexy

Mrs. Robert G. (Jane) Lieberman was elected president of the Charlevoix Board of Education at its regular meeting Monday night.

Other officers elected by unanimous ballot were the Rev. Duane Imig, vice president; Larry Warner, secretary, and Clement J. Wagner, treasurer.

Warner and Max Novak who were elected to terms of four years were sworn into office. Committee appointments will be made at a later date.

James A. McKimmy, who made his first appearance as superintendent of schools, presided at the meeting during the election of a chairman.

The board also approved the hiring of a Middle School principal, set meeting times, dates and location, named depositories and signatories, approved the Title I budget for 1974 and approved the use of the high school gymnasium for the Venetian Queen Pageant among other items.

Middle School Principal Hired

Miss Geraldine Stanko was recommended by Mr. McKimmy as Middle School principal to succeed Max Novak who retired last month after serving in the position for three years.

Miss Stanko has eight years of teaching and administrative experience. She served as assistant principal at St. Joseph Wyandotte Middle School at Wyandotte and as principal of the Jackson Catholic Middle School. She taught sixth grade science and math for one year in the MacDonald Middle School in East Lansing. She is presently attending graduate school at the University of Florida.

A 1961 graduate of St. Joseph Academy (high school) Adrian, Miss Stanko entered the convent to begin teaching and attending college. She was graduated from Siena Heights College, Adrian, in 1967 and received a Master of Arts degree from George Peabody College for Teachers in 1970. She has earned additional graduate credits from the University of Detroit, Michigan State University and University of Florida.

She left the convent in 1971 to continue her work in the middle-school field. Her work at East Lansing and at the Jackson Catholic Middle School was after the date she left the convent. She was given a one year contract at a salary of $15,000.

The hour of 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Mondays of the month were set as the time and dates for school board meetings and the high school as the site of the meetings.

The First State Bank of Charlevoix and the Charlevoix County State Bank were named as depositories for the 1973-74 fiscal year.

Approval was given the program and budget for fiscal 1974 Title I, ESEA (Elementary Secondary Education Act) 1965. The budget approved is $22,450. The budget includes monies for the pre-school disadvantaged program at the K-4 school for children 3½ and four years of age who meet

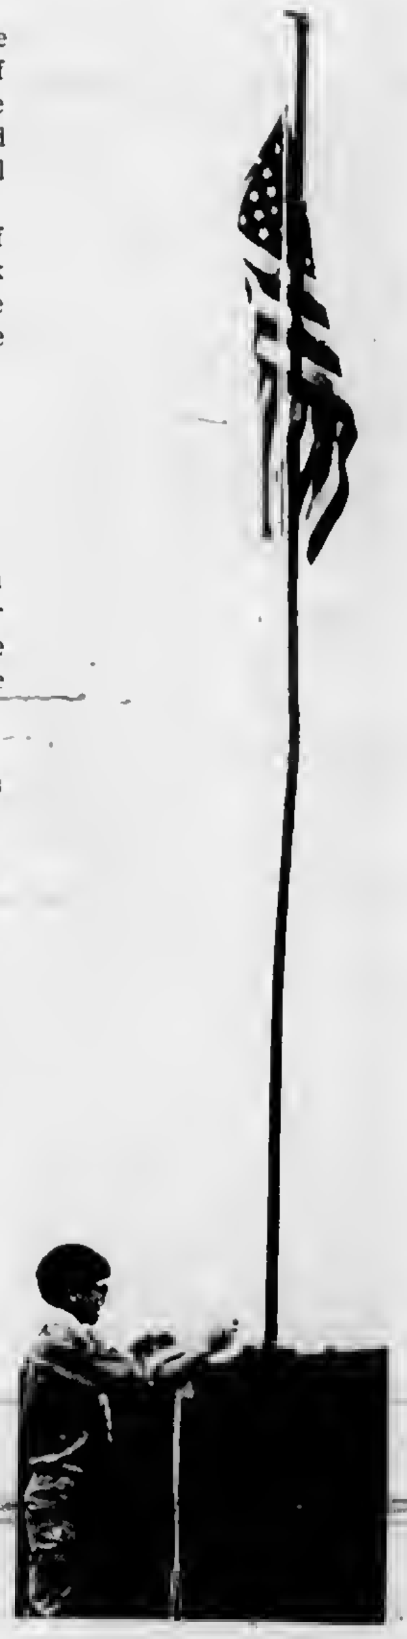
Rites Held Monday For Drowned Boy, 13

Funeral for Robert Dale Hopper, 13, who was drowned Friday while swimming in a private pond at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zoulek in Echo Township, Antrim county, were held Monday at the Watson Funeral Home. The Rev. Arden K. Barden of the Lutheran church officiated.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zoulek of Echo Township, Robert was born at Fremont Feb. 3, 1960, and had lived in this area for the past six years. He would have been an eighth grade student in the East Jordan schools in September.

He had been interested in athletics and until this year had been a member of the East Jordan Little League baseball team.

Besides his parents, he is survived by three sisters, Cynthia, Beverly and Tina Hopper and a half-brother, Peter Zoulek, jr., all at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schott of East Jordan; Reiley Thompson of Owensburg, Ky., Mrs. Gladys Hopper of White Cloud and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zoulek of East Jordan and his great-grandfather, Dwight Fetterly of White Cloud.



SCOUT Doug Buday raises flag at dedication of Little League Field on Carpenter-st. July 4. Also taking part in ceremony were Scouts Gary Carboneau and Don Sonnenberg. Hal Forbrig presented the flag to Guy Smith, Little League president. Speaker was Mayor Edward P. Hansen.

Hospital Employs First Full-Time Radiologist

The Charlevoix Area Hospital has announced the attainment of the diagnostic services of a full-time radiologist.

David M. Roebuck, M.D., Radiologist, began his practice at Charlevoix Area Hospital on July 1, 1973.

Dr. Roebuck, his wife Patricia and three children, Betsy, 8; Michael, 6; and Joey, 4, will live at 506 Meadowlane in Charlevoix. They will be moving from Ann Arbor where Dr. Roebuck has been completing his residency in Radiology at the University Hospital, University of Michigan.

Dr. Roebuck graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in June 1967, took an internship at Sacramento County Memorial Hospital, University of California, and served two years (1968 to 1970) in the Medical Corps of the United States Navy, stationed in the Philippines. He began his training in Radiology on July 1, 1970.

Diagnostic radiologists are specialized physicians who act as consultants for physicians and surgeons in the hospital. X-Ray examinations are performed by Radiologists (and X-Ray Technologists under their supervision) at the request of the referring doctors. The role of the radiologist is to interpret the X-Ray examinations and advise the referring doctors concerning their patient's injury or illness.

The work Dr. Roebuck will perform formerly was done on a part-time basis by a radiologist from Traverse City.

Boyne Wins Grant For Sewer Project

Congressman Phillip Ruppe announced on Monday that the Environmental Protection Agency has approved a $1,614,750 grant to the city of Boyne City for expansion of the city's sewage disposal system.

The grant follows by one week the approval by the Farmers Home Extension of a $450,000 loan to the city to renovate its sewage disposal system.

The grant funds and loan will enable the city to make improvements to its existing treatment facilities, and thereby hold the discharge of raw and semi-treated sewage into Lake Charlevoix.

In Washington Ruppe said, "it is extremely important that we stop the pollution of Lake Charlevoix, one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. I commend the people of Boyne City for their efforts to help end that pollution threat to the lake."

The Boyne City sewer system serves 903 homes and 111 commercial and other establishments in the community. The Farmers Home Administration loan will be repayable in 40 years at an interest rate of 5 percent. The loan is provided for under the rural community facilities program of the FHA, a Department of Agriculture rural credit service.

Alewives Pose No Problem This Summer

A few dead and dying alewives have been observed in Charlevoix waters—but they aren't a problem yet and probably won't be, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

Several years ago, a massive alewife die-off in Lake Michigan created a smelly nuisance for swimmers and sunbathers.

DNR fish biologists say the small, silver alewife – a major food source for salmon and lake trout – seem to weaken and die after spawning.

Fred Watros Promoted

Frederick T. Watros, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Watros of R-2, East Jordan, has been promoted to corporal.

Cpl. Watros is assigned to the Marine Corps Air Station at New River, North Carolina.

MSU Plans Workshop At Gaylord

A Workshop in Intensive Office Block Instructional Systems will be offered in Gaylord by Michigan State University July 30 - Aug. 10. Class sessions will be 9 a.m. to 12 noon plus three hours arranged daily, Monday through Friday, July 30 - Aug. 10, in Room 314 in the Gaylord High School.

The Workshop (ED 881) offers three term hours of graduate or advanced undergraduate credit, and will be taught by Ms. Susan Shepherd, MSU Senior Extension Lecturer from Charlevoix.

The aim of the Workshop is to improve vocational office education instruction in high schools and post high school institutions. The emphasis will be upon the block-time scheduling, simulation through integrated projects and the model office, and materials development.

Registration will be held at the first class session on July 30. Tuition fee is $69.00 payable only by check or money order. Students will be expected to bring their own stencils, paper and ditto masters.

Further information may be secured by calling the MSU Continuing Education Center in Traverse City (616/946-7496).

Mackinac Island Campus Now Welcomes Tourists

The Cathedral of Tomorrow of Akron, Ohio, has signed a lease and management agreement with Ski & Shore Properties, Inc., of Charlevoix, to operate its Mackinac College facilities on Mackinac Island as a hotel and resort complex.

The purpose of the agreement is to determine the feasibility of operating the college as a summer convention and resort facility that would partially offset the Cathedral of Tomorrow's normal year-round college operation costs.

Under the agreement, Ski & Shore will operate the Mackinac College Inn, a hotel facility with 345 modern rooms with private baths. It will also conduct tours of the main campus and Stonecliff Mansion. The Mackinac College Inn's emphasis will be on modern, convenient hotel accommodations at reasonable rates. Rates will be from $15, double occupancy. Special family rates will be offered. The campus tour will focus on the college's history dating from its beginning as a moral rearmament project. Mackinac College's unique facilities include a complete motion picture sound stage and theatre.

Stonecliff Mansion, on the largest privately owned parcel on Mackinac Island, is located on a high bluff along the western shore. A chairlift will be used to bring guests up the bluff to tour the 17,000 square foot mansion and grounds and visit Chimney Rock which offers spectacular views of the Straits and the famous Mackinac Bridge.

The Cathedral of Tomorrow will use its receipts from this summer's operation to defray its current college operating costs.

Ski & Shore Properties, Inc., will be represented on the Island by George A. Staffan, special projects and development director, and H Grant Rowe, vice president.

RESOLUTION - ABANDONMENT OF RAILROAD

Moved by Comm. Kujawski supported by Comm. Kotowich that the following resolution be adopted:

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners is on record as being opposed to the proposed abandonment of the Penn Central Railroad.

WHEREAS, there is a mounting shortage of fuel and energy, more tonage can be moved over rail with less fuel consumption and pollution.

WHEREAS, freight rates could double with the loss of competition, which the railroad creates, causing the additional cost to be added to the price of the product and [illegible] the consumer.

WHEREAS, the continuation of industry and future development in this area could greatly depend on the cost of moving materials to this area.

WHEREAS, the cost of ten thousand dollars per mile for improving present railroad line to two million dollars per mile for the construction of new highway is not comparable.

[illegible], it is hereby resolved that the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners do insist that the railroad presently in operation should not be abandoned. Respectfully submitted, Comms. Kujawski, Kotowich and Staley. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - STATE TAX COMMISSION [illegible]

Moved by Comm. Kujawski supported by Comm. Kotowich that the following resolution be adopted:

At a meeting of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners, held in Charlevoix, Michigan on the [illegible] day of June, 1973, on a motion introduced by Comm. Kujawski and Comm. Staley the following resolution was acted upon.

WHEREAS, the existing arbitrary practices employed by the State Tax Commission has circumvented the authority of the Counties and reduced certified tax assessors and certified equalization directors to computing copy clerks, and

WHEREAS, the [illegible] Sales Study method employed by the State Tax Commission, analyzing a small percentage of each township and city and computing the results of the aforesaid to determine what factor will be applied to the County studied creates inequities, hardships and stimulates a land boom psychology, and

WHEREAS, present assessment statutes and State Tax Commission policy are directly at odds with the orderly growth and development in this area and considerable handicap both state and local efforts to preserve existing environmental values, and

WHEREAS, the State Tax Commission sits as judge and jury on all tax appeal cases throughout the State of Michigan, and

WHEREAS, the aforesaid practice is not permitted in our judicial system and should not be permitted in any tax appeal case; every man is guaranteed his day in court, before an impartial judge and jury,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the County of Charlevoix, that (1) Charlevoix County respectfully requests Governor Milliken to request the Legislature to conduct a broad and full investigation of the State Tax Commission, and (2) that the aforesaid investigation should include public hearings held at numerous locations throughout the State; to obtain a full and complete knowledge of the State's Real Property Taxing procedures and structure and adverse effect on good land use policies, and (3) that a true certified copy of this resolution shall be transmitted to the Governor and the Legislature of the position of Charlevoix County. Respectfully submitted, Comms. Kujawski, Staley and Kotowich.

DNR May Cut Antlerless Deer Kill in Area

The Department of Natural Resources is recommending that Michigan's 1973 take of antlerless deer by increased 10 percent from last year's quota, to 10,750 animals for the Nov. 15-30 firearm season.

Plans for the harvest will go to the Natural Resources Commission for action at its July 12-13 meeting at Caberfae Lodge, Cadillac.

In the case of the Upper Peninsula, the DNR is calling for reopening the eastern end to antlerless deer hunting. That recommendation accounts for the fact that fawn production above the Straits has been the best in about four years. The combined efforts of commercial logging and the DNR's deer range program will not be enough to feed all deer produced unless hunters are permitted to harvest some antlerless deer along with the bucks.

In view of the situation, the DNR is proposing that this fall's antlerless deer season in the Upper Peninsula be increased to include the southern part of Menominee County below US-2, and an area in western Iron County as well as the eastern area.

Throughout the remainder of the Upper Peninsula, bucks-only hunting would be the rule this fall. As DNR game specialists explain it, in most of the region the deer herd has been reduced by severe winters to a point below the carrying capacity of a normal winter. To open any other areas to antlerless hunting this fall might prevent a potential increase the following year.

For the northern Lower Peninsula, where antlerless kill quotas have been cut nearly in half during each of the last two seasons, the DNR is calling for a 25 percent reduction this fall in the take of these animals.

Plans to scale down that region's harvest of antlerless deer to 2,830 animals are part of the DNR's efforts to promote deer build-ups in areas of northern Lower Michigan where the range shows the potential for carrying more whitetails through the crucial winter period.

Under this approach, boosted by the DNR's stepped-up program of deer habitat improvements, most of the region would be restricted to bucks-only hunting this fall. Of this, a sizable portion covers the southernmost part of the region where range conditions seem particularly ripe for supporting greater deer numbers.

In the southern Lower Peninsula, the DNR is setting its sights on a harvest of 4,870 antlerless animals during the 1972 season. That figure is an increase of 22 percent over last year's harvest.

It is pegged to the DNR's attempts to keep southern Michigan's deer populations at maximum levels compatible with "people" interests in that densely-populated part of the state. More than anything else, the DNR's proposed quota for that region is programmed to holding car-deer accidents down as much as possible.

Last year, 5,250 of these accidents were reported in southern Michigan.

Estimates from the DNR's mail survey last season indicate that Michigan's deer hunters took about 7,590 antlerless deer in 1972 out of their quota of 9,830.

The survey placed last season's antlerless harvest at 250 in the Upper Peninsula, 3,500 in the northern Lower Peninsula, and 3,820 in southern Michigan. Other results of that survey point to a buck kill of 48,160 for Michigan hunters in 1972. Of that figure, 7,480 bucks were shot in the Upper Peninsula, 28,650 came from the northern Lower Peninsula, and 12,030 were harvested in southern Michigan.

On the southern Michigan scene, the DNR is recommending continuance of an experiment begun last fall, which keyed on a quality deer hunting plan in the Gratiot-Saginaw and Shiawassee River state game areas. The DNR will again establish a daily permit system there in attempts to determine if this approach to controlled hunting will help spread hunter success at an even level throughout the course of the Nov. 15-30 season.

In many state game areas, heavy gun pressure early in the season leaves hunters with little room to enjoy their sport.

PINE RIVER Channel is ready to overflow her banks near the city dock. Water levels throughout the area are higher than they have ever been within living memory. High water forced the Ironton Ferry to shut down last week, after vehicles encountered difficulty entering and leaving the vessel.

THE YACHT basin on Beaver Island is ready for a booming summer business. The island welcomes boaters from ports around the Great Lakes.

RESOLUTION - SB-NO. 10

Moved by Comm. Kujawski supported by Comm. Cunningham that the following resolution be adopted:

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners is on record as being opposed to SB-10.

WHEREAS, the bill would destroy state-wide uniformity in assessments by requiring that 1973 local property taxes in eight counties be levied on the basis of the county equalized value as set by their County Boards of Commissioners rather than on the State Equalized Valuation (SEV) as set by the State Tax Commission.

WHEREAS, should this bill become law, it would mean that, for comparable properties taxpayers in the 75 counties where assessments as equalized by the County reflected the higher level of value deemed necessary by the State Tax Commission will be paying higher taxes than the taxpayers in the eight counties. It also would mean that those eitht counties would get proportionately more in State School Aid since that distribution formula is partially based on SEV. It also means that the cities and villages in these eight counties will not be able to take advantage of the growth in valuation for the levy of property taxes during 1973.

ALSO this bill would not resolve any problem but will merely create a new one by allowing elected County Commissioners to set the final valuation without regard to the constitutionally required state-wide uniformity. Respectfully submitted, Comms. Staley Kujawski and Kotowich. Motion Carried.

Commissioner Lee Moerland reported on Federal Revenue Sharing. Board must have a plan as to how the monies will be used.

APPOINTMENTS

Chairman Davis appointed Bill Ohle to represent the Planning Commission and John D. Kujawski to represent the County Board on the Northwest Michigan Economic Development District. Moved by Comm. Kullik supported by Comm. Cunningham. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - COUNTY ROAD COMMISSION

Moved by Commissioner Moerland supported by Commissioner Tompkins that the following resolution be adopted:

We your Ways and Means Committee recommend the payment of $44,530.10 to the Charlevoix County Road Commission to cover the cost of purchase of two tandem trucks in the net amount of $34,530.10 and 1 tractor loader with backhoe in the net amount of $10,000.00.

Said funds for the capital acquisition to come from 1972 Federal Revenue Sharing monies as indicated previously. Respectfully submitted, Comms. Moerland, Tompkins and Milstein.

VOTE: Yeas, Comms. Ingalls, Cunningham, Davis, Richardson, Griffin, Kullik, Kotowich, Milstein, Kassin, Tompkins, Kujawski, Carson and Moerland, 13, Nays, None. Absent, Comm. Smigh and Staley, 2. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - TENTATIVE USE OF F.R.S. FUNDS

Moved by Comm. Moerland supported by Comm. Milstein that the following resolution be adopted:

We the Ways and Means Committee acting in compliance with Federal Revenue Sharing guidelines as established do hereby recommend the adoption of the tentative allocation of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds of $102,630. for the period of January 1, 1973 to June 30, 1973.

Public Safety	$ 20,000.00
Finance & Administration	33,000.00
Reserve Fund for Building Construction	49,630.00
	$102,630.00

Respectfully submitted, Comms. Moerland, Tompkins and Milstein.

VOTE: Yeas, Comms. Ingalls, Cunningham, Davis, Richardson, Griffin, Kullik, Kotowich, Milstein, Kassin, Tompkins, Kujawski, Carson and Moerland, 13. Nays, None. Absent, Comms. Smith and Staley, 2. Motion Carried.

Comm. Moerland reported investigating the advantages of the County setting up a Delinquent Tax Fund.

ADJOURNMENT

Moved by Comm. Cunningham supported by Comm. Kassin to adjourn until the call of the Chairman. Motion Carried.

Herbert Schofield Claims Faith M. Crain as Bride

Faith Marie Crain of Boyne City became the bride of Herbert B. Schofield II of Petoskey in rites June 30 at the Assembly of God Church in Boyne City, the Rev. Roscoe Berthume officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Schofield II

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Crain, 526 S. Park-st., Boyne City. The bridegroom's parents are H. B. Schofield of Laughbaum-rd., Petoskey, and Mrs. Harold Dutcher, 104 Ainslie-st., Charlevoix.

Approximiately 250 guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed before an altar decorated with baskets of pink, White and blue flowers.

Wedding music was provided by organist Richard Bradley, with a special "Hawaiian Wedding Song" composed for the couple by vocalist Joe Kuheana.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with organza inserts and a lace train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was secured by a cap of seed pearls. She carried a white peony nestled in a bouquet of blue daisies and trailing ivy.

The bride's attendants were Dawn Gahn as matron of honor and Debbie Middleton and Leslie Crain, the bride's sister, as bridesmaids. They wore matching gowns of pink chiffon and taffeta with Empire waists, off-white yokes and woven pink ribbon trim. They carried bouquets of mums.

Ron Gerbrach was best man and Brad Crain, brother of the bride, and Robert Schofield, a brother of the bridegroom, serving as groomsmen.

Tom McGeorge and Vasco Zuchiatti were ushers.

After the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception for 500 guests at the Peninsula Grange Hall.

The newlyweds are living on May-st. in Charlevoix after a week's wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula and Canada.

The bride is employed at Charlevoix Lumber Co. and the bridegroom is an apprentice electrician, working for William Bellows.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Crain wore a coral ensemble, accented by a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Dutcher wore a powder blue polyester crepe formal, with a white carnation corsage.

Out-of-town guests attended the ceremony from Florida, Ferndale, Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Muskegon.

Engaged

MR. AND MRS. Fredrick Keie of 205 State Street, Charlevoix, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally, to Mr. Bruce Meggison, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Meggision of 503 Petoskey-ave., Charlevoix. The wedding will be Sept. 8. Both the bride-elect and her fiance are graduates of Charlevoix High School.

School Lunch Aid Stays at 8 Cents

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) says that the national average payment from general cash-for-food assistance funds for school lunches served in fiscal year 1974 (which began July 1) will remain at 8 cents per lunch.

USDA also announced that national average payments under the school breakfast program in the coming year will remain at 5 cents, 15 cents and 20 cents, respectively, for each paid, reduced price, and free breakfast served.

Recent amendments to the National School Lunch and Child Nutrition Acts require USDA's Food and Nutrition Service to prescribe these national rates of assistance annually.

These rate notices are scheduled to be published in the Federal Register Monday, July 2, 1973.

Linda Jean Wilson Wed In Garden Ceremony

Seasonal flowers in the garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Wilson formed the setting for the wedding of their daughter, Linda Jean, and John J. Okonkowski of Marquette Saturday afternoon.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Okonkowski of Wyandotte.

The Rev. F. Gordon Mitchinson officiated at the double-ring service. Recordings of traditional music were played during the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an Empire gown of white pique with a self pattern. The gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves with deep buttoned cuffs and a ruffle at the hem of the full skirt. Her white picture hat had blue streamers that matched the blue in her bouquet of daisies.

Mary Wolfer of Cincinnati as maid of honor and Mary Spear of Marquette as bridesmaid wore identical gowns of flowered pique similar to the bride's in pink and lavender, respectively. They wore white picture hats with streamers that matched their gowns and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Brendon Biolo of Marquette assisted the bridegroom as best man and Robert Levine of Petoskey was groomsman. James and William Wilson, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Wilson chose a full length gown of floral print for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Okonkowski, mother of the bridegroom, wore a long yellow gown. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception followed with Mrs. Timothy McCracken, sister of the bride, as mistress of ceremonies.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Marquette.

Both are graduates of Northern Michigan University. The bridegroom is associated with Montgomery Ward in Marquette.

Wedding guests were present from several Michigan and Ohio cities.

Petoskey's Gaslight District, composed of fine resort shops, is one of those rare shopping areas where the customer is overwhelmed with kindness. Each Gaslight shop is unique, and each brings to Northern Michigan the finest quality gifts available anywhere. While the shops contain plenty of gifts to take home to Aunt Minnie, merchants have scoured the globe to find the rare and unique in exclusive cashmere fabrics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and the kind of toys and games which make browsing as much fun as buying.

A trip to Northern Michigan is not complete until you've visited the Gaslight Shops:

Wayne Russell Cleared By District Court Jury

Wayne Allen Russell, 24, of Charlevoix was found innocent of a charge of window peeping by a jury of two men and three women in Charlevoix District Court Friday afternoon.

The jury reached its verdict after only about five minutes of deliberation.

Russell, who was represented by attorney James Zerafa of Elk Rapids, was charged with window peeping at the vacation home of Donald B. Herrington of Meander Line-rd. Dec. 16, 1972.

Herrington, a Detroit area patent attorney who had to spend much of the winter in Japan on business, did not sign the complaint against Russell until March 19, 1973.

Herrington told the court how a mysterious car trailed him from the vicinity of Mercer-blvd., and Petoskey-rd. the night of Dec. 16. Herrington was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Gloria.

When the Herringtons reached their home at the end of the plowed portion of Meander Line-rd., the other car turned around and ostensibly left the premises.

Herrington investigated and found footprints in the snow under the window, with one footprint on a raised cellar door directly under the window. He also noticed two hand marks on the bathroom window sill.

Instead of calling the Sheriff's Department immediately, Herrington made his own inspection of the tire tracks where the tail-car that had turned around at the foot of the driveway and spent considerable time looking for vehicles with similar chain-tread in the city of Charlevoix.

Later that night he notified sheriff's deputies of the incident and Deputy Harold G. Thomure paid a visit to the scene.

The next day, Herrington noticed a "Ford Scout" parked in front of a house on Maple-st. near the junction of Mercer-blvd. with similar tire tread and notified Sheriff's Department. A check of the license plates showed the vehicle belonged to Russell.

In his testimony, Thomure identified the vehicle as an "International Scout" but Zerafa pointed out that his client owns a Ford Broncho.

Miss Herrington also took the stand, but said she could not identify Russell as the man who peered at her through the window.

In his charge, District Judge Arthur Reibel told the jury that the fact that Russell did not testify in his own defense should not be held against him.

Charlevoixan Claims Bride in Cross Village

Theresa Bernadette Skoczylas of Cross Village became the bride of Clarence Paul Heise jr. of Charlevoix in double-ring rites June 30 at Holy Cross Church in Cross Village, the Rev. Fr. Jarlet Sobczyk officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Skoczylas sr. of Cross Village. The bridegroom is the son of Clarence Heise sr. of Charlevoix.

Approximately 400 guests witnessed the ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with yellow and white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Nottingham lace, fashioned along Empire lines. The gown featured a high ruffled collars and long sleeves ending in deep ruffles. The slightly gathered skirt had a deep flounce which encircled the entire skirt. Her bouffant veil of illusion was secured by a deep Juliet crown accented with a floral motif of Venise lace.

Mrs. Lee (Loretta) Cosens, an aunt of the bride, was maid of honor and Carol Gasco and Valerie Sikorski served as bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of soft blue with dainty print accents in pink and white. The high necklines were edged in lace. Long, full and softly gathered skirts cascaded from trim Empire waists.

Brenda Jessick was flower girl.

Gary Crain was best man and Andrew J. Skoczylas jr., a brother of the bride, and Dave Whitley were groomsmen. Edward Gasco and Larry Skippergosh of Charlevoix were ushers.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception at the Holy Cross Community Hall.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will live at 506 W. Hurlbut-st., Charlevoix.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from California, Illinois, Wisconsin, New Mexico, Florida, Alabama, Canada and several points in Michigan.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's father at the Crow Bar restaurant in Cross Village June 29.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Court Judge Arthur R. Reibel:

Clayton M. Sarasin, 19, Charlevoix was assessed $200 on a charge of impaired driving. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor by the prosecuting attorney.

Lindon W. Wiser, 17, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and innocent to a charge of assault and battery. Trial and sentencing will be held later.

Paul Parish, 23, East Jordan, plead innocent to charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, assault and battery and using indecent language. Case was continued to give Parish time to get an attorney.

Curtis L. Evans, 60, Grand Blanc, plead not guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and demanded a jury trial. Case was continued.

Harold J. Wilson, 20, Charlevoix, was assessed $200 on a charge of impaired driving. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Sylvia Olson, 21, Troy, stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered by the court on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Case was continued.

Jonathan J. Weber, 18, Birmingham, plead innocent to charges of careless driving and disregarding a stop sign. Trial will be held later. He was released on personal recognizance.

Daniel L. Himebauch, 19, Charlevoix, plead innocent to a charge of speeding. Trial will be held later. He was released on personal recognizance.

Albert Derry, 59, Harbor Springs, plead guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was assessed $200. The charge was reduced from driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

A charge that Daniel G. Simonsen, 27, Charlevoix, contributed to the delinquency of a minor was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

A full slate of games was played last week in both men's and women's slow-pitch leagues out at the diamond.

On Monday night, July 2, Coast Guard defeated Jim's Standard in the opener 4-2. Tony Warchol was the winning pitcher on an eight hitter. Tomm Pence took the loss, giving up 12 hits.

Airport Bar downed Freedman's 9-2 on Jack Niswander's five hitter. Glen Cunningham took the loss for Freedman's, getting tagged with 12 hits.

Townhouse topped Portside 7-2 in the nightcap. Ron Weislik was the winning pitcher while Fritz Allard took the loss.

On Friday night Tim Doan pitched a two hitter against Andy's as Topside won easily 9-2. Don Smith was tagged with the loss for Andy's on an 11 hitter.

In the second game of the evening Andy's again took it on the nose. This time they were covered with cement, however, as Medusa bested them 10-2. Hank Archey was the winning pitcher for Medusa. Bill Supernaw took the loss.

In an eight inning game, Freedman's defeated American Mold 4-3. Glenn Cunningham was the winning pitcher on a five hitter. Don Wells was the losing pitcher, giving up nine hits.

In the nightcap Topside defeated Coast Guard 3-2 behind the seven hit pitching of Bob Crain. Jim Bowman was the losing pitcher giving up 8 hits.

In games played Saturday night as make-up for the Fourth of July, Jim's Standard tied the Townhouse 1-1 in a ten inning marathon game. Tom Pence pitched for Jim's, giving up nine hits. Ron Wieslik gave up nine hits as pitcher for Townhouse.

In the second game, Airport Bar bested Portside 13-8 behind the pitching of Jack Niswander. Sonny Wright took the loss for Portside.

In the evening's final match, Woodshed defeated Medusa 9-8 in a close game. Gary Balsh was winning pitcher. Star Johnson took the loss for Medusa.

In women's slow-pitch games on Tuesday night, Kentucky Fried Chicken defeated A & W 7-4 behind the pitching of Jody Alger. Marilyn Cummings took the loss for A&W.

Charlevoix Hospital bested Community Reformed Church 8-5. Jeanne Romsdell got credit for the win on a five hitter.

Christie Potter was tagged with the loss for Community Reformed.

Edward's IGA demolished Hufford's 14-3 with the six hit pitching of Marge Carey and a homerun by Elaine Carr. Cindy Kibeley was the losing pitcher for Hufford's.

In the evening's finale, Charlevoix County State Bank snuck by Ski & Shore Properties, Inc. 16-9. Arlene Bissett was the winner on a 17-hitter. Pat Lass took the loss in a game that was really much closer than the score indicated.

In a low scoring close game on Thursday, County Bank clinched a 5-3 decision from Hufford's. Arlene Bissett foreclosed on the industry with a eight hitter. Cindy Kiteley took the loss.

Edward's IGA butchered the Hospital 12-2 in the second game of the evening. For the winners, Chris Davenport and Shelly Wood each gashed the Hospital with a homerun, leaving the losers in bad need of suturing. Marge Carey was credited with the win for Edward's on a seven hitter. Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss, giving up 12 hits.

First State Bank narrowly slipped past a tough Ski and Shore Properties, Inc. team, 14-1. Pam Parsel was fortunate to get the victory in a game which was again much closer than the score indicated. Pat Lass took the loss for Ski & Shore, giving up a mere 17 hits.

In the nightcap, Community Reformed just about cooked Colonel Sander's goose. For five innings the church led Kentucky Fried Chicken 6-4, much to the chagrin of the Colonel's Jodi Alger, who made her feelings known to everyone standing within five miles of the diamond.

But those seven secret herbs and spices finally subdued the Christians, as Kentucky Fried Chicken pulled it out in the end to win 14-6. Jodi Alger was the winning pitcher on a seven hitter. Chistie Potter took the loss, giving up 10 hits.

Bail Out!

By JIM REUS

Sitting aboard the motor ship Beaver Islander one day last week, I watched as a small runabout bounced about on the swells. There was a strong breeze from the west and the boat's skipper was having quite a time of it.

The incident reminded me of an experience my family had once in a small boat during a storm.

We were traveling down Indian River towards Burt Lake on July 4 many years ago, headed for Crooked Lake and ultimately home. There was a strong breeze on the river that day, and we thought the lake might be a bit choppy.

About then we came upon a 40-ft. cruiser which had just come off the lake. The skipper of the cruiser began to wave frantically at us. "Go back! Go back!" he shouted.

I was only eight years old at the time and just a dumb kid. But I still figured that since a 40-ft. boat is quite a bit bigger than our 18 ft. craft, maybe we should listen to this guy.

Not so. Dad, who was never one to turn down a challenge, said he wanted to "just take a look" at the lake. So out we went. We navigated the last of the channel and were just about on the open lake when whacko, the first wave hit us.

The front of the boat went down into the wave and all we saw through the windshield was water. The bow came up and the water that had hit the windshield came over the canvas top and landed on the boat's back seat.

Well, there was nothing to be done but head into the wind. A turn to the side to go back would surely have capsized the boat.

But since we were taking on water with each wave, something had to be done. So the kids – four of us – began bailing.

This went on for about a half hour. The situation wasn't getting any better, however, as the waves kept getting bigger and more and more water came sloshing into the boat.

Then suddenly sister Eileen, who was always a very good little girl and had memorized the entire Bible by the time she was seven, jumped up and cried, "We're lost! We're lost! All we can do now is pray." At which, she jumped to the bow of the boat and began praying fervently. I think that afternoon she recited the entire book of Genesis – in reverse no less – to prove the veracity of her petition and the desperateness of the situation.

I began to bail double time to make up for the lost bailer. But the water continued to slowly rise. I looked over at sister Janet and saw the reason why. Janet was only five, and apparently lacked Eileen's appreciation for our extreme danger. She was busy blowing bubbles in the water rising in the boat.

But as if things weren't bad enough, dad announced then that he had to answer a call of nature that simply couldn't wait until we made it to port. He turned over the helm to mom – someone totally incompetent and completely inexperienced in navigation – and made for the stern.

Eileen began wailing louder than ever, what with a total incompetent at the helm, Jan blowing bubbles and dad polluting the lake – all during the summer's worst storm.

I just kept on bailing with the aid of sister Susan. Being the only male child, and therefore the only practical one, I also quickly suggested:

"Dad, make sure you get it OUTSIDE the boat. We're having enough trouble bailing. And besides, Janet IS blowing bubbles."

We did make it back to port, but today, in my declining years, I look back upon that day as a classic family boating adventure. If only Norman Rockwell has been there to paint it for the Saturday Evening Post. I can see it now. The father communing with nature, so to speak; a child praying; another busy at play; a brother and sister applying themselves to the art of bailing; and, of course, good old mom guiding the entire family.

Naturally, there's a moral to the story. If you're ever in an 18-ft. boat during a storm and the skipper of a 40-ft. cruiser tells you to head back to port, take his advice.

Q & A

Q. My neighbor has a field full of junk automobiles. Under the Zoning Ordinance, it says it is unlawful to park inoperable motor vehicles in this Zone District. Will you get these cleared out? C.C.

A. Once again, the Zoning Ordinance is not a retroactive tool and in the case of the junked cars you have mentioned, they were located on the property prior to the effective date of the Zoning Ordinance. The only means of initiating their removal would be the enactment of a specific ordinance prohibiting junk vehicles.

Q. Why does Charlevoix County need zoning anyway? WHA

A. It is the opinion of the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and the Planning Commission, that development is taking place at such a rate that a tool to help guide that development into the correct areas in the County is needed. Currently in 8 of the 15 townships in the County there would be no zoning whatsoever without the County's program. At such time as these townships desire their own zoning programs, it is a simple matter to make and pass an Ordinance, thereby superseding the County Zoning Ordinance. Until that time, they are protected from poor land uses.

Nixon Must Refute 'Black List' Charge

One of the most frightening things about Watergate -- aside from the break-in, the bugging and the subsequent cover-up -- was John Dean's testimony that the White House under President Nixon has been keeping a "black list" of political enemies.

If Dean's testimony can be trusted, anyone who gave the present administration a hard time can find himself in a heap of trouble with the Internal Revenue Service.

If such indeed is the case, the situation in Washington today is far worse than any of us ever suspected.

As bad as it is to attempt to win an election -- and election -- by foul means, it is even worse in our book for anyone in elective office to use the non-political muscle of government machinery to harass and intimidate his opponents.

We certainly hope, at least on this point, that John Dean has not told the whole truth.

We refuse to believe that an American president would have the audacity to even consider such shenanigans.

We certainly hope that in the near future creditable witnesses -- including the President himself -- will take the stand to put the lie to this most damnable charge of all.

As a nation, we have the judicial machinery to handle second-story burglars and perjurers.

But we are helpless against an administration which would use government itself to extend and entrench its own power.

Safety Valve

QUESTION: When making a left turn at a signalized intersection, is it proper to enter the intersection and complete the turn after the light has turned to red? B.N., Wyandotte

ANSWER: No. Traffic already legally in the intersection may complete the left turn maneuver after properly yielding to straight through traffic.

"(a) Green indication (phase of traffic-control signal). Vehicular traffic facing the signal, except when prohibited under section 664 may proceed straight through or turn right or left unless a sign at such place prohibits either such turn. But vehicular traffic, including vehicles turning right or left, shall yield the right of way to other vehicles and to pedestrians lawfully within the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk at the time such signal is exhibited.

North Side Must Change

— June 19, 1973

Bob Clock
The Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

Dear Bob,

An open letter addressed to residents of Petoskey Avenue area and all interested citizens has been read and reread by me and I should like to respond in brief.

I do agree in principle to the content of the open letter. However, I do definitely disagree with a definite commitment for outlawing controlled spot zoning. I cannot help but feel that with the "population explosion" on the north side of town we shall eventually have to face some sort of modification of R-1 and R-2 zoning classification. Due to the fact that as the north side grows with the increasing traffic jam, due partially to the summer bridge traffic, plus the movement of large truck traffic, it becomes more and more impossible, time-wise, to reach the service areas on the south side of town.

In the fourth paragraph of your letter you mentioned "aesthetics, property values, or traffic hazzards involved in the sad evolution of Petoskey Avenue." In answer to this I might say that as of now, being one who makes at least ten trips daily down Petoskey Avenue to the village, the traffic situation at the present time is impossible. Speed limits are not adhered to by passenger cars and large trucks spew their exhaust fumes from their enormous stacks.

I do feel that it is a must to control the future development and growth of Charlevoix, that more attention should be paid to the issuance of building permits and that future architectural plans for any new structures erected, regardless of present or future zoning, be presented to the Common Council for their approval or disapproval. I do commend the City Fathers on their wonderful job they have done on the control of objectionable signs in the city of Charlevoix and the surrounding area.

Most sincerely,
Julius W. Gilbert

Rain, Rain Go Away

BY BOB CLOCK

Friends in Charlevoix are genuinely aghast when we tell them we spent four days on Beaver Island recently trapped by rain in a three-room cottage with four kids and two dogs.

"How in the world did you stand it?" they ask with a mixture of sympathy and incredulity.

Actually, Judy and I stood it very well. The kids didn't seem to mind, although they would have appreciated a few hours on the beach. And the dogs couldn't have cared less. They are both great sack hounds and spent most of their time sleeping.

We also found out that a short vacation in the rain is the equivalent to a very long vacation under sunny skies. Each day lasted at least a week and was interspersed with periods of dozing, reading, and very deep contemplation – which is very much akin to dozing.

Judy had orders to rouse me every two hours to make sure I hadn't passed on.

Then, again, it didn't rain continously. It just seemed like it. Whenever the sky stopped dripping, we'd hurry outside to our bicycles and pedal like crazy until the next cloudburst.

Rain or no, I usually managed to make it down to the dock to see the boat come in. As you'll remember, the Beaver Islander was laid up with a clutch ailment that week, and the former island ferry, the little Emerald Isle, had been pressed into service. Each arrival brought word as to the progress of repairs on the larger boat and when the Beaver Islander finally slipped into her berth at St. James Saturday afternoon, a great sigh of relief arose around Paradise Bay.

The Emerald Isle certainly is a seaworthy craft and she did yeoman duty all week, but it wasn't the same as having the old girl herself back in service.

The morning boat always brought over copies of the Detroit Free Press. I would grab my copy at LaFreniere's or McDonough's store and hurry back to the cottage for at least two delicious hours of uninterrupted reading, starting with "Action Line" and ending with Judd Arnett.

As you might suspect, the Free Press is still one of the most popular newspapers among Beaver Islanders. The late Free Press columnist James Pooler was a native of Beaver Island and wrote warm, nostalgic things about the island that bring tears to the eyes, even today.

Although we intended to eat most of our meals out, since it was – after all – our vacation, things didn't work out that way. It was usually raining dismally at meal times and I was dispatched downtown on my bicycle to pick up a few groceries to tide us over.

However we ate out whenever we could, and the island's restaurant fare was delicious. Perhaps it isn't quite accurate to call it restaurant fare. It is home-cooking, restaurant style, with little touches like home-made relishes and bread fresh-from-the-oven to make it all the more appetizing.

I think, perhaps, the world could be divided into two types of people. Those who worship Beaver Island as their personal Bali Hai and those who can't stand it.

Ever since Judy and I first visited the island in 1965, it has been our Bali Hai. To be sure, the island doesn't offer a great deal in the way of tourist attractions, if tourist attractions are your bag. And you can see all of the island capital, St. James, in about 15 minutes, even on a bicycle.

Yet there is an aura to the island that no one, not even Jimmy Pooler, ever captured on paper. Some people believe it is the scent of wild juniper and hemlock that welcomes you when you are still a half-hour from port.

Others credit Beaver's charm to the solitude and isolation of island living.

Still others claim that it has something to do with the Irish gregariousness of the island natives.

Even though there is new construction aplenty and the island population is growing, Beaver Island never seems to lose the charm of a world where time stands still.

Even in the rain, Beaver Island certainly has to be one of the loveliest places on God's green earth.

Q. Is agriculture still a major factor in Michigan's economy?

A. A billion dollars is a lot of money in any man's language – but that's the value placed on the products brought forth by Michigan farmers last year.

If you add the costs of transportation, processing and marketing of those farm products, you will find the value of Michigan's agricultural industry last year was almost $3.5 billion – a right smart sum for a state that is usually thought of more industrial than agricultural.

That makes agriculture one of Michigan's largest industries. It provides about 27 percent of all Michigan residents with some part of their income.

This information comes from an attractive and fascinating little booklet entitled "1973 Michigan Food Facts" put out just recently by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

If you haven't followed Michigan farming particularly close, you may be interested to know that Michigan leads the United States in production of six crops, and is fifth or higher in 17 other food crops.

For an industrial state, that is a rather notable accomplishment.

Obituary

Crain

Funeral was held in Ellsworth at the Hastings Funeral Home Monday for Mrs. Alberta Crain, 84, of Boyne City who died Friday at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient since April.

The Rev. David Willett of the Wesleyan Church officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery, Charlevoix.

Born at Covert, Ohio, April 16, 1889, the former Alberta Harvey came to the Leelanau area in a covered wagon with her parents in 1895. In 1904 she was married to Everett Crain. They came to the Marion Center area of Charlevoix County in 1933 and later lived in Ellsworth before going to Boyne City to make their home. Mr. Crain died in 1969.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Miles (Ruth) Russell of Charlevoix and Mrs. Delbert (Celia) Ingalls and Mrs. Edward (Ruby) Denny, both of Ellsworth; three sons, Elmer and Leslie of Boyne City and Glenn of Charlevoix; 25 grandchildren; 38 great grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Pearl Jenkins of Grand Rapids and a brother, Walter Harvey of Charlevoix.

Gould

Word has been received of the death of Addaleen Joy Gould, 53, at Lockwood-MacDonald Hospital in Petoskey on July 2 where she had been a patient for four weeks.

Miss Gould lived in Charlevoix from 1964 to 1968 and was active in the Sheltered Workshop.

She was born in Bay City Feb. 7, 1920, and lived in Flint before moving to northern Michigan. She also made her home for a time at Harbor Springs with Mr. and Mrs Wilbur Hahn.

Funeral was at the Mathews Funeral Home in Gladwin, with burial in Ridge Cemetery, Gladwin.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. May Sherman of Gladwin; a brother, William Wangler of Techumseh; and a step-brother, Lz Riegle of Beaver Island.

certain criteria. The children attend school for two to 2½ hours daily and remain for lunch. Mrs. Patricia Sherman is in charge of the program. Title I also provides funds for remedial reading programs at St. Mary's school. The Charlevoix school is also custodian of funds for the Beaver Island Community school.

The board gave its approval for the use of the high school gymnasium for the Venetian Queen Pageant with costs for custodial service to be paid by the committee.

The offer regarding the house at 1202 Bridge st. made by Richard Donaldson who now owns the property was turned down by the board because of the anticipated cost and the time element involved. Donaldson had offered the school the house on the property for $2,500 with the understanding that the school district have it moved from the property to a lot where it could be renovated by the Building Trades class and sold. The cost of a lot, moving it and paying the $2,500 would result in an estimated cost of $23,000. With an answer needed this week, the board felt there was not time to purchase the property and meet the deadline.

During the meeting Max Novak asked that guidelines regarding various insurances be established and also that guidelines regarding expenditure of funds in School Activities Accounts be set. He said there were too many inconsistencies among the schools regarding these funds.

Robert Bogart, business manager, said that Hal Forbrig of Lake Construction Co. has accepted the board's offer of $400 for skylights removed from Building A

MEMBERS OF the lay staff at St. Mary's School for the 1973-74 school year were introduced to the school board during the board's meeting Tuesday evening. They include John Gagnon, fourth grade instructor; Karen Buckle, fifth and sixth grade combination classroom teacher; and Jeanne Dubey, first grade teacher.

St. Mary's Board Elects New Officers

St. Mary's School Board met Tuesday evening, June 26, 1973 in the School Hall. Louis McKenzie and Joseph Yats were sworn in replacing Elaine Avery and Ted Browe whose terms had expired. Mr. Browe had served on the Board since it's formation six years ago.

Election of officers was held with Lil Left chosen as president; Edward Buday, Sr. vice-president and Ceil Doan, secretary-treasurer. Roger Pichner was appointed Maintenance Chairman for the coming year.

The lay staff for the school year 1973-74 was introduced. Mrs. Jeanne Dubey will return to teach first grade. Mr. John Gagnon will teach fourth grade. John was an x-ray technician at Charlevoix Hospital and a member of St. Mary's Church when he returned to Central Michigan University to obtain his degree in June 1973. Mr. Gagnon, his wife and two children reside at North Point. Miss Karen Buckle graduated from Traverse City St. Francis High School and in June 1973 from Michigan State University. Miss Buckle will teach the fifth and sixth grade in a combination classroom. Karen is currently seeking housing.

The three lay teachers will join Sister Nathniel who returns to teach third grade and a newly appointed teacher-principal, Sister Josine, who will teach second grade.

Marge Martin gave a report on the committee to enroll more students. There is room in each grade. No tuition is charged; just a book fee. Father Denay commended the Board for its excellent service to the parish.

Boy-O-Boy-O-Boy!

The obstetrics ward at Charlevoix Area Hospital, which sometimes goes unused for weeks on end since the advent of The Pill, had a run on babies last week.

Seven babies – all boys – were born from June 27 through July 3, a modern-day record.

The OB department has only four beds, which means the ward was filled to capacity most days.

Following is the roster of newcomers:

A son was born Wednesday, June 27, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald S. Thier of Central Lake.

A son was born Wednesday June 27, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Wilson of East Jordan.

A son was born Friday June 29, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Harris of East Jordan.

A son was born Sunday July 1, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tipton of Bellaire.

A son was born Monday July 2, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lucas of Bellaire.

A son was born Tuesday July 3, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Gaery L. Warner of Charlevoix.

A son was born Tuesday July 3, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel M. Campbell of Charlevoix.

Hamilton Won't Seek Re-Election

In a letter to members of the Charlevoix Historical Society, Ralph Hamilton reported that he will not be a candidate for re-election as president at the group's upcoming election July 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Court House.

"At the inception and incorporation of the Society, I expressed my opinion that I would guide my best I could the efforts of the first year," Hamilton wrote. "But I felt that another should carry on with new ideas. I will remain an interested member."

Hamilton said he hopes that some type of museum is in operation by the nation's bicentennial year, 1976. He said many artifacts of years past already have been donated to the Society.

Stebbins, Begrow Winners

Rod Stebbins emerged as winner of the July 1 races sponsored by the Charlevoix Yacht Club and Jack Begrow was the winner of the independence day race.

Stebbins, aboard Mariner 31, posted a corrected time of 2:00.18.

Begrow, sailing P-30, posted a corrected time of 1:57:27 for the Lake Charlevoix triangle. He also was first to finish in elapsed time in the July 1 race, but his handicap put him in third place.

The yachtsmen came in the following order in the July 1 race: Stebins, Pew, Begrow, Kenifeck, Broeder, Carsten, Barnes, Campbell, Steele, Westland and Hoedley.

The order in the July 4 race was Begrow, Barnes, Kenifeck, Carsten and Pointner.

Hobbycraft Show Slated

Charlevoix's annual Hobbycraft Show will be held this Saturday, July 14, in East Park.

Hobbycrafters from throughout the Charlevoix area will be on hand to display their wares – and hopefully sell some of them.

The show will open about 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Thomas Hanna Resigns Post

Will Step Down In Mid September

Bowing to pressure from the mayor's office, City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna submitted his resignation to the city council at the close of Monday night's meeting.

The resignation is effective Sept. 15, to allow for an orderly transfer of his administrative duties.

The council had adjourned when members were handed copies of his resignation in sealed envelopes.

No official action has been taken on the resignation, although earlier in the evening council members agreed to meet next Monday night to review a resume of an applicant for the job, James Sneathen, 30, of Williamston, Mich., a former resident of Hayes Township.

The council met with Sneathen informally July 6 at the request of Mayor Edward P. Hansen who asked for Hanna's resignation twice in the past few months.

Both times the mayor failed to win the support of the council.

At next Monday's meeting, the council also will review a proposed ordinance creating the job of city administrator. Hanna, like his predecessors, has worked without a clear-cut job description.

There also are several cloudy areas in the Fourth Class Cities Act as to the hiring and responsibilities of the city administrator.

A native of Ohio, Hanna moved to Charlevoix in 1965 with the Medusa Cement Co. as a construction engineer. He left the company to become city administrator in 1969, upon the retirement of James Taylor.

Former Mayor Andrew Essenburg tried to unseat Hanna during his tenure, but was stopped by the council.

Sneathen is the son of Lee Sneathen, Hayes Township supervisor.

He was graduated from Charlevoix High School in 1961 and attended North Central Michigan College. He received his B.A. in mechanical engineering from Michigan State University.

He presently is employed as a general supervisor in the Maintainance Services Department at Michigan State University at E. Lansing.

Mayor Hansen said Sneathen will accept the post for $17,000, which is $5,000 less than he is receiving in his present job. Hansen said Sneathen would like to give the university 30 days notice if he is leaving.

In other business the council:

--Learned from Ivan Phillips that the owner of a new home on Division-st. has hooked onto the city sewer line without a permit, or even the knowledge, of city officials. The name of the homeowner was not disclosed, but Mayor Hansen promised a full investigation.

–Agreed to put a 40,000-gallon oil tank at the city power plant up for bids. Wayne Carter, who asked two weeks ago if he could either buy or lease the tank, objected to the bid procedure.

--Accepted first place honorable mention trophies from William Cooper, representing the Chamber of Commerce, which the Charlevoix float received in Boyne City's 4th of July parade and the Cherry Festival parade in Traverse City. The chamber also received a $25 cash award for placing first in East Jordan's Jordan Valley Festival parade.

–Heard complaints by Mrs. Karl Kohler and Mrs. Ed Loop, who live adjacent to the new tennis courts, that they are running themselves ragged chasing tennis balls. They said players invade their yards looking for stray balls and have torn down fences and damaged shubbery. The council agreed to put an extension on the fence which backs up to the two parcels of property and to erect fences from the backyards to the existing tennis court fences to discourage trespassing. "No trespass" signs also will be erected. Mrs. Kohler said she was interrupted three times during one meal to retrieve balls which flew into her backyard. She said the children are usually polite, but adults often are insulting and abusive.

--Sent to committee a request by Max Hosmer that he be allowed to fence and take care of a tract of city-owned property adjacent to his home at 205 Elm-st. The property measures 62 feet by 100 feet.

–Approved fireworks for the Venetian Festival the evening of July 28. The display will last from about 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. according to Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Thomas Merta.

–Tabled action on truck bids submitted by Charlevoix Oil Co. until City Attorney Robert Hoffman determines whether conflict-of-interest may be involved. Alderman Richard Fochtman is co-owner of Charlevoix Oil Co., which was about to be awarded the bids

Soup To Nuts

HERE'S AN offer you can't turn down. Retired letter carrier Walker Mides, 202 Belvedere-ave., will shortly have grape hyacinth, narcissis, daffodil and tulip bulbs to give away. He plans to start digging them by Aug. 15. If you can use some, drop him a card telling him how many you can "honestly use and will plant." After the first frost he also will have from five to ten bushels of Dahlia roots, mostly red.

+++

THE THINGS you see when you don't have your camera: A tourist (male) in shorts and sunglasses hoisting his dog up to the public drinking fountain near the city dock so that fido can quench his thirst. The horse trough is long gone, but maybe we could use a "dog trough."

+++

THE PETUNIA is Charlevoix's "official flower," but there's nary a one growing on City Hall premises. There used to be nice beds of them along the State-st. entrance. If nothing else, they kept pedestrians from cutting corners. Fortunately the petunia beds at the County Building are prettier than ever. It must be a good year for flowers, because the window boxes and baskets along Bridge-st. have never looked nicer.

IF YOU have any news items for the Courier, keep in mind that our deadline is Friday noon of the week before publication. Few weekly newspapers in the state come out any earlier – in fact we may be the first. So we need your news early.

THOUSANDS of visitors jammed East Park Saturday for the annual Hobbycraft Show. Exhibitors came from all over the state to sell their wares to eager shoppers.

AMONG local exhibitors at the Hobbycraft Show Saturday at East Park was Mrs. Fred (Irene) DeCastro, who displayed her handmade dolls. For more pictures of the show, please turn to Pg. 7 of this week's Courier.

Red Ball Stickers Available

Charlevoix Jaycees have launched "Operation Red Ball" throughout the area in cooperation with the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Department.

Under the program, persons are being supplied with stick-on phosphorescent "Red Balls" to affix to the bedroom windows of children and invalids.

When firemen answering a call notice a "Red Ball" on the window, they know immediately that someone inside needs help.

Jaycees and the American Red Ball agent are providing the stickers free of charge to local fire departments for distribution.

If you haven't secured your "Red Ball" stickers yet, stop at the fire station. Or get in touch with any member of the Jaycees. They'll see you get a supply.

CHS Band To Rehearse

The Charlevoix High School Marching Band will rehearse for the Venetian Street Parade on Wednesday, July 18, at 9 p.m. at the High School band room.

School Loan OK'd

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission, reports that the commission has approved $200,000.00 of tax anticipation notes for the Charlevoix Public Schools, Counties of Charlevoix and Antrim.

Kelly said the proceeds will be used to operate the school district due to a cash shortage. Taxes are due and payable Dec. 1, 1973.

These notes are dated Aug. 10, 1973, to be due March 1, 1974, and will carry a maximum interest rate of 6 percent per annum.

Other members of the Municipal Finance Commission are Allison Green, state treasurer; and John W. Porter, superintendent of public instruction.

For several years, the Charlevoix School District has been forced to borrow against anticipated tax receipts because tax dollars don't start coming in until late fall and early winter.

The school district also is borrowing $150,000 against anticipated state aid.

Births Down, Marriages Up in 6-Month Report

The birth rate in Charlevoix County has continued its downward trend for the first six months of 1973. Compared with the same period in 1972, the rate is down 13.5 percent, from 52 births to 45.

During 1972 Charlevoix recorded its first year of less than 100 births. 99 babies were born last year and if the present rate continues, only 90 will be born this year.

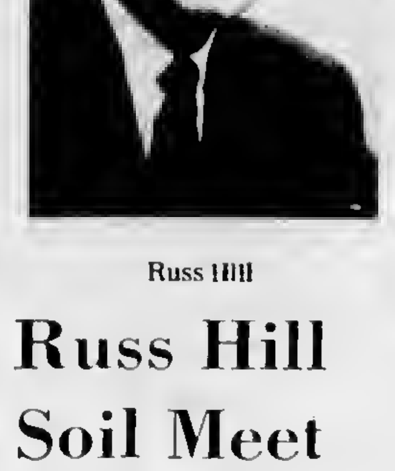
As recently as the mid-60's, Charlevoix County had 200 or more births a year. In 1970 the county recorded 131 births and in 1971, 114.

Marriages in the county were also up significantly over the first six months of last year. Through June, 1972 the clerk recorded 79 marriages. This year for the same time the clerk has issued 95 marriage licenses.

Other statistics have remained fairly constant. Deaths were up from 64 last year to 69 for this year. The number of divorces remained unchanged at 34.

The divorce figure is misleading, however, since the initiation of Michigan's no-fault divorce law. Over 100 divorce cases remain on the Circuit Court docket.

The divorce rate in Charlevoix County has been rising over the past few years. Only 33 were granted in 1971, compared with 48 in 1972. Probably many more than 48 will be granted in 1973.



Russ Hill

Russ Hill Soil Meet Speaker

Russ Hill, retired secretary of the state Soil Conservation Committee, will be speaker at the 25th annual meeting of the Charlevoix Soil and Water Conservation District Tuesday, July 24, at 7 p.m. at Whiting Park.

Hill's topic will be "A Look Bank and a Peek Ahead."

The dinner, sponsored by the directors, starts at 7 p.m., followed by the business meeting.

One director will be elected to succeed John Wieland, whose term expires. Nominees are Wieland and William Himebauch. Other nominations will be accepted from the floor, according to Ed Rebman, secretary.

Charlevoixan Takes 1st In Area Photo Contest

Winners of the Crooked Tree Arts Council First Photography Contest were announced Tuesday night at the Council's second annual dinner held in the Historical Museum (the old depot on the water front).

They were guests of honor at the dinner and their photographs will be on display at the museum through July 26 from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 until 9 p.m.

The winners are: for color by amateurs, First prize, Elizabeth R. Collier, Charlevoix; second prize, Russel Langs, Harbor Springs; third prize, Cynthia Haynes, Harbor Springs; and honorable mention, Andrea Siegal, Roaring Brook; for color by professionals, first prize, Robert S. Grant, Petoskey; second, Virgil D. Haynes, Harbor Springs; third, Luciano Duse, Petoskey; and honorable mention, Robert S. Grant, Petoskey.

There were not enough entries in the black and white amateur category to justify awards, but in the black and white professional the following were judged winners: First prize, Terry McConnell, Petoskey; second, Royal H. Watkins, Boyne City; third, Virgil Haynes, Harbor Springs; and honorable mention, Luciano Duse, Petoskey.

The judging was performed by Prof. Michael Church, Director for cultural activities, University of Michigan Extension Service, Ann Arbor, and by Robert R. Wilson, Asst. Director Extension Service, University of Michigan.

As in past years, the youngsters will parade in front of the bandstand in East Park.

BISHOP'S Crosses were presented June 8 to two members of Christ Episcopal Church, Charlevoix, by the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Bennison, OD, bishop of the Diocese of Western Michigan. Receiving the special recognition for work with church were T. Ernest Goode, left, a lay reader, and Harold Bliss, church treasurer.

Hal Hill Jr. Claims Bride at St. Marys

Mr. and Mrs. Hal M. Hill, jr. are traveling on an eastern wedding trip following their recent wedding at St. Mary's Church.

The bride is the former Suellen Dalhberg, daughter of Harold Dalhberg of Brockton, Mass., and the late Mrs. Dalhberg. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Hill, sr. of Charlevoix are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. E. Francis Denay officiated at the double-ring service in the presence of their immediate families July 6. Arrangments of Shasta daisies, blue delphinium and greens decorated the altar for the ceremony. Mrs. C. D. Geiken, at the organ, played a program of traditional music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of white tissue taffeta. Fashioned with a V-neckline and fitted bodice, the gown feaured an A-line skirt. She wore a long sleeve bolero jacket over the gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds.

Molly McGee of Detroit, as her only attendant, wore an orchid gown similar to the bride's and carried a colonial bouquet of lavender rosebuds and pink carnations.

Ronald Komer of Birmingham assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Following the ceremony, the bride's father hosted a dinner reception at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey. They returned to the home of the bridegroom's parents for an informal reception that included the wedding cake.

Wedding guests were present from Brockton, Mass., Birmingham and Detroit.

While on their wedding trip the couple will visit the bride's family and friends in Brockton.

DNR Plants 3 Million Pines

Department of Natural Resources crews have completed planting a third of a million pine trees in the northern Lower Peninsula.

This represents the state's total pine planting effort for that region this year, according to Robert A. Borak, Roscommon, Regional Forest Supervisor.

He said 150,000 red pine were planted in the Pere Marquette, Fife Lake, Betsie River and Tittabawasee State Forests, 40,000 white pine in the Pere Marquette State Forest and 140,000 jack pine in Oscoda County.

One hundred thousand of the jack pine were planted to provide habitat for Kirtland warblers, an endangered species whose nesting range is restricted entirely to a few strands of jack pine in the Lower Peninsula.

In addition, 4,500 Juneberry trees were planted throughout the region to furnish food for wildlife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross V. Blauchard

Ross Blanchard Wed In Ecumenical Rites

Margaret Ann Kerkau and Ross V. Blanchard exchanged their marriage vows recently at an ecumenical service solemnized at St. John's Episcopal Church in Royal Oak.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Kerkau of Huntington Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Burr Blanchard of Charlevoix.

The Rev. Fr. A.L. Easton of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Royal Oak and Rev. Robert Fortune, viscar of St. John's Episcopal officiated at the double ring service during the Nuptial Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white chiffon and lace with beaded trim. Her headdress was of white organza flowers that fell to the floor. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

Patricia Lyn Kerkau of Huntington Woods, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of pastel blue, green and white voile and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white taper.

Theodore Benson of Afton assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Kerkau selected a full-length gown of turquoise organza for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white orchids. Mrs. Blanchard, mother of the bridegroom, wore a white gown with brown and black print. A white orchid corsage complimented her gown.

A reception followed at the Stephenson Club in Madison Heights.

After a northern Michigan wedding trip, the couple is at home at Ellsworth for the summer.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of North Central Michigan College. The bridegroom is a 1973 graduate of Michigan Technological University.

Wedding guests were present from several Michigan cities and Monkton, Md.

After returning from their wedding trip, the couple was honored at an afternoon reception here hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard at their farm home.

DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

To showering. To dishwashing. To laundering. Anything that calls for hot water gets it—whenever it's needed. Because the McDermotts replaced their old water heater with a new, efficient Gas water heater. And it even operates for less than one third the cost of a comparable electric unit.

Whether your water heater needs replacing or not, you can save Natural Gas (and money, too) if you'll fix leaky hot water faucets promptly; operate your washing machine with capacity loads or use the water level control; use your dishwasher only when it is fully loaded; remember to lower the water heating setting if you used a higher temperature when laundering; and drain a pail of water from the water heater once a month to remove sediment from the tank and increase heating efficiency.

And if your water heater does need replacing, see the new, efficient, Gas-saving, money-saving models at dealers, plumbers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company business offices.

East Jordan Is Site For State Road Study

East Jordan is one of six Michigan communities slated for study this summer by the Michigan State Highway Commission. During the weeks of July 24 to Aug. 8, crews from the Department of State Highways will conduct origin and destination surveys in and around the city.

Highway Department personnel, many of them college students hired for temporary summer work, will set up interviewing stations on each state highway and major county road into and out of East Jordan.

Interviewers will question motorists on the origin of their trip, their destination, the purpose of the trip and where their vehicle is garaged. The interviewer also will note the number of persons in the vehicle and the vehicle's type.

The data is used for forecasting future traffic patterns through the development and continuous up-dating of a computerized statewide traffic model. The information is vital to planning future highway networks.

Interview stations will be operated from 6 a.m. through 8 p.m., Monday through Friday. They will not be operated on Saturday or Sunday.

Other communities included in the summer survey are Gladwin, Standish, Kalkaska, Frankfort-Elberta and Owosso-Corunna.

The survey crews also will be assigned to weekend work at many highway rest areas and roadside parks -- tabulating frequency and type of use made of the various facilities.

Historians Convene

The North Central Jurisdictional Convocation on Archives and History is being held at Petoskey, July 17-18-19.

Under the direction of the United Methodist Church, the conference is being hosted by the West Michigan Conference at North Central Michigan College, 1515 Howard Street.

Representatives from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa are taking part.

Dirk Gringhuis, noted author, lecturer and illustrator; Dr. James Fitting, archaeologist, State of Michigan; Rev. Ronald Brunger, Methodist historian; Harriet L. Killson, Emmet County Clerk and historian, and Carl Ceasar, educator and historian will make presentations during the conference.

Rev. Verner Kilgren, of Grand Rapids and chairman of planning, indicates that on Wednesday, July 18, the group will visit the forts at the Straits of Mackinac and Mackinac Island.

Early Methodism, the history of Bay View, the life of Father Marquette, and the history of the early French, British and Indians will be portrayed.

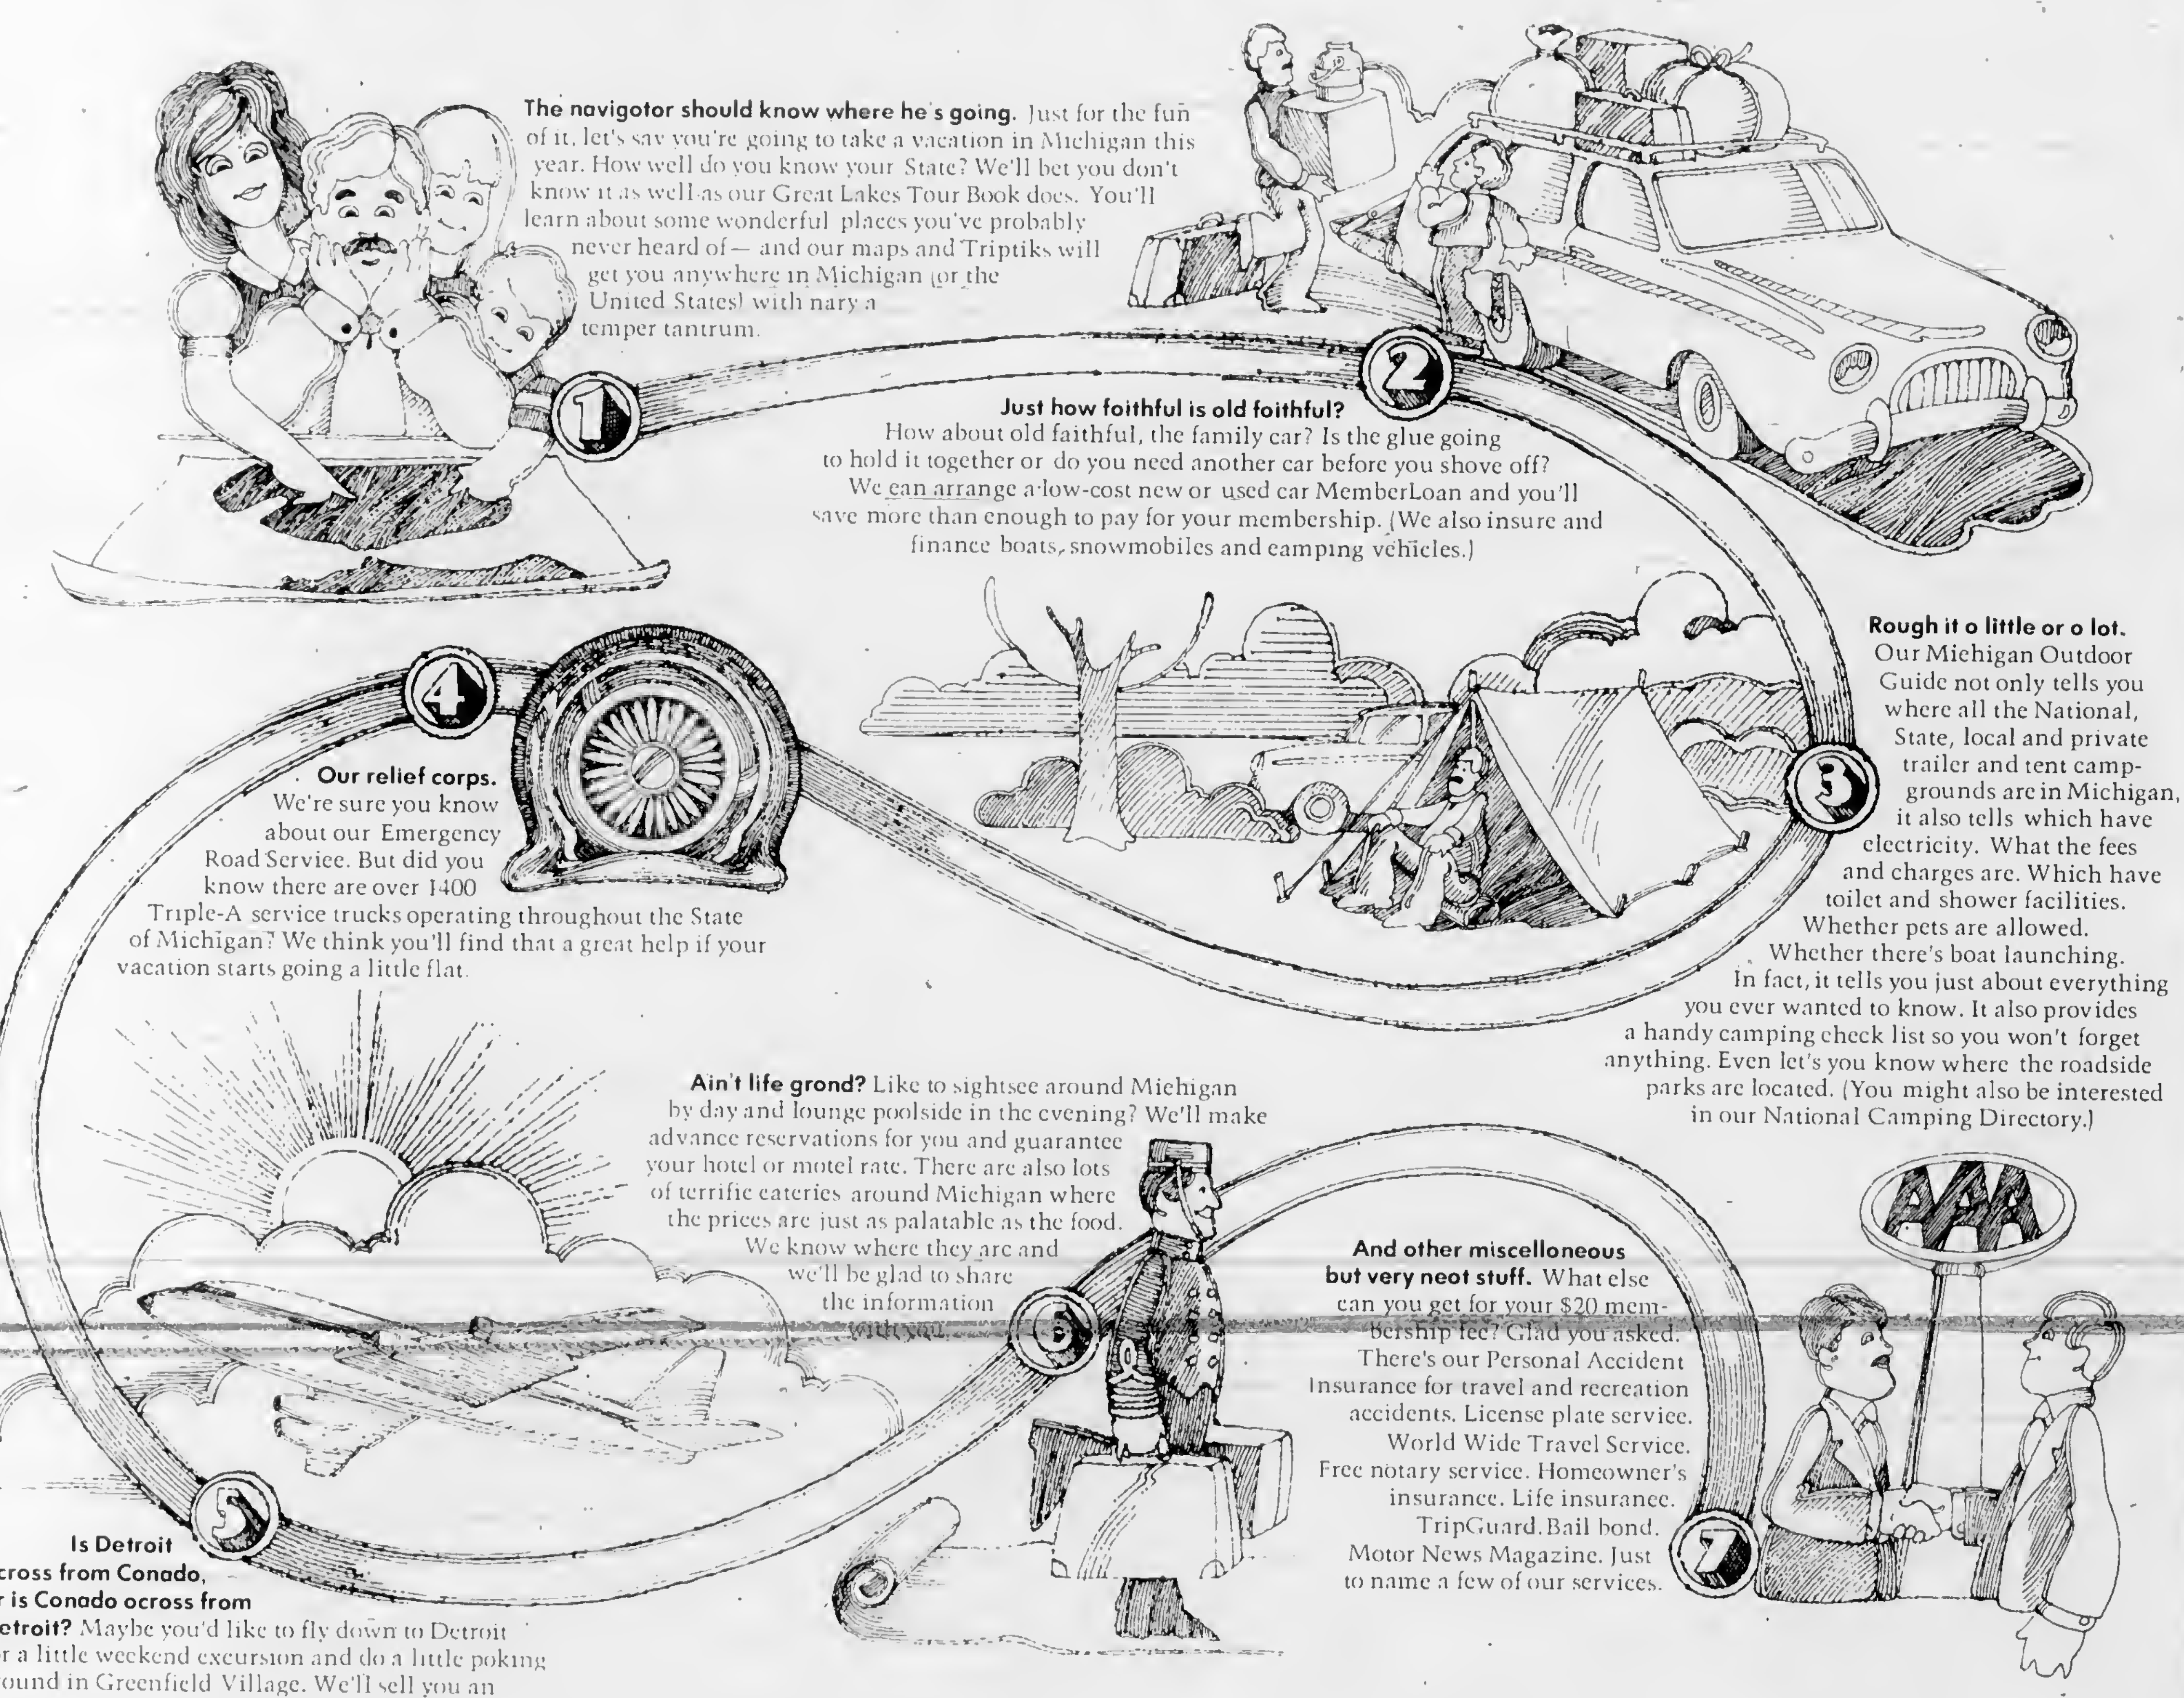
Seven reasons to join Triple-A that have nothing to do with car insurance.



The navigator should know where he's going. Just for the fun of it, let's say you're going to take a vacation in Michigan this year. How well do you know your State? We'll bet you don't know it as well as our Great Lakes Tour Book does. You'll learn about some wonderful places you've probably never heard of — and our maps and Triptiks will get you anywhere in Michigan (or the United States) with nary a temper tantrum.

Just how faithful is old faithful? How about old faithful, the family car? Is the glue going to hold it together or do you need another car before you shove off? We can arrange a low-cost new or used car MemberLoan and you'll save more than enough to pay for your membership. (We also insure and finance boats, snowmobiles and camping vehicles.)

Rough it a little or a lot. Our Michigan Outdoor Guide not only tells you where all the National, State, local and private trailer and tent campgrounds are in Michigan, it also tells which have electricity. What the fees and charges are. Which have toilet and shower facilities. Whether pets are allowed. Whether there's boat launching. In fact, it tells you just about everything you ever wanted to know. It also provides a handy camping check list so you won't forget anything. Even let's you know where the roadside parks are located. (You might also be interested in our National Camping Directory.)

Our relief corps. We're sure you know about our Emergency Road Service. But did you know there are over 1400 Triple-A service trucks operating throughout the State of Michigan? We think you'll find that a great help if your vacation starts going a little flat.

Is Detroit across from Canada, or is Canada across from Detroit? Maybe you'd like to fly down to Detroit for a little weekend excursion and do a little poking around in Greenfield Village. We'll sell you an airline ticket to get you there. (We can also tell you lots of other interesting things to do in and around Detroit.) In fact, we can sell you an airline, steamship, bus or rail ticket to almost anywhere in the world.

Ain't life grand? Like to sightsee around Michigan by day and lounge poolside in the evening? We'll make advance reservations for you and guarantee your hotel or motel rate. There are also lots of terrific eateries around Michigan where the prices are just as palatable as the food. We know where they are and we'll be glad to share the information with you.

And other miscellaneous but very neat stuff. What else can you get for your $20 membership fee? Glad you asked. There's our Personal Accident Insurance for travel and recreation accidents. License plate service. World Wide Travel Service. Free notary service. Homeowner's insurance. Life insurance. TripGuard. Bail bond. Motor News Magazine. Just to name a few of our services.

And you'll notice we haven't even mentioned car insurance as one of the seven reasons to spend $20 for a membership. That's because we want you to know you don't have to buy our Exchange car insurance to be a Triple-A member and take advantage of all our services. A Triple-A Membership is a great buy in and of itself — with or without our car insurance.

For more information on all our services all over the world, just drop the coupon in the mail. CC2

Circus Coming to City

THE CAMPA Sisters from Latin American will wheel in to the King Brothers Circus tent Friday, Aug. 3 to amaze the public with their skills on the unicycles. The Campa Sisters will be one of the many acts presenting performances at 4 and 8 P.M. at Ferry Avenue Beach. The circus is being sponsored at the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce.

Elephants Due in Town With King Bros. Circus

Tom Merta, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce today warned area residents "Don't be alarmed if you see a herd of elephants on Friday, Aug. 3.

"It will be circus day in Charlevoix," he explained. "We are bringing the King Brothers Circus to town to raise money for Chamber activities.

"We decided to sponsor the King Brothers Circus because we feel there are hundreds of children and young-hearted adults who will welcome the opportunity to see a real three-ring circus. The circus is the only form of entertainment that has never been censored. It is good, wholesome family fun," he added.

"We want to stress the fact that our organization receives a higher percentage for all tickets sold by us in advance of circus day, so we will certainly appreciate the public's assistance in our circus project by their purchase of tickets for their families from any of our members."

Among the many outstanding features of the King Brother's Circus will be stars from France, Spain, and Argentina.

The circus will be set up at Ferry Avenue Beach and performares on circus day will be at 4 and 8 p.m.

One-Acts Add Sparkle To Summer at Harbor

The Little Traverse Civic Theater has embarked upon a series of one-act plays which will be presented throughout July and August at 9 p.m. at the Harbour Inn at Harbor Springs.

Scheduled for Thursday, July 19, are "Applicant," starring June and Bill Zoerhof; "Tattoo," starring John Holec and Bill Zoerhof; and "Adam and Eve", starring Cheryl Mulvanney and Ross Collins.

Thursday, July 26, a cast of five – Sue Felt, Pat Duncan, Dave Trautman and John Hackman -- will present "Adapation."

The same night, Shellie and John Hackman will star in "Old Folks" (Carol Burnett sketches); and Pat Duvernay and Pat Duncan will star in "That's All."

Thursday, Aug. 2, Ross Collins and Toni Veen will be featured in "Next" followed by "As the Stomach Turns," with Brenda Waugh, Sharon Ketchum, Liz Blesi, Pete Howe and Robert Manchester. This also is taken from the Carol Burnett Show. The final offering of the evening will be "We've Just Come to See the Baby," with a cast to be announced.

Scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 9, will be "Cobbler, Stick to Thy Last," with Robin Shanley, Pat Duvernary, Connie Tanner, Jerry Landry and Liz Blesi. The same evening, the group will present "Alice Portnoy", another Burnett special, with a cast to be announced.

Aug. 16, Aug. 23 and Aug. 30, the group will present medleys of the best received plays, plus two others to be announced.

The season opened July 5 with "Old Folks", starring Shellie and John Hackman; "That's All", with Pat Duncan and Pat Duvernay; and a mini-musical made up of members of the cast of "Fiddler on the Roof."

July 12, the group presented "He's Having a Baby," starring Pat Bloom, Judy Burge, Kitty Louiselle, Mary Lee Campbell and Bridget Biddeck, all of Charlevoix.

Also scheduled were "The Whole Truth and the Honest Man", with Jerry Landry and Ross Stoakes", and "Flight 13 to Nowhere", with Jane Chichanhowski, Pete Howe, Nancy Taylor, Herb Piper, John and Shellie Hackman and Robin Shanley.

No Gas Shortage: Sen. Davis

"There is not a gasoline shortage in Northern and Upper Michigan", according to State Sen. Robert W. Davis (R-37th District).

"I have conducted a check with various sources, including chamber of commerce offices, in that area. The evidence that I gathered indicates that there is no risk whatsoever. Travelers will find gasoline readily available. Some of the stations are keeping shorter hours. However, that should pose no problems if people simply fill their tanks before evening", continued Davis.

"I want to assure everyone who is thinking about visiting Northern and Upper Michigan, that they will be able to enjoy our beautiful North Country just as thoroughly as in any other summer."

Circlin' the Bases

By Jim Hens

The summer slow-pitch leagues had a busy schedule last week as games were played every night but Thursday.

In the men's slow-pitch league two teams remain undefeated to top the list. Topside and Shed are two games above the rest of the pack, the game between the two teams should determine the championship for the first round.

In action on Monday night, July 9, Topside destroyed Townhouse 14-1 on Tim Doan's eight hitter. Terry Blissett bagged a homer and Al Curry connected for two round-trippers for the winners. Ron Weislik took the loss, giving up 17 hits.

Medusa defeated the Coast Guard 8-4 in the evening's second game. Stan Johnston got the win, giving up 12 hits. Tony Warehol was tagged with the loss. Denny Spence smacked a homer for Medusa to aid in the victory.

Airport Bar whipped Jim's Standard 14-8 in the last game of the night. Jack Niswander took the victory and Tom Pence the loss. Each team had one homerun, as Jerry Skippergosh connected for Jim's and Terry Miller for Airport.

On Wednesday evening, the Shed downed Andy's 12-6 in the night's opener. Gary Balch pitched a 10 hitter for the winners while Bill Supernaw gave up 17 hits to take the loss. O.J. Faust of the Shed and Don Blalock of Andy's each hit homeruns.

Topside smashed Airport Bar 17-4 in the second game. Terry Blissett bagged another homer for Topside as Bob Crain pitched a 6 hitter for the winners. Jack Niswander was tagged with the loss, giving up 19 hits.

In the nightcap Freedman's edged Portside 10-7. Each team had 14 hits. But Glenn Cunningham's pitching and Jay Masorayak's homer gave Freedman's the win. Fritz Allard took the loss for Portside.

American Mold, behind the pitching of Don Wells, shut out Jim's Standard 14-0 on Friday. In pitching the shut out Wells gave up only 4 hits. He was helped along by Ed Holm's two homeruns. Tom Pence gave up 16 hits in a losing effort for Jim's.

The Shed made quick work of the Coast Guard 15-6 in the evening's second game. Gary Balch was the winning pitcher and Jim Bowman took the loss. The Shed had a good night at the plate as Joe Beaudoin, O.J. Faust, Mike Bode and Bernie Devries all hit homers. Wayne Bethey had two homeruns for Coast Guard.

Topside crushed Freedman's 14-4 in the final men's slow-pitch game of the week. Tim Carey and Terry Blissett had homers for Topside to help Tim Doan to an easy victory at the mound. Glenn Cunningham took the loss.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH

BANKS FORECLOSE ON KENTUCKY FRIED: CHICKEN BARBECUE HELD AT DIAMOND: COMMUNITY REFORMED ALMOST WINS.

In the warm-up to the big game on Tuesday evening, July 10, County State Bank downed A & W 15-9 behind the pitching of Arlene Blisset. Marilyn Cummings was the losing pitcher.

In the second game of the evening, First State Bank slipped past Kentucky Fried Chicken 18-13. The chickens squacked, but to no avail. as they were skinned by the 11 hit pitching of Pam Parsel. Pam along with Judy VanderArk also helped ring the colonel's neck, each bagging homeruns. Jodi Alger took the loss.

Then, in a very close game Edwards IGA narrowly slipped past Community Reformed [illegible]. They did this inspite of the cheering efforts of TWO ministers AND their wives in the bleachers. It was a tough one for the church to lose. Christie Potter pitched well for Community Reformed. She was tagged with the loss, hoever, even though she gave up a mere 30 hits.

Marge Carey was fortunate to get credit for the victory giving up four untimely hits. She was helped along on homeruns by herself, Cheryl Pence and Peggy Carey.

In the evening's nightcap, Hospital nudged past Ski & Shore Properties, Inc. 18-17 in a game that was much closer than the score indicated. The game was a thriller to the very end. It was a real heartbreaker for Ski & Shore, who really deserved to win. But Hospital came up with 3 runs in the last of the seventh to secure the victory. Each team had 15 hits and a homerun. Jeanne Ramsdell pitched for Hospital while Pat Lass was tagged with an undeserved loss. Robin Pardee of Ski & Shore and Arvdla Kowolske of Hospital each hit homers in a game that might not have been finished were it not for the diligent and time consuming protestations of the young Ski & Shore manager.

In a make-up game on Friday, Juy 13, Ski & Shore dropped another close game to Edwards IGA 9-4. Marge Carey was the winning pitcher, helped along with a homerun by Elaine Carr. Sue Holm was tagged with the loss for luckless Ski & Shore Properties, Inc.

In Saturday Make-up games for Thursday night, a full slate of four games was played. In the first and big game of the evening, County State Bank did the trick on Kentucky Fried Chicken 16-12. Chicken feathers flew as Arlene Blissett pitched a 12 hitter to hand the colonel a second loss. Tori Alger was the losing pitcher, giving up 13 hits.

The evening's second game was another heartbreaker for Ski & Shore. This time it was Hufford's who slipped past the broken brokers 9-8. Again the game was really much closer than the score indicated. Cindy Kitely was the winning pitcher on a 10 hitter. Sue Holm was tagged with the narrow, unfortunate and undeserved loss.

But Ski & Shore really gave Huffords a run for their money, however, because in the evening's third game Community Reformed almost defeated the local industry. That's right, the church almost won a game – And the only possible explanation is that Huffords was so tired and ragged from their long game with Ski & Shore that they couldn't get it together for the second game. The game was tied 11-11 at the end of seven innings and will be replayed at a later date.

In the week's final game, A & W edged Hospital 12-11 behind the 9 hit pitching of Barb Shite. Jeanne Ramsdale took the loss. She also hit a homerun in her losing effort.

Phil Christ Places 2nd In State Olympic Tourney

Phil Christ, 15-year-old Charlevoix High School heavyweight wrestler, placed second in his class in the Olympic Free Style Division of the U.S. Wrestling Federation tournament at Owosso Saturday and became eligible for participation in the national event to be held at Iowa City July 27-28.

Christ won his first three events before being pinned in 55 seconds by the first place winner, Jimmy Jackson 16, of Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills High School.

Jackson stands 6 ft, 7 inches tall and weighs 322 pounds. Christ is 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 212 pounds.

Christ made his way to the finals by tieing Bob Roberts of Grandville 1-1; pinning Steve Laham of Grand Rapids Kenowa Hills in 25 seconds and winning by an 8-6 decision over Greg Gulick of Durand before losing to Jackson in the finals. Jackson's overall time in the meet was two minutes, two seconds. He received the Most Falls trophy in the meet.

Roberts, who is 6'3" and State champion in the Greco-Roman division, placed third in the heavyweight division and will participate at Iowa City with Jackson and Christ.

Christ and Pat DeYoung remained in southern Michigan following the tournament at Owosso and will attend the Michigan State Spartan wrestling clinic being held at Olivet College this week under MSU wrestling coach, Gary Pettinger.

On Saturday, Christ, DeYoung and Gary Probert will participate in the Holt Developmental Wrestling tournament before returning home.

Norm Probert, Charlevoix wrestling coach, accompanied Christ to Owosso and was to take Christ and DeYoung to Olivet Sunday.

Christ's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christ, also were in Owosso for the tournament.

Anyone wishing to help finance the trip to Iowa City may contact Vane Smith at the high school, Bob Clock at the Courier office or Fran Martin.

The Charlevoix County Sheriff Department was kept busy during the month of June according to Sheriff Sumner. During June the department answered 1,508 telephone calls and received and answered 418 complaints.

Three persons were transferred to State Institutions from the county. The department made 22 liquor inspections and served 94 civil papers. One accidental death was reported to the sheriff's office during the month of June.

Officers assigned to the department worked a total of 2,417 hours during the month.

In the area of traffic, the department handled 12 property damage accidents and six personal injury accidents. Five motorists were given assistance during June, while 13 were given warnings and 18 traffic arrests were made.

The sheriff's office made four felony arrests while 13 persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges. The jail served 86 meals to 21 persons during the month.

The County Warden received 197 complaints and issued 19 warnings. Eleven warnings were issued and 24 dogs were disposed of, many by finding them new homes.

During June the department inspected 208 boats.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by visiting District Judge Richard Benedict.

Charges of arson lodged against Sheldon Martin, Emmet Martin, Hugh Martin and James Martin, all of St. James, were dismissed.

An ex parte order to show cause was issued in a renewed contempt-of-court suit initiated by District Judge Arthur Reibel against attorney John Michael. Michael was cited after he failed to appear in court on a civil matter as ordered by the judge several months ago. Affidavits were filed by Judge Reibel, the court stenographer and the court clerk, Margaret Riker. Last month, Judge Benedict dismissed the case "without prejudice," meaning it could be reopened by Judge Reibel if he desired by the filing of affidavits.

The following cases were heard by Judge Arthur Reibel:

A charge of illegal conversation of property lodged against Benedictus C. Parmer, East Jordan, was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Blanche Cutler, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of maintaining a noisy house, in violation of an East Jordan ordinance. Trial will be held later.

Richard Devers, Ashley, Mich., plead guilty to a charge of careless operation of a motor vehicle. He will be sentenced later.

Paul Parish, 23, East Jordan, plead innocent to charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, using indecent language and being drunk and disorderly. Case was continued to give Parish time to get an attorney.

Richard Bolton, 42, Charlevoix, was assessed $50 on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Sylvia Olson, 20, Troy, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Bond of $100 was furnished and trial will be held later.

James Trojanek, 21, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge that he was a disorderly person. Trial will be held later. He was released on personal recognizance.

Wilbert Reffitt, 46, Whitmore Lake, was assessed $30 for camping on state lands without a permit.

Jerome Sulak, 31, East Jordan, plead innocent and demanded a jury trial on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was assessed $100.

Leon Zitka, East Jordan, plead innocent and demanded a jury trial on a charge of indecent exposure. He was released on $500 bond.

Mrs. Geer Will Attend U-M Health Seminars

Mrs. Nancy Geer of Charlevoix and Mrs. Mardyn Goble of Petoskey, nursing instructors at North Central Michigan College, have been selected to participate in a Health Occupations Institute, at the University of Michigan. Mrs. Geer and Mrs. Goble are two of 25 Health Occupation leaders, selected from 80 nominations from across Michigan.

The eight-week institute will be held in Ann Arbor, and participants will be afforded the opportunity to help develop, or refine, curriculum, to utdize new instructional approaches. Specific emphasis will be given to development of individualized instructional techniques.

Each applicant will also participate in a clinical experience. The clinical experiences are with various medical units on the campus of the University of Michigan. Experiences will be utilized to assure the integration of current trends and to the instructional materials which will be developed. Several national leaders in Health Occupation Education will be involved in the institute. Mrs. Geer and Mrs. Goble will also participate in eight Saturday seminars during the 1973-1974 school year. These seminars will be designed to evaluate and revise curriculum materials developed during the summer.

Support for the institution is being derived from a Smart Family Foundation Grant, the State Department of Education, the School of Education, and the University of Michigan. Dean Wilbur Cohen, formerly Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has endorsed the institute, characterizing it as "the most promising leadership activity for Health Occupation Teachers in Michigan."

MEL RENAUD, past president of the Charlevoix JC's, presents Mrs. Michael Raecke with a check for $504.27. Mrs. Raecke is executive director of the Charlevoix Emmet Association for Retarded Children, Inc. The money was collected during the first annual "Jelly Week," sponsored by the JC's. Donald Blalock, new president of the JC's, looks on as presentation is made. Behind the trio are the new classroom facilities for the association now under construction.

JC's Donate $504 To Retarded Kids

"It's the first installment towards our new van. It will help a lot,"

Those were the words of Mrs. Michael Raecke upon receiving a check for $504.27 from the Charlevoix Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Raecke is executive director of the Charlevoix-Emmet Association for Retarded Children, Inc.

According to JC President Donald Blalock, the money was collected last April during the first annual "Jelly Week". During Jelly Week, the JC's sold grape jelly to residents of the Charlevoix area to benefit retarded children.

Bill Murray was chairman of Charlevoix's Jelly Week. Under him the JC's, with the help of some seniors at Charlevoix High School, conducted an intensive door-to-door selling campaign.

Mel Renaud, president of the JC's during the drive termed the venture a "big success."

"Jelly Week" is a national campaign sponsored by local JC chapters throughout the nation.

Mrs. Raecke said the Char-Em Association for Retarded Children has long been in need of a van to transport children and items manufactured by the children. The money will go a long way towards the purchase of a van.
